YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS.

—Miss Mabel Sleeman of Oil City is a guest of Miss Maud Grove. —Misses Sarah and Jennie Anderson are visiting friends in Youngsville.

—C. H. Lawrence visited friends in Oil City and Franklin over Sunday. —Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Dean drove over to Hydetown to visit friends last Sunday.

—Miss Etta Clark came over from Titusville and spent Sunday with her parents. —Mr. C. H. Coolman, who is here representing the Guarantee Loan and Investment Association, is a fine pianist; any local charity with an entertainment in view might secure his service gratis.

—Daniel Moon, aged 89 years, for the past 30 years a resident of Salem, Venango county, died of dropsy on Friday, after an illness extending over a period of five or six years. The deceased is survived by three sons and two daughters, one of whom is Charles Moon of Tionesta township.

—The Pittsburg Dispatch, one of the most progressive dailies published, has made another charge to the front. The publishers have lately added a new Hoe press which enables them to print in colors. The Dispatch is one of the newest, most reliable papers in the country and its success is an assurance of its popularity.

—By the last will and testament of A. Holeman of Pleasantville, the bulk of his estate, including the stores at Pleasantville and Enterprise and $15,000 life insurance, was left to Mrs. Holeman, who is appointed executrix. The Holeman bank was divided between Mrs. John Lockwood, Mrs. H. J. Hopkins and Mrs. Wiley Ward.

—A Parlor meeting under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. A. B. Kelly next Tuesday evening, July 19, at 8 o'clock. An excellent musical and literary program has been arranged. The subject for discussion will be "Woman's Part in the Present War." A cordial invitation is extended to all.

—About three weeks ago, while in Philadelphia on business, James D. Davis was taken with another attack of appendicitis and was quite seriously ill. He has since been operated upon and at last accounts was getting along much better than was expected from the serious nature of the operation, and is expected to be home in two or three weeks.

—The Siggins family reunion on the fair ground Wednesday June 29, was attended by about 150 persons. A pleasing program was carried out in the afternoon. A committee consisting of Geo. L. Howe, Burlington, Vt.; Alken Siggins, Brookston, Pa.; Alva Gilliland, Smetport, Pa. and Hugh Siggins, of Warren, was appointed to arrange for the reunion in 1899.

—A North Center street young man is very much puzzled over a remark his best made to him last night. They were talking over the war question on the front porch, and during the conversation the young man feelingly remarked that "war is hell and no mistake." The young lady replied that it surely was and then said unconcernedly that he ought to go to war. Now the young man wonders if she really meant it. —Corry Press.

—Robert C. Benner of Tidouete was in town Monday seeking recruits for Co. A, of Whitesons' regiment of Six Footers American Volunteers. Mr. Benner has authority to organize Co. A of this regiment and all men who are 5 ft. 10 1/2 inches (or over) in height can join this company. The list of names can be seen at Chas. Amann's tin shop and all the "husky" boys are invited to come and join the tall "babies."

—The season is about on us when the cheap railroad excursion offers the weary citizen an opportunity to break the monotony and throw a little of the spice of variety into life's dull round. These excursions are also interesting to the grocer, the tailor, the butcher, etc., who can generally enjoy the privilege of wishing some of their delinquent customers a happy time while they themselves walk the floor some more. —Venango Spectator.

—A terrible ship-wreck occurred off the Sable Islands, Nova Scotia, on July 4. The French liner, La Bourgogne, ran into the British ship, Cromartyshire, and the French ship, which carried 714 persons, went down. So suddenly did the ship sink that only 163 of the persons on board were saved. The survivors tell terrible stories of the inhuman treatment of the women and weaker persons on board by the crew, and by a gang of low class foreigners, who fought with knives and clubs for positions in the boats. Out of about two hundred women on the ship only one was saved.

—A very severe electrical and wind storm swept through this section on Sunday, July 3. At Stevarts Run the storm assumed the proportions of a young tornado, large trees being twisted from the ground and carried a considerable distance from their stumps, a number of fences and small buildings were demolished, while growing crops were laid flat to the ground. At Endeavor the new Presbyterian church was struck by lightning and while the beautiful edifice did not take fire, one side of the costly memorial window was damaged and a lot of plaster torn off.

—Says the Tidouete News: Americans in France are not receiving the best of treatment in Paris principally on account of the pro-Spanish feeling of the French. And so they compliment Mrs. Isabel Smith, sister of Mrs. N. P. Wheeler, is all the more remarkable. Mrs. Smith was granted the honor of having two of her miniature portraits exhibited at the Salon de Mars, of which the celebrated Paris paper Patrie says in writing of the exhibits, and of which we make a free translation as follows: By Isabel E. Smith two very pretty miniatures, one being the portrait of Monsieur Helix Faure, President of France, and the other the Cesar-like face of William B. McKinley, President of the United States.

—The W. R. C. has received a request from the National Relief Commission for supplies for the relief of our wounded soldiers in the war with Spain. This ought to appeal to the hearts of all patriotic citizens, as all know that this war is in the cause of humanity. The articles most needed are: Delicacies for the sick, jellies, canned fruits, farina, cracked wheat, lime juice, malted milk, canned soups, etc.—pipes and tobacco, towels, gray or brown socks, night shirts, small pillows and pillow cases, and sheets for ordinary coats. All donations can be left at the W. R. C. rooms over Citizens' National Bank. A meeting of the patriotic women will be held at the residence of Mrs. Craig tomorrow for the purpose of sewing on the articles needed.

TIONESTA'S CELEBRATION.

The weather man was in a patriotic humor on the Fourth of July and a more perfect day could not have been made to order, and the people of this vicinity seemed to be imbued with the same spirit as the weather man, for they turned out en masse.

Early in the morning the streets began to throng with enthusiastic people, all evidently bent on having a good time and to judge from the manner in which they put in the day, they had it.

The elaborate program which had been prepared was successfully carried out and was thoroughly enjoyed. The parade in the morning was the best ever seen here and with the many bands which had been procured was grand in a musical as well as a spectacular sense.

The raising of the liberty pole at the Army was a very interesting feature of the day's program and while all who were on the program did not take part in the ceremonies their places were easily and quickly filled and the ceremony was carried out without a hitch. The five minute speeches by Hon. John A. Mattox and "Farmer" Dean were thoroughly enjoyed and heartily applauded.

After this the crowd went to the Court House park where those who had brought their dinners combined business with pleasure and "showed the rag" while they chewed their grub. Dinner over, the vast assembly gathered around the speaker's stand and listened to the reading of the Declaration of Independence by Rev. J. V. McAninch, and to the speech by Hon. John L. Mattox, of Oil City, orator of the day. This latter was a very able and interesting oration, and was thoroughly enjoyed and heartily applauded by all. Mr. Mattox is not only an able speaker, but a genial gentleman, and he made many friends while here.

The only disappointing feature of the day's entertainment was the pyrotechnical display in the evening. This, while very beautiful, was not what was looked for, but it was not the fault of the committee. They were swindled by the company who furnished the fireworks, and the fact was not discovered until too late.

The day's festivities wound up with a grand ball in the armory which was thoroughly enjoyed by all who participated. Taken as a whole it was a gala day, and the sentiment of everyone was expressed in the interest manifested. Of course, as is to be expected on such a day, a great deal of "conversation water" was punished, but very little of it was of the fighting variety and no blood was spilled and not an arrest was made.

The "Dewey Reserves," from Oil City, a company of boys ranging in age from 10 to 14 years, made a very picturesque addition to the parade. They had their own drum corps, wore gaily uniformed and carried wooden guns. They were well drilled and marched in good order and made a very soldierly appearance. Some day they may have an opportunity to defend their country and when they do they will show that they are made of the same material as the gallant Dewey.

Letter From Herbert Stoughton. MONTCHANIN, Del., July 3, 1898. We, the 2d Regt., P. V., are in camp here at Montchanin on the banks of the Brandywine river, seven miles from Wilmington. We are here on garrison duty, guarding the Dupont powder works, which at night is a very dangerous task, for fear of someone blowing up the powder magazines, which contain many tons of the explosive; some of the magazines having 250 tons stored away.

We have a lovely camping place here, the country is fine and the climate very healthy, although we have some very warm weather; during each battalion drill, which takes place every afternoon, there are as high as 5 or 6 men carried in off the field exhausted from the heat. Take it all in all we have it very nice here, although our Colonel is pretty severe on us. We have roll call at 6:30 a. m., 7:30 a. m., 10:00 a. m., and 2:00 p. m., and for each one of the roll calls we miss it costs us $1, and by that it keeps us pretty close to camp at all times. There are about 32 of the boys in the Guard house, under guard for leaving camp without permission. Their sentences are from 5 to 20 days each with a fine of from $1.00 to $5.00 each.

The most interesting sight takes place every evening when the boys that are in the Guard house are marched to the Brandywine river for their evening bath, which they seem to enjoy very much; one of the boys (a German) makes plenty of fun for the rest of the prisoners by his curious actions and queer dicos that he goes through.

I must say gladly that I myself have been very lucky, escaping all punishment of any kind, on account of not missing any of the roll calls nor any drills. My reputation in the army regulations is perfect. We expect to leave here in about four weeks for the Philippine Islands. I will have to contradict the statement that George Birtel was the first volunteer from Forest Co., as I was in the National Guard and sworn into the U. S. Army before he was.

There are about 3,000 visitors here today from all parts of the country, and a great many from Philadelphia. Thinking that I have already taken up too much space in the columns of the REPUBLICAN, and hoping it will be read with interest, I will close with kindest regards to each and all of the readers of the REPUBLICAN.

I am yours truly, HERBERT J. STOUGHTON. Co. G, 2d Regt.

MACCABEE GATHERING.

One of the most enjoyable evenings it is ones lot to spend was the occasion of the open meeting and public installation of officers of Forest Tent Knights of the Maccabees of East Hickory, on Saturday evening, July 9. About one hundred and fifty Sir Knights and Lady Bees and friends gathered in Maccabee Hall for the occasion and they didn't do a thing but have a good time. The meeting was called to order by Commander F. J. Henderson and all the Sir Knights and Lady Bees joined in singing the opening ode, after which Sir Knight Past Commander, E. L. Gorman, thanked everybody, especially the Lady Bees of Hickory Hive, for their hearty cooperation in helping to build up the Order here from a membership of fifteen to ninety good, loyal Knights and Ladies.

The installing officer then proceeded to install the officers for the ensuing term. Last but not least was the excellent refreshments the Knights of Forest Tent served to their friends, the bill of fare consisting of ice cream, cake, coffee, fruit, etc., after which the guests retired to their homes, all declaring the members of Forest Tent royal entertainers.
