Advantages of Producing Our Own Sugar.

A plant of beet sugar factory costing $400,000 will use, say, 300 tons of beets a day, during a "campaign" of 100 days, each ton producing an average of 165 pounds of sugar or a total output of 4,950,000 pounds. This is probably considerably over the average mark, because it has not resulted in the past in this country. But even on this basis it would take 800 beet sugar factories to produce the requisite 4,000,000,000 pounds of sugar for home consumption. The average beet yield is probably 12 tons to the acre, often more, and sometimes less, but on this basis it would take 25 acres of beets per day, or 2500 acres, to supply one factory during a "campaign," say 2,000,000 acres per annum to give us sugar enough for our own supply.

The labor in a factory on a ton of beets is from $1.50 to $1.57 per ton, or, say, $450 per day; $45,000 in a campaign in one factory, to say nothing of the amount paid out for labor in the field to grow the beets. In 800 factories it would be $36,000,000. The coal, coke, limestone, bags and oil, per ton of beets worked cost $1.37, or $411 per day; $41,100 in a "campaign" and in 800 factories $32,880,000.

The freight on the material is 24 cents per ton of beets, or $72 per day, $7200 in a "campaign" and for 800 factories our railways would receive in transportation charges $5,760,000.

There are some of the considerations which enter into the question of producing our own sugar, giving employment in our own country to labor in divers directions, and especially in the coal, coke and limestone industries. -American Economist.

The election last fall was a rebuke to the administration and a condemnation of the policy which has in large measure turned our market over to the foreigner, and the manufacturer has confidence that the restoration of the Republican party to power means a restoration of this market to him. The improvement we note in trade to-day is in large part based upon the confidence that no more pernicious legislation is possible.

The indications are that Japan's victory over China has resulted in giving the Land of Flowers a finely-developed case of swelled head. It will be thoroughly cured, however, as soon as she tries issues with either the United States or Russia.

The new woman, who has reached Turkey and proposes to amend the customs of the harem, hasn't the courage of her convictions. She ought to wipe out the harem at one fell stroke.

NEWSY NOTES.

A bill in equity was filed Saturday in common pleas court, Philadelphia, to have an injunction issued restraining the city from taking the Liberty bell to the Atlanta exposition. The bill sets forth that the bell is too precious an historic object to be endangered by such a long journey.

George F. Root, the noted song composer is dead. He was the author of "Tramp, tramp, tramp the boys are marching," "We'll Rally Round the Flag, Boys," and many other war ballads. Like the late Henry C. Foster he was gifted as a poet as well as a musical composer. Some of his songs were full of melody and inexpressibly sweet.

One of the incidents of last Sunday's excursion to Glenora over the Low Grade railroad, was the loss by Isaiah Johns, of $350. That Sunday trip cost him in cash the savings of a year, and more of hard labor. He cannot tell whether he dropped his pocket-book or had it stolen. The pocket-book contained three one hundred dollar bills, two twenties, a five and five cents. He will pay fifty dollars for the return to him of the money. -Brookville Democrat.

The Cochran Times, which is an authority on the subject, says: "As before stated in the Times, the oats crop will be the largest and best harvested in this section for five years. Reports of big yields are already coming in. McCloskey & Hays threshed thirty-one dozens for W. C. Pagan, Saturday, that yielded sixty-five bushels. The Pattisons on Monday threshed forty-two bushels from twenty dozens. A bushel to the dozen is more than an average yield."

The Titusville correspondent of the Crawford Journal relates the following: Jerry Kightlinger, a prosperous farmer, living one-half mile south of the Diamond, in Venango County, lost a valuable cow last week Thursday, by her eating the leaves from a cherry tree that he had cut down in the pasture. The cow ate the leaves and did not go more than 250 feet from the spot and laid down and died. Why the eating of cherry leaves will cause death is not quite clear, but several owners of stock have reported losses at one time or another by eating cherry leaves out during dog days. If this is the case farmers should be careful how their stock is allowed to get at this vegetable."

The last art of welding copper to iron and steel has been discovered by three Pittsburg iron workers. They show several samples of the metals perfectly welded. The last record history gives us of these metals having been welded was in Scandinavia 500 B. C. The value of the discovery comes in the fact that copper offers greater resistance to the action of salt water than any other metal. The Carnegie company has offered the men a fixed price for the secret. A shop has been fitted up for the men at the Homestead plant, where they propose to weld a plate of copper to an ingot of nickel steel armor plate. The Carnegie company hopes to be able to cover all armor plates for the big battle ships with copper.
