LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market 1.03 1/2. E. E. Clapp was up from President Friday.

J. B. Hagerty is in Buffalo receiving medical treatment. Marienville is talking of putting in an electric lighting plant.

Dan Jackson came down from Warren last Saturday to visit his mother. The borough schools were closed Friday in honor of Washington's Birthday.

J. M. Clapp and Wm. Helm of Tidoute were in town on business last Friday. Mrs. J. R. Chadwick returned last Thursday from a four weeks' visit with relatives in Mercer.

Some women who seem to be stuck on their shape, really have the most of their shape stuck on them. Mrs. A. Scott and E. E. Burton of Marienville were pleasant callers at the REPUBLICAN office this morning.

The liabilities of Clearfield county are $181,800, and its assets $103,000, making the net county debt $78,800.

Greensburg is trying to get Thiel College, the leading Lutheran educational institution in Western Pennsylvania.

Senator Cochran's new game bill, if passed, will restrict the deer killing to one month—October—of each year.

Senator Camden is credited with saying that the Lord's prayer could not pass the United States Senate without amendment.

With $11,000,000 for the public schools and $600,000 for the military in the next two years Pennsylvania ought to be well educated and well guarded.

The Meadville Council has made a tender of $78,835.39 to the Meadville Water Company for their plant, being the valuation put upon it by an expert.

There are Christians who seem so much at home in the rear pews of the church, they would doubtless be uncomfortable if put in the front seats of Heaven.

J. H. Foreman, who has been suffering with stomach trouble for some time past, was taken to the Oil City hospital last Friday, in charge of H. H. Shoemaker.

Mrs. Mary Williams and daughter, Maude, of Pittsburg, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Armstrong, expecting to remain during the balance of the winter.

Did you ever happen to notice that the persons that differ from you in their opinions are invariably persons of narrow minds and insanely prejudiced?—Boston Transcript.

Lorenzo Matt, the well-known piano tuner, who has made periodical visits to Tionesta for a number of years, died at his home in Buffalo, N. Y., last week. He was about 60 years of age.

Rev. Dr. Ellis of Oil City very ably assisted Rev. W. Dale in the revival services, which are being held in the M. E. church, last Thursday evening. Dr. Ellis is a very eloquent and impressive speaker.

Hon. John W. Kable, of Lineville, one of Clarion county's prominent and highly respected citizens, died on Thursday last, after an illness of several months' duration from stomach trouble. He was aged about 74 years.

Jas Grove came near losing the fore finger of his left hand while working on John R. Osgood's mill near Newtown last Friday. In some manner he got his hand against the large saw, but was lucky enough to get away without further injury.

Every newspaper man will appreciate the following from an eastern journal if no one else does: "Get your printing done where you please—it's your right—but please do not, after spending your money elsewhere, come to our office begging five local notices. It isn't business—it isn't decent. Besides, it is very cheeky."

Ash Wednesday. Jas. D. Davis and wife returned Friday from a visit to Buffalo.

J. D. W. Reek has returned from his business trip to Butler.

Miss Lena Groves of Tionesta, is the guest of Miss Eoretta Proper.

The only state officer to be elected in this state this year is Treasurer.

The Y. P. S. C. E. will give a social and reception at the home of Miss Mae Grove this Wednesday evening to the new members who have recently joined. A good program has been arranged.

David Miotz, the bustling dry goods merchant of Marienville, has brought a large stock of his winter goods to Tionesta and is selling them at auction this week at the Kepler block. Don't miss the opportunity to secure a bargain.

The Hunter run well has been finished and no oil was found, although it was quite a strong gas. The Jamieson, Dale & Co. well near President is down and there is a slight show of oil, but not enough to pay and it has been abandoned, and the seven Jays are out of their misery.

Rev. J. T. Brennan very ably assisted Rev. Mr. McAninch at the communion service held in the Presbyterian church on the 17th inst., delivering the sermon both morning and evening. Rev. McAninch, who has been suffering from the effects of a cold for some days past, is quite well again.

Forest county paid $325 in scalp bonuses last year. If they had our County Commissioners down there that amount would not have been quite so large. Our County Triumvirate would rather go to law about paying a dollar bounty on a measley pet than not—and the taxpayer he'll pay the litigation.—Warren Democrat.

The Rock Glycerine company's factory at Kane, McKean county, was destroyed by the explosion of 600 quarts of nitro-glycerine on Tuesday night about 10 o'clock. The factory was located a mile away, but nearly all the glass in the windows of the town of Kane were shattered by the concussion and a woman living near the magazine was driven insane by fright.

John P. Zano, the well-known oil producer and prominent citizen of Bradford, died Friday, aged 60 years. His life was an eventful and useful one. He had visited about every country on earth; was a citizen of California in the early times; was appraiser of the port of San Francisco under President Lincoln; established the first street railway in San Francisco; and in 1863 came east and went into the oil business on Oil Creek. He never had a day's schooling in his life, but he had brains, energy and ambition.

We find the following paragraph going the rounds of the press, which is about as near the truth as you get: "A certain preacher said no newspaper that told the truth could make a pecuniary success. We say, by the way of returning the compliment, that the minister who will at all times and under all circumstances tell the whole truth about his members dead or alive, will not occupy the pulpit more than one Sunday, and then he will find it necessary to leave town in a hurry. The press and the pulpit go hand in hand, with white-wash brushes and pleasant words, making little virtues into big ones."

The girl that gives way to a desire to gad about the streets, to cultivate the acquaintance of young men and set sinfully laying a foundation for a useless afterlife, then, two to one, when married she will develop into a slatternly gossip, if no greater misfortune befalls her. It is the girl who loves home and helps her mother that wins the moral man and becomes an ornament to womanhood. The girl who does this and devotes some of her spare time to reading and strives for the graces of mental culture, commands the respect and esteem of everybody, while the street galling ornament wins only the admiration of those whose admiration is not worth having.—E.

J. B. Cable and wife of Warren were in town Saturday.

Peter Berry of Plomer, Venango county, was in town on business Monday.

The Pittsburgh conference of the United Evangelical church will be held in Franklin, beginning March 14.

Lena, the two-year-old daughter of Chas. F. Claypole of Jamieson station, died Sunday night of convulsions and was buried Tuesday afternoon. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the neighborhood.

M. Michels, a prosperous merchant of Corry, committed suicide Friday morning by hanging himself from an iron grating of a window in his store. The cause is assigned to temporary insanity. He was 54 years old, was in prosperous circumstances and had lived in Corry for 30 years.

A man named Howard Schrau, of Ridgway, Pa., used a gas stove without a pipe. While he was asleep an accidental change in the pressure caused the gas fire to go out in the young man's room. The gas continued to flow and in a short time the room was filled, and death was the result.

The Hunter mill near the depot at Tionesta will be open for grinding, Friday and Saturday, March 8 and 9, and on every Friday and Saturday thereafter. John Ates, the competent and reliable miller will be in charge, and satisfaction is guaranteed. Come and give the new management a trial.

One of the bills introduced at Harrisburg authorizes Justices of the Peace to elect a jury of six men to try cases of assault and battery and larceny where the sum involved is not over $10.00. This would keep many cases out of court and save counties a large amount of unnecessary costs.—Franklin News.

Frederick Crocker, one of the pioneer oil men, died at the home of his son at Idlewood, Allegheny county, Saturday, at the advanced age of 83. He was a resident of Titusville for fifteen years and was the inventor of the "Crocker Valve" which was first successfully used in the old Empire well on the Foxville Flats below Pioneer. Possessing a peculiar genius for studying oil wells and the discovery of new oil fields, he went to Tuna Valley, and in 1875 drilled the first successful well where Bradford now stands in McKean county. Mr. Crocker eventually sold his interests in the Bradford field and went to the Washington region where he operated successfully for a number of years. The remains were brought to Titusville Monday for interment.

Was He Poisoned.

In the contents of the stomach, of which Foss was relieved before he died, were found unmistakable evidences of poison, the odor of chloroform being very strong, says the Titusville Herald. The fact has created a strong desire to investigate the case thoroughly and has brought out some sensational developments, implicating a citizen of Hickory and a married woman of that place. It was learned that Foss had trouble with both of them and that he had worked up a strong sentiment against them in Hickory. On Foss' person was found an anonymous letter threatening his life postmarked Hickory. It is said that threats of foul play had frequently been made against Foss, and that he had fled from Hickory on that account. These facts have been put in the possession of the dead man's family at Warren and will probably lead to a further and fuller investigation, which may reveal the commission of a startling crime.
