The person who eats toadstools under the mistaken idea that they are mushrooms; the one who uses a firearm as a plaything, not knowing it is loaded; the idiot who rocks the pleasure boat for fun, and the thoughtless girl who starts a fire in the kitchen stove with kerosene, are still getting free notices in the papers.

Friends of James Smith of Nebraska will be pleased to learn that his improvement from the injuries received six weeks ago is sure and steady. His legs are healing nicely, and, aside from the injuries, his physical constitution is strong and healthy, and he keeps in a cheerful mood under the trying circumstances.

A farmer tells how he played a Yankee trick on the rats that infested his barn. Fill a barrel, he says, half full of rye and other grain, and give them a treat for a fortnight placing a board against the barn for easy access. Some night substitute water for the grain leaving enough of the latter on top to deceive and the result may astonish you. Moreover, the remaining rats will leave the barn for months.

John Charleston, who has had eight or ten years' experience at the business, has taken a lease of the Overlander flour and feed mill on the West Side, and will give his whole attention to the wants of customers wishing anything in that line. The mill is in tip-top apple-pie order, and Mr. C. being a practical miller, the very best flour and feed will be turned out in short order to all patrons. Give John a trial.

Last Friday afternoon, as Mrs. L. J. Osgood, of East Hickory, and her aunt, Mrs. Langworthy, of Pleasantville, an elderly lady, were driving down the "narrowes" in a top buggy their horse shied at a small slide in the road, and the buggy, with its occupants slid over the embankment, taking the horse with it. The descent at that place is about 20 feet and both ladies were quite severely bruised and cut up about the head. The horse was somewhat scratched, and the buggy was completely wrecked.

—Hon. John Hamilton, deputy secretary of agriculture has our thanks for a copy of a pamphlet compiled by himself entitled "Good Roads for Pennsylvania." This is a subject with which Mr. Hamilton is thoroughly familiar, having had many years' experience in that line, and he speaks with authority. The pamphlet should be read by all who have to do with country road making, and we have no doubt it can be had by addressing a postal card to the Department at Harrisburg.

—Sarah May, daughter of Samuel Grubbs, of Tidouite, formerly a resident of this county, died at the home of her father on the 13th inst., after a year's illness of consumption. Dale officiated at the grave here on last Sabbath afternoon. Deceased was aged 21 years, 2 months and 22 days.

—An article has been going the rounds of the newspapers to the effect that eastern capitalists are about to purchase the Ridgway sanitarium at Hydrotown. As a matter of fact the report is without even a grain of truth, and "Uncle Sam" wishes it distinctly understood that as long as he lives the sanitarium will be run under his control and at his death will pass into the hands of his children.—Titusville World.

This dental will be good news to "Uncle Sam's" host of friends throughout this section.

The reunion of the old "Tionesta Rangers," Co. G, 83d P. V., takes place on the 29th, as announced, and the "boys" are looking ahead in anticipation of a most pleasant visit with each other at that time. It is hoped all the old members of that honored company who can possibly do so will make it a point to be in attendance. Arrangements will be completed for the proper entertainment of all the old members of the company who are here on that day, and without doubt they will enjoy a delightful reunion. A number will go from here to the Regimental reunion of the 83d, which takes place the next day at Connetquot lake in connection with the reunion of the Northwestern association of the G. A. R.

The McKinley club of Tionesta at the meeting last Saturday evening, in the new and commodious headquarters, was largely attended by the members, and had several interested visitors from out of town. Good reports came in from all sides and the meeting was thoroughly enthusiastic and enjoyable. The following delegates to the Republican State League convention to be held in Erie on the 9th of September were elected: Jerry Birrell, J. W. Jamieson, George Holeman, Alternates, J. P. Grove, C. S. Kirecharnt, Chas. F. Weaver. At the Erie convention the State campaign will be formally opened by such national speakers as Governor Hattings, Chas. Emory Smith, "Jack" Robinson, and many others of the ablest men of the State. Major McKinley has been invited and may consent to be there. It will be a big affair and no mistake.

The State Deputy Secretary of Agriculture has determined that there shall be 186 farmers' institutes held during 1896 and 1897, of which 116 will occupy two days and the remaining one day. The sum of $9,000 per annum is provided by the State to pay the lecturers at these institutes, and it is claimed that $25,000 could be easily so expended profitably. There can be no doubt that these institutes are of much benefit to the farmers in many ways. They afford an opportunity for the farmers themselves to meet and compare notes as to the methods of agriculture pursued by them and the success or failure which has attended new departures. The lecturers provided by the State are also able to impart a fund of new ideas to their hearers. Farming in Pennsylvania to be profitable as possible in order to meet the competition of more favored localities.

Mrs. Charlotte Downey, widow of the late Dennis Downey, of Fagundus, whose tragic death from a nitro-glycerine explosion was chronicled in these columns last week, was in town last Wednesday on business connected with her late husband's affairs, and gave the REPUBLICAN a call. She wished us to express through our columns her most sincere thanks to all of those kind friends who so promptly gave up all business duties to lend their assistance during that trying week; especially were the citizens of Pineville and those living near the scene of the disaster very kind and solicitous to be in their power to alleviate the great shock which the family had sustained. All these will ever be held in grateful remembrance for their unfeigned kindness. Mrs. Downey said she knew of no debts owing by her late husband, but if there were any she wished to pay them as soon as possible, and that anyone who knew themselves indebted would be as prompt in discharging the obligations as possible.

Kellettville.

Mrs. Mary Carter, proprietress of the Brooklyn House, has been visiting her parents at Hempstead town the past week. Mrs. C. S. Berlin has charge of the culinary department during Mrs. C.'s absence.

The Blood-Drinking Mosquito.

Until within a few years the mosquito was a rare bird in this part of the Allegheny valley. A few of the pests may have dragged out a brief and feeble summer existence in Franklin, but they were harmless, says the News. Of late years, however, the mosquito has increased in numbers in our city. It has also increased in voracity, and is a bore of the first class, full of business and out for blood. Scientists give us a few facts about the mosquito that are not generally known. Although the insects show wonderful skill in drilling through the skin and pumping themselves full of blood, their sucking of blood is only an acquired taste. Their natural food is the matter in slimy marshes, and not one in a million of them ever taste blood. Yet these insects at the very first venture show a wonderful instinct in selecting the tender and exposed parts of the human body, where the blood is near the surface and easily reached. Female mosquitoes do all the mischief. Dr. Uhler says the males neither buzz nor sting.

The males are quiet fellows and can't make a noise with their wings. The female lays her eggs on the water, forming them into a little raft by sticking them together with a water-proof substance. The eggs hatch into black "merry-wigglers" seen in rain barrels. In time these rise to the surface, open out, and away flies the mosquito.

Morrow, Treas.; Samuel D. Irwin, Sec'y.

Meeting of the Forest County Agricultural Society.

Agreeable to adjournment the society will meet at the Court House, in Tionesta, on Monday evening of August court, being the 31st day of Aug. Important committees will report, and action will be taken on the reports by the society. Questions of interest will be discussed, &c. Let everybody turn out and take a part and thus encourage a greater interest in agricultural pursuits, and the Good Roads problem. Come with a question for discussion, and help discuss those brought in by others.

C. A. RANDALL, Pres.

J. J. ALBAUGH, Sec'y.

The people have long since learned that the most disagreeable medicines are not necessarily the best. In fact, as a rule, they are not. What is wanted is something mild and sure, such as Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. That is really pleasant to take when reduced with water and sweetened. Then it is acknowledged everywhere to be the most successful remedy in the world for lowest complaints. Ask any number of druggists for the best remedy they have for diarrhea and fully nine out of ten will recommend Chamberlain's. In speaking of this medicine, Mr. B. H. Buffum of Friendsville, Susquehanna Co., Pa., says: "We have used it in our family for pain in the stomach, colic and diarrhoea and found it to be a most effective remedy." For sale by G. W. Boyard.

The whole system is drained and undetermined by indolent ulcers and open sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve speedily heals them. It is the best pile cure known. Heath & Killmer.

If you have ever seen a little child in the agony of summer complaint, you can realize the danger of the trouble and appreciate the value of instantaneous relief always afforded by DeWitt's Colic & Cholera Cure. For dysentery and diarrhoea it is a reliable remedy. We would not advise to recommend this as
