—Col. J. W. H. Reisinger of Meadville, spent a few hours of last Wednesday in town on business, but took time to shake hands with many of his old Tionesta friends. The REPUBLICAN, of which the Colonel was the founder, way back in '68, acknowledges a pleasant call from him.

—Isaac Jones Esq., of Fagundus, gave the REPUBLICAN office a very pleasant call. Twenty-seven years ago last March 'Squire Jones first had his name entered upon the subscription list of this paper—that was at its birth—and he has been with us ever since. May he live to read it far into the next century.

—Judge Nash of Pigeon was in attendance at argument court yesterday. He informs us that Mr. Crawford has a large new mill in operation on Blue Jay, a mile or two below Frost station, and that Mr. Bemis will soon have another one in operation on the site of the recently burned Fox & Crain mill.

—The ball game between Tidioute and Tionesta at Rialto Park last Saturday was quite interesting at times, and resulted in victory for Tionesta by a score of 23 to 17. Neither club had had any practice to speak of, and so the score ran up rather higher than is consistent with really first class ball playing.

—Veteran Jonathan Albaugh of Hickory township was in town one day last week. He informs us that the coming reunion of old Co. G., 83d Reg., in this place gives promise of being a thorough success, and that as secretary of the organization, he is constantly in receipt of letters from old comrades expressing a determination to be present on that occasion, Aug. 20th, next.

—J. D. Davis has been out of milk since last Saturday, owing to the straying away from the pasture field of his short-legged sorrel cow. If the finder of the aforesaid sawed-off bovine will return her, Jim says he will give him a dollar and not charge him a cent for what milk has been used. Or will make any other fair adjustment that can be agreed upon, except to give the cow as part pay.

—Frequently we notice strangers in town whose names are unknown to us. It often happens that they are visitors of some of our people. It has become the custom to note matters of this kind, and persons are sometimes offended because of our supposed neglect. We would be glad if our people would hand us the names of their visiting friends, as it will be a pleasure to us to give them a personal.—Ex. Same here.

—Franklin will celebrate her centennial on the 4th and 5th of September coming, and from this on there will be no let-up in hustling to make it the event of this year and this section. In the list of vice presidents named for the occasion we notice that Tionesta is honored by the selection of two of her worthy citizens, Mr. Benjamin May and Samuel D. Irwin, Esq., both old-time citizens of the "Nursery of great men." Guess we'll all go down and help to make the big time a bigger one.

—Oil City has a new paper called the Press, issued weekly on Saturday evening. It is a neat little sheet typographically well filled with the local news of the city and vicinity, written up in a cheery, entertaining style, and in all respects seems to fill the long-felt want. The M-M Printing Co. is the promoter of the enterprise, one of the M's being a former Tionesta lad, Mr. Chas. Morgan. The new candidate bids fair to grow in favor with the public, and it has our best wishes for complete success.

—"Broken Line Sale" at Miles & Armstrong's.

—After all the crop outlook in this section of country is good. Hay, the poorest of all, will average about half a crop it is thought; rye is pretty good, and wheat fair in spots, but promises a great yield in the northwestern states; oats are fine and will go far toward making up the deficiency of the hayfield; potatoes are doing well so far, and the corn crop is going to be immense if present indications are to be relied on. As to the buckwheat yield it is yet too early to predict. Fruit is about the worst off in this immediate latitude of any, yet some orchards will have a small crop of apples, while the peach crop in more southern climes promises great yields. So that we may all be happy yet.

—Some newspapers would have us believe that the average farmer is a very great chump, and when a new trick is discovered they immediately rush into print with the information that the new trick (or old one rehashed) is being successfully worked on the farmers. Now here is the latest gag which some of our contemporaries are trying to make us believe the farmers are biting on with a relish, but we don't believe a solitary farmer in this section could be "pulled in" with such mealy bait: "Two prepossessing men paint a sign on a farmer's fence and give him a few dollars to guarantee them that no one else be permitted to paint a sign over it. The farmer is asked to sign a receipt, acknowledging the payment of the money, in order that they may return the same to their employers. The receipt that he signs turns out to be a promissory note for $200 or $500."

The Late Daniel D. Noble.

Daniel D. Noble, the subject of the present sketch, was born Dec. 1, 1808, and died July 21, 1895, in Tionesta, Pa., at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Julia Hunter. At the time of his death Father Noble was one of the oldest citizens of the county, both as to age and residence, having settled within its borders in the year 1830. His life, except for the past few years, was one of unremitting toil, residing for the greater part of the time on his farm in what is now Hickory township, opposite Dawson station on the W. N. Y. & P. Ry. Becoming enfeebled by age and disease he was finally compelled to cease farming, and his last years were made pleasant by the loving care of his daughter, Mrs. Hunter. Relatives and friends were alike glad to render him affectionate service, for his long residence among us had rendered him esteemed by all. For more than sixty-five years Father Noble was a consistent follower of the Saviour, uniting in 1839 with the M. E. Church. It was fitting that a life so well spent in His service should be crowned at last by a peaceful, happy end, and such indeed was his. By his death a familar name and figure have been removed from our midst, and all will mourn a friend. Adorning his profession by consistency and sterling integrity of character, he will be missed in church and neighborhood. "A pillar in Israel" has indeed fallen on earth, but only to be erected anew by the Master in His great temple above.

The remains were laid to rest in Riverside Cemetery, on Tuesday, July 23, the funeral services being conducted by Revs. Father Rhodes and F. F. Shoup.

Wednesday of last week the Marienville Oil Co. drilled in another well on their lease at the Watson Farm that is a dandy, making more than forty barrels a day up to this time. They have a good lease and are making some money out of it.—Express.

NEWSY NOTES.

The third girl in the President's family has been named Marion.

Louisville is making preparations to entertain 250,000 visitors on the occasion of the National encampment of the G. A. R., to be held there in September.

Commission men are scouring the grape belt buying up entire crops in advance. Last year the average price was 14 cents per basket. Commission men have offered as high as 20 cents per basket this year.

John Bannon the 19-year-old son of Benjamin Bannon, of Siterville, and employed as a trainman on the W. N. Y. & P. yard crew, had his right arm so badly mangled on Friday night that it had to be amputated at the shoulder.

Boys living in and about San Diego, Cal., are making money catching horned lizards for the Hawaiian Government, which is importing them to destroy a Japanese bug which is ruining many crops in the island. The government wants 5,000 lizards, and is paying the boys $1.00 a dozen for them.

Judge Ruffington in the United States District Court at Erie last Saturday sentenced Harry L. Chase, of Warren county, to 15 months in the Allegheny penitentiary for impersonating a government officer in an attempt to swindle a pensioner. Chase's confederate, Bert Fisher, a neighbor of the victim, got six months in the Allegheny county jail. F. E. Watson and Rudisell, two New Castle counterfeiters, were given thirteen months each in the penitentiary. There is now a suspicion that Anton Straub, of Williamsport, the crazy counterfeiter, has been shaming. He has been sent to the Allegheny county jail on probation.

The up-to-date women of the Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, in Towson, Md., are raising money with which to buy a bicycle for the rector of the church, which he is to use in making pastoral visits and in attending to other duties.

An exchange remarks that railroad men are not so "easy" as they used to be. A young man who thought he was "next to the throne" with the local agent of the road, wrote to that agent and asked him for a pass to the Adirondacks and return. About two days later he received a neat little package in which was a pair of heavy-soled shoes.

Judge Wilson, of Cincinnati, said the other day, in deciding a case: "Any man who gives his salary to his wife is a fool." The judge was right. If he cannot take care of his money he is a fool, and being a fool, he ought to give it to his wife. He is a fool and knows it. If he didn't give his money to his wife he would be a greater fool.—Meadville Tribune.

Major John writes in the United Service Magazine that while he was employed between Port Said and Kantara he saw the waters of the Lake Menzaleh "driven beyond the horizon" by a violent wind, so that the natives walked about where the day before they were fishing. This convinced him that he had seen exactly what happened when the Israelites passed dryshod through the Red Sea.

Rattlesnakes have become so plentiful at Pithole and vicinity lately that they amount to almost a plague. The drillers, tool dressers and farmers are killing large numbers daily but they seem to be steadily increasing in numbers. Snake sharp and students of the snakes habits say that they were driven from their old haunts by the extensive forest fires in the early spring and sought refuge in the neighborhood of Pithole, which was not visited by the fires.—Derriek.

Human beings are not the only creatures which pine and die for want of companionship. About ten days ago all the members of a Market street family, save the head of the house, left the city for their summer outing. They left behind them a canary bird. The feathered singer was tenderly cared for, but became disconsolate by reason of the absence of a little girl of the family, to whom the bird was devotedly attached. The canary became so melancholy that it refused food, and Sunday morning dropped off the perch, dead, to all appearance the victim of a broken heart.—Meadville Gazette.

The immense demand for bicycles has kept the factories overrun with orders, and prevented a fall in the price, but it is only a matter of a short time when the wheel must come down. A person who decides to buy a one hundred dollar machine now can save $50 by waiting a year, and probably in less time. It is reported that a syndicate has been formed to manufacture bicycles, and will during the fall and winter, make 400,000 at a cost not to exceed $18 each, and will sell them so as to retail at $30 dollars each. They will be practically as good as the article now sold for $100.—Meadville Tribune.

A party of newspaper men and ladies have arranged a house-boat party to leave New York city on the first of September, for the Cotton States and International exposition. The route which they take is a good illustration of the facilities for water travel through the Union. The boat's dimensions are 30 by 12 feet, and the greater part of the distance will be polled. The route, as outlined, will traverse the Hudson river, from New York to Albany; thence by the Erie canal to Buffalo; thence to Cleveland, along the shore of Lake Erie; thence to Portsmouth, Ohio, by the Ohio canal, where the Ohio river will be taken to the Mississippi, and the later down to some convenient point, probably Memphis. From there the railroad will be taken to Atlanta, where the party will arrive on the 18th of September, the opening day. The party proposes to have a great deal of pleasure along the route, but the exposition will be the objective point.

EVERY TOWN HAS A liar. A sponger. A bawky team. A smart Alex. Its richest man. A dog ordinance. A croquet ground. Some pretty girls. A girl that giggles. A woman that tattles. Half a dozen lunatics. A neighborhood feud. A justice of the peace. A man who knows it all. More loafers than it needs. Men who see every dog fight. A boy that cuts up in church. An abundance of poor people. A few meddlesome old women. A stock law that is not enforced. A widower who is too glib for his age. Some men who make remarks about women.

A grown young man who laughs every time he says anything. A sewing society that distributes more gossip than its local paper. A girl who goes to the postoffice every time the mail comes in. A man who cries when you talk and laughs out loud after he has said something.—Ex.

She then sent to me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her.
