Elsewhere in today's issue will be found the amendments to the compulsory education law as passed by the last legislature. As some of these amendments are quite radical it will be well for patrons and directors to study them carefully.

A note sent us from Tionesta Twp., relating to a party to be held on the 7th inst., and intended for publication, was minus a signature, for which reason we could not publish it. Friends should remember that we must know whether or not such items are genuine.

Pears are the thing just now, and a very choice lot are to be found at Ansel's. Peaches are getting very scarce, but he still has a few nice ones for those who will come in early. And grapes well just call and see his stock, it's immense. Finest this market has ever seen. And cheap. It

Boston has won the League base ball championship. Now comes the Temple Cup series, then frost, and winter will be upon us before we can realize it.—Franklin News

Our neighbor seems to forget that before winter can rightly set in several foot ball fools must be kicked to death on this sporty old continent of ours.

The recent visit of a circus to Cuba, N. Y., kindled a fatal ambition in the breasts of two boys of that place. Edward Ketcham, aged 12, tried to imitate the feat of a sword swallower by swallowing a paper-knife. He will die. Reynolds Smith, another boy, was terribly burned in the mouth by trying to imitate the trick of eating fire.

—Messrs. Miles & Armstrong have fitted up a spacious room in their store building which is devoted entirely to the display of their large stock of coats, capes and winter wraps for ladies. The room is so arranged that nearly every garment can be seen without handling them over, and the display shows off to very good advantage.

—R. E. Small, Secretary of the Oil City and vicinity Christian Endeavor Society, and its delegate to the great convention recently held in San Francisco, spent last Sabbath in Tionesta, and in the evening the Presbyterian church gave his report of that wonderful gathering of young Christian workers, to a large and very interested audience. Mr. Small is an enthusiastic "Endeavorer," and his report was replete with interesting information.

—George R. Pyne Chief Pate of the House of Representatives, died at his home in Harrisburg on the 1st inst. from the effects of a blow received on the back of the head at the hands of a burglar, while at Atlantic City some weeks ago. Mr. Pyne took the place of his brother Andrew, who had been chief page for up ward of 20 years when he died about 10 years ago. George will be much missed by future legislatures, and will be gratefully remembered for his uniform courtesy to those who have "sat in the House" during the past fifteen years.

"Cash is King." See prices at Miles & Armstrong's.

Why does it pay to deal at Miles & Armstrong's? Because cash buys cheapest there.

It is. For rubber boots and shoes go to Robinson's and get standard makes, not wildcat goods without standing or reputation.

—The ladies of the Macahees gave a box social on Saturday evening last at Endeavor, which attracted quite a large and jolly crowd.

All seemed inclined to have a good time and succeeded. The bidding was brisk and briskly with fun, and the evening heartily enjoyed by all present.

—John Jamieson and Jerry Welsh were driving down Dutch Hill last Friday afternoon, when their horse took an ugly slip and began to kick things about in a reckless manner.

Both were thrown out of the buggy and sustained a number of severe bruises, John being laid off with a lame shoulder ever since.

—Mrs. T. E. Armstrong, with Mrs. Sule M. Sharpe as alternate, were elected as delegates to the thirtieth annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of Clarion Presbytery, to be held Thursday and Friday, Oct. 7 and 8, 1897, in the Second Presbyterian church of Oil City.

A cordial invitation is extended to all.

—Fall millinery goods are arriving almost daily at E. Walters & Co's store and before you make your selection of a new hat it will pay you to inspect their stock, which is complete, and the patterns are the newest things out. As to prices, they are always far below what the same quality of goods can be had for at other places.

—The river hills are at their handsomest just now, the sharp fogs at night and lovely sunshine in day time, with no rain intruding to dull or dim the colors, having brought out the many hues in their richest and most beautiful effect.

What is more sublime in nature than the month of October when she's on her good behavior?

—A. J. Sigworth was in town yesterday, having returned a short time ago from Citronelle, Alabama, where he is engaged in lumbering. Al says the entire colony from this section packed up and left in a hurry on account of the yellow fever which is raging in that country.

He says the people are praying for a frost, which would effectually stop the spread. Business of all kinds is practically at a standstill, and all outgoing trains are crowded with people leaving for the north.

A recent issue of the Buffalo Courier-Record contains an interesting interview with H. J. Hopkins of Pleasantville, president of the Oil Gas Engine company of Buffalo, N. Y. Mr. Hopkins has just returned from the Michigan gold field the center point of which is Mawa City, along the north coast of Lake Superior.

Mr. Hopkins has staked off one claim and secured an interest in two others and is quite enthusiastic over the prospects. It is a quartz mining, not a placer region, and hundreds of gold-seekers flocked there only to leave again when they found that they couldn't fill their pockets with nuggets.

—James H. Huilings of Parsons, W. Va., a former Tionesta boy, has invented a rat trap that is destined to revolutionize the rat industry of this country some of these fine days.

It is arranged in the form of a cage, made of wire, the front, or entrance, having a sort of swinging gate which is set automatically with a spring attachment. When a rat steps on the plate to nibble at the bait the spring "goes off" and pushes Mr. Rodent into the cage from which there is no escape. The new invention is said to work perfectly, and when once thoroughly introduced will doubtless prove a veritable Klondike to the inventor.

Jim's many Tionesta friends will wish him success in the rat trap business.

—Mrs. Thomas Cowan died very suddenly at her home at White Hill last Saturday evening, of heart disease. The summons came without a moment's warning, and proved a most severe shock to the husband and children of the deceased. Mrs. Cowan was aged about 48 years, and was born near Prospect, in Butler county. Her maiden name was McCullough, she was the sister of Preston and J. M. McCullough, citizens of this country. She leaves, beside the husband, six children, four daughters and two sons, and a large circle of friends to mourn her very sudden and unexpected demise. Funeral services were held at her late home yesterday morning, and the interment was in Riverside cemetery, this place, in the afternoon, where the remains of Mr. Cowan's father and mother rest. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved husband and children.

—One by one the victims of the thrifty horse thieves are getting back their stolen property. Last Wednesday H. S. Goble of Clarington, who had a horse stolen about a month ago, recovered the same near Sugar Lake, Venango county, where it had been traded to a farmer named Sim. Richardson. Mr. Goble got a hint that his horse might be found in that vicinity, and having faith in Hooker Dale's ability as an amateur detective, went to Oil City and induced him to go along and assist in the search for the stolen animal. They were not long in finding and identifying the horse, and Mr. Goble was soon on his way home with the animal. Whether the identity of the thief will ever be discovered is hard to tell. It seems, however, that the horse-thieving industry is not entirely broken up. A report was received here last Thursday that a posse was in hot pursuit of a stolen horse and rig that passed through Marienville going in the direction of Kane, and that the chasing party was but a half hour behind the thieves. The rig had been stolen from Jefferson county parties. Nothing further has been heard of the race, and it is likely the thieves have made good their escape.

—If you think of buying a suit, an overcoat, a pair of shoes or anything in that line. Take a look through the stock at Hopkins' store. It will pay you. It

The wedding was private, taking place at the home of the bride in this place. Horse Thieves not all in Jail.

Items of this kind are getting to be very common place affairs in these days. Monday night of this week a large bay draft horse was stolen from A. Shoffstall, whose farm is located three miles from Marienville, on the Guitonville road. His buggy was also taken a short distance when one of the wheels came off, so the thieves abandoned it and stole a buckboard from N. W. Brookway, living some distance from Shoffstall's, in the direction of Tylersburg. No clue to the perpetrators has been discovered.

The Allen Tax Law Again.

Deputy Attorney General Reider has given State Treasurer Haywood an opinion in which he states the law department advises that county commissioners shall insist on employers of male aliens making returns and paying the tax of three cents per day on each male alien employed, as required by the Campbell act passed by the last legislature, until the law has been declared unconstitutional by the court of last resort.

The question was raised by a Philadelphia firm which wrote to the State Treasurer asking if it is proper to return to male aliens in its employ the tax which the firm has collected from them up to date, in view of the decision of the United States circuit court that the law is unconstitutional and that some large firms have already paid back the amount held from the pay of the aliens.

The commissioners of Forest county will insist upon the collection of the tax from all aliens according to the law, until the court of last resort has passed upon its constitutionality.
