

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

COUNTY. Treasurer, JAMES H. FONES. Associate Judge, JACK McCRAY.

Postponed for a Year.

The Farr compulsory educational bill will not be enforced this year. Attorney General McCormick has given the department of public instruction an opinion which practically suspends the operation of the law until next year.

A MONETARY DEFINITION.

A "gold monometalist" is defined by an exchange as one who wants gold alone used as metallic money. The term is often misapplied to one who favors the maintenance of the present monetary system of the United States, France or England, in which the value of all kinds of money is fixed by reference to the gold unit of value.

"Bimetallism" is the theory that gold and silver can be used as a united or common standard of value, the union of one being kept by law the same value as the unit of the other.

"International bimetallism" is a theory that bimetallism is impracticable if undertaken by a single nation, but practicable if undertaken in concert by all the great commercial nations.

The bimetallists believe in the restoration of the free coinage of silver in this country (as it was prior to 1872) at the rate of 16 of silver to one of gold; and that it should be done by the U. S. Government, independent of any and all foreign nations.

Superior Court Program.

The new superior court, of which Judge Rice of Luzerne county, is president judge, met in the supreme court room, Philadelphia, last Tuesday, and received the report of the committee appointed to adopt rules and apportion the counties to have five districts in which the court will sit.

First, at Philadelphia (supreme court room)—For the first and second Mondays of November, the county of Philadelphia. For the third Monday of November, the counties of Lancaster and Berks. For the first Monday of December, the counties of Chester, Delaware and Bucks. For the second Monday of December, the counties of Schuylkill, Lehigh, Northampton and Montgomery.

Second, at Scranton—For the first Monday of January, the counties of Luzerne, Columbia and Montour. For the second Monday of January, the counties of Lackawanna, Monroe, Carbon and Wyoming. For the third Monday of January, the counties of Bradford, Susquehanna, Wayne and Pike.

Third, at Williamsport—For the first Monday of February, the counties of Northumberland, Union, Snyder, Lycoming and Sullivan. For the second Monday of February, the counties of Center, Clearfield, Clinton, Cameron and Elk. For the third Monday of February, the counties of Mckeau, Potter and Tioga.

Fourth, at Harrisburg—For the first Monday of March, the counties of Dauphin, Lebanon and York. For the second Monday of March, the counties of Adams, Franklin, Fulton, Cumberland, Juniata and Perry. For the third Monday of March, the counties of Mifflin, Huntingdon, Bedford and Blair.

Fifth, at Pittsburgh—For the first and second Mondays of April, the county of Allegheny. For the third Monday of April, the counties of Westmoreland, Fayette, Washington and Green. For the first Monday of May, the counties of Somerset, Indiana, Cambria, Jefferson and Clarion. For the second Monday of May, the counties of Armstrong, Butler, Beaver, Lawrence and Mercer. For the third Monday of May, the counties of Erie, Crawford, Venango Warren and Forest.

The work of the Census Bureau in connection with the eleventh census is practically finished. The last volume of reports is in the hands of the printer, and a most stupendous undertaking is concluded, the more than 6,000 persons employed at Washington and in the field having been discharged. The work was commenced about six years since, and cost the Government over $10,000,000. This is a heavy expense, and considering the lateness of the publication of the result, it may well give rise to the question whether or not there is a better way, as well as cheaper, of gathering and tabulating the information desired.—Brookville Republican.

A DISPATCH from Conneville, Pa., under date of the 23d, says: The heaviest rain within the memory of the oldest inhabitant visited here this evening. The streets were flooded. Next to the Youghiogheny river here and in New Haven over 100 houses are flooded. Thousands of coke ovens were drowned out by the torrent of water, and at many mines extra pumps had to be put to work in order to keep the workings from being flooded. At Broadford, two miles west of here, several houses were washed away. Two bridges on the Mt. Pleasant branch were swept away and traffic is blocked. The damage to crops is great.

MEMBERS of the administration are having a difficult task to reconcile the promise that a Democratic tariff would open the markets of the world to the producers and manufacturers of the United States with the cold, hard figures contained in the official report of the Bureau of Statistics—figures compiled by Democratic officials. During the eleven months ending May 31, 1895, exports for the United States fell off, as compared with the same period ending May 31, 1894, when the McKinley law was in force nearly $75,000,000 in value—to be exact, the exportations for eleven months under the McKinley tariff amounted to $813,547,866, while the exportations for the same period under the Democratic tariff amounted only to $739,651,865. These are the sort of facts which have convinced those who control the great business interests of the country that it is not safe to have the Democratic party in control of the national government, and which will not soon be forgotten, but will stand like a stone wall over which the Democratic party cannot hope to get during the life of the present generation.

SENATOR SHERMAN has taken himself out of the Presidential race once and for all. If there was any disappointment in his heart when he declared that he would not accept a nomination though all the people of the United States should join hands and offer it to him, it was not apparent in his voice or manner. "No man of 70," he said philosophically "has the right to undertake the work and responsibility which comes to the Chief Executive. It is a position of wear and tear, and it should have a younger man. There was nothing personal in this declaration. It was the plain, direct statement of a man who has come in contact so much with the Presidential office that he knows it as well as those who have filled it, and it is evidently inspired by a deep conviction that the speaker has passed the eligible age. His lot was not unlike that of Clay and Webster, or coming to a still more recent period, of Seward, Sumner, Blaine and Conkling. An admitted leader of the greatest party of modern times, his aspirations to become President were repeatedly defeated by circumstances which he could not control. Yet his disappointment has not embittered him." Senator Sherman speaks highly of Reed and Allison for President but his preference is for McKinley.

PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, The Hon. Charles H. Noyes President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas and Quarter Sessions in and for the county of Forest, has issued his process for holding a Court of Common Pleas, Quarter Sessions of the Peace, Orphans' Court, Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, at Tionesta, for the County of Forest, to commence on the Last Monday of August, being the 26th day of August, 1895. Notice is therefore given to the Coroner, Justices of the Peace and Constables of said county, that they are and there in their proper persons at ten o'clock A. M. of said day with their records, inquisitions, examinations and other remembrances, to do those things which to their office appertain to be done, and to those who are bound in recognizance to prosecute against the prisoners that are or shall be in the jail of Forest County, that they may be then and there to prosecute against them as shall be just. Given under my hand and seal this 22nd day of July, A. D. 1895.

JOHN T. CARSON, [L.S.] Sheriff.

Estray.

Came to the premises of the undersigned, on Salmon Creek, four miles above Kelleysville, Kingsley twp., Forest county, about six weeks ago, a small red cow, with brindle head, is four or five years old, and has small bell with clasp fastened with wire. The owner is notified to come forward, prove property, pay charges and take her away, otherwise she will be disposed of as the law directs. CHAS. L. WARREN, Kelleysville, July 10, 1895.
