The young people from our county will find superior advantages in the State Normal at Clarion. At no other school is the moral element in training emphasized in a greater degree than at Clarion. Most of the graduates from that school are actuated by a spirit becoming a true teacher, and few schools send out teachers so well equipped to fill their vocation worthily.

The Oil City and vicinity Union of the Young Peoples Society of Christian Endeavor will hold their district convention in the Presbyterian church, Tionesta, Friday, Sept. 23, at 2 p. m. An interesting program has been prepared and a large number of delegates and members are expected from Oil City, Franklin, Titusville, Pleasantville and other nearby towns. In the evening Rev. B. Canfield Jones of Erie will speak on "Victorious Endeavor." All are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

About thirty of the members of the Christian Endeavor Society of this place drove in carriages to Endeavor last evening, where they had the pleasure of listening to Mr. McKenzie's report of the International C. E. Convention, held in Nashville, Tenn., in July last. They report a pleasant and profitable time, with a large audience present. The visitors were royally entertained by the members of the sister society at Endeavor, and were treated to a nice lunch before returning home.

The P. O. S. of A. of Marienville gave an ox-roast to their friends last Saturday and a rousing good time was had, a large crowd being present. The leading features of the day's enjoyment were two games of ball—one between Marienville and Tionesta which resulted in favor of Marienville by a score of 23 to 22. The other game was between Marienville and Seigel, which resulted in favor of Seigel by a score of 7 to 6. The game with our boys must have been a "hot" one and judging from the looks of some of our players it must have been a second battle of Santiago, and instead of scores they must have been playing to see which side would be credited with the greatest number of killed and wounded. Our boys claim that the umpire was unfair or they could have won the game easily.

If there is anything worse than a murder in a community it must be a busybody. In the Bible they are classed with evil doers, thieves and murderers. Their habits are social, their manners confidential and sympathetic and their intimate acquaintance usually implies the heart burnings, hatred and jealousies. They insinuate themselves by kind and friendly offices into your homes, pick up your peculiarities, get at your secrets, guess at your former history, stir facts and fancies into the kettle of their own suspicions and surmises, cover the whole truth with a napkin of imitation charity and send the compound around the neighborhood. Worse than potato bugs, or worms, or grasshoppers, or the Buffalo moth are these creatures.

Paris green is against the law, moth balls will not keep them out; society is defenseless and fair fame, good name, home sanctity, all go down before the onslaught of the busybody.

Madame Layyah Barakat, a native of Syria, who lectured for the county convention of the W. C. T. U. at Endeavor last week, so charmed and delighted those who heard her that the women of the Home Mission Society of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches of this place secured her services to give an address in the Presbyterian church last Monday evening. Numbers from neighboring towns were in the large audience, and all listened with intense interest while she related to them an account of her life, and while she gave a most earnest plea for home and foreign mission work. Madame Barakat is a speaker of national reputation, and the people of this vicinity were indeed fortunate to have had an opportunity of hearing the beautiful message from the mountains of Lebanon, which this woman of the Orient, a child of foreign missions, told in such a fascinating manner. An appreciative audience at Nebraska had the pleasure of listening to her Tuesday evening.

May he reach the century mark.

A very pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Campbell of this place at 10 o'clock this morning, when Maude Ann, their youngest daughter, was joined in holy matrimony to Edward H. Kirchartz, of Berver Fall, by Rev. J. V. McAninch. The groom is well known here, having worked at his trade as cigar maker here at intervals during the past five years. The bride is one of our most highly respected young ladies and has a host of friends among the young people. The REPUBLICAN joins all hearty congratulations. The happy couple will leave on train 31 for Beaver Falls where they will make their future home.

The Forest county boys who attended the magnificent 32d National Encampment, G. A. R. at Cincinnati consisted of Geo. W. Robinson, S. J. Setley and S. D. Irwin of Stow Post, and Isaac W. Siggins, "Doc," formerly of Capt. Geo. Stow, Co. G, 3d P. V. All of these were entertained throughout encampment week in a royal manner by Ida Stow Garlick, at their beautiful home on the banks of the Ohio, in one of the most pleasant parts of the city. There were many new and novel features to this encampment, as places of amusement through the generosity of the citizens were thrown open free to veterans, among them may be mentioned the zoo, art museum, the lagoon, Coney's Island, Camp Sherman, and where the wonderful scenic representation of Cuba is exhibited. But it would require a volume to describe all the beauties of this long-to-be-remembered encampment. We know one thing, however, the Tionesta delegation liked their entertainment so well that they made a whole week of it.

Death of Mrs. R. L. Whitten.

Elizabeth Brandon was born near Two-Mile Run about two miles above Franklin, Pa., on Sept. 12, 1837, and died at East Hickory, Pa., Sept. 9, 1898, aged 60 years, 11 months and 27 days.

When a girl with her parents, she removed from Two-Mile Run to the State Road, about two miles from Franklin, on the Fryburg road. There she lived and grew to womanhood. And her home was there still until her marriage.

September 30, 1860, she was united in marriage with R. L. Whitten, who survives her. The ceremony was celebrated at the house of Joseph Witherspoon near Jacobs Eddy. Mr. and Mrs. Whitten came to Stowtown and there began their married life. Later they lived at Lacytown, Bobbs-creek, Beaver Valley, and West Hickory. In 1867 they purchased the home where they have since resided and where she died.

Seven children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Whitten. Four are dead—dying in childhood and in early infancy. Those living are: Warren F., married and living at Belpoe, O.; Mrs. Mina Boars, living at Murphystown, eight miles from Parkersburg, West Virginia; and Robert Ormlin, residing with his parents at East Hickory. These were present at the funeral of their mother.

In the death of Mrs. Whitten the community loses a good and respected woman. Her husband, a loving, true and affectionate wife. And her children, a kind and devoted mother. The writer of this brief sketch, comparatively a stranger to the deceased, has heard words, unsolicited, commendatory of her many good qualities and her many kind deeds. Many adjectives are needless, and finely-spoken phrases often appear rather as an apology than otherwise, in speaking of a life that has closed in a community where many of its years were spent. The life itself, as known to those that knew it and its offices and ministrations of good to others about it, and within its reach and contact, and that were helped and made better because of it, is its own best eulogy. Mrs. Whitten had retired to rest feeling as well as usual, and at least so far as anything she said to anyone else, no thought of death so soon or sudden had crossed her mind. When discovered in the morning she lay as if sleeping, and the awful fact could hardly be realized by her husband and son, and by the friends that soon came, that it was really death.

A blood vessel had burst, it seems, and she had died to death instantly. Her death was probably painless—more like a sleep, growing deeper and deeper until there could be and is no awaking.

The body was embalmed so as to preserve it until the children could arrive, and the funeral service was held on Monday, Sept. 12, at 2 p. m.; in the Free Methodist church at East Hickory. Rev. T. J. Stone conducted the services. The interment was in the East Hickory cemetery. The friends so sadly bereaved have the sympathy of the entire community, and the prayers of all praying people that He who hath permitted will also sanctify this affliction to His glory and their good.

Osgood Family Reunion. The first annual reunion of the Osgood family was held at the old homestead in Kingsley township near Starr, last Saturday, Sept. 10, 1898. The occasion was in honor of Mrs. Christina Osgood's 66th birthday.

The first on the program was the delivery of the presents, which were numerous and valuable, and very gratefully received by the hostess. At 12:30 refreshments were served in the apple orchard and the number of chickens that disappeared was amazing, and a very enjoyable time was had by all present, and the venerable hostess seemed ten years younger, before the day was over. Following is a list of those present: L. J. Osgood, wife and family, G. W. Osgood, wife and family, L. E. Osgood, wife and family, N. H. Osgood, wife and family, C. O. Rudolph, wife and family, Mrs. Christina Osgood, Ed Osgood, N. L. Osgood, N. F. Jones and two children, John Hunter and wife, Mrs. C. Zuendel, Mrs. H. E. Lovel, Mrs. Julian Rudolph, Miss Grace A. Morris, and Miss Minnie Ikenburg. All grand children were present but one.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, L. J. Osgood; Treasurer, O. M. Osgood; Sec'y, G. W. Osgood; Committee on Ar., C. O. Rudolph, L. E. Osgood, N. B. Osgood. The next annual reunion will be held on the first Saturday in September, 1899, place to be selected by committee.

Runaway Accident.

While attending the W. C. T. U. Convention at Endeavor last week, Mrs. N. G. Cole of Nebraska was quite seriously injured in a runaway accident last Thursday morning. She was accompanied by her two-year-old baby and had spent the night with her sister, Mrs. J. L. Klinefelter, on Church Hill, and on Thursday morning was being taken back to Endeavor by her nephew, Edward Allison. The horse he was driving became frightened and began kicking near the top of Church Hill, and could not be stopped until they had reached the bottom of the hill. Mrs. Cole was kicked below the knees on both limbs and the baby's face was grazed by one of the horse's hoofs. Mrs. Cole was also bruised some by jumping out of the buggy. She was removed to her home when it was found no bones were broken, but she is badly bruised and it will be some time before she will be able to be about again. Those who are acquainted with the road over which they went say it is very steep and rough and the wonder is that some of the occupants of the buggy were not more seriously injured.

The Game Laws. Although the open season for game is still a full month off it will be well for sportsmen to read up a little, and the following digest of the law as it is now in force should be carefully studied:

Quail or partridge, from October 15 to December 15. Pheasants, ruffed grouse and prairie chickens, October 15 to December 15. Wild turkey, October 15 to December 15. Woodcock, month of July and October 15 to December 15. Rail and reed bird, September 1 to November 30. Plover, July 15 to January 1. Geese and ducks, September 1 to May 1. Elk and deer, November 1 to November 30. Squirrel, October 15 to December 15. Hare and rabbit, November 1 to December 15.

Under the new law no more than ten pheasants, ruffed grouse, two wild turkeys, ten woodcock or fifteen quail may be killed by any one person in one day, and no more than four deer in one year. Market hunting, buying, selling and shipment of game birds and animals are prohibited. Decoys may be used in hunting ducks and geese only. All game must be shot with a gun. Dogs must not be used to hunt deer or elk, or to capture or kill them in the waters, streams, ponds or lakes. The use of ferris for hunting game is prohibited. English and Mongolian pheasants are protected for five years from June 4, 1897. Killing or wounding or catching with trap, net, snare, birdlime, poison or drugs, is prohibited.
