

THE FOREST REPUBLICAN. J. E. WENK, EDITOR & PROPRIETOR. WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1896. REPUBLICAN TICKET. NATIONAL. President—WM. McKINLEY. Vice President—GARRETT A. HOBART. STATE. Congress—Wm. C. Arnold, Assembly—J. E. Wenk. County Commissioners—Wm. M. Coon, Chas. M. Whitman. Auditors—M. E. Abbott, J. R. Clark. Jury Commissioner—J. B. Carpenter. "The Republican party stands for honest money, and the chance to earn it by honest toil"—William McKinley.

HOW'S THIS FOR MAINE? The Greatest Landslide Ever Known in the Pine Tree State. 45,000 TO 50,000 MAJORITY. The Home Of Sewall Speaks in Thunder Tunes For Sound Money.

AUGUSTA, ME., Sept. 14. Maine has followed the example of Vermont and declared for the Republican ticket by the largest majority in her history. According to the latest returns, the plurality for Powers, Republican, for governor, will be over 45,000 and; roably in the neighborhood of 50,000. Hon. T. B. Reed is re-elected to the House by over 10,000 plurality. The returns show a majority of about 10,000 for Mr. Dingley for Congress from the Second district, over 12,000 for Mr. Miliken in the Third district and practically the same for Mr. Boutelle in the Fourth district.

In the State Legislature the Democrats will, apparently, have less than half a dozen of the representatives in the House and not one in the Senate. As was anticipated, the Republicans polled a tremendous vote and secured many Democratic ballots. On the other hand, many disaffected Democrats remained at home and only a few voted for the nominee of the gold standard wing. The Populists and Prohibitionists votes have been received from only a few towns, but it is evident that neither party polled as large a vote as two years ago.

GRAND REPUBLICAN RALLY. The Issues of the Day to be Discussed by Able Speakers. Bear in mind the Grand Republican Mass Meeting to be held at the Court House, Tionesta, THURSDAY, SEPT. 24, 1896, afternoon and evening. If the weather is fair an outdoor meeting will be held in the Public Square. In the evening the meeting will be held in the Court House.

HON. GALUSHA A. GROW, Congressman-at-large from Pennsylvania; HON. W. C. ARNOLD, Our Member of Congress; HON. SAMUEL H. MILLER, of Mercer, and other speakers of National fame, are expected to be present and address the people. Let there be a large outpouring of the people from all parts of the county to hear these able speeches.

Going to See McKinley. There is to be a grand excursion to Canton, Ohio, on the 24th, starting from Oil City, to see Major McKinley. It is estimated that 1500 to 2000 people will avail themselves of the opportunity to go and hear the great champion of protection and sound money, and the crowd will include many from this section. It is truly wonderful to note the tremendous outpouring of people that are going from all over the Union to meet McKinley at his Canton home, and the crowds are constantly increasing. Last week the number was in the neighborhood of 40,000, and this week it will reach nearly 60,000. The Major greets all in the most cordial manner, and delivers a most telling speech to every delegation, but never in a single instance has he uttered a word that is calculated to inflame the hearts of the people, or appeal to their prejudice.

Hickory McKinley Club. All members of the McKinley Club of Hickory, and all citizens who believe in Protection and Prosperity, are urged to be present at Whitton Hall, on Thursday evening, Sept. 17th, as important business remains to be transacted. Come one, come all. J. ALBAUGH, Pres. A. E. SOUTHWORTH, Sec'y.

PAY YOUR TAXES, Republicans, and don't take chances on losing your vote this fall. See to it at once.

REPUBLICANS throughout the country should be on their guard against what is undoubtedly the new policy of the Bryanites, which is to let the Presidential election go by default, and make a still hunt for Congress. With the Senate already in possession of the silverites, a bold dash for the House would, if successful, help their cause amazingly. They could hardly hope to elect enough members to override a veto, but with a bare majority they could do great harm. Republicans should see to it that these expectations are disappointed. They should, while paying due attention to the Presidential ticket, keep close watch on their Congressional nominations, and spare no effort to elect them. To elect McKinley and lose the House would be but half a victory, and the Republican party must not be content with anything less than a whole victory this year. The half victory is already won; Bryan is already beaten.

THERE is no fact of history better established than this: That Ernst Seyd was never in this country but once, and that was in 1856. And yet that miserable, mendacious falsehood about his being in this country in 1872-3 and bribing Congress is still paraded by ignorant and unscrupulous men. There is not a man living or ever did live, who ever saw Ernst Seyd in this country after 1856. Even Senator Teller admits that there is absolutely no truth in the stories and false affidavits fabricated and forged in the interest of silver producers to deceive the people. This story is a novel repeated either by great men or great newspapers. Mr. Bryan himself has never had the gall to even hint at such a thing. Why? Because he knows that it is false and ridiculous.

We have another evidence of the sound sense, honesty and patriotism of the eastern farmers in the result of the recent election in Vermont. The most purely agricultural State east of the Mississippi river has shown its disapproval of cheap money demagogues by giving the largest Republican majority in its history, 39,093. The New York Sun says that New York State ought to give 750,000 majority for McKinley, and Indiana 300,000. Pennsylvania ought to give more than a half million majority, and she will come pretty near doing it. Panzy Spirit.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND has spoken at last. His message endorsing the candidacy of Palmer and Buckner is clear and to the point. He repudiates the repudiation platform. He believes that the integrity and honor of the nation should be sacredly preserved. And Secretary Carlisle agrees with him. The attitude which they have taken is thoroughly creditable to their patriotism and understanding. It is another call to patriotic Democrats to reject the Albigel-Tillman ticket and platform, and it will help to turn the fight against Bryan and Sewall into a brilliant victory.

WRITING on the Presidential outlook the Philadelphia Times of last Sunday figures out 266 electoral votes as certain for McKinley, giving him 69 majority. It also gives a list of thirteen other states some of which McKinley may carry, and gives only five as certain to vote for Bryan. It says that McKinley's election to the Presidency by an overwhelming majority may now be accepted as inevitable. And the Times is not a "rainbow chaser," but generally knows what it is talking about.

THE latest big flop from the Bryan camp is that of ex-Lieut. Gov. Wm. F. Sheehan, of New York, who has written a letter denouncing the action of the Chicago convention both as regards to candidates and platform. If the Buffalo convention endorses Bryan and the platform Sheehan will resign from the party management. This means the loss of thousands of votes to the Bryan ticket in New York State, which it is already claimed will give McKinley over 200,000 majority.

In 1870 a Mexican dollar was worth 104 cents, measured by its purchasing power. To day a Mexican dollar is worth 51 cents. In 1870 the wages of laborers of Mexico were fully as much, and in many instances more, than they are now receiving. Free coinage of silver has reduced the wages of Mexican laborers by more than one-half. Do the laborers of the United States want that?

MR. BRYAN'S RECORD. Some Facts That Are Worthy of Careful Consideration. It is a fact which the thinking voter is considering just now, that William J. Bryan does not touch upon the tariff, nor does he refer to the point that his election will mean a continuation of the hard times which have come upon the country as a result of the passage of the Wilson tariff bill—a bill misnamed a measure for revenue, but which produces nothing but a deficit.

Mr. Bryan is eagerly seeking the votes of the farmers, yet on April 7, 1893, he voted in the house in favor of the Springer bill to place wool on the free list, thus striking a blow at every farmer who attempts to diversify his industry by raising sheep. The wool growers of Ohio, of Texas, and of the west and southwest, remember this.

On the next day, April 8, 1893, he voted in favor of repealing the duty and admitting free foreign bagging for cotton, machinery for its manufacture, cotton ties and cotton gins. Here he voted against the interest of the workmen employed in cotton manufacture, or in the building of machinery therefor.

On July 8, 1892, Mr. Bryan voted to reduce the duty on tin plate and to repeal the section of the McKinley law which created the great tin plate industry in the United States. Another blow was then dealt at the workmen whose votes he now so eagerly seeks.

On May 4, 1892, Mr. Bryan moved to suspend the rules and pass his bill to place binding twine on the free list. He then struck another blow at the workmen, for hundreds of them found employment in the manufacture of twine. It will not do to say his action was "for the benefit of the farmer," because the price of binding twine is no lower now than it was in 1892. His bill merely gave foreign workmen employment at the expense of the American workmen. It injured the latter, and did not benefit the former.

On July 8, 1892, Mr. Bryan voted for the bill to reduce the duty on lead ore, and to discriminate in favor of lead ore containing silver. This bill could not possibly benefit any American workman. It injured those employed in lead mining and smelting; it injured the men who delve in silver mines. Possibly it helped the men who deal in silver bullion—but certainly not our American workman.

Mr. Bryan's votes in congress were uniformly in favor of measures whose effect was to reduce the wages of American workmen, and to diminish the amount of work open to them. He voted to reduce or remove the duties on imported farm products. Is a man who votes steadily to promote foreign interests at the expense of our own to be honored with the highest office in the people's gift, as a reward for such action?

Bryan's votes and his voice have been and are in favor of cheap labor and cheap money—for free trade and free silver. A Bazaar Game. That the rich men are all goldbugs and are opposed to the laboring classes is a neat dodge to catch the laborer's vote. With Sewall, the millionaire, running mate to the boy orator, St. John, the millionaire banker, supplying the music in New York, and with such other liberal silver bugger millionaires as A. Erickson, Perkins, of New York, who talks silver, but demands all loans guaranteed in gold payments, the demagogues will have a difficult time keeping up the deception. The genuine brand of silverite duplicity and deceit.—Harleton Sentinel.

English Labor Needs Protection. The working people of England find that competition with countries employing cheaper labor is too oppressive to bear longer and are demanding, in the interest of themselves and families, to be saved from the further degradation it will entail. It is not American competition they dread. It is the competition of France, Germany and Belgium, countries whose labor is even more poorly paid than the labor of England. They have come to appreciate at last that nothing but tariffs which are defensive in their character will save them from utter ruin and destitution.—Hon. William McKinley.

GARFIELD'S WARNING. His Utterance When Opposing Free Coinage Twenty Years Ago. (Extract from a Speech Delivered July 18, 1878) In opposing the free coinage of silver President Garfield used the following impressive words: "Mr. Speaker, I can hardly conceive a situation in which the house could be brought more directly face to face with what seems to be present, on the one hand, public honor, and on the other, the deepest public disgrace."

"It has happened in the fluctuation of these metals that there is now a notable opportunity to cheat seven millions of men by adopting the base metal as the standard of payment, and thus accomplish a swindle on so great a scale as to make the achievement illustrious. By the proposed measure one-fifth of the enormous aggregate of public and private debts can be wiped out with a sponge. This nation owes $2,000,000,000 and private citizens of the United States probably over $2,000,000,000, possibly more. At the present moment the relation of debtor and creditor in the United States involves nearly $5,000,000,000. It is proposed by the amendment of the gentleman from Indiana that, at one fell swoop, one-fifth of all this enormous sum shall be wiped out, repudiated, and that the process shall be called honest legislation. Since I have been in public life I have never known any proposition that contained so many elements of vast rascality, of colossal swindling as this."

"Gentlemen may remember the financial shock of 1857, the later shock of 1857, and the still later shock in 1873. Conceive them all in one vast crash, and the financial ruin of the people of business would be light in comparison with the shock which would follow.

"It is in operation the provision now suggested, and all our gold coins will leave the country as fast as it can be carried abroad. Do this and a revolution in our monetary affairs, utterly unparalleled in the history of our nation, would follow."

BRYAN'S PLAIN WORDS ON SILVER. Free silver would not make labor easier, the hours of labor shorter, or the pay better. It would not make farming less laborious or more profitable. It would not start a factory or make a demand for an additional day's labor. It would create no more occupations. It would add nothing to the comfort of the masses, the respect of the people or the wealth of the nation. It seeks to introduce a new measure of value, but would add no value to the things measured. It would not conserve value. On the contrary, it would debase all existing values. It would not restore business confidence. It is a direct effort to be destroyed the little which yet remains.

Want American Ships. Our people are beginning slowly to see that the largest producing and manufacturing nation in the world must not depend upon foreign nations for her transportation on the ocean and are beginning to realize that we can build iron vessels as well as we did wooden ships, that we can sell them by the power of steam as well as we did our American clipper by the aid of canvas.

Bryan's Gain. Bryan, the free trader, says that protection is "the most vicious political principle that we ever introduced into the country." Yet he will shortly be soliciting the votes of wage earners who have been idle or only partially employed because of the destruction of protection by Bryanitea. Some people have a superabundance of gold.
