Did not dare get rankin, but got a few ladies' caps and summer sacks, which will be sold cheap at Lanson's. C. M. Shawkey of Warren was a visitor to town over Monday night and shook hands with old friends generally.

The auditors of Tionesta township publish their annual report of the past years' financial affairs of said township this week. Ex-Judge, John S. McAlmont, of Washington, D. C., was in town last week looking after his business interests in this section.

Mrs. John Wiles of Tionesta Township, who has been suffering from a severe attack of heart disease is reported as much improved. Smitten with love and being refused permission by his father to marry the object of his affection a Clarion boy, 15 years of age, ran away from his home.

Mrs. S. D. Irwin, who has been attending a convention of the Woman's Relief Corps, and visiting friends in Philadelphia, returned home last week. Forest Bovard, who has been attending the College of Pharmacy in Pittsburgh during the past winter, has secured a position in one of the large drug stores of that city.

The hens have done their full share toward a successful celebration of Easter, next Sunday, if the great stacks of eggs seen on the grocery counters are a thing to judge from. Instead of the regular services at the M. E. church next Sabbath evening, the Sunday School will hold an Easter service, for which an interesting program is arranged. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

A perfect cure! Mr. Edward E. Broughton, 140 W. 19th St., New York City, N. Y., says this: "I have used several bottles of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in my family and find it a perfect cure. I cheerfully recommend it."

W. R. Dawson, one of Tidionette's staunch Democrats, and Chairman of the party in Warren county, has received the postoffice plum in his town, a position which he very acceptably filled under the last Democratic administration. Miss Blanche Pease, Teacher, makes the following report of Truckeysville School for month ending March 9, 1894: Percentage of attendance, males 96, females 94. Present every day, Frank Mansfield, Loyd Bloomfield, Alphonso Wiles, Dewalt Wiles, Hallie Baugher and Lizzie Wiles.

The Erie Railroad has issued an order to suspend the running of all freight trains on Sunday except such as are needed for the handling of perishable articles. This move will certainly be appreciated by the train men, and is one that should be adopted by all roads.

Who says patience is one of the rare virtues? There is enough of this enabling element of human nature manifested to the square inch along the river banks during the anchor fishing season to leave the whole country. Possibly the end justifies the means in this instance.

—Miss Flora Walters is home from her two weeks' visit in the eastern cities, where she took advantage of the opportunity to make a most beautiful selection of spring millinery goods, which are now being arranged for the firm's Easter opening days, Thursday and Friday of this week.

—F. R. Lanson has returned from the East where he spent a week in making his selections for his spring and summer stock. The goods are arriving daily, and his spacious counters are freighted with the choicest of the markets, while prices are figured to suit the times. Call and look over the stock.

—Peep-frogs are already on the wing this season, that is, they are in the swamps making the welkin ring with peeps and croaks, and this is a pretty good indication that spring time is come, though they tell us these little warblers must freeze up three times before we get real downright summer weather.

—It would be well for those who have the care of the streets to take note of the places that need special attention. The sight of a wagon stuck in the mud is not a usual sight on a level street in town, but such was seen here a week or two ago. Those places where the ground is bad ought to be paved with stone during the summer.

—The prettiest line of neckties at Lanson's, 25 cents each. The beautiful weather of the past few weeks has had a tendency to break in on the customary first of April fitting. Quite a number of changes in residences have already been made. Mr. Gasen has moved into the Hickling house. Mr. J. L. Peters and Mr. Thomas Hagan have each taken possession of their own property, and Mrs. Hannah McCray has moved into the Fisher house on Bridge street.

—We learn that the Clarion Normal expects even a larger attendance during the coming spring term than last year and the authorities are making preparation for the accommodation of the increase in numbers. No pains will be spared to make this the very best term in the history of that institution. We would advise our young people to pay this thriving institution a visit before going elsewhere.

—Knee suits at Lanson's for 50 cents and up. It pays to be kind to those in distress. Rev. McNeil, pastor of the Baptist Church, Emporium, Pa., while in Jersey City last fall recovered from an old lady a pair of spectacles that had fallen into the mud and which she was unable to reach. She obtained his name and address. Recently he received intelligence that this old lady was dead and had left him a $10,000 farm and his daughter $25,000 worth of property.

—The oldest inhabitant has been scratching his head in vain to find a phenomenon parallel to that which occurred last week. He has gone over the whole catalogue of "big frosts," "snow in harvest," "northern lights" and all the rest of the things that happened "when I was a boy" to no purpose. Thunder and lightning during a heavy snow storm is a new thing which he will jot down in his note book for future reference.

—Loaded up with goods and debts and selling cheap for cash, at Lanson's. The Juniors of the Presbyterian church will give their missionary entertainment in the lecture room of the church on Friday evening next. A nice program will be rendered. Tickets can be had from the Juniors, or the fee, 15 cents, may be given as an offering during the exercises. Proceeds to be devoted to the cause of foreign missions. All are invited to come and encourage the children in their effort to earn money for a good cause.

—W. R. Curll died at his residence in the east end of Clarion Tuesday morning after several weeks' illness, from complications brought on by grip, the final cause being paralysis. He was aged about 53 years. Mr. Curll was a prominent lumberman and operated in Clarion and Forest county. He was an upright business man, a quiet citizen and a model husband and father. A wife, two daughters and a son are bereaved.—Clarion Jackpotman.

—Soldier blue suits at Lanson's for $6.00. Nine years ago to-day, in 1885, the following item appeared in the Record from which it may be seen that all seasons are not just exactly alike: "The coldest night of this winter was last Friday night, 20th, or first day of spring, the thermometer registering 22 degrees below zero at daylight Saturday morning. In some other portions of the county it got down to 26° below. At this rate the great body of ice on the river don't rot out very fast."

—Mrs. Diadama Clark, widow of the late Rev. O. B. Clark, and mother of our townsman D. W. Clark, died at her home in Jamestown, N. Y., March 10th, 1894, aged nearly 80 years. Mrs. Clark is well remembered by all of our older citizens, in whose estimation she has always stood very high, and who loved her for her many excellent Christian qualities of mind and heart. She will be mourned by a very large circle of friends here as well as at her home in and about Jamestown. Her son attended the funeral.

—Buy a pair of pants for your boy; 15 cents per pair, at Lanson's. A representative of a leading brick making machine firm was here to meet a committee representing the company which has now under consideration the erection of a brick plant in Tionesta. Progress of machines for making the dry process brick were given and much other information elicited concerning the projected enterprise. The superior quality of the shale that has been tested is one of the guarantees that the plant will be put in, and that, too, as fast as projects of a similar magnitude can be accomplished. Experience and practical men have been consulted and say the works will be a paying investment for those who put their money in the concern.

—The Tidionette News finished its first score Thursday last week entered upon its second. Br'er White has been at the helm almost constantly during that long term, and has given his people a clear, clear-cut, reputable journal, devoid of all gush or nonsense, and one that has never borne the slightest taint of dishonor. Many happy and prosperous years to you, Charles.

—Parties holding tickets issued by J. W. Sires entitling them to a crayon portrait are reminded that the time for redemption expires April 1st, and they must be presented before that time. Mr. Sires still has a few unused tickets left at his gallery which can be had for twenty-five cents each, entitling the holder to a large crayon picture and a dozen photographs for three dollars. The Tionesta gallery will be open on Thursday of each week, and will be in charge of J. G. McLane, an artist of twenty-five years' experience.

—The revival of the Presbyterian church of Franklin which closed recently was very successful. The pastor, Dr. Bruce, was assisted by Rev. Chapman of Erie. Eighty-eight were received into church membership. From all parts of the country similar revivals are reported. The Chicago "Inter Ocean," says that Ingersollism may worry the ministers, but has no effect upon the people; that in the five states Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas and Texas 54,000 conversions have been reported during the winter. Perhaps as good a showing might be made by all the rest of the states.

—We have seen quite a number of watch chains about town ornamented with a neat little charm in the shape of a watch case opener, which obviates the use of a knife or finger nail to open the watch. We have just received one, too. They are sent on request by the Keystone Watch Case Company, of Philadelphia, Pa., the largest watch case manufacturing concern in the world. They are makers of the celebrated Jas. Boss cases, the only filled cases which are fitted with the world-famed Non-pull-out bow (ring). The Company does not sell at retail but their goods are sold by our local jewelers.

—The funeral of Mrs. J. Garner Tirrill, who died at her home at Bowman's Mill, Green township, this county, on Monday of last week, took place on Wednesday, March 14, 1894, at Tylersburg, and was attended by an immense concourse of sympathizing friends, by whom she was held in the highest esteem, and who loved her for her excellence of character and kind and gentle ways. The stricken husband was the tenderest sympathizer of all his neighbors and acquaintances in this hour of great trial and sore bereavement. The deceased was a sister of Mrs. Judge White of Clarion, and leaves besides the husband two small children to mourn their irreparable loss. She was aged about 33 years.

—The best remedy for rheumatism that has yet been discovered. Mr. D. H. Terry, 150 W. Main St., Galesburg, Ill., writes: "I have used a good many bottles of Salvation Oil and think it the best remedy for rheumatism I ever used."

Hushed in Death. Mrs. Sadie Terrill, wife of J. Garner Terrill, of this village, died at her home on Monday morning, Mar. 12th, 1894, at 5:30 o'clock. She was born Aug. 2, 1860, being thus aged 33 years, 8 months and 10 days. The deceased was a daughter of Mrs. Jane Kerr, of Tylersburg, now in her eighty-first year, at which place the remains were interred on Wednesday last week in the presence of a large assemblage of sympathizing relatives and friends. Rev. Barnes, the Free Methodist minister, conducted the funeral services speaking from the words found in the 21st chapter of Rev. 1st verse.

Mrs. Terrill leaves a husband and two small boys in the home circle to mourn her loss. A wife and mother who for years had been dwelling under the smiles of heaven; a mother who had built for herself a dwelling in the word of promise from that sacred volume in which she was standing. A halo of glory beamed forth from her countenance as she gently closed her eyes and bid adieu to husband, children, and those around, whispering "It is well with my soul." The deceased, at the time of her death, was a great Sabbath School worker; winning souls to Christ was her great part of her Christian work. In this home, where the members, father and children, have lived together in domestic bliss for years and enjoyed that sweet love and association, for the first time the little circle is broken, and the current of joy is interrupted, yet those who survive her can find consolation in the knowledge of the wife and mother's never-ending happiness in the other world. L. G. STOVER, Bowmanstown, March 19, 1894.

Kellettville. Rafting is about over in this proximity and work is getting slack again. On Monday afternoon a number of rafts were run out of Salmon Creek to make room for more rafts. It is certainly great sport in piloting rafts out of this stream. Chas. Dutterer moved into his house on Monday again, after being absent all winter. We welcome you back, Chas.—James Martin, the once famous Ohio river pilot, is in town looking up a fleet to run on the river.—Daughters were born at the homes of John Throckmold and S. E. Shaw during last week.—Mrs. Chas. Griffin of Balltown paid Kellettville friends a visit the first of the week.—Dr. Wallace, one of Warren's best veterinary surgeons, was down here on a professional call recently.—Chas. D. Cochran, of Strattonville, is visiting friends in town for a few weeks.—Mrs. M. Andrews and Mrs. Della Kribbs were up to Marienville on Tuesday.—W. C. Wilson, the champion bee hunter, has two notches out in his stick thus far. W. C. is hard to down when it comes to tracking bees.—The farmers are all getting ready to do their spring work, and if pleasant weather continues spring crops will soon be sown.

NOTICE—Is hereby given that a set of double harness, consigned by James Walters to T. W. Corah, will be sold for non payment of charges at the expiration of sixty days from this date, A. M. HUNTER, Kellettville, Pa., March 15, 1894.

—Just give us a chance to show you prices on clothing and all kinds of goods furnishing goods before you buy, and if we cannot convince you that they are cheaper than any other place in town we will not ask you to purchase. At Lanson's.
