Republicans, Get Assessed!

Every Republican should call in person on the Assessor in his election district and see if he has been assessed for 1898, and if not, have the Assessor register him. Assessors are required by law to be at the voting place in each district on Sept. 6th and 7th, from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. Sept. 7th is the last day. Get assessed!

DEWEY's log of the war will be interesting. It furnished the prologue and the epilogue of the whole business.

This will be known in American history as the year of islands. The Philippines alone add 1,200 to our national atlas.

In seven months of the present year foreign exports have exceeded imports by $317,132,861. Such an exhibit with a war on hand would be impossible in any other country.

EVEN though peace is at hand, the war taxes will continue to run for some time. But when an American licks a stamp he is reminded that it represents a series of splendid victories and some valuable new territory.

HON. JOSEPH H. CHOATE applies a sound principle of law to the Spanish-American question when he declares that "the beaten party must pay the costs." On this theory, the battle of Manila will be an expense to Spain of about 2,000 islands.

The big peace commission will have five members on a side, but each nation will have only a single vote on any of the points at issue. This will lay the foundation for a momentous game of draw, in which event American interests are not likely to suffer.

THE infamous attack of The Voice, a paper published in New York city, on United States Senator Quay, is probably without a parallel in the history of demagoguism. The vilest paper published in this country would blush at such conduct, and yet this moral paper gives space to a personal attack that cannot but help strengthen this great man in his canvass. If the cause of Dr. Swallow has no merit in itself it can never be advanced by vituperation and malice.—Clearfield Journal. And that is the opinion of every lover of decency.

In several very important respects Dewey resembles Grant. He is original and audacious. Nobody ever heard him grumbling about any inadequacy of means at his command or the character of the task to which he was assigned. He does his work promptly and cheerfully with the forces at his disposal. He does it so thoroughly that it will never have to be done over again by him or anybody else. Dewey will, in history, have the primacy among the fighters of the Spanish war which Grant had among those of the war of secession. The contest for second and third place among the great personalities of the war of 1898 may be keen, but the first place belongs to Dewey.

THE Madrid papers' opposition to the surrender of any of the Philippines and its vicinity was expected but it will not avail. At the present time all of the Island of Luzon, which was almost half of the area and inhabitants of the entire Philippine group of islands, is virtually in our hands, and it will never be given up. The rest of the islands will keep it company. With Luzon American territory the other islands would be of no use to Spain, and she is not likely to try very hard to hold them. She would doubtless like to sell them to some other nation, but the United States will prevent this. The work of our commissioners in the Philippine matter will be cut out for them by the people before they leave France. They must and will get the whole of the Philippines.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

THE total loss in the American army and navy in the recent war is reported to be twenty-three officers and 236 men killed and eighty-seve officers and 1406 men wounded, an aggregate of 1752. In the civil war the Union army alone lost 4142 officers and 62,916 men killed, and in addition 43,012 died from wounds.

PREMIER SAGASTA is endeavoring to throw difficulties in the way of the peace commissioners. The interest which Spain will have in Cuba after the pending settlement is reached will be a oral only. Spain's flag, which is down throughout the entire Island of Luzon by this time, will never be raised anywhere in that island again. Her flag will soon be lowered in the remainder of the Philippines, and lowered forever. The Premier's illadvised talk, if it has any influence at home at all, merely raises hopes which are sure to be disappointed. The case before the peace commissioners will be exceedingly simple. America is master of the situation in the Pacific as in the Gulf of Mexico, and will dictate the terms on which the settlement is to be based.

NEWSY NOTES.

The bodies of the dead Spaniards about Santiago are gathered in funeral pyres and cremated.

An exchange says a man has become insane from trying to determine whether the Philippines are east or west of the United States.

The State Convention of the County Commissioners' Association will be held in Clearfield this year. The date as yet has not been fixed.

Earrings are to be fashionable again, says a fashionable authority. The edict has gone forth, and jewelers are preparing to meet the expected demand.

Krupp is building five centimeters (two inch) paper field guns for the German infantry. They are so light that a single soldier can easily carry one, while the resistance of the paper is greater than that of steel of the same calibre.

Several hundred applications for pensions have been filed at the Pension Bureau in Washington by claimants for disabilities incurred during the present war, including the claims of widows of deceased soldiers and their dependent parents.

From New York comes a fashion item that the garterless stocking is the latest thing in the way of hosiery. It is made with eyellet holes on either side, which are crossed and laced like a shoe. The stockings keep up admirably and the fortunate ones who have seen them say they are pretty to look at.

A Washington special says that the promotion of Col. Willis J. Hulings to be Brigadier General, and that of Col. A. L. Hawkins (commanding the tenth regiment, P. V., at Manila) to the same rank, will be made as soon as Gen. Miles and Gen. Merritt send in their reports on the battles in Porto Rico and at Manila.

One of the new battleships provided for by the last navy bill will be named "Pennsylvania," in honor of the grand old "Keystone" State. The Pennsylvania will be built at Cramps' shipyard, Philadelphia, armored with plate from Pittsburgh and armed with guns from Bethlehem. She will be all Pennsylvania from the keel up.

Havana experienced the blessings of peace very soon after the protocol was signed. The people of the city were wretchedly hungry. Within a day or two a freighter sailed from New York for Havana carrying breadstuffs, rice, beans, fresh vegetables and 4,000 chickens. Another food and passenger-laden ship also sailed for the same port with abundance of material for square meals.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that all judgment notes must have an extra 25-cent stamp to cover the power of attorney and judgment clause, and a 25-cent stamp for each assignment on the back of the note containing the power of attorney. This is in addition to the 2 cents per hundred. Users of notes will do well to make memoranda of this decision.

Few people know that the flag of the United States is older than those of the other great nations, says the New York Tribune. The Union Jack, the present British emblem, dates from 1801. The French tricolor was adapted in 1793, and the German and Italian banners are no older than the existing administration of those countries. The Spanish flag was first established in 1785. On June 14, 1777, the Continental Congress passed its memorable resolution that the flag of the United States be 13 stripes alternate red and white, and that the Union be 13 stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation. It was afterward decided to add a new star for every new State admitted to the Union, but this was the only change that has been made from the form adopted by those men who were prominent in establishing the government.

Mr. John Steele, of Nebraska, familiarly known in this state as "Coal Oil Johnnie," is visiting the scenes of his former fame in Venango county. He says all the stories regarding his immense wealth, attained from oil, and the free dissipation of his fortunes are without foundation. That his total income in the earlier days of oil's boom was a royalty in the McClintock farm production. Mrs. McClintock, its owner, had saved $50,000 from the royalty, and she left it to him. He invested the money in a business block in Mendville, leaving a balance unpaid. Oil then dropped from $4 a barrel to 50 cents, he was unable to meet his obligations and turned the property over to other parties at a great loss. Mr. Steele says he was only 19 years old when all the sensational stories were written about him, and he was a little lavish with his money, as a boy would naturally be.

Excursion Rates.

Only one-half fare will be charged on any of the railroads during the great Oil City Fair.

Letter From George Birtell.

PORTO RICO, Aug. 7th, '98.

My Dear Mother:—

I have time to write to-day, so I will try and let you know that I am very well. We have had the finest kind of weather ever since we came here. It is very hot when there is no breeze, but there is a nice breeze most all the time, and the nights are very nice and cool. There has been very little rain here since we came. The scenery here is the finest I ever saw; we can see the ocean away off in the distance and the mountains are beautiful, and there is a deep canon just back of our camp, and there are some of the finest large trees I ever saw. They are draped with Spanish moss that hangs down two or three feet, and they remind me of an old gray-haired man. I wish you could see them. Some of the trees have very beautiful flowers on them. There are cactus here as large as trees, and there are hedges of cactus that nothing can go through without cutting a way through. The roads that we have come over are the best I ever saw. We are the advance regiment; we have come sixteen miles from Ponce, the place we landed. We have been driving the enemy back, and they stay about three miles ahead of us. They are in a fortified town now, so we are waiting for our artillery before we advance on them. We have a report in camp to-day that the war is over, but I don't know whether it is true or not. We are getting new repeating rifles to-day, so it don't look as if we were going to quit just yet. I will be very glad when it is over, for I am getting very tired of army life. There has been very little excitement here; you would not think we were in a hostile country. The natives that have anything have been very kind to us, but most of them are very poor. We don't know what poor folks are in our country; a great many of them live in little straw-covered huts with boxes to sit on and stones with holes cut in them for stoves. Most all of them ride horseback. The rich folks have buggies or carriages, and all the hauling is done in two-wheeled carts. They bind the yoke to the ox's horns and drive him with a stick with a sharp brad in the end of it. The reason they use two-wheeled carts is they are taxed $13 a wheel for each wheel a year. This will be a fine place to live when the United States has the running of it. I think it is a healthy place; none of us have been taken sick since we came here. Some of the boys ate some fruit when we came here that made them sick for a short time. One of our boys died the day after we left Charleston. It made all of us feel very sad for he was one of the best boys in our Co. We have only received one mail since we came here. I got the Indicator in which I saw that my dear little friend Jack Burt had died. I was very sorry to hear it. He was the brightest little fellow I ever knew. I suppose you have plenty of early apples. I am nearly starved for some apples. I have not had any this year. If I could have them and the good water that you have I would be very much pleased. The water here is healthy enough but it is very warm. We can't get any that is cool. There are no poison reptiles or insects here. I have not seen a snake or a toad but there are lots of lizards. The only familiar thing I see or hear is the chirp of the cricket and the ever-buzzing mosquito, and they are here in large numbers. I have been very busy ever since I came here. We have had a great deal of guard duty to do and I have only had my shoes off twice to sleep. Some nights, we had to sleep with loaded guns by our side. I hope it will not be much longer before I will be home. It is over three months since I came away. I can't think of anything more to write this time. I don't know when this will get away, but you must write often. Just address my mail to Porto Rico and I will get it. Love to all. GEORGE.

Bizarre Designs in Wall Paper are very effective when used in large rooms. In the average room, a rich design of solid color, with maybe a sprinkling of little figures in contrasting color, is the proper thing. This is not the place where you come in and say, "I've got a room, eight by ten feet and ten feet high. How much wall paper will I need, and how much will it cost?" Before we sell you a wall paper we want to find out several things. It is a more particular way, a better way and in the end a cheaper way.
