An exchange, after interviewing the business men and loafers of the city, says all of the most successful business men were whipped freely when they were young, while 57 of the 30 street loafers interviewed were mamma's darlings when they were little; and the other 23 were raised by their grandmothers. The moral of all this is something which, for the sake of unlicked boys, we dislike to point out.

Halloween, that most joyous of all the nights of the year—to the young folk—was celebrated in Tionesta on Saturday night. The town received a sort of general overhauling by the prankishly inclined, but we have heard of no damage worth mentioning being done, and the removal or displacement of a few signs and the overturning of some outbuildings, among which was the unsightly old shanty on the vacant Fisher lot, were about all the evidences of the evening's hilarity.

The Derrick calls attention to the presence in this section of Fish Warden Hague, who is looking up the violations of the fish law as the same relates to spearing and dynamiting. That is well enough so far as it goes, but when the Derrick, in the same issue, laments the discontinuance of the Sunday fishing train which has been plying between Oil City and President all summer, the consistency in its demand for fish law observance is scarcely apparent. The fine for fishing on the Sabbath is $25.

The second trial of Fred Rickwell for the murder of Lewis Haines will begin in Elk county Nov. 15th. Sheriff Walker has been summoned to produce as a witness at the trial the wife of the murdered man, who is now serving a year's imprisonment in our county jail. Rickwell has been granted a new trial. Robert Rockwell, brother of the accused, and John J. Newell, who were sent to the Huntington Reformatory from this county, will also be witnesses at the trial in Ridgway.

An exchange tells the following: A lady died while the pall-bearers were conveying her to her last resting place, by some mishap they stumbled and dropped the corpse. The concussion brought the deceased back to life and she lived six or seven years and died again. On the way to the grave they passed over the same ground, and when the pall-bearers reached the identical spot where the stumble had been made at the previous service, the grief-stricken husband stopped in front of his lamented wife and said: "Steady boys, steady."

Our former townsman, Chas. F. Weaver, met with a severe accident near his home in Oil City last Thursday afternoon. The Blizzards says of it: "Mr. Weaver has for some time suffered with throat trouble which causes him to choke up and brings on shortness of breath, and while on his way from the West End Works to the city with a wagon load of goods he was taken with a fit of coughing and became unconscious, falling from the wagon and sustaining a severe wound in the head. He was carried to his home by a number of his friends and a physician summoned, who dressed the wound, and to-day he is resting quite comfortably."

We were privileged recently to see a letter written by Her Royal Highness, the Princess of Wales, in reply to one from Mrs. Crawford congratulating her upon the success of her life devoted to her children, and the many charities in which she is engaged. The letter breathed the sentiment of gracious womanhood, and true courtesy, characteristic of the noble woman whom all England loves, and we deem it high honor to our townsman to be so favored by one who as wife, mother and beloved Princess, so grandly fills each station. Mrs. Crawford is also the happy possessor of a handsome group picture of the Princess and family, which she prizes highly.

Lawrence & Smeathugh will sell first quality Woonsocket rubber boots at $2.25.

Big Deal in Timber Land. A dispatch from Marinette, Wisconsin, under date of Oct. 29, says one of the largest lumber and land deals ever consummated in the Northwest has just been arranged. Officials of the Spalding Lumber company admit that the deal has practically been made, but say that it is not fully completed. The Spalding Lumber company has sold to Samuel Crawford & Co., of Pigeon, Forest county, Pa., its sawmill plant at Cedar River, Mich., and all its cedar and hemlock land east of the Powers branch of the Chi-goo and North-western railway, over 100,000 acres. The Spalding company is to retain possession of the mill one year until the remainder of its pine timber is sawed. Then Crawford & Co. will build an immense tannery at Cedar River and operate the mills also to get out the hemlock lumber and the bark. A railroad will be built from Cedar River north to the Escanaba branch of the Chicago and Northwestern. The hemlock logs will be sawed into lumber and the bark will be used in the tannery. The entire deal will involve an outlay of at least $1,000,000. The new concern has the backing of a big tannery company in the East. Cedar River is 30 miles north of here in Menominee county.

They were hunting birds at the time, and Mr. Breene made a mistake and the gun was discharged, several shot entering Mr. Bruner's face and chest. Specialists were obliged to remove one eye and think the other is seriously affected. It may be lost also. Mr. Breene is nearly distracted over the distressing affair.

The largest deal ever recorded in oil producing property since the inception of Tionesta Saturday afternoon. The magnitude of the transaction will be understood best by the purchasing price, which was a cash consideration and amounted to $1,400,000. In the deal is included the Devonian, Waisac & Emery oil companies' holdings of producing property in the Bradford, McKean County, field, located in what is known as the Ormsby, Chipmunk and Watsowite pools. By the transaction the various properties pass to the ownership of the Midland division of the South Penn Oil Company.

Thanksgiving Day.

President McKinley has issued his Thanksgiving Day proclamation as follows:

"In remembrance of God's goodness to us during the past year, which has been so abundant, let us offer unto Him our thanks and pay our vows unto the Most High. Under his watchful providence industry has prospered, the conditions of labor have been improved, the rewards of the husbandman have been increased and the comforts of our homes multiplied. His mighty hand has preserved peace and protected the nation. Respect for law and order has been strengthened, love of free institutions cherished and all sections of our beloved country brought into closer bonds of fraternal regard and generous co-operation. For these great benefits it is our duty to praise the Lord in a spirit of humility and gratitude and to offer up to Him our most earnest supplications. That we may acknowledge, with obligations as a people to Him who has so graciously granted us the blessings of free government and material prosperity, I, William McKinley, President of the United States, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the twenty-fifth day of November, for National thanksgiving and prayer, which all the people are invited to observe with appropriate religious services in their respective places of worship. On this day of rejoicing and domestic reunion, let our prayers ascend to the Giver of every good and perfect gift for the continuance of His love and favor to us, that our hearts may be filled with charity and good will, and that we may be ever worthy of His beneficent concern.

"In witness hereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this twenty-ninth day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, eight hundred and ninety-seven, and of the independence of the United States, the one hundred and twenty-second.

(Signed.) "WILLIAM MCKINLEY, By the President, John Sherman, Secretary of State."

Twentieth Y. P. S. C. E. Convention.

The convention of the Oil City and Vicinity Local Union Christian Endeavor Societies, held in Oil City Friday afternoon and evening of last week, at the First Presbyterian Church, was one of the largest and most entertaining meetings ever held by the Union, says the Blizzards. Delegates from all the societies were in attendance at the afternoon meeting, the program of which was a great help to all members of the society.

The evening session at 7:45 was largely attended. President T. E. Armstrong of Tionesta Endeavor, presided. The music was a special feature of the meeting, consisting of a selection by the orchestra, anthems; solo, "Ave Maria," Mrs. Brokaw; duet, "Tarry With Me," Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith; violin solo, Warren H. Holmes. Rev. Lawrence Selzer of Titusville, who was the delegate sent by the Local Union to the State convention at Easton, gave a very interesting report of this meeting. The address by Rev. J. W. Smith, of Warren, "Deepening the Spiritual Life," was a stirring appeal to the young people and full of most excellent advice to all Christian workers. At the close of the program the delegates and friends were served with luncheon in the church chapel. The church was tastefully decorated with flowers and autumn leaves. One of the most striking pieces of decorations was the letters "C. E." set in incandescent lights against a dark green background on the organ. The Endeavor Society of the First Church is to be congratulated on the successful manner in which this twentieth anniversary was managed.

Misses Laura Lawrence and Florence Klinefelter were the delegates from Tionesta Endeavor. T. F. Ritchey and O. F. Miles were also among the attendants from this place.
