An exchange very pertinently remarks: "Absent minded" would be the mildest term we could use to apply to the man who would lay all the material in his furnace and forget to apply the match. The merchant who fills his store with goods and forgets to advertise has the disease in a more dangerous form.

Zach Shriver now wears the belt, sure pop. Yesterday morning he exhibited a fish in town which beats anything for size and weight that has been taken from the Allegheny within the recollection of the oldest inhabitant. The monster, which was of the sturgeon species, measured 4 feet 6 inches in length, and weighed 42 pounds. It is certainly the dandy of them all, and was admired by everyone who saw it. When asked where and how he got it, Zach said he "lassoed" it two miles and a half up Tubbs Run. No use trying to beat that record, for it can't be done in these parts.

Postmasters have been notified that the new Trans-Mississippi stamps cannot be gotten out in time for delivery to customers before the 15th, or middle of this month, but that after that date the new stamps, designed as a sort of souvenir of the Trans-Mississippi exposition at Omaha, can be purchased at the postoffices of the United States.

Editor Shick of the Marienville Express, who was boxed up for nearly four days as a jurymen in a case at the recent term of court here, makes a kick for easier chairs, and argues that it would be conducive to one's morals as well as comfort. That's likely correct, but whether it might not also add to that tired feeling after a 48-hour seige, is another question to be taken into the count. Might be too dead easy.

H. M. Irwin, for many years editorial writer on the Franklin News, has taken control of the Venango Spectator, the journal made famous by the late lamented A. P. Whitaker. Irwin doesn't need our "best wishes for success;" that part is already assured, but we do hope that his career will be long. -We know it will be pleasant to the Spectator's host of friends.

A distinguished honor has been shown the Woman's Relief Corps of Tionesta in the fact that a team of its members has been selected to exemplify the work of the corps at the State encampment at Oil City this week. There are upward of 2500 corps in Pennsylvania, and it is a matter of great pride to our citizens to know that out of this number the Tionesta corps has been selected as the one best fitted for this delicate task. Our ladies have always taken great interest in this work of love and patriotism, no sacrifice of time and energy being too great for them to undertake in the cause, and on this occasion they will acquit themselves with the same ability and efficiency for which they have become noted throughout the State.

The new system for the distribution of state school funds, which was devised by the last legislature, goes into effect on June 6. It discriminates against the cities and other populous centers in favor of the country districts. Instead of dividing the state appropriations on the basis of the number of teachers, taxables and children. Under this plan the districts will receive $96.07 for each teacher, $1.97 for each taxable and $1.62 for each child of school age, 6 to 16 years. The funds for this year become available when the new system goes into effect. Treasurer Beaman will make the distribution at the rate of $200,000 a week, preference being given to the small districts which rely largely upon the money they receive from the state to run the schools.

The law providing for the protection of black bass in the streams of this Commonwealth does not fully meet the purpose for which it is intended, or in other words the season when bass may not be caught does not extend over that period of time when bass are spawning and most need protection and are the easiest caught. The law provides that no bass shall be caught between the first day of January and the first day of June, and the spawning season does not end until about the middle of the month. During spawning season the fish are easily found and may be approached without much likelihood of their swimming away, and as a matter of protection to their spawn will bite almost on an empty hook. An amendment of the Act relating to the catching of bass, salmon, pike, etc., making the opening day about one month later, should be made, as one month's protection during the spawning season would be of more practical value than the whole five months for which the law now provides.

Fourth of July Celebration at Tionesta.

In harmony with the patriotic spirit that inspires every American citizen to-day the members of the G. A. R., in connection with the newly organized military company, have initiated the movement for an old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration this year in Tionesta, such as has never been witnessed in this section before.

A pole-raising at the armory will undoubtedly be the principal feature of the forenoon, followed by a bicycle parade in which 300 bikes are expected to be in line all gaily decorated.

The afternoon exercises will include the reading of the Declaration of Independence, and address by a speaker of national reputation. Exercises by 40 young ladies representing the different states of the union (Cuba will not be forgotten) and the review of the military company.

Arrangements are being made for the grandest display of fire works in the evening that has ever been witnessed in this part of the country.

The military company are making special arrangements for the grand ball at their Armory for afternoon and evening. In fact the people of Tionesta are determined nothing shall be left undone to entertain all who come to help them in celebrating our Declaration of Independence in 1776 as well as the Declaration of Independence of Cuba in 1898.

Full and complete program will be published next week.

The committee of the G. A. R. and military company have begun work in deal earnest to make the coming Fourth of July celebration a to be long remembered in this locality. Committees will visit Pleasantville, Nettown, Hickory, Kelletville, Nebraska, Marienville and other towns to invite them to come to Tionesta and assist in making July 4th, 1898, an unbounded success.

At a meeting held last evening a committee was appointed to co-operate with the G. A. R. and new military company, as a general committee of arrangements. A meeting of these committees will be held next Friday evening at the Central House parlors, at which time final arrangements will be made.

Eli Berlin Post, No. 629, G. A. R.

Sunday last our Post, together with an immense congregation of friends, assembled at the West Hickory M. E. church and listened to an able and eloquent memorial sermon by Rev. R. A. Buzza of Tionesta. The church was beautifully decorated with flags and flowers by the W. R. C.

Monday at 9 a. m., the patriotic hosts began to arrive at the church camp ground at Whig Hill. They came from Hickory, Endeavor, Kelletville, Nettown and other localities prompted by a sense of patriotic duty they all contributed their full share in perpetuating the memory of our dead. Assisted by the able choir and post band the G. A. R. performed their labors of love in perfect order, after a short address J. Albaugh deposited a beautiful wreath of flowers in memory of the boys in blue who went down in the Maine, thereby connecting the memories of the fallen heroes of the present with those of the past in one beautiful chain of fraternity, charity and loyalty. After a general decoration of all the graves by the assembly all marched back to the camp ground to the music of the band and on arriving at camp all at once enjoyed the basket picnic. The afternoon services were opened with song by the choir and prayer by Rev. Buzza of Tionesta, after which the young people recited many stories in verse, interspersed with singing, etc.

Rev. Buzza was now introduced and held the large attentive assembly in perfect control for more than thirty minutes, leading his hearers from one grand, patriotic thought to another still more grand.

Rev. Vahn of Whig Hill was the next on the list for duty and responded nobly and to the satisfaction of all.

Rev. Buzza now sang a few selections for the occasion. His ability as a singer need no comments upon the part of all who have had the good fortune to hear him. The thanks of Eli Berlin Post is extended to the speakers, the choir, the Band and to all who in every way contributed to the success of the day by their labor and presence.

Declaration day 1898 is past and we are marching forward towards that of 1899. Some of us will fall short in this march, no doubt, but let all in the love of God march boldly on and all will be well. J. A.
