LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

—Oil market $1 00 1/2.
 —Sleigh bells jangle merrily.
 —Closing out sale at Barnett's. 1
 —Don't fail to hear Evangelist Williams.
 —Charlie Kilmer is quite ill with kidney trouble.
 —J. A. Hart came up from Oil City this morning.
 —T. W. Allender of West Hickory was in town yesterday.
 —Miss May Huling is attending the Clarion Normal school.
 —F. A. Wheeler was up from Mercer the first of the week.
 —Mrs. C. F. Claypole of Tionesta was in the city to day.—Blizzard
 —Thomas Shouts of Hydetown was in town on business yesterday.
 —Misses Gussie and Maud Campbell spent Sunday with friends in Oil City.
 —J. M. Elder of West Hickory called at the REPUBLICAN office Saturday.
 —F. F. Freligh of the Pittsburg Dispatch was a pleasant caller at our office yesterday.
 —Miss Maude Brennan is entertaining her friend Miss Maude Deuing of Oil City.
 —Julius Byles, one of Titusville's prominent attorneys was in town on business yesterday.
 —Mrs. P. M. Clark, who has been ailing for some time past has gone to Erie for medical aid.
 —Mrs. J. Giering returned Saturday from a two weeks' visit with mother in Centerville, Pa.
 —John Siggins returned from a two weeks' visit with mother in Centerville, Pa.

—Quite a large party of our young people enjoyed a sleighride to Nebraska last evening.

—Cameron county will enjoy one week in January in which no liquor can be legally sold. The licenses for 1894 expire one week before the convening of court and all bar rooms will, therefore, have to be closed.—Driftwood Gazette.

—Mr. James Elder and Attorney Joseph Maffett of Clarion were in town yesterday on business. The REPUBLICAN acknowledges a very pleasant call from Mr. Elder, who says he is very favorably impressed with our beautiful little town.

—The courts have decided that it is a State's prison offense to steal gas. But we have no reason to commit a theft, for we have all the gas we want to use at a very low price. Forsake the land of the gas meter, and remove to a land of plenty.—Ex.

—Well, well, well! Who cares if the skating on the river has been ruined, since the snow has been cleared off "Swamp Lake" in Rialto park. The ice is "smooth as glass," and the park authorities only charge the small sum of ten cents for admission.

—Commander in Chief Lawler, of the Grand Army of the Republic, recently appointed aides-de-camp on his staff, and among those thus honored are O. L. Rew of Franklin, James Lewis of Oil City, and W. J. Alexander of Warren.—Franklin News.

—Fifteen or twenty whisky kegs piled out in front of a druggate, denotes prohibition, a la Potter style, special act, where whiskey is allowed to be sold for "medical purposes only." Such is a common occurrence in Austin, yet the people are healthy, as a rule.—Autograph.

—Although the great forests of this county are gradually disappearing there seems to be a considerable amount of game left and hunting and trapping is not yet an abandoned industry, as the records of the Commissioners' office show that the sum of $325 50 was paid out in scalp bounties in the past year.

—Dr. Siggins' well on the Cropp farm is doing first rate and a new rig will be started this week. Operations have commenced on the Jamieson, Dale & Co. well on the Fox farm near President. The seven Js (or Jays) have the best wishes of the REPUBLICAN for a gusher. No new developments are reported on the Ledebur farm.

—The break-up in the river last week which was the cause of a good deal of anxiety on the part of some of our citizens who had not harvested their ice, proved to be only a January thaw and the blizzard of Saturday night and Sunday made up for all the time lost, and we now have the best sleighing of the winter and the outlook is very favorable for plenty of ice.

—A dispatch from Brockwayville in the Pittsburg Times says: Lane & Humphreys, of Laues Mills, have induced a colony of about 60 people from Pittsburg to settle on their lands, and the new-comers are expected to soon arrive. The same firm has contracted with Pittsburg builders to erect a well.

—R. Barnett wishes to announce that they are going out of the mercantile business in Tionesta and that everything in the store will be sold at prices that were never before heard of in this county. This is no scheme but a positive fact, and all you need do to be convinced is to come and examine goods and prices. It —This is what Peter Cooper, who died worth many millions, said of a newspaper: "In all towns where a newspaper is published every man should advertise in it if nothing more than a card stating his name and the business he is engaged in. It does not only pay the advertiser, but lets people at a distance know that the town in which you reside is a prosperous community of business men. Never pull down your sign while you expect to do business."

—Just about two-thirds of the stories published in newspapers about farmers being swindled by sharps, who get them by some device to sign notes, are fakes, pure and simple, written by some newspaper man who is pressed for matter to fill up space, and copied and recopied by other newspapers. Farmers as a rule do not sign papers promiscuously without knowing their nature, and it is about time to give this feature of swindling a much needed rest.—Sharon Eagle.

—James Sheakley, who was a member of the Oil City Oil Exchange ten or twelve years ago, and who has many friends and acquaintances throughout the oil country, is the present Governor of Alaska. Eight years ago President Cleveland appointed him one of the Commissioners in Alaska, and held court at Ft. Wrangell. Two years ago he was appointed Governor, Mr. Harrison's selection, Mr. Knapp having had his term expire. Governor Sheakley left Sitka December 3, came to Seattle and then overland by the Northern Pacific to his old home at Greenville, Mercer county, where he is now visiting relatives and friends.—Blizzard.

—Large audiences greet Evangelist Williams at the services now being conducted nightly at the Presbyterian church. Mr. Williams is unique in his method of conducting his work and in his talks, but he succeeds in placing a great deal of Bible before the people and in such a manner that has made him quite popular with them. He is an enthusiastic worker and thoroughly believes all he says which, in itself, carries much weight. His Bible readings at 3 p. m. each day are very profitable to those who attend. The first half hour of the evening service which begins at 7 p. m. is devoted to singing gospel songs. These are very enlivening and prepare the way for the sermon which follows, which is itself a clear statement of Bible truths. A cordial invitation is extended to all. It is hoped these services may be profitable.

Kellettville.

The weather to-day has much the appearance of a long and laxy spell of winter weather, much to the pleasure of our lumbermen.

A midnight alarm came to the residence of C. A. Jenkins on last Wednesday. Clarence is going to teach him the tanner's trade.

Miss Emma Dotterer, who has been stopping at the Brooklyn House for a week, intends soon to leave.

A. B. Hurd of Erie was again in town a few days last week, making preparations to drill his well deeper. Mr. Hurd is a thorough oil man and if this venture proves a paying one some business in his line can be expected.

Mrs. Mary Carter and brother, H. B. Marsh, attended the funeral of an aunt, who was buried at Titusville on last Monday.

Miss Flora Lawson of Whig Hill visited her friend, Miss Jennie Pierson, over Sabbath.

N. G. Cole of Nebraska was a caller in Kellettville on Saturday. Nelt is familiar with all the places or interest around here, as this place was Nelt's romping ground when a boy.

On Dec. 24 Miss Genevieve Castner of Marienville visited this place, her business here being to solicit money for the church fair which was held at Crown during the holidays. Two ladies were chosen to gather money and the one collecting the largest amount to receive a diamond ring for her trouble. Miss May Moore being the other contestant, and the successful one, having raised $143.30, while Miss Castner's amount reached $124.29. The managers of the fair were so well pleased with the results that each lady received a handsome ring for her labor. Miss Castner raised $90.50 in Kellettville in the short time of two hours.

An effort is being made to connect on the gas wells at Mayburg to supply our little ville with gas, as everyone seems to have grown tired of wood fires.

W. A. Kribbs will furnish 100 cords of boiler wood for the Penn Tanning Co.

The engine came up the road Saturday for the first time in three or four days. A large amount of the road between Nebraska and Golsenza was washed away by the recent high water and this will shut off the bark supply until the road can be repaired.

Three large ice gorges have formed in the creek between Newtown and Balltown and if the recent cold snap forms more ice there will be a little excitement around here when the ice moves again. Two creek rafts are in the upper gorge.

WILL WALKS.

Stewart's Run.

Mr. J. A. Dawson has been quite sick, but is better again.

James McIntyre's baby has been very sick. The doctor thinks it will get along now if it don't get any more cold.

Rufus Copeland and H. J. Handy are hauling logs for Mr. Turner.

Mr. Dawson has bought Mr. Jake Wagner's timber and is going to put it into logs and haul them to Tionesta.

The meeting at the White Church is progressing nicely.

Stewart & Co. are rigging up to drill another well on the Huidekooper tract.

Sam Fertig has a well down about 400 feet on his lease joining the Huidekooper.

O. B. McIntyre is building a rig at Jerusalem Corners for Preston, and one for Stewart.

Wm. H. Wood finished a well at Jerusalem Corners last week. He failed to land joining, which made a mystery of the well.

George Dawson spent a week visiting parents at Warren recently.

Hisner is kept quite busy sharpening shoes since the ice came.

A great deal of sickness is prevailing among the children at present. Wilbur Bromley and Artie Hand are in the school a few days.
