Col. Robert G. Ingersoll has been engaged to lecture at Lily Dale, but the date has not been fixed upon yet. The management is negotiating with Hon. William J. Bryan for a lecture. Both parties will be there it is thought. They would make a good team and should travel together. The theories they advocate are about on a parity.

An adjoining county editor, in looking over human occupations, is led to observe: Heaven born orators are shoveling dirt on the streets, athletes are preaching the gospel, brilliant writers are carrying the load, men are practicing law who ought to be shoeing horses, surgeons who ought to saw wood. There are men in the penitentiary who ought to be holding positions of trust, and men in office who ought to be in the penitentiary.

—After all the bad weather the ladies had a chance to show their Easter bonnets last Sunday, as it was a beautiful day. But they have had to keep said bonnets covered with their winter wraps since Easter to keep the flowers from being frozen.

—The treasurer of Indiana county found himself in an awkward position recently at the adjournment of court. There were no funds in the treasury and the county officials had to "chip in" and loan the county money enough to pay off the juryman.

—We publish on page two of this issue an essay read by Mrs. Gertrude McElhoos Morrow at the recent farmers' institute held in this place. The essay is entitled "Home Decoration and All That Relates to Comfort, Health and Enjoyment in a Country Home."

—Samuel Longstreth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Longstreth, of Newmansville, Pa., died very suddenly Tuesday, April 13th, aged four years, ten months and twenty-one days. The funeral services were held at the Lutheran church, Thursday, 2:30 p. m., by Rev. F. E. Glass.

—A Buffalo judge says that it's principle of law, as well as common sense, that three classes of men can go anywhere without blame—doctors, clergymen and newspaper men. The latter are not only permitted but sometimes urged to go to the devil.

—License court is in session this week, and up to the time of going to press six applications have been granted, these being the ones formerly having license in this county. The two new applications—Hoover & Maze, Clarington, and Milt Graybill, Elulalia—are the only ones on the list having remonstrances against them, and they are being argued this morning.

—Scott Thompson, of Butler, pulled his hired girl out of bed by the heels because she wouldn't get up when he called her, and the magistrate fined him $75 and costs. An exchange thinks Thompson got off with light punishment. Any man who attempts to run things about the house against the wishes of his domestic "help" ought to be seriously dealt with.—Ez.

—An act has been passed in the State Senate making changes in legal holidays, as follows: The third Tuesday of February (election day) is made a legal holiday. Labor Day is the first Monday of September, instead of the first Saturday.

—A Warren woman recently gave a peddler 40 pounds of rags, worth 20 cents, and five cents in money for a wash basin. By an odd coincidence, her husband also purchased on the same day a wash basin. He gave a local dealer four cents for the same kind of a dish. A Bradford lady traded all the old rubbers she had in the peddler 15 cents. She learned later that she might have bought the same article from the hardware man for 10 cents.

—The lower boat scaffold of Collins, Darrah & Co., at Nebraska, have been hustling things this spring. J. R. Ault is the contractor on this scaffold, and seven boats have already been turned, two of which are in Pittsburg, the remaining five leaving this place last evening. —The 15th annual report of the trustees of the hospital for the insane, located at North Warren, shows that the capacity of the institution is exceeded in the number of patients there in custody by 366, the present number of inmates being 966. The trustees will ask the legislature for an appropriation of $25,000 for the purpose of erecting a dormitory or farm colony for employes, who are now compelled by lack of room to house them, to reside off the state grounds where they are employed, thus entailing much annoyance and some loss of time in going to and from their work. The pay roll of hospital and farm employes for the past year, ending November 30, 1896, amounted to $42,583.46.

—Raehel Lois Herman, youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Herman, whose serious illness was mentioned in last week's REPUBLICAN, died Saturday, April 17, 1897, at 10:30 p. m., aged 6 years, 9 months and 2 days. While the child's allotted time on this earth was of but few years duration it was one of continued suffering. She had never been a healthy child. About a year ago she was stricken with paralysis, but recovered and was taken to the Hydetown sanitarium where she gained temporary relief and during the past winter she seemed to get much better and hopes were entertained of her complete recovery, but, alas, the hopes of the loving parents were blasted, and about two weeks ago she was taken suddenly worse, and, although every remedy known to medical science was used no relief could be given the little sufferer. Her time had come. Although a child, she bore her sufferings with the fortitude of one of mature years, and this, together with a naturally amiable disposition had greatly endeared her to her parents, who are heart broken at her loss, and who have the heartiest sympathy of the entire community. The remains of the little sufferer were laid to rest in Riverside cemetery Monday at 1:30 p. m., Rev. J. V. McAninch officiating.

Easter Millinery Opening.

The firm of F. Walters & Co., gave their Easter opening Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week and of course it goes without saying, that it was a success in every particular, as the young ladies who make up the personnel of this up-to-date firm never do anything by halves.

The large store room was gorgeously decorated with evergreens and flowers and the unusually large line of trimmed hats were very tastily arranged about the store and in the show windows, the whole effect being very pleasing. The hats this spring are higher and wider than last spring and are very pretty. When we speak of them as being higher, we do not mean in price, as it has often been proven that F. Walters & Co. sell a great deal cheaper than the large millinery establishments of the cities, and their trimming is not to be excelled anywhere.

Do not fail to go and see their stock of goods before the pretty hats are all gone. The young ladies are always glad to have people come and examine goods whether they wish to purchase or not, and if you are an admirer of feminine head gear you will not find a better place to feast your eyes for they have big hats and little hats of all shapes imaginable and the prices are wonderfully low.

An exchange says, and very truthfully so, too, that a curfew bell that would call home at any time of the day or night those persons who go from house to house, from neighbor to neighbor, carrying little tales of gossip, besmirching the character of decent people, and ruining the credit of solid business men, would be a mighty good thing.

When the spring time comes, "gentle Annie," like all other sensible persons, will cleanse the liver and renovate the system with DeWitt's Little Early Risers, famous little pills for the liver and stomach all the year round. Heath & Killmer.

Thirty years is a long time to fight so painful a trouble as piles, but Jacob Mitchell, of Unionville, Pa., struggled that long before he got DeWitt's Which Hazel Salve, which quickly and permanently cured him. It is equally effective in eczema and all skin affections. Heath & Killmer.

Mrs. Samuel Stamm of Loganton, Pa., bore her thirty-four years of suffering with courage and fortitude. Her trouble was rheumatism in the knee. In consequence her limb had become so stiff that she could hardly walk. Mr. Stamm was a well-to-do merchant, and had spared no pains or expense to relieve her, but with little success, until one night when it grew so painful that she could hardly endure it, he persuaded her to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The effect was magical. The first application relieved the pain, and its continued use has removed all stiffness and given her the free use of her limb once more. If you have friends who are troubled with rheumatism insist on their giving this remedy a trial. You can do them no greater favor, as it is sure to give prompt relief, and if they are a little patient it will effect a cure. For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle by G. W. Howard.

When a cold is contracted, cure it at once. One Minute Cough Cure will set you on the road to recovery in a minute. It will cure croup, pneumonia, bronchitis and all forms of lung and throat troubles. Heath & Killmer.

Not only acute lung troubles, which may prove fatal in a few days, but old chronic coughs and throat troubles may receive immediate relief and be permanently cured by One Minute Cough Cure. Heath & Killmer.

Croup and whooping cough are childhood's terrors; but like pneumonia, bronchitis and other throat and lung troubles, can be quickly cured by using One Minute Cough Cure. Heath & Killmer.

Unconditional surrender, is the only terms those famous little pills known as DeWitt's Little Early Risers will make with constipation, sick headache and stomach troubles. Heath & Killmer.
