Mattox was up from Oil City a few hours on legal business last Tuesday. As one of Venango's Representatives in the House at Harrisburg last winter, no member stood higher or exerted a larger influence among his fellow legislators than Mr. Mattox, and whether he wants to return or not his people should insist on his services for another term, and then send him to the higher branch of the legislature. Men of his sterling worth are, as a rule, too scarce in legislative halls. -Frank Henderson of East Hickory, who started for Colorado on the 5th inst., writes us that he and "Davey" Hilands landed safely among the gold diggers and have since been enjoying the salubrious climate of that State. Watson, Golinda, Pa., with whom he had made his home for many years, on the 3d of July, and was buried in the Zuendel church cemetery, German Hill, on the 5th. Mr. Watson, who had reached the age of nearly 85 years, was one of the landmarks of the county, and a familiar figure in our midst for nearly fifty years. He reared a large family of boys that have grown to be amongst our most energetic and useful business men. For some years back he had been in failing health but was able to be about until a short time prior to his death, which was a peaceful and painless one. -"The Middle Ten" is the title of a new book just issued and which is meeting a warm reception among the plain, sensible people of the country. It is written by that talented and popular journalist, F. F. Murray, of the Titusville World, who believes there is something better in this world for respectable mankind than either blindly truckling to bloated monopolists, rich in purse and commonly known as the Upper Ten, or listlessly falling into the rut occupied by the loafing, indolent anarchist, who seems content to guzzle strong drink and rail at all existing governments, and classed as the Lower Ten. There is a Middle Ten, composing a much larger and infinitely more respectable class of mankind than either of the former, and which can by friendly co-operation accomplish wonders with the proper effort. The book deals harshly but justly with trusts of all kinds, and points the way to meet and combat with them, in a calm, dignified and common sense way. It can be had for 50 cents by addressing the World Pub. Co., Titusville, Pa. You will not regret it if you send for a copy.

Death of J. W. Pettigrew. James Wilber Pettigrew died at his home in President, Venango county, Pa., Monday, July 8, 1895, after an illness of about three years of consumption. He was the son of Alexander H. and Jeannette Pettigrew, and was born in Hickory township, Forest county, 35 years ago. Ten years ago he was united in marriage with Miss Abbie Carbaugh, who, with one son aged 9 years, survives him. Mr. Pettigrew was a stonemason by trade, and it was while following this avocation that his health failed him, and although suffering greatly during his illness he was scarcely ever known to complain, but did his best to overcome his disease and get well. As a citizen the village of President possessed no more honorable gentleman, and his strict integrity and correct moral habits won for him in every section where he was known the highest esteem of all; in his death his immediate family are not the only ones who mourn and miss him. At the time of his death he was a member in good standing of Olive Lodge, F. & A. M., of Tionesta, which attended and had charge of the funeral on Wednesday, July 10. The REPUBLICAN joins the many friends of the deceased in extending sincere sympathy to the bereaved family in this hour of deep affliction.

Races on the Fourth. The program of events for the Fourth was fully carried out in Tionesta, and we believe gave the best satisfaction that has been rendered here for a number of years. Rialto Park held a big crowd of sight-seers, numbering nearly a thousand people, attracted there by the races which were billed to take place. The Park managers can congratulate themselves on the complete success of their first venture, and the reputation thus established will doubtless prove of pecuniary benefit to the association in the future. The gentleman who drove the Proper horse in the races, and who has had much experience in that line stated that the track was the fastest quarter mile course he had ever driven on and recommended it quite highly. The racing events resulted as follows: First—Half mile bicycle race: A. W. Richards, C. F. Falkman, entries; won by Richards. Time, 1:33. Second—Fifty-yard foot race, boys under 12: Lester Holeman, first; John Lawrence, second; George Carson, third. Time, :08. Third—One-half mile bicycle race, 1895 riders: George Kilmer, first; R. R. Cassatt, second. Time, 1:33. Fourth—One hundred yard foot race: Dave Blum, first; Charles Booher, second; C. O. Sallade, third; Dr. Proper, fourth. Fifth—One mile bicycle race: C. F. Falkman, first; A. W. Richards, second. Time, 2:49. HORSE RACES. First—One mile trotting race: C. F. Proper's horse, first; A. L. Weller's, second; P. C. Hill's, third; S. S. Canfield's fourth. Time, 2:44. Second—Half mile running race: Harry Canfield, first; Ed. Corah, second. Time, 1:15. Third—Half mile trotting for 3-year-olds: Sime Whitman, first; S. S. Canfield, second. Time, 1:47. One of the most interesting events was the running horse race. Harry Canfield rode the winner, a remarkably fleet-footed little pony, and got excellent speed out of the nag. The association left nothing undone that would tend to interest and amuse the large crowd, while everything about the grounds was conducted in the most orderly manner, be it said to their credit. Any event which they may advertise in the future will undoubtedly receive a liberal patronage.

Kellestville. James Cooper of Panther Rock, who has been a sufferer from epidemic dysentery, is rapidly improving under the skillful care of Dr. C. Y. Detar. Jim's many friends around here will welcome the glad news. W. H. Carter's condition remains about the same excepting that he is growing steadily weaker. His parents are with him now. At times Mr. Carter feels quite well but he is kept constantly under the influence of opiates. Mrs. Sprague of Buffalo, N. Y., is visiting her friend, Mrs. M. Andrews. Miss Maud Weller spent a few days in Kellestville last week. While here Maud attended the teachers' examination which was held on July 11th. About ten teachers were in attendance. Mrs. Minnie Spencer, wife of Eric Spencer, died at her home in this place on Sunday last, of consumption. She was aged about 29 years, and was the mother of four small children. Funeral services were conducted at the residence by Revs. Whippo and Sutton on Monday morning, and interment at 2 p. m. Monday at Campbell hill, near Tidouite. After the recent rains had swollen the creek, and with the assistance of several pond freshets, a number of rafts were started from Minlater and Newtown. Only a few of the starters reached their destination. Mrs. C. Y. Detar returned home Saturday evening after a ten day's pleasant stay with friends in Clarion county. Mrs. Nettie Harrington is stopping at the Brooklyn House a few weeks. Miss Lucy Brewster, who is stopping at H. B. Dotterer's, has been confined to her room a few days suffering with neuralgia of the heart. She is much better now. Miss Emma Dotterer came up from Ross Run and spent a few hours with friends on Sunday. She was accompanied by her niece, Miss Kate Harrington. A number of friends are visiting Mrs. Alma Gillespie. Farmers have begun harvesting their hay crop which seems light this year. C. M. Detar, a practicing V. S. of Fryburg, paid his brother C. Y. a visit a few days last week. While here he had many professional calls. Harry Evans a practical tonsorial artist of Fryburg, visited relatives in town a day or two last week. Wesley Whitehill went down to Scotch Hill last week to visit his mother, whom he has not visited for fifteen years. On Saturday evening, while G. S. Copeland was on his journey home from the P. O. to his residence on Fork run, he saw on the road ahead of him what he mistook for a ghost. The phantom was attired in a winding sheet of white fabric. George was aboard of his bike, and going at a pretty lively rate, when the object suddenly rose up in the road ahead of him, and George, bike, and all, went pell-mell over a 15-foot embankment. When George came to he was more scared than injured and upon close observation the would-be phantom was another party on a ride on a bike. Alas! poor George.
