

Strikes in 1890

Strikes occurred centuries ago, and their outcome was just as disastrous as in that of the present day work struggles.

There are about seventeen million cows in this country, or one to every four inhabitants. The annual value of the dairy products of the United States is estimated to exceed $400,000,000.

To Establish Model Farms.

At least two railroad companies, one operating in the West and one in the South, are about starting model farms with a view to demonstrating the capabilities of the lands through which their lines run.

Deposits of marl, which are said to be as valuable for fertilizing material as the phosphate beds of Florida, have been found near Hamburg, Ark.

It is hardly a compliment to say that anyone is "hipped," but anyone is pretty badly hipped who suffers with sciatitis.

Seven persons were killed by asphyxiation in Boston, Mass, during forty-eight hours.

No-To-Bac for Fifty Cents. Over 400,000 cured. Why not let No-To-Bac regulate or remove your desire for tobacco?

Hydrophobia. A few years ago many reputable physicians thought and believed that there was no such disease as hydrophobia, and that the bite of a mad dog was not fatal to human beings.

RESULTS OF THE CENSUS OF GERMANY taken in 1895 give a population of 52,244,509, an increase since 1890 of 2,816,027, or 1.14 per cent. increase per year.

WOMAN'S POWER. IT SHAPES THE DESTINIES OF MEN AND NATIONS.

Where Men Are at a Disadvantage, and "Only a Woman Can Understand a Woman's Ill."

Woman's beauty, love and devotion, rule the world. Grand women; strong mentally, morally and physically, whose ambition and energy urge men to deeds and heroism. Such women are all-powerful.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has for twenty years saved women from all this. Hear this woman speak.

I wish to publish what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash have done for me. I had falling of the womb and leucorrhoea, and they have cured me of both.

FARM GARDEN

Subsoiling is sometimes beneficial, and sometimes useless, and may be injurious. Spring subsoiling is not to be recommended. Whenever there is a dry, hard subsoil, it will pay to loosen it up.

THE IMPORTANCE OF TREE FARMING. The importance of tree farming in the lands which, either from lack of food material in them or from location, as on steep hillsides, are fit for nothing else, and the money to be made in it, is being quietly proved in hundreds of localities in New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

DEEP PLOWING. A friend asks if it is any benefit to plow run-down land deeply that has only been skimmed over before.

OSTRICH HUNTING. An ostrich chase is very attractive sport; or rather the sale of booty is so great as to attract hunters. The Arabs give themselves to it with a real passion.

WHAT TO FEED HENS. Green bones are not used as extensively as they should be, because grain can be obtained with less difficulty.

FREEZING WATER TO BLAST ROCKS. There is no resisting the expansive power of freezing water. If a deep hole, or two or three of them, are drilled into the hardest rock and the outlet is securely closed, the rock will be rent in twain if the hole be first filled with water and allowed to freeze.

THE KAISER'S SILVER CUP. The German Emperor proposes to celebrate the sixtieth year of his grandmother's reign in a very handsome way, says the Illustrated London News.

TEMPERANCE

A man who drinks whiskey may feel while frisky. And point the town bravely; and soon in the gutter with misery utter. He will curse and wish himself dead.

A man who drinks gin with pleasure will grin. And never what he calls a good time. Till with a red nose and dirty old clothes. He, homeless, will beg for a dime.

A man who drinks beer feels good for a year, And thinks it don't hurt him a bit; Till, blasted and red, he goes to his bed, Or falls on the street in a fit.

But he who drinks water, as every one oughter, Enjoys to the utmost his life; He's happy and healthy, respected and loved by his children and wife.

A man who drinks wine may feel very fine, And play funny antics and shout; But soon he'll pay with headache and next day, And die when he's young, from the gout.

A man who drinks brandy may feel like a god. He'll laugh and brag, and brag and brag. But soon he'll pay with headache and next day, And die when he's young, from the gout.

A man who drinks rum may feel like a man, And play funny antics and shout; But soon he'll pay with headache and next day, And die when he's young, from the gout.

THE ALCOHOL TERROR. France, for reasons hygienic and fiscal, is struggling with the liquor-traffic problem. Reports of physicians, statisticians, officials, and politicians have frightened many talons of rapine and writers of France with tales of ravages caused by the abuse of alcoholic beverages.

CLEAR THINGS FOR LITTLE READERS. It is very clear that if I never drink intoxicating liquors I shall never become a drunkard.

It is very clear that if I ever use intoxicating drink I shall be guilty of helping to make others drunkards.

It is very clear that if I ever go into drinking companies, I shall expose many of the temptations and snares that are laid for the young.

It is very clear that if I ever drink intoxicating liquor frequently, I may learn to like it, and so become a drunkard.

It is very clear that moderate drinking is not the cause of all drunkenness. The school in which all drunkards are trained.

It is very clear that if there was no moderate drinking there would be no drunkenness. The reform of inebriates is difficult and rare.

It is very clear that if I ever use intoxicating liquor I shall be guilty of helping to make others drunkards.

Uses of Old Shoes.

Old shoes are not lost by any means. In this country they are cherished and subjected to a course of manipulations by which they are converted into a kind of artificial leather, which is made to look very fine, and may be elegantly ornamented.

Among curious sporting incidents have been recorded one told by Mr. John Kent in his "Reminiscences of Goodwood," where a horse loses a race from being too far in front of the winning post.
