"The Republican party stands for honest money, and the chance to earn it by honest toil."—William McKinley.

This should be known as the year of the hegira—to Canton.

Nobody ever leaves the front yard while the Major is speaking.

There is reason to believe that the majority for McKinley in Pennsylvania alone will exceed the aggregate majorities for Bryan in all the States Bryan will carry.

Bourke Cockran is the kind of a second money Democrat who sensibly proposes to make his vote count in a practical way by casting it directly for McKinley, instead of putting it to the same use in a roundabout fashion.

A poll of the workmen in Illinois factories shows that in the nineteen towns which have thus far sent in their returns nearly 90 per cent. of the vote was cast for McKinley. In the face of such a pointer Mr. Bryan may as well strike Illinois off the list of States worth visiting.

Germany has produced in one year as much as 1,213,686 tons of beet sugar and France 750,000 tons. This country has reached a total of 22,000 tons only, but a McKinley administration would put the beet and cane sugar industry in shape to keep $150,000,000 from going abroad.

According to the New York Sun, the Bryanites, who have all along been claiming a fighting chance in Ohio, have given it up, and admit that that State will go for McKinley by anywhere from 75,000 to 150,000 plurality. No more national speakers will be permitted to waste their words in Ohio. The plan now is to undertake to save Kansas and Nebraska.

This morning's reports from the election held in Florida yesterday say that scattering returns from all parts of the State show Democratic majorities in every county, but afford no basis for an estimate of Bloxham's plurality for governor. No comparison of precincts can be made with 1892, inasmuch as in that year the Republicans had no ticket in the field.

Writing to Mr. Delaney, of Louisville, under date of September 24, Vice Presidential candidate Sewall admits that he is making charter contracts with a gold clause; but he fails to see why he should be criticised for following a custom in his business which has universally obtained during the last forty years. This is where Sewall slips. He is not criticised for following a business practice which has the sanction of custom, but for his inconsistency in failing to make his practice conform to his preaching.

"Ask them why it was that under the Sherman law of 1890 it increased the price of silver purchased by the Government," said Mr. Bryan in his last effort in New York. Price of silver in 1890, just before the passage of the Sherman act, $1.16 per ounce; just before the repeal of the purchase clause, 78 cents. Either Mr. Bryan is so ignorant of the subject on which he is attempting to instruct the American people that he does not know the facts, or the words quoted above can only be regarded as a deliberate misrepresentation.

Mr. Wharton Barker's political prophecies are not always valuable, but he speaks by the book when he tells his Popocratic friends that Mr. Bryan cannot be elected with Watson and Sewall both running for Vice-President. He invites them both to withdraw, but they have declined repeated invitations to the same effect heretofore, and are not likely to be more tractable to Mr. Barker's persuasions. Mr. Bryan is marked for defeat whether his ticket has two tails or one. Mr. Watson knows this, and as he is running to make a record and not to make a President he will not withdraw.—Phila. Press.

Harry Alvin Hall for McKinley.

United States District Attorney Harry Alvin Hall has forwarded his resignation as a Presidential elector on the Bryan ticket to State Chairman Garman, and in it he made a confession of faith. Mr. Hall has been a life-long Democrat, has served in the State Senate, and is one of the most prominent men in the Democratic party in Elk county. He says:

"The platform adopted by the recent so-called Democratic Convention at Chicago is opposed to everything the Democratic party has stood for, everything it has taught and every declaration it has made in the past."

He further declares that Mr. Bryan is "preaching the gospel of hate, sowing the seeds of enmity between the rich and poor and striving to array the employed in hostility to the employer," and that he "would regard the success of the Democratic party on that platform as the greatest misfortune that could befall the country." He concludes as follows:

"I believe the welfare of the country—for the present at least—will be best conserved by the election of the Republican candidates, and I intend to vote for Major McKinley and to render every assistance that lies in my humble power to the success of his campaign."

The Campaign's Western March.

Mr. Bryan is moving West. So is the line of battle on which the campaign is fought.

For a month after Mr. Bryan was nominated questions were asked about the New England states. Maine was discussed as debatable ground. Mr. Sewall was nominated because it was hoped by the Chicago convention that the State could be carried for its candidates.

By the time Mr. Bryan spoke in the middle of August astute observers like Senator Gorman saw that Maine was gone. Mr. Bryan was kept out of the State. For the next two or three weeks it was merely a question how much bigger the Republican majority would be than usual. There was along in August ominous talk about the rural vote in New York. People whispered about "silver" in this state. A Maryland borough election at which next to nobody voted was paraded to show that that State was in doubt.

By the time Vermont, Maine and Arkansas had voted and the Democratic split in each of the Middle States was clear this sort of thing stopped. Lots of hard work is necessary before Maryland and West Virginia are rendered certain for sound money, but the drift in these States is all that way. Ohio was for a season discussed as doubtful. Within three weeks the Popocratic campaign has collapsed and all speakers for Bryan and Sewall have been withdrawn from the State. No one to-day treats Ohio as in doubt.

Indiana is going through the same change. For a month every report from this State has been more and more favorable to sound money. The Popocratic loss of gold Democrats more than equals the Populist gain, and new converts and new votes make the State secure by a round majority. Illinois is to-day the fighting line of conflict whose dubious battle-field three months ago was held to be in Maine. A month more remains. By the time that is over the only Northern States which will remain doubtful will be the silver States and the only allies free silver coinage will have elsewhere will be a few Southern States. Even among these, all the border States promise to-day to be for McKinley and Hobart.

A Cheap Campaign.

There is nothing more in the reiterated complaint of the Bryan organs that "Bryan's speeches are not printed" than an attempt to secure the circulation of the campaign literature of the Populist Democracy without expense to that organization. Since the campaign began the Popocrats have resorted to cheap devices to circulate their campaign arguments. The Government printing office has been drawn upon for all available parts of the Congressional Record, which have been franked out from Washington. When that supply of cheap thunder was about exhausted the National Committee headquarters at Washington were closed.

But that did not exhaust the resources of the cheap money crowd to get cheap phrases before the public by cheap methods. Candidate Bryan was sent on a spectacular tour "into the enemy's country" with the assurance that whatever of the dignity of a Presidential candidate was sacrificed would be compensated by the publication of his arguments by the newspaper press of the country.

When the traveling candidate degenerated to a mere repetition of his contradictory cant, and the newspapers could find nothing new in them to print, the organs began to howl that the speeches of Bryan were not printed. Influential Popocrats, wherever any could be found, were posted to send complaints to the newspaper press and so the plea has kept up.

without regard to truth or consistency. It is true that other Presidential candidates have had all their speeches and papers published, but no other ever presumed upon the prominence given by a National convention to tax the space usually devoted to news to one-tenth the extent that this presumptuous boy orator has. No other Presidential candidate ever made the public so weary of his endless "oratory." It is about time the cry of "unfairness" raised by the Bryan organs was turned into showing the unfairness of those organs and the Popocratic campaign managers in asking the opposition and independent press to circulate their campaign literature gratis.—Pittsburg Dispatch, Ind.

The Best for Children. "I believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best for children I ever used. For croup it is unequalled. It is a splendid seller with us. T. M. Eckles, Ph. G., Manager Wampum Pharmacy, Wampum, Pa. 'My son used as soon as the first symptoms appear, that in soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. The mothers of croupy children should bear this in mind and always keep the remedy at hand. It is also the best medicine in the world for colds and whooping cough. For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle by G. W. Howard."

Many lives of usefulness have been cut short by neglect to break up an ordinary cold. Pneumonia, bronchitis and even consumption can be averted by the prompt use of One Minute Cough Cure, Health & Killer.

Speed and safety are the watchwords of the age. One Minute Cough Cure acts speedily, safely and never fails. Asthma, bronchitis, coughs and colds are cured by it. Health & Killer.

It is surprising to many that foot-ball players and other athletes regard a sprain or bruise of so little consequence. One reason of this is, they know how to treat such injuries so as to recover in a few days, while others would be laid up for two or three weeks, if not longer. Writing from Central State Normal School, Lock Haven, Pa., Mr. W. H. Leach, captain of the base ball team and gymnasium says: "I take pleasure in stating that members of our base ball club and myself have used Chamberlain's Pain Balm with most excellent results. I unhesitatingly recommend it as the best remedy for sprains, swellings, cuts and bruises, of any I know." For sale by G. W. Howard.

Many political speakers, clergymen, sluggers and others who use the voice excessively, suffer upon One Minute Cough Cure to prevent huskiness and laryngitis. Its value as a preventive is only equalled by its power to afford instantaneous relief. Health & Killer.

They are so little you hardly know you are taking them. They cause no griping, yet they act quickly and most thoroughly. Such are the famous little pills known as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Small in size great in results. Health & Killer.

Tetter, eczema and all similar skin troubles are cured by the use of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It soothes at once, and restores the skin to its normal condition, and never fails to cure piles. Health & Killer.

"I had chronic diarrhoea for ten years," says L. W. Kiehl, a justice of the peace at South Easton, Pa. "No remedy afforded me real relief until I was induced by Chas. M. Kilian, the druggist, to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It cured me and for a year I have had no return of the trouble." It has also cured many others, among them old soldiers who have contracted the disease in the army and given up all hope of recovery. For sale by G. W. Howard.
