

THE FOREST REPUBLICAN.

J. E. WENK, EDITOR & PROPRIETOR.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 7, 1896.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

COUNTY. Treasurer, JAMES H. FONES. Associate Judge, JACK McCRAY.

An increase from $211,522 paid for foreign woolen cloths in May, 1894, up to $1,649,045 paid for similar goods in May, 1895, is a Gorman Tariff record that must be very encouraging to both the manufacturers and wage earners in our woolen mills.

It is high time for the courts and the public alike to sit down heavily at once upon the new "hypnotic" dodge for excusing criminals, and enabling them to make charges against any person in the community of whom it may please them or their friends to make a scapegoat, accusing the latter of having "hypnotized" them into the commission of crime. It is a repetition, with variations, of the old, atrocious witchcraft craze of England and of Salem, Massachusetts, two centuries ago.—Blizard.

An exchange tells of a man out in the western part of the State who went into his cow stable the other night and by mistake mixed the cow up a nice mash in a box full of sawdust instead of bran. The cow merely supposed the hard times were the cause of her economy, meekly ate her supper, and the man never discovered his mistake until the next morning, when he milked the cow and she gave down half a gallon of turpentine, a quart of shoe pegs and a bundle of lath.—Middleburgh, N. Y., News.

While the free-trade papers jubilate over the restorations voluntarily made in the wage schedules of some factories, they invariably forget to state that such increase does not make the rate of pay now received by the wage earners equivalent to the earnings in 1892. Another point to which they fail to refer is that, where wages have been advanced, it is very often the case that such an advance was made to far fewer people than were employed 1892. A firm may then have been employing 500 hands, and even if the same rate of wages should now be paid it is often the case that only 350 hands are employed. What then has become of the other 150? Has some other industry made such marked progress under tariff reform as to be able to absorb these idlers? If so, why have not the free-trade editors recorded the fact? It is most likely that the 150 have either left the country or are tramping around still looking for jobs which they had before they voted for President Cleveland and tariff reform.

Three Rich Pennsylvania Counties.

The people of Lancaster county, and for that matter the people of the whole State, have occasion to feel proud of the establishment of Lancaster's claim to the garden spot of the continent by the census of 1890. The six leading counties of the United States in the value of their agricultural products rank as follows: Lancaster county, Pa., $7,657,700; St. Lawrence county, N. Y., 6,054,100; Chester county, Pa., 5,265,200; Worcester county, Mass., 5,489,430; Bucks county, Pa., 5,411,370; Colusa county, Cal., 5,357,359.

It will be observed that three of the first six counties are Lancaster, Chester and Bucks counties of Pennsylvania and that no other State has more than one county in the list. The Lancaster New Era presents some figures which increased the agricultural supremacy of these three southeastern counties of Pennsylvania. The second county in the list, St. Lawrence county, N. Y., is three times as large as Lancaster, as is also the sixth county in rank, Colusa county, California. The products of both these are much less diversified than are Lancaster's. The farms in St. Lawrence county, New York, are worth only about half as much as those of Lancaster, and her farm products get their greatest value from dairy products. The product of wheat in St. Lawrence county is about one-tenth that of Lancaster. The chief product of Colusa county on the other hand, is wheat, her product being twice that of Lancaster's, although her farm land is worth only a fourth of that of the Pennsylvania county.

The agricultural superiority of the three Pennsylvania counties is due to Quakers and Germans, Quakers in Chester county, Germans in Lancaster and both Quakers and Germans in Bucks.—Inquirer.

Cabinet Junkets.

In the good old days, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, when members of General Grant's Cabinet were accustomed to junketing in government vessels or at the public expense, our Democratic friends were in the habit of telling us what a dreadful thing the official junket was. It was then their impression that no honest man would think of taking a journey at the public cost and their denunciations reached sublime heights.

But somehow we do not hear so much about this subject as formerly. Secretary Lamont went West on one of the "tours of inspection" which in former years so aroused the Democracy, but never a word was said against his so doing by those who had once pronounced all such tours disgraceful. It has since transpired that his real purpose was to have a good rest, incidentally laying such wires for a third term for his chief as he could find place for, and the facts were duly published. And now Secretary Herbert is off for Newport and the round of gayety on the eastern coast, with the intention of remaining there for some weeks, and we presume, of entertaining his friends in the customary manner on board the Dolphin.

Secretary Carlisle is off on a junket in a government boat on the great lakes and St. Lawrence river, and yet there is not a Democratic newspaper raising a howl against this "junketing" at government expense.
