

THE FOREST REPUBLICAN.

J. E. WENK, EDITOR & PROPRIETOR.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1895

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

STATE.

State Treasurer,
BENJ. J. HAYWOOD, Mercer.
Judges of the Superior Court,
CHARLES E. RICE, Luzerne,
JAMES A. BEAVER, Centre,
E. N. WILLARD, Lackawanna,
GEORGE B. ORLADY, Huntington,
HOWARD J. REEDER, Northampton,
JOHN J. WICKHAM, Beaver.

COUNTY.

Treasurer,
JAMES H. FONES,
Associate Judge,
JACK McCRAE.

OCTOBER 5th is the last day to pay taxes to secure a vote.

A DISPATCH from Constantinople says: "Cholera is increasing here, and in the vicinity of Broussa, about 57 miles southeast of here, it is raging violently."

The New York bankers are evidently intent on making the most of their opportunities. They may never get another Cleveland and propose to milk the Treasury as often as possible. —Blizard.

The Pansutawney Spirit incorporates a heap of horse sense in these few lines:

The Philadelphia common pleas judges have decided to wear gowns. They think it will add dignity to their appearance. There is dignity in brains and character under any garb. If there are lacking black gowns will not supply the deficit. We don't want any more sham dignity. There is too much of it now, and judges ought not to encourage it by their example.

The two hundred Chinamen who were admitted into this country on the claim that they were actors going to the Atlanta exposition for exhibition purposes, may not have been actors at the time of their admission, but now that they are here, the treasury department has decided that they must keep up the farce of pretending to be actors or be arrested. Government detectives will keep them in sight until the exposition closes, and see them safe on their way back to their native land.

There is a constitutional amendment pending in Louisiana, which imposes an educational requirement in the matter of the suffrage. Its object is, of course, to disfranchise the negroes, but, strangely enough, a large proportion of the negroes favor it as a stimulant to education, while the opposition to it comes mainly from white men who object to the taking of the franchise from illiterates of their own color. The situation is a surprising one, and the politicians do not know what to do about it.

The registry of voters having been completed the next duty of those desiring to vote is to see to it that they have paid a State or County tax within a period of two years from November 5, 1895. All who voted last year and have not paid the tax mentioned, can only qualify themselves by seeing the proper collector and paying this tax on or before October 5.

On the first of July last the increase of the national debt since the advent of the Cleveland administration amounted to $285,000,000. Last week it attained the enormous sum of $301,000,000!

That was in about eleven weeks. Day by day it is mounting higher, under the suicidal policy inaugurated by the revenue destroying Democracy.

If this is what the Democrats mean by reforming the administration of national affairs, heaven help our national affairs!

The Pension Office states that the number of pensioners has fallen from 1,011,794 in 1894 to 987,815 in 1895. The official estimate is that in 1900 the figures will be 854,461, and five years later 701,413. The estimate of the pension appropriation in 1905 is $41,000,000 less than that of the present year. This prospective surplus is viewed with great satisfaction by the Administration since its failure to save money by suspending pensions in haste and searching for a cause of suspension at leisure. The Republican party will achieve a surplus by another road long before the year 1905.

The most striking feature of the Grand Army reunion at Louisville is the general and cordial fraternization of the Federal and Confederate soldiers. It seems strange to civilians that men who were once engaged in the grim work of trying to kill each other should now meet in the most friendly spirit and "drink from the same canteen," but the truth is that the men who did the fighting in the war cherish none of the bitterness which is frequently manifested by those who staid at home. The soldiers on the two sides have a feeling of comradeship that implies mutual respect for the courage and fortitude that they respectively displayed.

Why not see at once that your taxes are paid so you can vote.

Pennsylvania at the Atlanta Exposition.

Pennsylvania will be well represented at the Atlanta Exposition. Lack of space has compelled the curtailment of the great exhibit originally contemplated and partially arranged for by the various sub-committees of the Pennsylvania Commission, but the 4,000 square feet of floor area allotted to the Keystone State by the Exposition management will be utilized to the very best advantage, and from present appearances the prediction that Pennsylvania will hold her own at Atlanta with any northern state seems amply justified.

The State Building, which, by special arrangement, occupies a commanding site on the grounds of the Piedmont Driving Club, overlooking the main portion of the Exposition grounds, will be completed and ready for furnishing within a few days. The value of building and contents will be between $0,000 and $10,000. Owing to the comparative small cost of labor and materials, this will represent in results what an expenditure of three times the amount would have produced at the Chicago World's Fair.

The general style of the building will be Grecian Ionic, differing from any other building upon the grounds. Surrounded, as it is, by terraces on the front and sides, and backed by the large trees of the park, it will present a very attractive appearance. The details will be carried out in strict conformity to the style adopted, and will show much refinement. Immediately in front of the building is a massive stairway, with stone balustrades, leading up from the main promenade near the principal gateway of the exposition grounds.

The building is entered through an open loggia, by means of a broad flight of steps, ornamented at the sides with carved lions on pedestals, and flanked at either side by covered porticos. The platform of this loggia will be raised some ten steps or more above the grade, and will be laid in red and white octagon tile. At each end of the hall is a large room, nearly twenty feet square, the one at the left devoted to women, and that at the right to men. Opening off these rooms are suitable toilet rooms, well equipped with modern toilet conveniences, with marble floors and partitions. The rooms at the end of the hall will have dome ceiling.

A cloak room on the first floor will also add to the convenience of the guests. The entire interior of the building will be carried out in Classic style to match the exterior, and prove very effective.

The interior of the building will have hard-wood parquetry flooring, with finish of Georgia pine. The plaster work of the interior will be tinted in colors to harmonize well with the finish. Welsbach and electric lights, distributed throughout both the interior and exterior, will give brilliant lighting effect. The exterior of the building will be painted white. The building will be handsomely furnished and the walls will be appropriately embellished with portraits of men distinguished in the history of Pennsylvania. A large pastel of Governor Hastings, said to be the best portrait extant of the present chief executive of the Commonwealth, will be hung in the reception hall.

The building is intended to serve as a club house for Pennsylvanians visiting the Exposition, and will be equipped with a post office for mail delivery, writing facilities, etc. There will be no exhibits in the building itself, but outside, in the open loggia, the greatest single attraction in the entire Exposition will be displayed. Under a raised dias, in the centre of the loggia, the world-famed Liberty Bell will be installed on October 15th, with appropriate ceremonies, after a triumphant journey through the south from Philadelphia.

The main State exhibit will be in the Manufacturers and Liberal Arts Building. A space of 770 square feet on the main floor of this building will be occupied by a display of the birds and mammals of the State. This will far surpass a similar display made at Chicago, and is said to be one of the finest exhibits of the kind ever prepared in America. Among the animals in the collection is a Pennsylvania panther, killed in the State and preserved by a taxidermist.

Notice.

All parties knowing themselves indebted to Mrs. R. Barnett will please call at my office and settle the same on or before October 1st, 1895, and save unnecessary costs.
