DANIEL H. HASTINGS

General Daniel H. Hastings was born His father was an Irishman who had emigrated in 1892, and who by thrift and industry reared a family of nine children. General Hastings was partly educated at the public schools and then at a select school at Farraudsville. When the war broke out, although only a lad, he ran off from home and tried to enlist, but he failed in several efforts, and in 1863 he passed the requisite examination and was given a position as teacher in a pubpublic school in Wayne township, Clinton county, where he taught and studied for four years, and in 1867 his efforts were rewarded by his election as principle of the Bellefonte High School. That position he filled creditably for eight years, and part of the time he acted as assistent editor of the Bellefonte Republican. At the same time he read law, and on April 29, 1875, he was admitted to the bar of Centre county. He became a member of the law firm of Bush, Youum & Hastings. Colonel Bush retired from the firm in 1877, and the business was conducted under the firm name of Yocum & Hastings until the election of Mr. Yocum to Congress in 1878, when the former withdrew from the firm and Mr. Hastings assoclated with him W. F. Reeder, constituting the present firm of Hastings & Reed-

General Hastings' military abilities were developed in the riots that occurred in July, 1877. Governor Beaver then commanded a division of the National Guard, and at his request General Hastings accompanied the command to Altoons, serving as an aid on General Beaver's staff. As was his wont, he threw all his energy into this to him new field of action, and soon attracted the admiration of the officers and soldiers. He rose rapidly in the service. In July, 1877, he became pay master of the Fifth Regiment, with the rank of Captain; in March, 1878, he was elected and commissioned Lieutenant-Colonel of the Fifth successor to Breckinridge, whose C. Schimmelfeng, Regiment; In June, 1883, he was appointed Assistent Adjutant-General of the Second Brigade, and in March, 1884, he was elected Colonel of the Fifth Regiment, and at the annual inspection of turning the "silver tongued" to Con-1886 his regiment achieved the highest gress. standing of any in the State. After serving nearly three years as Colonel, in January, 1887, Colonel Hastings resigned his commission and accepted the appointment of Adjutant General or Pennsylvania. General Hastings' public record since then is well known, particularly his great services during the disastrous Johnstown floods.

WALTER LYON.

Walter Lyon is a well known politician of Western Pennsylvania, at present a member of the upper house of the Legislature. He was born in Allegheny county, April 27, 1853. Mr. Lyon was appointed United District of Pennsylvania by President Harrison in June, 1889, serving in that office until elected State Senator to succeed the late John N. Neeb, in 1893.

AMOS H. MYLIN.

Amos H. Mylin, the caudidate for Auditor-General, was born in West Lampeter township, Lancaster county, on September 29, 1837. He was reared on a farm, and early acquired habits of industry and thrift. He was fortunate in beand private schools, and finally finished his scholastic education at Andover, Mass. Iu 1872 Mr. Mylin was elected to years. At the expiration of his second term he was nominated for the State Senate, and continuously represented Lan-1892. BRECKINRIDGE, the Kentucky one, is at it again. He said in a speech at Lexington Saturday: "They tell you that Charles Stewart Parnell was turned out of the Parliment. Can anybody give the name of his successor?" It would be better for the Jerry Crary, fair name of Kentucky to have a Geo, M. CONGRESSMAN TOM JOHNSON, the States District Attorney for the Western Ohio free trader, is evidently in a bad humor over his party's outlook. Listen to him: "One thing I can say is that the Democrats will be badly licked next fall. The Democrats special prices and terms. THE suggestion that Adjutant General Greenland shall be the Democratic candidate for Governor undoubtedly comes from Secretary Harrity and Attorney General Hensel. They are both anxious to have a distinctively Administration candied to Susquehanna county, Pa.
