> Theodore Durrant, the California nurderer, whose trial came to a close ast Friday, having lasted since July, vas convicted of murder in the first decree, the jury being out less than 40 minites. The crime for which Durrant was convicted was the murder of Blanche Lamont, a young school girl, in Emanuel church, on April 3 last. Durant was an officer and the girl a member of the sunday School of the church. Her dead body was found in the belfry of the church a few days after Minnie Williams' corpse was found in the same church. Blanch Lamont was fast seen alive enering the church with Durrant. Shortly after the murder is supposed to have been committed, Durrant was found in the church in a disheveled, exhausted condition by Organist King.

National W. C. T. U. Convention at Baltimore, Md.

The White Ribbon army of women, live hundred strong, from the north, south, east and the far west, met for their 22d Annual Convention in the beautiful city of Baltimore, on Friday morning, Oct, 18th, 1895. Music Hall, in which the sessions of the Conventions were held is one of the most beautiful halls in the city, but its natural beauty had been greatly enhanced by the decorative art of the members of committee on arrangements. The stage upon which were the seats of the National officers had a back ground of tall and handsome potted plants. At either side were potted palms. The front of the stage was draped with erns over which in graceful loops, hung the American flag; below this in floral letters were the initials W. C. T. U. 1895. Round the front of the gallery railing at the front of the stage, and in fact, everywhere the eve turned, appeared State, and National banners of all colors and designs which lent an added charm to the green decorations. As the song "My country 'tis of thee," was rendered and as voice after voice caught the strain, till hundreds joined in unison, the arches of Baltimore's new M sic Hall rang as never before with the National anthem. Precisely at 9:30 a, m, the National officers took their seats on the platform, and Miss Frances E. Willard, National President, called the convention to order. The Cruisade Psalm was read responsively by Mother Thompson, as she is familiarly called, and Miss Willard. The opening prayer was made by Mrs. H. L. Monroe, President of Ohio W. C. T. U., followed by the caliing of the roll by recording secretary Mrs. Clara C. Hoffman of Missouri. The "Silver Lake Quartette," who are famous evangelistic vocalists, came forward and sang several selections, and were heartily applauded.

Miss Willard new gave her annual address, which she read in a clear strong voice, and was an able presentation of the work and aims of the organization. It is unnecessary to say that at different points in her address she was loudly applauded and the whole was listened with becoming attention. At its close Miss Willard usked the convention to allow her to present her niece, Mrs. Katherine Willard Baldwin, who stepped forward bearing a beautiful white silk flag, containing 50 gorden stars, one for each of the tifty states and territories in which the W. C. T. U. is organized. convention as the gift of Mrs. W. J. Demorest of N. Y., and as Miss Willard held and wived this beautiful flag, Mrs. Baldwin sweetly sang "The White Ribbon Star Spangled Banner," that seemed so particular appreciated. I shall just give one verse:

That the faith which has raised it will
