18 IT GOOD ADVICE?

Is tr GOOD ADVICE? A certain little tract, addressed to insbri-dice, contains no sentimental appeal to the emotions, but is full of practical common sense. Let every one addicted to the use of liquor read it, says an exchange, and pro-nounce jadgment upon the advice it con-tains. One gallon of whisky costs about three dollars, and contains, ou the average, eixty-five ten-enet drinks. Now, if you must drink whisky, buy a gallon and make your wife the barkeeper; then, when you are thirsty, give her ten cents for a drink. When the whisky is gone she will have left, after paying for it, three dollars and a half, and every gallon will yield the same profit. This money site should put away in the savings bank, so that when you have become an in-sbriate, unable to support yourself, and shunned and despised by every respectable persoe, your wife may have money enough to keep you antil your time comes to fill a drunkard's grave.

THE WIDESPREAD WANT.

THE WIDESPERAD WANT. In a late comment upon the prevalent widespread want, with the great numbers of unemployed, Chauncey M. Depew is reported as saying : "I have been through all the panies of the last thirty years, but I have never seen one in which the distress was so widespread and reached so many people who previously had not been affected as this panie of 1898. It has thrown over 2,000,000 people out of em-ployment, and calculating five persons, which is a small estimate, to a family, means 10,000,000 people with no treadwinner among which is a small estimate, to a family, means 10,000,000 people with no breadwinner among them, and no possibility of winning bread. This is, indeed, a distressing picture, and the suffering involved is now greatly inten-sified by the drink waste, both past and present. By the combination of his natural capacities with the mechanical aids, he has been enabled to compete successfully in dif-ferent sphere of action with other and specially endowed animals. The bodily frame of man is adapted only for life and movement near the earth's sur-face. Without mechanical aid he can walk for several hours at an ordinary speed of three to four miles an hour, and under exceptional circumstances he has accomplished over eight miles in one hour, and an average of two and three quarter miles an hour for 141 hours. In running he has covered about 114 miles in an hour. power to withstand diverse and excessive strain, the human mechanism is quite unapproachable by artificial constructions. How Sugar is Refined.

The method used by the best sugar refineries is substantially as follows: The raw sugar is dissolved in large sisterns on the ground floor, enough hot water being added to produce a specific gravity of 1.25. The solution is then drawn through a connecting pipe having a coarse wire strainer in to large pumps, by which it is pumped into the highest story of the building, usually the seventh or eighth. It there passes into vessels heated by steam coils to a temperature of about 210 degrees. Milk of lime is added to the solution in these pans for the purpose of neutralizing any acid which it may contain. From these pans the liquid passes down to the next floor, where it is filtered through a series of bags, each made of two thicknesses of cloth, an outer one of coarse and an inner one of fine cotton. The bags are en-closed in boxes to prevent cooling. After leaving these the syrup is run through filters of bone black, which absorb all the coloring matter left in it. After leaving these, it is pumped into vacuum pans, large vessels heated by steam and exhausted by air pumps. The pressure being thus reduced the liquid is boiled at a lower tempera-ture, until, at 140 degrees, evaporation is completed and the syrup rapidly crystallizes into sugar. This is the process by which the best white sugar is made, while poorer qualities are prepared by a method less complete. —Boston Cultivator.

In Life Short or Long?

If life is so short as some think it is, it may be made to seem much longer and sweeter by a better care for our comforts. Minor troubles are much magnified by neglect and delay. We give too much time to hunting up causes when we ought to deal promptly with effects. This is much the case with pain, which should be cured at once and cause looked into afterwards. Miss Ida M. Fleming, 7 S. Carey Street, Baltimore, Md., states that for years she wassubject to frequent attacks of neuralgia, and tried any number of remedies without avail. She was given quinine, which she says affected her nervous system. She suffered night and day during these attacks until she tried St. Jacobs Oil, which finally cured her.

Killing Perpoises by Electricity.

Electricity has recently been utilized for purposes of fishing. A net of sardinal, as it is called, which was nearly 1300 feet long, and is used for catching sardines, was taken, and an electric cable with dynamite cartridges at intervals of fifty feet, was placed apon the edge of it. The cable was connected with an ele ctrie battery upca the torpedo boat in such a way that all the cartridges might be fired simultaneously. The net was let down at five in the morning in very deep water, and before this was done the neighboring fishermen had been asked not to go out, in order that there might be nothing to disturb the porpoises. About an hour after the net had been let down, the pospoises came up in large numbers, and when a good many fish had been got into the net. there were about eighty just around it. The cartridges were then fired, and the explosion was so effective that one only of the eighty porpoises escaped, while the boats in the vicinity felt no shock, and the water was very little disturbed.-Invention.

How to Care a Black Eye.

The Medical Times some time ago pave this antedote for a black eye: There is nothing to compare with a tincture or strong infusion of capsicum annuum, mixed with an equal bulk of mucilage or gum arabic, and with the addition of a few drops of glycerine. This should be painted all over the bruised surface with a camel's hair pencil and allowed to dry on, a second or third coating being applied as soon as the first is dry. If done as soon as the injury is inflicted the treatment will invariably prevent the blackening of the abused tissue. The same remedy has no equal in rheumatic, sore or stiff neek.

Fatal Field for Missionaries,

Sierra Leone, on the west coast o Africa, has sometimes been styled the "White Man's Grave," and no fewer than three Bishops in succession died within three years of their consecration. In the first twenty years of the mission's existence fifty-three missionaries or missionaries' wives died at their posts. In 1823, out of five missionaries who went out, four died within six months; in the next year six voluntoers were accepted, and of these two died within four months of their landing. These losses seemed to draw out more zeal, for next year three more went forth, of whom two died within six months .-- Boston Post.
