FATAL WRECK AT NEBRASKA.

Tracey Lindsey Horribly Mangled and Instantly Killed on the Logging Railroad

An accident occurred on the logging railroad of Collins & Co. at Nebraska, Pa., shortly after noon on Thursday last by which Tracey Lindsey lost his life in a shocking manner. For some time he had been engaged as one of the brakemen on the road. The cars on this road are drawn up the valley of Little Con creek by an engine, the distance being from five to six miles, where they are loaded and run to the creek pond by gravity, each car needing a brakeman. Shortly after the severe storm on Thursday five heavily loaded cars started from the woods, in the following order: Lindsey first, John Gould second, John Young third, A. J. Small fourth, and R. W. Guiton fifth. The track being wet the cars were hard to manage. At the sideway where the cars are loaded is a heavy grade of some rods. Both brakes are set until the cars are over this grade, when a stop is made and the front brake loosened. Mr. Small had reached the foot of the grade and was off his car attending to this duty. Mr. Guiton's car was slipping a good deal and he was unable to stop it, and as Mr. Small got back on his car Guiton's car struck it, knocking Small back onto the rear car, thus leaving his car without a brakeman and he was unable to overtake it. Young and Gould, who were ahead of the runaway car, saw their danger in time to save their lives, but Lindsey, being on the head car, and on the lookout for fallen trees after the storm, evidently did not see his danger in time to leap from the car. Hurrying on down the track some few hundred yards, the men were horrified at what met their gaze. There lay the unfortunate victim, his head completely severed from the body, both legs crushed and one arm nearly cut off above the wrist. No one had seen the accident, which happened a few feet below Ed. De-woody's barn, which stands near the track at Foxcreek, and it is reasoned that Lindsey was unable to hear the approaching cars on account of the wet track which seems to muffle the sound. The cars left the track some distance below where they were badly wrecked. The accident was one which, it would seem, no human agency could have prevented.

The remains were taken up and tenderly cared for by the men, and after breaking the news to his young wife, they were conveyed to his home, which is not far from the village of Nebraska. The shock to his wife was awful, and can better be imagined than described. On Saturday morning last the funeral was held, the interment taking place at Scotch Hill, Clarion county, his former home. He was aged about 24 years, and had been married about a year and a half, the wife with a babe of about five months, surviving.

Coroner Dr. Morrow went up on Saturday morning, but, learning all the facts in the case, did not deem it necessary to hold an inquest.

Oil Notes.

Dr. Siggins is rigging up again on the Irwin tract, Tubbs Run, and will give the well drilled there some weeks ago another shot. It has lately shown up to good advantage and the owners believe it was partially spoiled in the first shooting.

"Farmer" Dean has secured considerable territory in the vicinity of Hunter's station, two miles below Tionesta, and will begin a thorough test of it in a short time.

Proper & Co., on the Morris Tucker farm, West Hickory, shot their well last Thursday and it is believed to be good for 12 or 15 barrels. This will stimulate further operations in that field.

W. A. Grove cleaned out an old well on his lease the C. O. Baird tract, Dawson Run, and shot it last week. It is now doing about eight barrels.

The Tionesta Gas Co.'s well, on Hemlock, has just got fairly to drilling, and will be about three weeks in fishing.

Wolcott & Osgood have leased considerable territory in the vicinity of Chris. Jensen's farm, Ross Run, and before long will put down a well on Mr. Jensen's place.

Messrs. Haight, Cook & Agnew have found a good paying producer on the central part of tract 3192, Howe township. This well, located by Messrs. Agnew and Haight, is fully a mile from any other development, and seems to open an entire new field. It has not been shot yet.

Recent Deaths.

BOYD M. JONES

Boyd M. Jones, one of the pioneers of this county, died at his home in Nebraska, on Saturday, Sept. 21, 1895, after an illness extending over several months. Mr. Jones had been in the employ of T. D. Collins for upward of 35 years, having removed with him to Nebraska from Beaver Valley, where the latter lumbered extensively for many years. He was always a hard worker, an industrious citizen; honest in his dealing with his fellowmen, whose respect and esteem he bore in a high degree. He was born in Northumberland county, Pa., and came to this section when quite a young man. In September, 1864, he entered the U. S. service as a private in Co. B, 2d Pa. Cavalry, and was honorably discharged June 20, 1865. He was mustered into Stow Post, 274, G. A. R., April 20, 1892, of which organization he was an honored member at the time of his death, and under whose auspices he was buried at East Hickory, Pa., Monday, Sept. 23, 1895. Mr. Jones was aged about 68 years, and leaves a wife and several children, all grown, besides a large circle of friends to mourn his death.

GEORGE S. LACY.

Pittsburg papers of last Friday chronicle the death of George S. Lacy, Esq., which occurred at Allegheny, Thursday evening, at 5 o'clock, Sept. 19, 1895. The cause of his death is not stated. The funeral took place on Saturday, interment at Erie, Pa.

Mr. Lacy was at one time among the most prominent lumbermen of this county, having at an early date established the lumbering plant at what was then known as Laytown, now Nebraska, the firm being then Hall & Lacy. They were succeeded by Green & Gordon at Nebraska, and Mr. Lacy transferred his operations to Golinza, five miles up Big Con creek, where for a number of years he was connected in the lumber business with S. A. Ford and Ford & Lacy, afterwards being succeeded by his two sons, George J. and F. C. Lacy, when he took up his residence in Allegheny, where he remained in active business up to the time of his last illness. His was a busy and honorable career. As an employer of labor he was respected and greatly esteemed by the poor people in the early days of this neighborhood, and his dealings with them we never heard questioned; in him the honest toiler always had a friend, Mr. Lacy leaves to survive him two children, Mrs. Stranahan of Erie, Pa., and Fred. C. Lacy of Allegheny.

To Improve the Allegheny.

A circular sent out by three of the leading citizens of Tarentum, Pa., calls attention to the interest that is being manifested in the improvement of the Allegheny river by building dams and slackwatering it so that large boats can traverse it during the entire year. The circular refers to the efforts that Congressman W. A. Stone has been making to bring about this improvement. It suggests that the officials of towns all along the valley call meetings and have committees of influential men appointed, to confer with similar committees from the other towns, for the purpose of forming a perfect organization.

J. W. Hemphill, president of the Tarentum committee, says that representatives of that committee will attend the meetings, if desired, and explain the movement in detail.

Foxburg, Howe Township.

The number of mounted teamsters, reminding one of a company of cavalrymen with dinner pails instead of haversacks, and the army of footmen who start to their work every morning; together with the number of cars freighted with lumber, bark, shingles etc., that pass here daily, show that business is just as brisk in this part of Forest county as ever.

The Gold brothers, just down another well across the creek. Their last well proved a duster.

Foxburg was within hearing distance of the corps of engineers at their survey of the proposed railroad to be built by the Warren and Buffalo company. Should this be completed, a depot will be located at the east end of the iron bridge, at this place.

Charles J. Fox is home from Spring Lake Beach, where he spent the spring and summer.

Mrs. Daniel H. Hills of Bowling Green, Ohio, visited Mrs. Juliet G. Hills and Mrs. C. F. Fox last week.

Mrs. H. A. Gibson and son Percy spent the past week visiting relatives at Lakewood and Jamestown, New York.

Mrs. Lena Fox-Crain and baby Forest, who spent part of the season at Lily Dale, and who afterwards visited relatives in New York state, have returned. Mrs. Mary Ragan spent Saturday and Sabbath with Mrs. G. W. Culbertson.

A class was organized here lately under the care of the M. E. church, and it is expected that preaching service and Sunday school will be held in the school house every Sabbath.

Kelleetville.

Prof. A. M. Hunter has recently erected a fine livery barn on his property. Mr. H. has things as neat as a pin now, and hereafter he will be on the road earlier with the mail.

The new Free Methodist church is about completed, or is so nearly finished that the building will be dedicated on next Sunday, Sept. 29. A bush meeting commenced this Monday, evening, to last several days.

The narrow gauge engine to be used on the tram road at Mayburg was hauled up from this place on Thursday. The engine, the "F. X. Kretler," is one of the same size that the company has in use at Nebraska.

B. J. Day and family, and Dr. C. Y. Deter and wife, attended the Clarion fair last week, as did also Chas. Brewster, and Miss Cora Girard.

Henry Groce has finished his log and bark job on Minister run.

J. G. Wolf is intending to move from Panther Hook to the Caldwell farm on Crow Hill.

The statement as published relating to the size of the Twp. building which is nearing completion at Newtown Mills, is misleading, and to correct an error we are authorized to state that the figures are not correct. Double it and then you've got it.

Mrs. Mary Carter returned to her home on Wednesday after an absence of 10 days, visiting her parents. Her mother, who has been sick for some time, is much better now, but her illness is of such a nature that her recovery is doubtful.

Nick Arnold has been laid up for the past 10 days with a boil on the back of his neck. Nick doesn't think that the boil is worth a "V" to him.

Chas. Bauer went to Franklin on business Monday. Chas. has lately swapped his driving horse for a similar one.

Thomas Glinger, who was badly injured on the band mill at Mayburg some two weeks ago, is improving nicely under the care of Dr. Deter.

A young son came to the residence of D. T. Beck of Whig Hill one day last week. Dave has already taken quite a shine to the little chap and will keep him as long as he wants to stay.

The creek has become so low that it seems utterly impossible for it to rise, even with all the hard showers we have had lately. Some one around here (and we think it is Kribbe) is authority for the report that the people owning dams along the creek cannot even raise a slash without the aid of powerful fertilizer. Truly the water must be very poor if this be true.

West Hickory.

Miss Mattie Cooper has returned from her visit at Jamestown and vicinity. James Beardsley has returned from Saybrook, Pa., where he has been working for S. M. McCalmont.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Johnson visited friends at Tidoute Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Engdahl were visitors to Tidoute Saturday.

W. P. Siggins was very badly burned by an explosion of gas last Friday, at Proper & Co.'s well on the Morris Tucker farm.

Charles Carlson, who has been on the sick list for some time, is reported some better at this writing.

Our school opened last Wednesday with a very good attendance. S. M. Whitmer teaches the advanced department, and Miss Lucy Anderson the primary.

A. J. Siggins had five sheep killed and several more badly hurt by dogs last Friday morning.

Turner Bros. have finished sawing their stock of logs and their mill is shut down for the present.

Naturally enough Sarah Bernhardt frowns on the bicycle and bloomers for women, and earnestly exclaims, "Moral considerations should carry the day." The "considerations" which carry Sarah are not the kind of tooth-picks that look well in bloomers—but is—Blizzard.

A new and infallible cure for nervous headache is announced. It is said to be the discovery of an apostle of physical culture and is really very simple. It consists in walking backward, slowly and deliberately, until the attack is over. It is an easy thing to try in any event, and unlike most of the nostrums prescribed can do no harm even if it does no good.

John and James Maloney, Emmett Bittles and Ed. Young, the four villains who last spring tortured and assaulted old Mrs. Houlahan, of Union City, were sentenced at Erie Monday to undergo imprisonment in the Western penitentiary for a term of 15, 12, 13 and 6 years respectively. Young got a light sentence because he turned state evidence.

Harold Pierce, who lives at Wampum, Lawrence county, was out in the woods Saturday and met with a serious accident in trying to kill a snake. Several young people were in the party, and when they were crossing a small stream a huge snake was seen coiled up on a large log. Young Pierce, becoming excited, started toward the snake to dispatch it. He had a loaded gun in his hand, and forgot that the weapon was half cocked.

When he struck at the snake the gun was discharged, the contents passing through his right foot. The snake escaped.—Derrick.

A Maine farmer was annoyed by crows destroying his peas. He placed a hen coop in the field and in the coop he put a large rooster. The crows made their appearance early in the morning, when the rooster stuck his head out through the slats of the coop and began crowing. The crows disappeared and never came back. Although a little late in the season for such hints, this pointer might be remembered by farmers and utilized for next years crops.

At Corry, about ten days ago, five tramps decoyed a man named Bliss into a box car, where they beat him most brutally, robbed and stripped him, and left him apparently dead. The gang were captured at Garland, and the stolen property was found upon them. The quintette were tried and convicted in Erie last week before Judge Criswell, of Franklin, who sentenced each to eight years in the penitentiary, with the exception of one named Brown, who got seven years.

One of the Midway attractions of the Atlanta Exposition will be an international beauty show, in which representative types of female beauty from the various countries of the world will be on view. The Turkish beauty, Haidee Vallauri, is a typical specimen of the enchanting hours of Islam. The lustrous Haidee boasts that not only can she drink 125 cups of black coffee a day without exciting her nerves, but that she can also smoke 100 cigarettes within 12 hours. The dudes and Johnnies may be expected to prostrate themselves before the ineffable Haidee.—Franklin News.

Judging from the amount and character of the commonwealth business returned to the quarter sessions court of last week, Jefferson county is not a paradise, and probably will not be for some years to come, remarks the Brookville Democrat. The court had to deal with 16 cases of assault and battery, 10 cases of fornication and bastardy, 4 false pretense cases, 3 rape cases, 2 bawdy house cases, 4 liquor cases, 2 of pointing firearms, 1 of robbery, 1 of perjury, 1 of felonious and malicious mischief, 1 of forcible entry and detainer, 1 of surfeit of the peace, 1 of desertion, 3 of burglary, 1 against poor overseers for refusing to provide relief, and 1 for refusing to make return of money collected on an execution.

From all accounts Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a Godsend to the afflicted. There is no ailment for which we feel just like saying it.—The Democrat, Carrollton, Ky. For sale by Siggins & Herman.

In a recent letter to the manufacturers Mr. W. F. Benjamin, editor of the Spectator, Rushford, N. Y., says: "It may be a pleasure to you to know the high esteem in which Chamberlain's medicines are held by the people of our own state, where they must be best known. An aunt of mine, who resides at Dexter, Iowa, was about to visit me a few years since, and before leaving home wrote me, asking if they were sold here, stating if they were not she would bring a quantity with her, as she did not wish to be without them." The medicines referred to are Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of colds and croup; Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the side and chest, and Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. These medicines have been in constant use in Iowa for almost a quarter of a century. The people have learned that they are articles of great worth and merit, and are not to be despised by any other. They are for sale here by Siggins & Herman.
