

Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root cure
for all Kidney and Bladder troubles.
Famihar and Consultation free.
Laboratory Binghamton, N. Y.

The German Emperor has limited his chaplain to twenty-minutes discourses.

1100 Newark, N. J.
The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all the stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the formation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

When Nature Needs assistance it may be best to render it promptly, but one should remember to use even the most perfect remedies only when needed. The best and most simple and gentle remedy is the Syrup of Figs manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

To Keep Young Needs no magic elixir. It only requires a little daily care of the system. Tablets reduce ducts to their lowest cost.

FITS stopped free by Dr. Kilmor's GREAT NERVE RESTORER. No fits after first day's use. Nervousness, tremor, dizziness, headache, and all other nervous ailments cured. Dr. Kilmor, 111 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

After six years' suffering I was cured by Dr. Kilmor's Cure. -M. J. Thompson, 256 Ohio Ave., Allegheny, Pa., March 19, 1904.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic, etc. A bottle after six years' suffering I was cured by Dr. Kilmor's Cure. -M. J. Thompson, 256 Ohio Ave., Allegheny, Pa., March 19, 1904.

It Will Pay

To make some provision for your physical health at this season, because a cold or cough, an attack of pneumonia or typhoid fever now may make you an invalid all winter. First of all be sure that your blood is pure, for health depends upon pure blood. A few bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla will be a paying investment now. It will give you pure, rich blood and invigorate your system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the One True Blood Purifier.

Hood's Pills are tasteless, mild, effective. All druggists.

ROADWAY'S PILLS

Always Reliable, Purely Vegetable.

Perfectly safe, elegantly coated, regulate, purify, cleanse and strengthen. ROADWAY'S PILLS for the cure of all disorders of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, liver, spleen, and all other organs. Sufferers from indigestion, flatulence, constipation, biliousness, headache, dizziness, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous debility, the after effect of influenza, grippe, jaundice, and all other ailments. It is the only medicine that cures all these ailments. Price 25 cents per box. Sold by druggists or sent by mail.

Sent by DR. ROADWAY & CO., box 103, New York, 209 West 14th St.

Water Baker & Co. Limited

The Largest Manufacturers of PURE HIGH GRADE COCOAS AND CHOCOLATES

On the continent, have received HIGHEST AWARDS from the great Industrial and Food EXPOSITIONS IN EUROPE AND AMERICA.

Caution: In view of the imitations of the above-named products, consumers should make sure of the name, Water Baker & Co. Limited, Boston, U.S.A.

SOLD BY GROCERS EVERYWHERE.

WALTER BAKER & CO. LTD., DORCHESTER, MASS.

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

KENNEDY'S Medical Discovery.

DONALD KENNEDY, of Roxbury, Mass., Has discovered in one of our common nature weeds a remedy that cures every kind of Humors, from the worst Scrofula down to a common pimple.

It has tried in over seven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases (both bladder tumors). He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston. Send postal card for book.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the right quantity is taken.

When the lungs are affected it causes shooting pains, like needles passing through them; the same with the Liver or Bowels. This is caused by the dots being stopped, and always disappears in a week after taking it. Read the label.

If the stomach is full or bilious it will cause squishy feelings at first.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it. Dose, one tablespoonful in water at bedtime. Sold by All Druggists.

ASTHMA

POPHAM'S ASTHMA SPECIFIC

Prevents in 15 to 20 minutes. Best cough medicine. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sent by mail. Address: J. B. Popham, 111 Broadway, New York, N.Y.

Rockland Collegiate Institute

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

The cheapest and one of the best HIGH GRADE SCHOOLS for boys and young men. Graduate course. College preparatory. Commercial course. Also offers instruction in agriculture, horticulture, and other practical branches. For particulars, send for circular to the principal, J. B. Popham, 111 Broadway, New York, N.Y.

PISON'S CURE FOR

Consumption

Solely composed of pure vegetable matter. It is the only medicine that cures consumption. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sent by mail. Address: J. B. Popham, 111 Broadway, New York, N.Y.

FARM GARDEN

DAIRYING HANDBOOK OF VALUE.

Bulletin No. 19 of the South Carolina Station is designed to show the possibilities of the dairy business under the conditions which prevail in the South. In its directions how to select and breed cows it epitomizes the knowledge gained by experiment at different stations throughout the country. The value of different feeds and the best and most economical methods of feeding them are given in the bulletin, which also treats of stables and fastenings, milk and milking, cream and butter, cheese-making, dairy by-products, etc. It is a simple, concise and eminently practical handbook which possesses considerable value and must prove of assistance to the farmer who is anxious to engage in some line of production that promises more remuneration than cotton-growing.

THE SMUT PARASITE.

If smutted wheat or oats are sown, the smut parasite grows up with the wheat, attacks the forming grain and causes great loss. Hence if we kill the smut on the seed before sowing it, the danger of smut in the crop is immensely reduced. To absolutely kill the smut spores, immerse the seed grain in water at 133 degrees F, adding hot water as needed to keep up the heat, but never letting it go above 133 degrees or below 130 degrees. The immersion must be at least twelve but not over fifteen minutes, when the seed must be at once dipped into cold water, or cold water poured over it, then spread out to dry. Professor Arthur, of Indiana, recommends a temperature of 140 degrees when the seed is put in, renewing it in a few minutes when down to 130 degrees. This does not injure the seed, as is apt to be the case with bluestone (sulphate of copper) treatment.—American Agriculturist.

USES FOR POTATO TOPS.

Since the fungus nature of potato rot has become known, farmers are less inclined to draw their potato tops to the barn yard than they used to be. No quicker way of spreading the fungus can be devised than mixing it with fermenting manure. Nothing should be fed the rotten potatoes from the cellar during the winter. Some of the worst affected pieces will be rejected by the cow and be thrown into the manure pile. The potato stalks often are affected by the fungus when it does not reach the potato tubers. But the potato top has valuable manure properties and it should not be wasted. It is very rich in potash, and it rot very quickly, it makes the best covering for straw, berry plants late in the fall. The vines will be rotted down early in the spring, and will not need to be removed. They will furnish efficient protection in winter without danger of smothering the strawberry plants, and in spring will make a rich mulch that will help the growth of the berry crop.—Boston Cultivator.

PREPARING FOR THE WINTER DAIRY.

Don't be guilty of the carelessness or business-like thoughtlessness of having cows served now or during the next three months so they will come in during the flush of feed and food of milk. Neither cream nor butter brings so much then, and is really difficult to dispose of. If the cows rest any time, let them rest then (while farm work is driving), and calve in July, August or September. Coming in at this time they will give more milk than they would otherwise do when milk and all dairy products are high, and more nearly equalize the work of the year. Some foolishly fear it will be impossible to get the cows with calf if service is delayed, but this proved to be a fallacy. The cow's condition should be watched and she should be treated patiently while in season, but the time when she is next to calve may be controlled as most things in business life. Nature calls for ninety per cent. of the calves in spring, when even a calf will scarcely live because there are many of them. But the sensible farmer does not always let nature dominate. He has the market and other artificial conditions to meet, and must cultivate fresh cows at the periods of greatest profit.—New England Homestead.

PICKING AND MARKETING THE QUINCE.

The error of many growers is the time of picking and the manner of handling. As quinces do not blow off like apples or pears, many growers pick when convenient and that may be only after they have become yellow. An experience of years in growing, buying and shipping quinces causes the writer to believe there is a right time to pick; that two days before the time is too early, and two days after that right time is too late for the good of the fruit. A little too early, the fruit is not well colored and it does not present its best appearance in market; a little too late, especially if the weather be warm, and it is over-ripe, and it is just then that black spot, where it exists, gets in its work rapidly.

People are cautioned, over and over again to handle fruit carefully, and this applies more to quinces than to any other fruit. A slight bruise, from dropping into the basket or turning into the barrel, in forty-eight hours has become an ill-looking brown patch. Slack packing in the barrel is disastrous, for fruit carelessly put together will hardly bring freight charges. The moving about of specimens during transit, perhaps for hundreds of miles, in situation of the whole package. Another thing to be observed is to pack and ship at once, or as soon as they are taken from the bushes.

The writer's own quinces, while no better than many others, have for many years sold for from fifty cents to a dollar per barrel more than average quinces on account of the care in picking and packing, which made them show well in market. The proverbial "handle like eggs" applies very much

HOUSEHOLD AFFAIRS.

A NEW CANNING APPARATUS.

A new canning apparatus that is finding much favor with the housekeepers, and with teachers of cooking, has a flat vessel somewhat like a low tin box, into which are fitted one, two, three, or four cylinders, according to the size of the apparatus bought. These cylinders are each provided with a patent cover, with a handle. The fruit is placed at once in the glass jar, and set inside the cylinder, where it is cooked by steam. The box in which the cylinders are placed is filled with water, and heat the side steam whistle and combined filter. It is claimed for the fruit preserved in this way that the forcing of the steam into the contents of the jar, thus driving out the air, kills all bacteria, and gives the fruit a much more natural flavor than that cooked from the bottom in an ordinary preserving kettle. As the fruit is quickly cooked while it is covered, and is sealed as it is cooked, there is no opportunity for it to lose its aroma. Little time is consumed, as the fruit has only to be handled once, and in the case of very soft fruits they do not lose their shape by handling several times. Vegetables are also easily canned by this process, and with a better flavor and more likelihood of keeping than by the old way. The apparatus can be used over gas, oil or coal stoves. The water and sugar are added to different fruits are heated to the boiling point, skimmed, and poured over the fruit after it is packed in the jars, and just before steaming.—New York Post.

TEMPERANCE.

TEMPERANCE EDUCATION.

Through education full and free
The battle must be fought,
And in the great Redeemer's name
The victory shall be wrought.

Thou drink no more shall gloat above
Thy victims pinched and pale,
It shall no longer feed the grave,
The poorhouse and the jail.

It shall no longer break the ties
Of friendship and of love,
Nor rob men of their home on earth,
Nor of their heaven above.

No longer cast the children forth,
To die before their time,
With souls all dark with ignorance,
And hearts all black with crime.

The time shall come when want and woe
And vice shall pass away.
God says so; let us help it on
By the best means we may.

—Youth's Temperance Banner.

TEMPERANCE.

PROFITABLE LOSSES.

The following good speech is a verbatim report of one heard at a temperance meeting:

"I have been thinking, since I came into the meeting to-night, about the losses I've met with since I signed the total abstinence pledge. I tell you there isn't a man in the society who has lost more money than I have. There was a nice job of work to be done in the shop to-day, and the boss called for me.

"Give it to Lay," said he. "He's the best hand in the shop."

"Why, I told my wife at supper time, and she said:

"Why, Laurie, he used to call you the worst. You've lost your bad name, haven't you?"

"That's a fact, wife," said I. "And it ain't all I've lost in the last month or two either. I had poverty and wretchedness, and I lost the love of my family. I've lost them. I had a red face, a trembling hand and a pair of shaky legs that gave me an awkward tumble now and then. I had a bad habit of drinking and sweating, and I've got rid of that. I had an aching head sometimes, and a heavy heart, and worse than all that, a guilty conscience.

"Thank God, I've got them all."

"Then I told my wife what she had lost."

"You've had an old ragged gown, Mary," said she. "And you had trouble and sorrow and a poor wretched home, and plenty of heartaches, for you had a miserable drunkard for a husband. Mary, Mary, thank the Lord for all you and I have lost since I signed the temp'ance pledge!"—Chicago City Progress.

TEMPERANCE.

NO LIQUOR IN THAT MARCH.

An officer has just completed a long march from Cashmere to Simla via Leh and Kyelang. He performed the journey of 700 miles on foot and on horseback, and his average daily march was twenty-five miles. From Leh to Kyelang his road lay across an elevated plateau, seldom directly to the level of the sea, and the height from 12,000 to 17,000 feet above the sea level. The whole journey was performed on total abstinence principles, and without any detriment to the traveler, who arrived in Simla in a thoroughly fit condition, despite a march of thirty-two miles on the last day. This is another confirmation of the fact that in long and fatiguing marches and in high altitudes the use of alcoholic stimulants is absolutely unnecessary.—Alliance News.

TEMPERANCE.

IT CAUSES POVERTY AND CRIME.

Intemperance is the prolific cause of poverty and crime. Tens of thousands are kept poor by drink. The money that should be used to make wife and children happy is squandered on liquor, and the children, instead of being sent to school, are forced into shops and factories to earn a living; girls come pure and virtuous are driven to street loafers and murderers, and become three-fourths of the murders and other crimes daily committed in our cities are caused directly or indirectly by drink. Three-fourths of the criminals that fill our jails and penitentiaries have been brought there by the demon drink. Three-fourths of the inmates of our orphan asylums have been left without a parent's care through drink.—Rev. S. M. Lyons.

TEMPERANCE.

AN "INDUSTRY" INDEED!

There is something absolutely hideous and revolting in the disgusting cant of this "industry" in which colossal fortunes go to the maker and a bare subsistence wage to the worker; dog-carts and diamond rings to the wholesale merchant, and a stationer's hours' work a day and a bare living for the waiter who has to retail the precious product that fills our janitor's asylums with the hapless victims of intemperance, our jails with criminals, our streets with unfortunates and tens of thousands of homes with squalor, and a misery while it fills the coffers and the pockets of the distillers with untold wealth.—Michael Davitt.

TEMPERANCE.

DRINK SENT HIM BACK TO JAIL IN A HURRY.

Daniel Gallagher was released from Sing Sing Prison one day recently, after having completed his sentence of five and a half years for burglary. He received $10 from the warden to pay his railroad and other expenses to his destination.

When he got to Sing Sing village he proceeded to celebrate the ending of his liberty. He got drunk and became so noisy at the railroad station that he was arrested. It took four officers of the local police and a team attached to a truck to convey the noisy drunk to the village lockup. Next morning Justice Valentine sentenced him to six months in the Kingston Penitentiary.

He had enjoyed just four hours of liberty.

TEMPERANCE.

OVERDOSE OF ALCOHOL.

According to M. Chervin, in a paper to the Societe d'Anthropologie, the low birth rate in France is largely due to prodrality in Paris and thence in the provinces. M. Bouchard, however, ascribes it mainly to alcoholism, the annual consumption of alcohol having enormously increased of late years in France. He has a wine slip for every three houses.—London Globe.

TEMPERANCE.

A WHISKY WAGER.

Henry King, a farmer sixty years old, entered a saloon at Courtland, Ala., one Saturday night and made a wager of $1 that he could drink a quart of whisky without a casualty. He won the wager, but his dead body was found on the street on Sunday, and a coroner's jury decided that too much whisky caused death.

TEMPERANCE.

TEMPERANCE NEWS AND NOTES.

The W. C. T. U. of Camden, N. J., have given an impressive object lesson by presenting a map of the city on which they have placed 230 black spots, each of which represents a saloon.

Eighty per cent. of New York's saloons are mortgaged. Also, a third for drink mortgages a man, soul and body.

A cabman of Swansea defined a moderate drinker in an English court as "a man who takes only nine pins a day."

Dr. L. L. Langdon, a French savant, says that rum kills more people in a month in France than would fall in battle.

The custom of taking a glass of sherry before dinner is denounced by Sir Henry Thompson as a "gastrological and physiological blunder."

The Mayor of St. Petersburg has ordered the name of every individual who is found drunk to be posted on the public places, and printed in the Official Gazette. A good idea.

An Upright Man.

There is certainly some slight feeling of humiliation in being bent down and obliged to creep along for fear of a snap in the spinal column. It is such a plain show of despatch that we feel embarrassed. It is a common every day when lumbago takes a good hold on a man in the back. There is very little sympathy for one in such a plight, for it is so well known that St. Jacobs Oil will cure it promptly and that neglect is the cause of so much disability. Why not keep the remedy always on hand and prevent such discomfort?

St. Jacobs Oil, H. J. Drake of New York, 100 Broadway, N. Y., is the best. It is sold by all druggists.

TEMPERANCE.

Why He Was Silent.

A physician describes in the Atlanta Journal a remarkable case of a patient's confidence in his physician:

When I was a student in Philadelphia I had a patient, an Irishman, with a broken leg. When the plaster bandage was removed and a lighter one put in its place, I noticed that one of the pins went in with difficulty, and I could not understand it.

A week after that in removing this pin I found it had stuck hard and fast, and I was forced to remove it with the forceps. What was my astonishment, on making an examination, to find that the pin had been run through the skin twice instead of through the cloth.

"Why, Pat," said I, "didn't you know that pin was sticking in you?"

"To be sure I did," replied Pat, "but I thought you knew I was a teetotaler, so I hid my tongue."

TEMPERANCE.

TEMPERANCE EDUCATION.

Through education full and free
The battle must be fought,
And in the great Redeemer's name
The victory shall be wrought.

TEMPERANCE.

PROFITABLE LOSSES.

The following good speech is a verbatim report of one heard at a temperance meeting:

"I have been thinking, since I came into the meeting to-night, about the losses I've met with since I signed the total abstinence pledge. I tell you there isn't a man in the society who has lost more money than I have. There was a nice job of work to be done in the shop to-day, and the boss called for me.

"Give it to Lay," said he. "He's the best hand in the shop."

"Why, I told my wife at supper time, and she said:

"Why, Laurie, he used to call you the worst. You've lost your bad name, haven't you?"

"That's a fact, wife," said I. "And it ain't all I've lost in the last month or two either. I had poverty and wretchedness, and I lost the love of my family. I've lost them. I had a red face, a trembling hand and a pair of shaky legs that gave me an awkward tumble now and then. I had a bad habit of drinking and sweating, and I've got rid of that. I had an aching head sometimes, and a heavy heart, and worse than all that, a guilty conscience.

"Thank God, I've got them all."

"Then I told my wife what she had lost."

"You've had an old ragged gown, Mary," said she. "And you had trouble and sorrow and a poor wretched home, and plenty of heartaches, for you had a miserable drunkard for a husband. Mary, Mary, thank the Lord for all you and I have lost since I signed the temp'ance pledge!"—Chicago City Progress.

TEMPERANCE.

NO LIQUOR IN THAT MARCH.

An officer has just completed a long march from Cashmere to Simla via Leh and Kyelang. He performed the journey of 700 miles on foot and on horseback, and his average daily march was twenty-five miles. From Leh to Kyelang his road lay across an elevated plateau, seldom directly to the level of the sea, and the height from 12,000 to 17,000 feet above the sea level. The whole journey was performed on total abstinence principles, and without any detriment to the traveler, who arrived in Simla in a thoroughly fit condition, despite a march of thirty-two miles on the last day. This is another confirmation of the fact that in long and fatiguing marches and in high altitudes the use of alcoholic stimulants is absolutely unnecessary.—Alliance News.

TEMPERANCE.

IT CAUSES POVERTY AND CRIME.

Intemperance is the prolific cause of poverty and crime. Tens of thousands are kept poor by drink. The money that should be used to make wife and children happy is squandered on liquor, and the children, instead of being sent to school, are forced into shops and factories to earn a living; girls come pure and virtuous are driven to street loafers and murderers, and become three-fourths of the murders and other crimes daily committed in our cities are caused directly or indirectly by drink. Three-fourths of the criminals that fill our jails and penitentiaries have been brought there by the demon drink. Three-fourths of the inmates of our orphan asylums have been left without a parent's care through drink.—Rev. S. M. Lyons.

TEMPERANCE.

AN "INDUSTRY" INDEED!

There is something absolutely hideous and revolting in the disgusting cant of this "industry" in which colossal fortunes go to the maker and a bare subsistence wage to the worker; dog-carts and diamond rings to the wholesale merchant, and a stationer's hours' work a day and a bare living for the waiter who has to retail the precious product that fills our janitor's asylums with the hapless victims of intemperance, our jails with criminals, our streets with unfortunates and tens of thousands of homes with squalor, and a misery while it fills the coffers and the pockets of the distillers with untold wealth.—Michael Davitt.

TEMPERANCE.

DRINK SENT HIM BACK TO JAIL IN A HURRY.

Daniel Gallagher was released from Sing Sing Prison one day recently, after having completed his sentence of five and a half years for burglary. He received $10 from the warden to pay his railroad and other expenses to his destination.

When he got to Sing Sing village he proceeded to celebrate the ending of his liberty. He got drunk and became so noisy at the railroad station that he was arrested. It took four officers of the local police and a team attached to a truck to convey the noisy drunk to the village lockup. Next morning Justice Valentine sentenced him to six months in the Kingston Penitentiary.

He had enjoyed just four hours of liberty.

TEMPERANCE.

OVERDOSE OF ALCOHOL.

According to M. Chervin, in a paper to the Societe d'Anthropologie, the low birth rate in France is largely due to prodrality in Paris and thence in the provinces. M. Bouchard, however, ascribes it mainly to alcoholism, the annual consumption of alcohol having enormously increased of late years in France. He has a wine slip for every three houses.—London Globe.

TEMPERANCE.

A WHISKY WAGER.

Henry King, a farmer sixty years old, entered a saloon at Courtland, Ala., one Saturday night and made a wager of $1 that he could drink a quart of whisky without a casualty. He won the wager, but his dead body was found on the street on Sunday, and a coroner's jury decided that too much whisky caused death.

TEMPERANCE.

TEMPERANCE NEWS AND NOTES.

The W. C. T. U. of Camden, N. J., have given an impressive object lesson by presenting a map of the city on which they have placed 230 black spots, each of which represents a saloon.

Eighty per cent. of New York's saloons are mortgaged. Also, a third for drink mortgages a man, soul and body.

A cabman of Swansea defined a moderate drinker in an English court as "a man who takes only nine pins a day."

Dr. L. L. Langdon, a French savant, says that rum kills more people in a month in France than would fall in battle.

The custom of taking a glass of sherry before dinner is denounced by Sir Henry Thompson as a "gastrological and physiological blunder."

The Mayor of St. Petersburg has ordered the name of every individual who is found drunk to be posted on the public places, and printed in the Official Gazette. A good idea.

An Upright Man.

There is certainly some slight feeling of humiliation in being bent down and obliged to creep along for fear of a snap in the spinal column. It is such a plain show of despatch that we feel embarrassed. It is a common every day when lumbago takes a good hold on a man in the back. There is very little sympathy for one in such a plight, for it is so well known that St. Jacobs Oil will cure it promptly and that neglect is the cause of so much disability. Why not keep the remedy always on hand and prevent such discomfort?

St. Jacobs Oil, H. J. Drake of New York, 100 Broadway, N. Y., is the best. It is sold by all druggists.

STOMACH AND HEAD PAINS.

A REMEDY.

Women Are Subject to Both, on Account of Their Lacking of the Blood.

From the Evening News, Newark, N. J.

One of the happiest women in this city is Mrs. George G. Rolin, of 29 Montgomery Street.

"No one to look at me now," said Mrs. Rolin to a reporter. "I would think for a moment that I was so ill that the doctors said I could not possibly be saved. About three years ago I began to suffer from terrible pains in my stomach and it was almost impossible for me to do any work. Then I had severe headaches that almost distracted me and altogether I was in a very sad condition. Of course I wanted to be well again, and like most people in such cases, I consulted a doctor, spent money for medicine and took it faithfully. To my infinite regret I got no better, and another doctor was called in. More medicine was prescribed and this I took, but it did no good. Those terrible pains continued to make life miserable for me. The doctors finally told me that I could not be cured entirely. If at all. Pleasant news, wasn't it? Well, I continued to work about the house here and suffered untold agonies. I did not give up hope but did all I could to relieve my misery. Nothing gave me any relief, however, and I had begun to think that all hope must be abandoned, when, in reading the Evening News, I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advertised. The printed testimonial coming from a resident of this city led me to believe that I, too, might be benefited by these pills, and without some misgivings I bought a box of them.

"Almost as soon as I began to take them I felt relieved, and the first marked indication of improvement was when that tired, weary, don't-care feeling disappeared. This was in itself something to be grateful for, but other and more pleasing results followed after I had taken more of the pills. My headaches ceased entirely and the pain in my stomach troubled me no more. I was able to do my work while I have an occasional ache or a pain, but I know the cause. Out comes the Pink Pills, and after taking one or two of them, away the pain goes. It all seems so good to me that at times I can scarcely believe that it can be true and yet I know that if I had not used these Pink Pills, I would still be suffering as miserably as few people do in this world."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary for improvement was when that tired, weary, don't-care feeling disappeared. This was in itself something to be grateful for, but other and more pleasing results followed after I had taken more of the pills. My headaches ceased entirely and the pain in my stomach troubled me no more. I was able to do my work while I have an occasional ache or a pain, but I know the cause. Out comes the Pink Pills, and after taking one or two of them, away the pain goes. It all seems so good to me that at times I can scarcely believe that it can be true and yet I know that if I had not used these Pink Pills, I would still be suffering as miserably as few people do in this world."

TEMPERANCE.

TEMPERANCE EDUCATION.

Through education full and free
The battle must be fought,
And in the great Redeemer's name
The victory shall be wrought.

TEMPERANCE.

PROFITABLE LOSSES.

The following good speech is a verbatim report of one heard at a temperance meeting:

"I have been thinking, since I came into the meeting to-night, about the losses I've met with since I signed the total abstinence pledge. I tell you there isn't a man in the society who has lost more money than I have. There was a nice job of work to be done in the shop to-day, and the boss called for me.

"Give it to Lay," said he. "He's the best hand in the shop."

"Why, I told my wife at supper time, and she said:

"Why, Laurie, he used to call you the worst. You've lost your bad name, haven't you?"

"That's a fact, wife," said I. "And it ain't all I've lost in the last month or two either. I had poverty and wretchedness, and I lost the love of my family. I've lost them. I had a red face, a trembling hand and a pair of shaky legs that gave me an awkward tumble now and then. I had a bad habit of drinking and sweating, and I've got rid of that. I had an aching head sometimes, and a heavy heart, and worse than all that, a guilty conscience.

"Thank God, I've got them all."

"Then I told my wife what she had lost."

"You've had an old ragged gown, Mary," said she. "And you had trouble and sorrow and a poor wretched home, and plenty of heartaches, for you had a miserable drunkard for a husband. Mary, Mary, thank the Lord for all you and I have lost since I signed the temp'ance pledge!"—Chicago City Progress.

TEMPERANCE.

NO LIQUOR IN THAT MARCH.

An officer has just completed a long march from Cashmere to Simla via Leh and Kyelang. He performed the journey of 700 miles on foot and on horseback, and his average daily march was twenty-five miles. From Leh to Kyelang his road lay across an elevated plateau, seldom directly to the level of the sea, and the height from 12,000 to 17,000 feet above the sea level. The whole journey was performed on total abstinence principles, and without any detriment to the traveler, who arrived in Simla in a thoroughly fit condition, despite a march of thirty-two miles on the last day. This is another confirmation of the fact that in long and fatiguing marches and in high altitudes the use of alcoholic stimulants is absolutely unnecessary.—Alliance News.

TEMPERANCE.

IT CAUSES POVERTY AND CRIME.

Intemperance is the prolific cause of poverty and crime. Tens of thousands are kept poor by drink. The money that should be used to make wife and children happy is squandered on liquor, and the children, instead of being sent to school, are forced into shops and factories to earn a living; girls come pure and virtuous are driven to street loafers and murderers, and become three-fourths of the murders and other crimes daily committed in our cities are caused directly or indirectly by drink. Three-fourths of the criminals that fill our jails and penitentiaries have been brought there by the demon drink. Three-fourths of the inmates of our orphan asylums have been left without a parent's care through drink.—Rev. S. M. Lyons.

TEMPERANCE.

AN "INDUSTRY" INDEED!

There is something absolutely hideous and revolting in the disgusting cant of this "industry" in which colossal fortunes go to the maker and a bare subsistence wage to the worker; dog-carts and diamond rings to the wholesale merchant, and a stationer's hours' work a day and a bare living for the waiter who has to retail the precious product that fills our janitor's asylums with the hapless victims of intemperance, our jails with criminals, our streets with unfortunates and tens of thousands of homes with squalor, and a misery while it fills the coffers and the pockets of the distillers with untold wealth.—Michael Davitt.

TEMPERANCE.

DRINK SENT HIM BACK TO JAIL IN A HURRY.

Daniel Gallagher was released from Sing Sing Prison one day recently, after having completed his sentence of five and a half years for burglary. He received $10 from the warden to pay his railroad and other expenses to his destination.

When he got to Sing Sing village he proceeded to celebrate the ending of his liberty. He got drunk and became so noisy at the railroad station that he was arrested. It took four officers of the local police and a team attached to a truck to convey the noisy drunk to the village lockup. Next morning Justice Valentine sentenced him to six months in the Kingston Penitentiary.

He had enjoyed just four hours of liberty.

TEMPERANCE.

OVERDOSE OF ALCOHOL.

According to M. Chervin, in a paper to the Societe d'Anthropologie, the low birth rate in France is largely due to prodrality in Paris and thence in the provinces. M. Bouchard, however, ascribes it mainly to alcoholism, the annual consumption of alcohol having enormously increased of late years in France. He has a wine slip for every three houses.—London Globe.

TEMPERANCE.

A WHISKY WAGER.

Henry King, a farmer sixty years old, entered a saloon at Courtland, Ala., one Saturday night and made a wager of $1 that he could drink a quart of whisky without a casualty. He won the wager, but his dead body was found on the street on Sunday, and a coroner's jury decided that too much whisky caused death.

Webster's International Dictionary

THE BEST FOR PRACTICAL PURPOSES.

It is easy to find the word wanted.

It is easy to ascertain the pronunciation.

It is easy to trace the growth of a word.

It is easy to learn what a word means.

G. & C. Merriam Co., Publishers, Springfield, Mass.

"Erevis is the Soul of Wit." Good Wife, You Need

SAPOLIO

borrowing from health.

If you have borrowed from health to satisfy the demands of business, if your blood is not getting that constant supply of fat from your food it should have, you must pay back from somewhere, and the somewhere will be from the fat stored up in the body.

The sign of this borrowing is thinness; the result, nerve-waste. You need fat to keep the blood in health unless you want to live with no reserve force—live from hand to mouth.

SCOTT'S EMULSION of Cod-liver Oil is more than a medicine. It is a food. The Hypophosphites make it a nerve food, too. It comes as near perfection as good things ever come in this world.

Be sure you get Scott's Emulsion when you want it and not a cheap substitute.

Scott & Bowne, New York. All Druggists. 50c. and $1.