The funeral of the late Henry Ahlers, of Starr, Pa., died at the home of her mother on Saturday last at 11:30 a. m., after an illness lasting several years of a rheumatic nature. She was aged about 82 years and was the oldest of the family of children born to Mr. and Mrs. Ahlers. During all her years of suffering she bore her troubles bravely and with true Christian fortitude.

The people of our Commonwealth have little conception of the extent of the oil industry of the State, some figures of which are afforded in the Mining Bulletin, of the Pennsylvania State College. During the past three years enough pipes and tubing for lining drilled holes have been used to entirely encircle the globe, and the rope used in drilling would furnish a signal line across the United States.

By an act passed by the legislature all constables are made fire wardens. The new law went into effect the first of last month. It provides that when a fire breaks out in a wood land of over fifty acres it shall be the duty of the constable in whose jurisdiction the fire occurs to call out assistance to extinguish it. The constable shall receive as compensation for his service fifteen cents per hour and his assistant shall receive twelve cents per hour.

T. E. Armstrong will begin the erection of a commodious dwelling house on the lot adjoining Judge Irwin's property on the south as soon as weather is permissible for the prosecution of the work. A number of others have in contemplation the erection of new dwellings this summer, and the prospects for a nice building boom in Tionesta are quite flattering.

J. B. Hagerty has taken the contract for drilling a number of wells for the Devoian oil company, their territory being located about five miles northwest of Grand Valley, in Warren county. The tools were taken out last week, and work will begin at once. Mr. Hagerty has bought a new Star drilling machine, and will drill at least four wells, and more if oil is found.

The Little twitwiting and squirming noticeable during the past week, slight evidences that there is still a little life left in the oil market, and that of an upward tendency, are hailed with no small delight by people of the oil region generally. Predictions of dollar oil are a-rie again, and that figure would make things hum in fine shape throughout this region. Let it come.

The Franklin News celebrated its 20th anniversary last Friday by issuing a double and handsomely illustrated number. It is a work of real beauty and art, reflecting credit on the management and its well equipped printery. But it's not wonderful that the News should shine so brightly on the completion of its first score of years; it is a polished journal every working day of the year.

The managers of the Star Creamery Co., German Hill, expect to have things running in good shape by the first of April. The plant is complete in all its appointments, and will undoubtedly do excellent work. If liberally patronized by the farmers in that vicinity, as it should be, the new industry will prove a real boon to that community, furnishing a steady, cash market for all the milk they care to produce, which is one of the most profitable products in which the farmer can engage. Give the creamery your support.

The foot bridge at the mouth of the creek, which has caused its owner, Mr. Lawrence, so much trouble and expense, being again in passable condition, he very kindly requests that those who use it will do so in a proper manner. It has been customary for thoughtless ones, using the bridge as a sort of play-thing, rocking and teetering as they passed over. This is a very dangerous past-time, having a tendency to very greatly weaken it, and in future such conduct will subject those who indulge in it to punishment. All are welcome to use it for passing back and forth properly.

The entertainment by the schools of the borough in celebration of Washington's birthday will take place on Friday evening of this week, the date having been fixed that evening for convenience sake. The program will be in the nature of a "business carnival," many of the business houses of the town having a representative taken from the scholars, who will sing the praises of their particular industry or profession in speech, dress and action. The affair promises to be quite novel and pleasing, and a large attendance is expected. It will be at the court house. A small admission will be charged, the proceeds to go to the library fund.

Emergency Non-Alcoholic Remedies For Home Use. We hear much about "tiding people over" after exhaustive diseases such as fevers, pneumonia, diarrhoea, etc., with "brandy, whiskey or wines." The object to be attained being this, viz: To propel a greater quantity of blood to different parts of the body so that the various functions are thereby performed more satisfactorily. Now what besides brandy or whiskey will do this and thus save the danger lurking in their use:

1st, hot water, with a few grains of cayenne pepper; 2d, hot water, half a cup; or less, carbonate of ammonia 20 grains; 3d, hot water, 1 or 2 cups, aqua ammonia 8 drops; 4th, hot water, 1 or 2 cups, aromatic essence of ammonia, 30 drops. Either of these fol. hot in teaspoonful doses every 2 to 5 minutes, will rally as surely as brandy or whiskey. In extreme cases give a large hot enema. If necessary to prolong a stimulant, these may be safely continued for hours, but usually their use is suspended as the patient rallies. Food is then required. In place of the old fashioned brandy mixture, egg-nog, panada, etc., give hot milk, hot beef tea, or coffee unsweetened, made with hot milk instead of water. These will actually support the strength and rally the patient likewise.

For cramps in the stomach,—tioneopathic tincture of colozynth, 3 drops, water 1/2 of a glass, mix, give teaspoonful every 10, 20 or 30 minutes till better. When there is nausea, ejecting everything, then apply hot compresses to stomach and give hot enema, composed of soap-suds and one or two tablespoons of castor or sweet oil. Keep extremities warm. Chloroform may be inhaled. For palpitation.—Immediate and permanent relief may be obtained by taking soda or vichy water. To strengthen the heart where there is pain in that organ, homeopathic tincture of cactus, 5 drops; water, 3 glass. Take a teaspoonful every 15 minutes, half hour or hour.

For heart failure.—Hot compresses over the heart with hot and cold compresses to the spine between the shoulders, in alternation every two or three minutes, vigorous massage of limbs and heat to the feet. A few grains of cayenne pepper in one tablespoontful of water will start action of the circulation in heart failure. For fainting.—Place patient on the back, head low, elevating feet if possible. Hot applications to back of neck and head, with cold to top of head and inhalations of ammonia. Loosen clothing, but do not give whiskey, fresh air instead. Patient will revive. The above applications are likewise most excellent in convulsions of any kind.

Stimulants.—Where a stimulant is needed for indigestion, flatulence, pain in the stomach or for emergencies, the following remedies should be kept constantly on hand in place of brandy, gin or whiskey. No. 1. Ammonia carbonate 20 grains, pulverized cardamom seed, one small teaspoonful, water 2 1/2 tablespoontful, glycerine one tablespoontful. Place the cardamom powder in an earthen cup or bowl and pour the 2 1/2 tablespoontful boiling water upon it, cover tight and when cool add the other ingredients. Dose, one-half tablespoontful every half hour. Lessen dose as patient improves.

No. 2. Ammonia carbonate 20 grains, cardamom water 3 tablespoontful, glycerine, 1 tablespoontful. Mix. Dose, 1/2 tablespoontful repeated every one-half hour or hour. A few grains of cayenne pepper may be added to both the above if desired. To make camphor water.—Put an ounce of camphor gum, broken, into one pint water bottle and shake every day. This will make a strong, saturated solution of camphor. Dose, 5 to 15 drops in hot or cold water. Valuable for cramps, cholera or colds or as a stimulant. Renew water as used.

For cholera morbus, monthly cramps, etc.—Saturated solution of camphor 4 drops, aqua ammonia 4 drops, hot water 1 cupful. Take all in one dose, repeat as needed. Hot enema will be helpful. Cover warm as to perspire. To make ammoniated salt water.—Spirits of ammonia 1 teaspoonful, table salt 2 1/2 tablespoontful, water 1 quart. Apply with compresses to all inflammations, fevers, brain fever, swellings, with inflammations, pain, sprunt bites, stings of insects, rheumatic pains, gout, lameness, pneumonia, also use of alcohol.

Avoid the so-called non-alcoholic stimulant drinks. They are all dangerous, as they develop alcohol in a few days by fermentation. LAURA M. WRIGHT, M. D., 72 W. 109th St., New York.

I have given Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a fair test and consider it one of the very best remedies for cough that I have ever found. One dose has always been sufficient, although I use it freely. Any cold my children contract yields very readily to this medicine. I can conscientiously recommend it for cough and cold of an infant.—Geo. E. Wolf, Clerk of the Circuit Court, Fredonia, Fla.
