MICHIGAN'S BENEFACTUR. AN OFT REPEATED STORY OF TRUE PHILASTIROPY.

What Chas, H. Hackley Has Done for Western Michigan.

(From Grand Rapids, Mich., Econing Press.) The most beautiful spot in all this city is inseparably associated with the name of Hackley, Chas, H. Hackley has been in the lumber business here continuously since 1856, and in that time has amassed a fortune which gives him a rating among the wealthy men of the nation. But with wealth there did not come that tightening of the purse strings which is generally a marked oharacteristic of wealthy men.

It is no wonder then that the name of Charles H. Huckley is known at home and abroad. His munificence to Muskegon nione represents an outlay of nearly half a alone represents an outlay of nearly half a million. For the past twenty years he has been a constant sufferer from neuralgia and rheumatism, also numbress of the lower linbs, so much so that it has sationaly inter-fored with his pleasure in life. For some time past his friend's have notified that he has seemed to grow young again and to have recovered the health which he had in wouth

To a reporter for the News Mr. Hackley 2.0ntu To a reporter for the News Mr. Hackley explained thesecret of this transformation. "I have suffered for over 20 years," he said, "with pains in my lower limbs so severely that the only relief I could get at alght was by putting cold water compresses on my limbs. I was bothered more at night than in the day time. The neuralgio and rhou-matic pains in my limbs, which had been growing in istensity for years, smally be-eage obronic. I made three trips to the Hot Springs with only partial relief, and then fell back to my original state. I couldn't sit still, and my sufferings been to make any life look very blue. Interested, so I wrote to one who had given a testimonial, an eminent professor of music in Ganada. The reply I received was even stronger than the printed testimonial, and it gave me faith in the medicine. "I began taking the pills and found them to be all that the professor had told me they would be. It was two or three months be-fore I experienced any perceptible better-ment of my condition. My disease was of speedy recovery and was thankful even to be relieved. I progressed rapidly, however, towards recovery and for the last six months have felt myself a perfectly well man. Business Aphorisms.

Carlyle wasn't a man of business, but he would have made a success of it, had he tried it. In his writings one finds these lines of solid business truth :

A laugh is worth a hundred groans in any market. " Have a smile for all, a pleasant word for everybody. To succeed, work hard, earnestly and incessantly.

All honest men will bear watching. It is the rascals who cannot stand it. Better have the window empty than filled with unseasonable and unattractive goods.

When you hang a sign outside your place of business, let it be original in design and of good quality. Wondrous is the strength of cheerfulness; altogether past calculation its power of endurance. Efforts to be permanently useful must be unifomly joyous, a spirit of sunshine, graceful from very gladness, beautiful because bright.-Scientific American.

A Gorilla Dissected.

An autopsy was held upon the body of Gumbo, the gorilla which died re-cently at Boston. Professor Franklin Dexter, of the Harvard Medical School, and Professor Councilman, formerly of Johns Hopkins University of Baltimore, now professor of pathology at Harvard, conducted the examination, says the Hartford (Conn.) Times. Consumption was found to have been the cause of death. The doctors decided that Gumbo was about forty years old, and that he had had the germs of tubercular consumption of the slow variety, which is a disease the simia are particularly subject to in this climate.

One discovery was that of a sort of pouch or bag in the chest, in front of the lungs and connected by means of an independent valve with the traches or windpipe. This is undoubtedly the organ employed by the gorillas in making their peculiar roar.

The brain weighed seventeen onnces. In its structure it bears a striking resemblance to the human brain, being, however, broader at the base and narrower at the top, and exhibiting a far less number of convolutions. The brain will be subjected to a variety of delicate tests and a minute microscopic scrutiny.

Professor Dexter and his . assistants intend to make an exhaustive comparison between the gorilla and a human being. In life Gumbo measured five feet six inches in height and in health weighed 168 pounds. His arms were four feet in length and his muscles of the texture of wire rope.

A Good Kind of Food.

No sort of food is better for the complexion than oatmesland oranges. The finest complexions in the world are those of the Spanish and Italian ladies, who live largely on coarse-grained food and fruit like the orange and banana. It is said that many ladies are living almost entirely on oranges. Half a dozen for breakfast with a cup of coffee, a dozen for lunch with a glass of milk and a saucer of oatmeal, and a dozen more for supper with a crust of bread and a sip of tes, may not be high living in the proper sense of the word, but such a course of diet will bring a complexion which will drive almost any belle out of her head with envy.—New York Adver-

But it was not, as I soon understood, the end which ran over that disturbed his mind, but the end which he found it impossible to fill. Raising the trough, which he then allowed to rest for an instant on one of his huge feet, he rolled away the second supporting log with his trunk, and then set his trough down so that it rested both ends on the ground. He then returned to the pump and completed his

Although by many believed to be incura-ble, there is the evidence of hundreds of living witnesses to the fact that, in all its earlier stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large per-centage of case, and we believe, July of per cent are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, even after the disease bas progressed so far as to induce repeated bleedings from the lungs, severe lingering cough with copions expectoration (includ-ing thercular matter), great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness. Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cared by "Golden Med-ical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and faild disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in mis-representing them, and who were often at trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that fatal malady, all other medicines with We believe it was George Augustus Sala who once said he would think himself safe in betting a five-pound notes that not more than one person out of a score could tell correctly offhand, in what way the hour four is represented on a watch or clock-dial. Most people, without looking, would say IV, instead of IIII. And why should it not be IV? Well, here is should it not be IV? Well, here is the story. The first clock which kept anything like accurate time was con-structed by a certain Henry Vick, in 1370. It was made to the order of Charles V., of France, who was called "The Wise." Wise he certainly was in some respects, but he did not know everything, though he liked to pretend that he did. When Vick brought him his clock, he looked closely at its movements for some time. "Yas," it works vory well," he said at length, but you have got the figures on the dial wrong." "Surely not, your Ma-jesty," said Vick. "Yes, that four should be four ones."
