—When you talk about there being a better state than Pennsylvania, every potato winks its eye, every cabbage shakes its head, every beet gets red in the face, every onion gets stronger, every oats field is shocked, the rye strokes its beard, the corn pricks up its ears and every foot of ground kicks.—Cambria Herald.

—The house and lot, Cor. Main and Bridge streets, belonging to the H. O. Davis estate is to be sold in two or three weeks to the highest bidder. This is one of the most valuable business locations in Tionesta, and ought to sell quickly at a good price. A house, lot and blacksmith shop in Tylersburg, Clarion county, belonging to the same estate is also for sale.

—"St. George Commandery March" is a beauty and no mistake. Not difficult, but catchy. Elegant lithograph title page, and one of the prettiest marches ever published. For piano, full band or orchestra, at half price, (25c. each to introduce), from all music dealers. Composed and published by Isaac Doles, Indianapolis, Ind., author of "My Sweetheart of Years Ago."

—This is funny weather for summer goods, but still we can't help the weather. We expected summer weather when we bought our spring stock and the goods are here and we must sell them. Nice unbleached muslin at 5c. per yard and the old reliable American indigo prints and golden rod at 5c. yd., and everything else in proportion. No trouble to show goods, at Lanson's. It.

—Paul LeRoy, son of Rev. and Mrs. B. L. Grover, died Friday, April 3rd, 1896, at Tylersburg, Pa., of diphtheritic croup, aged 6 years, 6 months and 2 days. Funeral services were held at the house, Saturday, April 4th, at 10:00 a. m. The father and sister of the deceased accompanied the remains to Stearnburg, N. Y., where it was taken for interment. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. F. E. Glass.

—The business men of Titusville started in a short time ago to raise the sum of $300,000 to advance the business interests of that place, and $250,000 have already been subscribed in sums ranging from $5 to $10,000. That is something like business, and if the population of some more of the towns and cities in Western Pennsylvania were made up of that kind of business men there might be a general business boom. The Wheeler & Dusenbury Mill.

Editor White of the Tidouets News recently paid a visit to the thriving village of Stowtown, Hickory township, and like others who have been there, seems to have been smitten with what he saw, as is shown by the following article in his last week's issue:

"The newly rebuilt Wheeler & Dusenbury mill at East Hickory will well repay a visit by lovers of machinery and mechanics. It is of the latest hand saw built with all the latest wrinkles and improvements for doing work fast and economically. The saw is twelve inches wide, has automatic tension and guides and hustles through a lot of any size. A steam trigger, steam feed; roller frame for carrying off work from the saw; automatic saws for edging and slushing; a lathe mill; a grinder for chewing up the refuse slushings to be fed under the boilers along with the sawdust; a carrier to run the surplus waste for burning outside at a safe distance; the usual apparatus for yanking logs out of the pond; and a complete filing room, when the band saws are filed, limed, stretched and gummed comprise only a part of it; the most complete mill we ever visited.

"Outside the mill building are brick boiler and engine houses. The former contains a battery of boilers fed with the refuse and sawdust, brought by carriers to manholes, when it is shoveled into the arches. The engine house contains two engines, the larger running the band mill proper. Both houses have all the modern appliances. It is fascinating to stand by and watch the different machines and appliances, some of which seem almost human—particularly that "nigger"—a machine that places and turns the logs on the carriage just as the Sawyer desires. No vast looks there.

"In one respect the plant is peculiarly noteworthy, it being the only mill perhaps in Pennsylvania capable of sawing long stuff. Seventy-two feet can be turned out, and Messrs. Wheeler & Dusenbury have not only the mill to do it, but also the necessary length of log to get it out. The capacity of the mill in a day's run has never yet been tested, but they are sawing about 25,000 feet log run, per day.

"The factor of safety from fire is well provided in the new system of water works. Throughout the mill and surrounding the big yard of lumber is a chain of five hydrants with a pressure of seventy-five pounds, ready for instant and immediate use.

"All through and around the mill is a big gang of hustling men, who don't get much time to swap stories or plug tobacco. It is rush, rush, right along. But over in the office all is quite and comfortable, with little evidences of the hive of industry a stone's throw away. Mr. N. P. Wheeler, the tireless resident partner, spends most of his time on the outside, but can readily go into his private office if you have business. The office, however, is really in charge of Geo. W. Warden, who not only looks after W. & D.'s business, but is also Superintendent of the Hickory Valley R. R. In his work he is assisted by Gus B. Evans, a Tionesta boy. The pair make a great team with seemingly no limit to their capacity to keep from under the load of business. And the way they do it is in the system of work perfected and carried out.

"A great many improvements in the vicinity of the mill have been made and are under way. New houses have been built, water works and fire protection added. Just now a name for the thriving burg is being discussed, Stowtown not seeming to meet the requirements. But a name it should have. But what? As all know it is just a pleasant drive from Tidouets, and Mr. Wheeler or the "boys," busy as he and they are, will find time to escort you through the mill in which they find so much laudable pride. And it certainly will repay a visit.

"A new steel bridge across the river at West Hickory is this summer to replace the present worn out wood bridge, and bridge builders are now at work on the specifications and estimates."

—The telephone line for Tionesta is a settled thing, and work will soon be commenced on its erection. The arrangement that has been made with the company gives the people who have a telephone in their house the privilege of talking with Titusville, Oil City and Franklin from his own residence, and will certainly prove a great convenience to our people, and we predict that after a year's trial there will be many more who will have 'phones placed in their residences. What we want now is telephone connection with Marienville and Hickory, then we could get the election returns much sooner. What a relief that would be to the candidates.

—In accordance with the permission granted by the controller of the currency a few weeks ago to some of our leading business men, an association was formed yesterday, for the purpose of doing a banking business under the national laws. The name and title of the association is the Forest County National Bank, of Tionesta, Pa. The capital stock is $500,000. The directors are A. W. Cook of Cooksburg, N. P. Wheeler, of East Hickory, G. W. Robinson, Wm. Smarbaugh, J. T. Dale, J. H. Kelly and T. F. Ritchey of Tionesta. A. W. Cook was elected president, Wm. Smarbaugh vice-president and A. B. Kelly cashier. It is expected that the new national bank will be ready for business about the first of May.

—The state board of health proposes to extend to physicians throughout the state the same facilities that are furnished by the local boards of health in large cities in the matter of diagnosis by bacteriological examination of cases suspected of being diphtheria. To do so the board has arranged to have the tests made by its bacteriologists, charging the local authorities of towns rates proportionate to their population. The sterile swabs to tubes will be placed with the local boards of health, and these having been charged with the supposed infective material by the attending physician, will be shipped by mail (by permission of the postmaster general, who has issued an order to that effect) to the bacteriologist, and a report will be returned within twenty-four hours whether the case is diphtheria.

Proceedings of the Board of Health.

The Board of Health met at the office of T. F. Ritchey, last Wednesday, April 1, and organized for the present year by electing A. B. Kelly, President, and T. F. Ritchey, Secretary, and the appointment of H. H. Shensaker as health officer.

The secretary was instructed to have published in the REPUBLICAN and Indicator notices to the owners and occupiers of lots or premises in the Borough that the time for causing sickness from decaying vegetable matter and refuse on and about the different premises is already here, that all refuse and garbage must be removed from said premises as required by health rules.

It is hoped that the people will attend to this matter, before the general inspection of the board, which will be in the near future.

All persons will please take notice. If any heads of families have not yet received a copy of the health rules, they are hereby notified to call on the secretary and secure same.

A. B. KELLY, Pres. T. F. RITCHEY, Sec'y.

NEWSY NOTES.

There is an Irish woman in the Erie County almshouse who is 103 years old. The authorities at New Castle have decided to thoroughly investigate the poisoning of several negroes at that place.

The law library of the late Hon. Samuel Griffith, of Mercer, consisting of 1,500 volumes, is to be sold at public sale on April 7.

Rev. J. H. Leo, pastor of the Geneva, Crawford county, United Brethren church, has been bound over to court on a charge of threatening his wife with bodily harm.

President Hippolyte, of Hayti, died last week. His successor has not yet been elected and in the meantime the cabinet continues to exercise the functions of the government.

Meadville's boom, caused by the location of a chewing gum factory and a Saratoga chips works, has been further augmented by the proposed enlargement of the Little Giant Rat Trap works.

Ex-Prothonotary Alex. Russell, of Butler county, who studied law over 20 years ago but dropped it for other business, has just been admitted to practice law in the courts of that county and has opened an office.

A. Gaston of Meadville, has purchased the burned Starbird block and property at Corry, and will erect thereon a large two-story brick business block. Work will begin as soon as the old block is torn down.

A new bicycle company has been organized at Youngstown and high grade wheels will be turned out by the thousands. The two new bicycle plants in Erie are now receiving their machinery and will soon start up.

A special car containing 4,000,000 cisco fry arrived at Dunkirk from the New York State hatchery at Caledonia, Monday. These little fish, which are less than an inch in length, were taken outside the breakerwater and dumped into the lake.

Bicycles in some parts of northern Michigan had a novel experience last week. The snow was well over the tops of the fences, and so thick a crust was formed on it that the bicyclists were able for a week or more to ride their wheels across lots.

At a recent trial in the Lawrence county court Judge Wallace declared the act for the protection of livery stable keepers to be unconstitutional. It will be taken to the Supreme Court. The decision of that tribunal will be awaited with interest by liverymen throughout the state.

A remarkable record has been made by Mrs. Luke Fish, of Anderson, Mich. Last week she gave birth to twins, making her fourth pair of twins in five years. She is only 28 years old, and all the members of her large family of eight small children are alive and in excellent health.

Miss Agnes Bloomfield and David Wason, both of Meadville, Pa., the latter now operating in the Burning Springs, W. Va., oil field, were married on Saturday at Parkersburg, W. Va. The usual marriage fee is from a bushel of potatoes to "eight shillings," and the officiating minister faintened when the happy old man handed him a $50 bank note.

Dr. Pearson, State Veterinarian, reports that there are forty-two head of cattle in Chester county affected with tuberculosis, and has ordered them to be killed. A few other isolated cases of the disease in Chester county have come under the inspection of Dr. Pearson. The State Sanitary Live Stock Board met last Monday at the Department of Agriculture to take action on these cases.
