Cost of Running Great Universities.

The cost of running a great university these days counts up into hundreds of thousands of dollars every year. The money laid out annually by Harvard, Pennsylvania, Yale, Cornell or Chicago universities would thirty years ago have been considered a fair-sized endowment. It costs over $1,000,000 a year to run Harvard University, and while its endowment is about $9,000,000, it is constantly pressed for more. The endowment of Yale University increased from $273,-000 in 1887 to $4,582,000 in 1897, and ra itself Columbia University, in New York City, has funds amounting to $6,000,-000, but it is restricted in every one of its departments by lack of money. The need of money at the University of Pennsylvania is known to be a constant drawback to its usefulness .-Philadelphia Press.

writes to Mrs. Pinkham: 'I had been sick at my monthly periods for seven years, and tried almost everything I ever heard of, but without any benefit. Was troubled with backache, headache, pains in the shoulders and dizziness. Through my mother I was induced to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has done me so much good. I am now sound and well."

Mrs. HARRY HARDY, Riverside, Iowa. writes to Mrs. Pinkham the story of her struggle with serious ovarian trouble, and the benefit she received from the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This is her letter:
"How thankful I am that I took your medicine. I was troubled for two years with inflammation of the womb and ovaries, womb was also very low. I was in constant misery. I had heart trouble, was short of breath and could not walk five blocks to save my life. Suffered very much with my back, had headache all the time, was nervous, menstruations were irregular and painful, had a bad discharge and was troubled with bloating. I was a perfect wreck. Had doctored and taken local treatments, but still was no better. I was advised by one of my neighbors to write to you. I have now finished the second bottle of Mrs. Pink-ham's Vegetable Compound, and am better in every way. I am able to do all my own work and can walk nearly a mile without fatigue; something I had not been able to do for over two years. Your medicine has done me more good than all the doctors."

With the fashion of wearing twobuttoned gloves for almost every occasion, there has come the revival of the bracelet in general and of the bangle in particular. The combination of short gloves and bracelets is not at all a pretty one. We agree with the clever woman who wrote in a "question album" that her idea of the vulgar was or bony and blue, with bracelets two inches wide." How to Pack a Trunk.

Lay aside your sandals, night-dress, toilet articles, medicine and shoe dress ing for your traveling bag. It is wise to take an umbrella in the hand. Some strap the sunshade to this, but in case of a shower you would not know what to do with the sunshade, so it is best to put the latter into the trunk. Those with adjustable handles are best for packing.

Pack in layers, having everything as flat as possible. This economizes the latter in gilt and the metal. room. Baked Rhubarb.

Cut rhubarb stalks into inch pieces. Butter a deep dish, put in a layer of rhubarb and then sprinkle heavily with sugar. Continue to alternate rhubarb and sugar until the dish is full. Bake in a moderate oven and serve with whipped cream.

Watercress Sauce.

Watercress sauce is made by stewng chopped watercress in butter for ten minutes, then adding a pinch of salt, the same of pepper, the same also of mustard and a spoonful also of vinegar. Beat till quite smooth with wooden spoon, then add the gravy from the roasting joint. This is served in a sauce-tureen, and is a pleasant change from ordinary gravy.

A Delicious Beverage Raspberry-vinegar is a delicious beverage mixed with iced water. Put a quart of ripe red raspberries in a bowl; pour on them a quart of good, strong vinegar-let them stand twentyfour hours, strain them through a bag, put this liquid on another quart of fresh raspberries, which strain in the same manner-and then on a third quart. When this last is prepared, make it very sweet with pounded loaf sugar, then bottle.

Escalloped Carrots. At this season of the year, when one longs for something to tempt the appetite, try a dish of escalloped carrots, which will be found at once nutritions and priatable. Take six small, finegrained carrots and two small white onions. Boil, together, in just water enough to keep from burning. Do not scrape them and do not cover them while cooking. When the onions are tender remove them, and when the carrots are done, peel and slice them. Put in a baking dish a layer of carrots, sprinkle with salt and pepper and dots of butter, and sprinkle very lightly with bread crumbs (not enough to cover the carrots, just a sprinkle); then more carrots, etc., till dish is full. Beat an egg in a cup of fresh milk, salt it slightly and pour over the carrots; spread a layer of bread crumbs on top, dot with bits of butter and bake. Serve in the dish in which it was baked. Any one who likes carrots will find this delicious, and it is a good dish on which to learn to like them .- Detroit Free Press.

Orange Shortcake. Sift one quart of flour with two heaping tablespoonfuls baking powder. Add one teaspoonful salt and one large tablespoonful of butter or pure lard. Rub the butter fine in the flour. Add one pint of milk and mix it with a knife into dough. Turn it on to a floured board. Work it a little to smooth the dough. Roll it out and cut it in two large pieces, putting first one part in a long, shallow, buttered tin pan. Spread over one tablespoonful of butter. Put the other layer on top of it and bake in a medium oven to a delicate brown color. When done turn the cake out of the pan, and with a knife separate the cake. Put a thick layer of fine slices of oranges over the under layer and sprinkle over some sugar. Then put on the top layer Beat the whites of three eggs to a stifl froth and mix the three yolks with three tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar. Add it to the beaten whites and bea for a few moments. Put the cake in a long dish. Pour over the sauce and place it for a few minutes in a hot oven and then serve.

Household Hints. Sharpen all kinds of fish sauce with lemon juice.

A dash of black pepper greatly improves vanilla ice cream.

When using vanilla for flavoring add half a teaspoon of peach extract. Put sugar in water used for basting meats of all kinds; it adds a flavor, especially to veal.

Add a cup of good date vinegar to the water in which you boil fish, especially if it is salt fish.

When baking fish place on the top thin slices of salt pork; it tastes the fish and improves the flavor.
