Deer are said to be much more plentiful in the big woods of Forest and Elk counties than for several seasons.—Franklin News. With the single exception that since the "big woods" were first built deer have not been known to be so scarce as at this season, Mr. Said is probably correct.

Dr. Morrow has removed his family again into the Conover property, from which they were summarily ejected in the early spring by the fire king. The house has been materially remodeled and renovated by its present owner, Mr. Randall, and is now a very comfortable dwelling place.

Mr. Dean's second well near Hunter station has shut down for the present, at a depth of something over 600 feet. Fifty feet of nice looking sand and a small showing of oil was found at that depth, and should the hole fill up to any reasonable depth it will be shot. Mr. Dean may also go a couple hundred feet deeper before giving it up as a duster.

Q. Jamieson, President of the literary society, calls a special meeting of the society for Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the hall of the school house, and requests that all members be present. A meeting of the library association is also called for the same evening and place. All interested will please be promptly in attendance, as matters of interest to both will be under discussion.

In answer to an inquiry from an assessor regarding the return of personal property for assessment, the Auditor General of this State has instructed that life insurance policies are required to be taxed at their value at the time of the assessment. This applies only to policies which have a surrender value, and not to those where no benefit can accrue to the estate of the insured until after his death.

There was quite a good attendance at the regular meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps last Wednesday evening, and after the regular routine of business, the election of officers for the ensuing year was held, resulting as follows: President, Mrs. Kate Craig; Sr. Vice Pres., Mrs. Morrow; Jr. Vice Pres., Mrs. S. Last Friday Dr. Arters administered the anti-toxine remedy to Matthew McGarvey's daughter Bessie, who was very near death's door with diphtheria, and also to James Harvey's daughter Mary. As deaths had occurred recently in each of the families, and as the parents were naturally alarmed, it was determined to try the anti-toxine, all other remedies having failed to check the progress of the dread disease. Although it is yet too soon to determine what the outcome may be, the indications are favorable for recovery in both cases.—Blitzard.

The tramp nuisance is getting worse and worse. It developed at the council meeting Monday night that Constable Hunter had penned up over sixty within the past two months, and that the droves were getting larger and more frequent as the winter progressed. A solution of the question as to what should be done might be found in a stern refusal of all parties to provide any provender for the lazy loafers. In connection with this method a pen with a good outfit of stone and sledge hammers might be provided with profit to the borough.

A "farmers' institute" is to be held in this county about the 23d of next March. The State Agricultural Department, re-organized under the act passed last winter, will give substantial aid in making the institute a success, sending at least two speakers, free of cost, to help along with the work. These institutes are now being held in different parts of the State, and it is the intention of the department to hold at least one institute in every county, hoping thereby to arouse new interest in farming pursuits and giving every possible aid to that large and growing industry of our State. Every farmer in the county should arrange his business with a view to being present on this occasion.

The Franklin News sounds this warning note to a lot of us fellows who have just been on the verge of sending in our surplus (?) mon. for blocks of Cripple Creek stock: "There's a literary bureau located somewhere that is pushing an extensive scheme for working up a craze over fabulous gold findings at Cripple Creek. The Denver papers fairly glitter with stories of men who have 'made their pile' by lucky finds in the field or lucky booms in the stocks. One of the current paragraphs in the Eastern papers tells how John Grew of Clarion county, Pa., put a few hundred dollars in certain mining stocks at 35 and 15 cents a share and sold out at $27,000. This whole scheme is an attempt to fl— at a lot of worthless mining stocks. Among the Colorado schemers and their allies the question now is 'whether the East will bite.' Some of us may. If so, the banks of Cripple Creek will be strewn with a fresh batch of cripples."

Tionesta's Superior Advantages as Seen by a Wide-Awake Neighbor.

The Oil City Blizzard, which always recognizes a good thing when it sees it, gives Tionesta a boom as a resort for those seeking healthy recreation. The REPUBLICAN has in times past called attention to this feature of our beautifully situated town, but stories of this kind seem to have greater weight when coming from outside or disinterested sources. The Blizzard strikes the keynote in the following article, and we hope some of our citizens may act on its suggestion to throw out the proper inducements to attract pleasure seekers to our borders:

For twenty years or more the writer has occasionally cast his optics on a spot which is better adapted for a summer resort than many places that have become famous through thousands visiting them during the hot summer months of the year. The spot referred to is Tionesta, situated about twenty miles above Oil City. The town is located in a valley and the surrounding hills and valleys are as picturesque in the summer as any of the scenes in Sunny Italy. The Allegheny river winds through the place and Tionesta Creek, along which the beauties of nature are simply charming, empties into the river at that point. Both bodies of water contain thousands of fish of the gamy order, such as bass, pike, salmon, pickerel, etc., and that fact alone ought to induce many to locate there while the thermometer ranges near the 100 degree mark.

Water in large quantities can be obtained from springs located on the surrounding hill, and some of them produce sulphur water, so that the tastes of all who drink that fluid can be satisfied. Situated a short distance below the town is a good sized island, which could be converted into a park or used as a place for athletic sports. Game of all kinds abound in the forests thereabouts—gray squirrels, birds of various descriptions, rabbits, deer, caribou, and anyone possessed with sufficient sand and a trusty rifle can once in a while track a bear and have a feast over its handsome carcass. Within hailing distance of the town are a dozen or more valleys, down each of which ripples a babbling brook, where lovers of trout fishing could find any amount of pleasure. There is no reason why the citizens of Tionesta should not take the matter in hand and throw out inducements to attract to their pleasant little village hundreds, yea thousands, who have hitherto been compelled to spend their vacations in Saratoga, Alaska, South America, Turkey and Oil City, in order to keep cool and find enjoyment.

Council Proceedings.

Regular meeting of Council was called to order Monday evening by G. W. Robinson, President, with Councilmen Lanson, Davis and Clark present. Minutes of October 14th, read and approved. The street-light and hand-rail committee reported hand-rail completed on Walnut street to corner of Fulton lot. The committee on sewer assessment on May and Vine streets, report that they were satisfied that all parties interested would agree to pay the assessments made by the Council. The following bills were presented and on motion orders were ordered drawn for the several amounts:

W. L. Hunter, lighting lights, Oct. $ 5 25 Locking up 20 traps, Nov. 4 00 Same, lighting lights, Nov. 5 25 J. E. Chadwick, hand-rail, 4 00 Locking up 40 traps, 20 00 J. Joyce, repairing sewer at river, 3 75 H. M. Foreman, plank, 4 85 J. T. & A. H. Dale, plank, 25 01 P. R. Lanson, tools, etc., 7 82 M. Hepler, sidewalk on Sicksies and Gas Co., 94 50 Tionesta Gas Co., gas Nov. and Dec. 33 90

The street committee was directed to employ Eli Holeman to keep the Dutch Hill road in proper order until the appointment of a new street commissioner. Joseph Clark was directed to change the dry shelves and lights in the hose room. J. F. Proper and associates presented petition for right to lay pipes in the streets for the purpose of conveying gas to consumers. The clerk was directed to call his attention to the ordinance regulating gas Co., passed Aug 5, 1886, and now in force. The Council held a lengthy discussion on the tramp question, 40 tramps a month seemed to them as being too many. While no action was taken, it seemed to be the sense of the Council that the citizens could do as much or more to abate the nuisance by refusing to feed the numerous, well dressed, robust and hearty men begging for something to eat. Ad-journed until next regular meeting. D. W. CLARK, Secretary.

Why pay a high price for a "tailor-made" when our suits and overcoats fit you just as well, look as well and wear as well, at prices that are not more than half so high. If you must have a "tailored" suit we will make it, save lots of money, and cost you nothing until you are satisfied with fit and style. See our complete line of samples for suits from $13 upward. Miles & Armstrong.

East Hickory.

The "Maids of Gonesc," as rendered by the young ladies of Hickory, on Saturday evening, was a complete success. The music was excellent. Every part was acted perfectly, although they had but about a week of practice. Especially was Miss Green's reciting very excellent and amusing.

Mrs. Tremaine and family left last week to join her husband in the lower oil field. An entertainment at the Church Hill school house last Wednesday evening, was excellent. The song by the "Petun-ridge Choir," and "Robbing the Male," were especially very laughable. Mr. Clayton Church, a former East Hickory boy, was in town last week. Miss Blanche Keister is at Marienville at present.

Geo. Nuss and family are visiting friends at Hydettown now. We are sorry to note the death of Josiah Mealy of Beaver Valley, on Thursday last. While returning from East Hickory on that day he was taken with a stroke of paralysis and fell out of his buggy along the road, where he was found by some of his neighbors and carried to his home. He lived about half an hour after he arrived there. His remains were interred in the East Hickory cemetery.

The mill is expected to start up about Wednesday. Mrs. Wm. Stiles went to New York to stay until after the holidays. A series of revival meetings will commence next Thursday evening in the M. E. church at this place. PENNO.

Former Forest Co. Boy Honored.

It will be a gratification to those who knew the gentleman while he resided in Forest county, to learn that J. E. Frost Esq., formerly of Pigeon, has been highly honored by the Governor of the State of Washington, in the appointment to the responsible position of State Auditor, or what would be known in Pennsylvania as Auditor-General. Mr. Frost is a nephew of W. H. Frost, well known to the majority of our citizens, and who formerly lumbered at Pigeon. It was there, while in the employ of his uncle, that the young man met and won for his bride Miss Maude L. Fox, the accomplished daughter of our old friend C. F. Fox, the marriage taking place in June, 1887. In 1889 they migrated to the Pacific coast, where it seems his worth as a man was at once recognized by the people, who almost from the start honored him by election to office. His friends in this section recognize the fact that a fair measure of his success is due to the aid and good counsel of his young wife. Mr. Frost is a staunch Republican and cast his first vote in Forest county, and as a production of our county we all feel a pride at his advancement.

The following is taken from the Ellensburg, Wash., Capital of a recent date: "Of course Mr. Frost's many friends here are delighted, and the satisfaction will be equally great all over the county, in every precinct of which he is well known. It goes without saying that the people here have every confidence in Mr. Frost's ability to discharge the duties of the office satisfactorily. As auditor of Kittitas county for four years he made a magnificent record, and during his entire incumbency he retained the esteem of the people, regardless of party, and he earned it by his sterling integrity, his uniform courtesy, and his unswerving devotion to the interests of the people who honored him and the general welfare of the country. Governor McGraw can rest assured that he made no mistake in naming Mr. Frost for this important position. On the other hand, the people of Kittitas county feel sure that he will have every reason to feel proud of it, for Mr. Frost will be an honor and a credit to the office so ably filled by our lamented neighbor, Mr. Grimes. Mr. Frost made no effort himself to secure the appointment, and reluctantly allowed his friends to present his name to the Governor."

J. K. Frost was born in East Java, N. Y., in March, 1866, and is a very young man to be called upon to fill this most responsible position. His life, up to the time he came here, did not differ materially from other boys, for he was compelled to make his way by hard work and ceaseless effort. Since he arrived in Ellensburg in 1889, he has been almost constantly close to the people. After the expiration of his second term as county auditor he associated himself with Mr. Ralph Kaufman in the practice of law, and the appointment found him with flattering prospects ahead, for the firm was a remarkably strong one. A short time ago he was appointed major of the First Battalion, an honorary position which now becomes vacant. The term of the state auditor runs until January, 1897, about thirteen months, and it is probable that Mr. Frost will not remove his family to Olympia for that length of time, nor will the firm of Kaufman & Frost be dissolved, though for that interval Mr. Frost will not be an active member."

At Their New Home.

Rev. F. E. Glas, who has recently assumed the pastorate of the Free Methodist church of this place, writes his impressions of Tionesta and his new home, to his old friends through the Ridgway Advocate, and from his letter we call the following: "On Sabbath morning I took my first trip over the mountains of Forest county, preaching at Newmansville, which is seven long miles from here, at 11:00 a. m.; at German Hill, which is eight miles from Tionesta, six miles, to the place of beginning to preach in the evening—a distance of twenty-one miles, and preaching three times, which I will have to do every other Sabbath, and I am gaining in strength each day. We have on our charge, two churches and a parsonage free of debt. They are now repainting the parsonage, in honor, I suppose, of the new preacher. The people of Tionesta are very friendly, and gave us a cordial welcome. Even before we were settled quite a company came in upon us, leaving baskets, bundles and hearty wishes that our stay among them might be of the pleasantest.

"Tionesta is the county seat of Forest county, with a population of about twelve hundred inhabitants, located on the Allegheny river, twenty miles above Oil City, Pa. The Tionesta creek empties into the Allegheny river at this point, from which thousands of dollars worth of lumber passes through here each year, on its way to the lower markets. The public school, though perhaps not up to the Ridgway high school, is an excellent school, and under the management of Prof. Spear will surely be successful in all its branches.

"We are well pleased with our new home, and should any of our Ridgway friends come through Tionesta we would be pleased to see them. Truly, we are thankful to Jesus, our elder brother, for raising us up so many kind friends wherever we go."

NEWSY NOTES.

In New Castle, the other day, Miss Ella Johnson was passing a horse at the edge of the sidewalk, and put out her hand to pat it. The animal seized her hand and clipped off one of her fingers.

A recent dispatch to the Bradford Era from Pittsburgh says: "The Mahanoy gusher was a week old Tuesday night and its daily average has been more than 2,000 barrels, representing a money value of more than $20,000 in seven days on an investment of $3,500, the cost of drilling the well. The first well on the farm paid for itself and returned the bonus money before the gusher was drilled.

While the students of Chamberlain Institute, Randolph, N. Y., were at supper in the brick boarding hall at 6:30 Saturday evening fire was discovered in the cupola of the main building. The flames were hurried to the ground. Much of the chapel furnishings and goods of the students in the main buildings were saved. Many of the students had narrow escapes but no one received serious injury.

A dispatch was received by Wm. Dickey sometime during Tuesday, stating that the sawmill of Moore, Dickey & Koles, at the mouth of Millstone, on the Clarion river, was burned Monday or Monday night. The mill had not been running for about two weeks. Cause of fire not known. Loss not given. We did not learn whether any lumber was burned. The mill was new, and a good one.—Brookville Democrat.

An exchange well says that "the gossip has made many a home a hell up on earth. Gossip has parted lovers who would be very happy if it were not for gossip. One little misstep or one little indiscretion will cause gossip to arise with new strength and start on her mission. Her, did we say? We ought not to, for we have our male gossips, and, as a rule, they are ten times more venomous than the females. A good healthy man gossiper is about as mean and low and dangerous as the meanest thing on earth."

The people of Cambridgeboro are signing petitions to be forwarded to the Postmaster General and the Erie management, praying that the name "Cambridgeboro" be changed to "Cambridge Springs." This place, like so many other places in this country, has no good reason for its name. In England the old town is well entitled to its name, being located near a bridge over the river Cam, and not near a bridge over French Creek. However Cambridge Springs will do, though Gray Springs would be more strictly descriptive and appropriate.—Franklin News.

The jurisdiction and authority of the teacher over the pupil is neither limited by the school house walls nor the time the school is actually in session. As a general rule in all matters connected with the schools and the manners and morals of the scholars the teacher's jurisdiction conjointly with the parents commences when the pupils leave the parental roof and continues until their return from school. The teacher, however, is not responsible for the misconduct of pupils on the way to and from school, though he has a right to punish for such misconduct when brought to his knowledge, this is the Pennsylvania decision on the subject.

Major C. T. Pigeon is manager of the State Hotel, at Denison, Texas, which the traveling men say is one of the best hotels in that section. In speaking of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Major Pigeon says: "I have used it myself and in my family for several years, and take pleasure in saying that I consider it an infallible cure for diarrhoea and dysentery. I always recommend it, and have frequently administered it to my guests in the hotel, and in every case it has proven itself worthy of unqualified endorsement. For sale by Siggins & Herman."

When most needed it is not unusual for your family physician to be away from home. Such was the experience of Mr. J. Y. Schenck, editor of the Caddo, Ind. Terr., Zionsville, when his little girl, two years of age was threatened with a severe attack of grip. He says: "My wife insisted that I go for the doctor, but as our family physician was out of town I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which relieved her immediately. I will not be without it in the future." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Siggins & Herman.

The wife of Mr. D. Robinson, a prominent lumberman of Hartwick, N. Y., was sick with rheumatism for five months. Many very bad cases of rheumatism have been cured by it. For sale at 50 cents per bottle at Siggins & Herman.
