

BOROUGH OFFICERS.

Burgess—K. C. Heath. Councilmen—Joseph Morgan, S. Fitzgerald, Wm. Smerbaugh, J. T. Dale, W. F. Blum, Jas. D. Davis, L. J. Hopkins.

FOREST COUNTY OFFICERS.

Member of Congress—Wm. C. Arnold. Member of Senate—Wm. H. Hyde. President—J. E. Wink.

REGULAR TERMS OF COURT.

Fourth Monday of February. Fourth Monday of May. Last Monday of August. Third Monday of November.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

TIONESTA LODGE, No. 369, L. O. O. F. Meets every Tuesday evening in Odd Fellows' Hall, Partridge building.

FOREST LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W. Meets every Friday evening in A. O. U. W. Hall, Tionesta.

WASHINGTON CAMP, No. 429, P. O. S. A. Meets every Saturday evening in A. O. U. W. Hall, Tionesta.

CAPT. GEORGE STOW POST, No. 274 G. A. R. Meets 1st and 3d Monday evening in each month, in A. O. U. W. Hall, Tionesta.

CAPT. GEORGE STOW CORPS, No. 137, W. R. C. Meets first and third Wednesday evening of each month, in A. O. U. W. Hall, Tionesta, Pa.

TIONESTA TENT, No. 164, K. O. T. O. M. Meets 2nd and 4th Wednesday evening in each month in A. O. U. W. hall Tionesta, Pa.

P. M. CLARK, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, AND DISTRICT ATTORNEY. Office, cor. of 1st and Bridge Streets, Tionesta, Pa.

T. F. RITCHIEY, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Tionesta, Pa.

J. B. SIGGINS, M. D., Physician, Surgeon & Druggist, TIONESTA, PA.

J. W. MORROW, M. D., Physician, Surgeon & Dentist. Office and Residence three doors north of Hotel Agnew, Tionesta. Professional calls promptly responded to at all hours.

L. O. BOWMAN, M. D., Physician & Surgeon, TIONESTA, PA. Office in building formerly occupied by Dr. Nason. Call promptly responded to, night or day. Residence opposite Hotel Agnew.

DR. J. C. LUNN, PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. Office over Health & Killmer's store, Tionesta, Pa. Professional calls promptly responded to at all hours of day or night. Residence—East side Elm St., 3d door above jail building.

HOTEL AGNEW C. F. WEAVER, Proprietor. This hotel, formerly the Lawrence House, has undergone a complete change, and is now furnished with all the modern improvements. Heated and lighted throughout with natural gas, bathrooms, hot and cold water, etc. The comforts of guests never neglected.

CENTRAL HOUSE, H. W. HORNOR, Proprietor. Tionesta, Pa. This is the most centrally located hotel in the place, and has all the modern improvements. No pains will be spared to make it a pleasant stopping place for the traveling public. First class livery in connection.

FOREST HOTEL, West Hickory, Pa. Jacob Bender, Proprietor. This hotel has but recently been completed, is nicely furnished throughout, and offers the finest and most comfortable accommodations to guests and the traveling public. Rates reasonable.

PHIL. EMERT FANCY BOOT & SHOEMAKER. Shop in Walters building, Cor. Elm and Walnut streets. Is prepared to do all kinds of custom work from the finest to the coarsest and guarantees his work to give perfect satisfaction. Prompt attention given to mending, and prices reasonable.

J. F. ZAHNINGER, PRACTICAL WATCH-MAKER and Jeweler of 25 years' experience, is prepared to do all work in his line on short notice and at reasonable prices. Always guarantees satisfaction. Watches, Jewelry, etc., ordered for parties at the lowest possible figure. Will be found in the building next to Kessler Club Room.

L. RENZO FULTON, Manufacturer of and Dealer in HARNESS, COLLARS, BRIDLES, And all kinds of HORSE FURNISHING GOODS. TIONESTA, PA.

Fred. Grettenberger GENERAL BLACKSMITH & MACHINIST. All work pertaining to Machinery, Engines, Oil Well Tools, Gas or Water Fittings and General Blacksmithing promptly done at Low Rates. Repairing Mill Machinery given special attention, and satisfaction guaranteed. Shop in rear of and just west of the Shaw House, Tionesta, Pa. Your patronage solicited. FRED. GRETTEBERGER.

S. H. HASLBT & SONS, GENERAL MERCHANTS, Furniture Dealers, —AND— UNDERTAKERS. TIONESTA, PENN.

C. M. ARNER & SON, FIRE, LIFE AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE AGENTS

REAL ESTATE BROKERS, TIONESTA, PA.

Companies Represented. Assets. North American - $ 9,686,808.08 Royal - 7,454,943.11 Hartford - 10,004,697.55 Orient - 2,215,470.92 Phill's Underwriters - 15,609,932.32

Titles examined and "Briefs" prepared. Farms, wild lands, houses and lots for sale or rent. Particular attention paid to the collection of rents, interest, etc. Also to the proper assessment of lands and payment of taxes. Leasing and sale of oil and gas lands a specialty.

Church and Sabbath School.

Presbyterian Sabbath School at 9:45 a. m.; M. E. Sabbath School at 10:30 a. m. Preaching in M. E. Church every Sabbath evening by Rev. R. A. Buzza. Preaching in the F. M. Church every Sabbath evening at the usual hour. Rev. F. W. McClelland, Pastor.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market $1.15. Hopkins sells the clothing and shoes. Amster sells the fruits and vegetables. The turkey will be the national bird to-morrow.

New neckwear and umbrellas at Miles & Armstrong's. Hopkins sells Wright's Health underwear, the best in the world. The cheapest place to buy reliable goods is at Miles & Armstrong's.

Select your presents early and have them stored till Xmas, at Miles & Armstrong's. Flannel shirt waives, the popular thing for winter, for sale at Robinson's. Prices right.

A good house and lot on Elm street for sale cheap. For particulars inquire of P. M. Clark. Uncle Sam buys Klondike rubbers. So do all who want the best. Sold only by Miles & Armstrong's.

"Farmer" Dean has resumed operations on his lease near Baum station, and will soon have another well down. The amount of capes and jackets Hopkins is selling tells the story. They are dandies, and the price is right. When you want the freshest fruit or vegetables go to Amster. He handles only the best and his prices are right. Clarion county also voted on the poor house question at the recent election and the project carried by a large majority.

A mothers' meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Wyman Monday evening, Nov. 23, led by Mrs. Dr. Bowman, to which all ladies are invited. WANTED—Active agents to sell tea, coffee, spices and baking powder to families. Liberal commissions allowed. Apply to Grand Union Tea Co., 33 W. Long Ave., DuBois, Pa.

Rev. Irving of the Evangelical church (the Bowman-Esher branch of the church) is holding quite a successful series of revival meetings on Church Hill near East Hickory.

When you want nice fruit or confectionery call on Amster. His assortment is the finest to be had, and you have ever bought of him you know that his prices cannot be beat.

The East Hickory schools will hold a Thanksgiving literary exercise to-day, Wednesday. Quite a bit of preparation has been made for it. The schools will close there until Monday following.

A child of John Thornton of Kelletville was buried at East Hickory on Monday of this week. It was about four years of age and died from blood-poisoning, it seems, contracted through a sore toe and from wearing a pair of black stockings.

Merchants would do well to see that all their goods subject to revenue are properly stamped. The revenue officers are dropping in on business men in various parts of the State and all goods found by them without stamps become contraband of war.

This is court week in Tionesta but it is not as lively as usual owing to the absence of any criminal business on hand and the non-attendance of the grand jury. Only civil cases are being tried, and the petit jurors and a few witnesses are about the only strangers on our streets.

Marienville had a small fire last Wednesday night, which was nipped in the bud by the prompt work accomplished by the chemical extinguishers. The fire was in the building occupied by Mrs. Whitehill, and the damage done will amount to $400, with no insurance.

Thanksgiving to-morrow. The REPUBLICAN hopes that all will thoroughly enjoy the day, keeping in mind the objects for which it has been specially designated by the President. Remember the union services at the Presbyterian church at 10:30 a. m., Rev. Buzza delivering the sermon.

Dear reader, did you ever try to write a letter to a friend and at the same time hold a conversation with a neighbor who has just dropped in to tell you the story of his life? If you have done so, you can gather a pretty fair idea of the chief cause of premature gray hairs on the devoted head of the average country editor.

Bradford Era. Official life seems as natural as water to a duck to our esteemed friend W. O. Smith of the PUNXSUTAWNEY SPIRIT. We see by the just published list that he is on the Jury for the December term of court in Jefferson county. Doubtless this will give the Brookville Democrat cause for a fresh outbreak against bossism, machine methods, one man power, and what-not. However, in any official station William Will fill the bill.

A good plan for storing chestnuts for winter use is to take a small quantity of salt in a bag with the nuts. They will then become soft and sweet, and any worms which happen to be among them will be driven out. The bags will become covered with sweat caused by the salt, but this will not impair the quality of the nuts in the slightest degree. This plan is followed by many and is considered one of the best.—E.

YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS.

—Miss Anna Bleakley of Franklin is a guest of Miss Elsie Kelly.

—Mrs. Suie M. Sharpe is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. S. Bates, at Titusville.

—Miss Etta Ramsey of Utica, Pa., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. G. G. Gaston.

—Mrs. Rolly Hartson, of Richmond, Ohio, is the guest of her friend, Mrs. Geo. Holman.

—Mrs. S. J. Campbell and daughter, Mrs. H. C. Giering, visited Oil City friends last week.

—Mrs. Amann of Warren and Mrs. F. Z. Jones of Tidoute were guests of Mrs. Chas. Amann a part of last week.

—Hon. F. W. Hays of Oil City was one of the prominent attorneys who had legal business at court here this week.

—Mrs. I. E. Dean's many friends are pleased to know that she is again able to be out after a serious and protracted illness.

—A goodly sized gathering was pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smerbaugh at dominoes last Friday evening.

—W. S. Johnson of Johnstown, Pa., is a business visitor to Tionesta this week, and is meeting many of his old-time friends in this vicinity.

—Mrs. C. D. Baker, of Coanant, Ohio, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. T. F. Ritchey. Dr. Baker, who came with his wife last week, has returned home.

—Hon. P. M. Speer was up from Oil City Monday and transacted some business at court. He found time to give the REPUBLICAN a friendly call while here.

—A daughter of W. P. Lyons of Fleming Hill has been quite ill with rheumatism, with which is connected a very serious heart trouble. She is somewhat better at present.

—Mrs. Fred Infield was a guest of her sister, Mrs. T. E. Armstrong over last Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Infield have moved from Dushoro to Mt. Jewett, Pa., where Mr. I. is working at his trade as harnessmaker.

—The REPUBLICAN acknowledges pleasant calls this week from D. P. Weaver of Barnett, Gus B. Evans and A. E. Southworth, Rev. J. E. Hillard, W. A. Connelly and Jos. Green of Hickory; John W. Black of Howe, Alex. Neely of Harmony.

—George Birtell, Tionesta's soldier boy, has been suffering quite severely with stomach trouble for some time past. Although not confined to the house at all times, he is considerably weakened and does not feel any too much like going on a long march or fighting Spaniards.

—George A. Jenks, Esq., recent Democratic candidate for Governor, is engaged on an important suit in our courts this week. The strain of his campaign and Col. Stone's heavy plurality seem to have rested lightly on his shoulders, and the brilliant lawyer possesses about as much vim as ever.

—Mrs. Joseph Green of East Hickory is slowly recovering from a severe attack of Pneumonia, from which she has been sick for more than a month past. Mrs. William Foreman of East Hickory is improved somewhat as compared with her condition of a short time ago. She is able to sit up a little.

—Mrs. J. L. Petets is a guest of her son Will Ball this week. It will be surprising news to many of our townspeople to learn of the death of her husband, which occurred some weeks ago, after an illness of several months, and the sympathy of very many friends in this section will go out to her in this bereavement.

—Mrs. C. W. Farber and young son, of Fort Mead, S. D., is a guest of her cousin, Miss Clara Dunkle. Mr. Farber, who is a lieutenant in the 8th cavalry, has been ordered to Cuba and Mrs. F. expects to accompany him there to spend the winter. She was a former resident of Tionesta and will be remembered as Miss Mabel Polk.

NEWSY NOTES.

Punxsutawney is having a mild epidemic of diphtheria.

Klondike rubbers are guaranteed at Miles & Armstrong's.

Lieutenant Peary, the Arctic explorer, writes home that no further word from him may be expected for several years. The Hope has cleared for the ice fields all right.

Ladies' capes, jackets, and skirts at Miles & Armstrong's.

Six substantial new brick buildings now occupy the site of the buildings destroyed by fire at Spartansburg early last summer. The boro also had a one-story brick look up built.

All we ask is to show our goods and prices. Miles & Armstrong's.

Before a youth starts out to fight the broad-and-butter battles of this cold and friendless world he should determine in his own mind whether he wishes to become a good whistler or a good office-boy. He can't be both.

New goods every day at Hopkins' store.

A famous cook says if you boil your sweet potatoes first, then slice and sprinkle with sugar and bake in the oven you will for the first time realize what real baked potatoes are. Sweet potatoes are cheap enough just now to be within the reach of all.

Pants, shirts, hats, and caps; new, cheap, at Miles & Armstrong's.

The date for the Spanish evacuation of Cuba has been definitely settled as January 1. All the Spanish troops then remaining in the island will be quartered under the protection of the United States, in camps especially designated, pending embarkation for Spain.

Don't be without a storm coat. Hopkins sells a dandy for $5.00.

We see it stated that railroad companies are contemplating dispensing with tickets for passengers, in order to escape the imposition of scalpers. Registers are to be placed in trains after the manner of street cars, and was to be the conductor who will fall to pull the cord.

Emerson's shoes for men, at Miles & Armstrong's.

The new State capitol at Harrisburg, it is stated, will be ready for the opening session of the legislature early in January. Much of the interior construction will be of a temporary character, but the building is almost entirely under roof and the work is being pushed as rapidly as possible.

Linoleum outfits oil cloth. See Miles & Armstrong.

The Seneca Nation of Indians have adopted a new constitution in which many radical changes are made in the government of their reservation. They have patterned after the new town laws of the State, and will hold their elections biennially, which will occur in the fall instead of the spring, as heretofore.

Carpets from 25c to 55c at Miles & Armstrong's.

Boys, if you take the trouble to work out the following problem, it will show exactly what people think you are: Place the year of your birth on a piece of paper, add your age at your last birthday last year, your age, multiply the result by 1,000 and subtract 682,423. Substitute for figures letters of the alphabet, a for 1, b for 2, c for 3, etc., and read the result very carefully.

Have your umbrella made to suit you at Miles & Armstrong's.

When Col. Theodore Roosevelt was in Jamestown the day before the election, he learned that one of the Rough Riders, who lives in that place, was in an impoverished condition and very sick. The Colonel promptly made out a fine large check, which he presented to the soldier with the understanding that nothing was to be said about the donation until after the election. The act in itself was sufficient to show what kind of a man was elected as New York's governor.—E.

Learn to laugh, not giggle; a hearty laugh is better than medicine. A well told story is as good as a sunbeam in the sick room. Learn to keep your troubles to yourself. Learn to stop croaking about your neighbors; they are just as good as you are. If you cannot see any good in the town you live in, pull out and leave, and the people will thank you for it. Learn to meet your friends with a smile. A good humored man or woman is always welcome, but the pessimist is not wanted anywhere. He is a nuisance.—E.

The following item on same is from the Bellefonte Gazette, and fully explains itself. That is, it hits off the situation in this section about right: Game does not seem as plenty in Centre county this year as last owing undoubtedly to the entire absence of all kinds of nuts. Peasants, which promised to be unusually plenty, can not be found in their usual haunts, but it is possible that they are yet on top of the mountains where they can feed on huckleberries. Squirrels are unusually scarce while rabbits are equally hard to find. Nearly everybody is out for deer now but so far we have not heard of any "big catches."

The latest invention is a pipe line made of glass. The glass manufacturing firm whose plant is located at Port Allegheny, McKean county, is preparing to make glass tubes that can be used for sending oil or gas across the country; for carrying off sewerage, supplying cities with water, etc. The glass pipe does not corrode, it is impervious to the electrolys in underground conduits, and, it is claimed, is less likely to leak than iron pipe. The Bradford Era is informed that an Ohio company is putting in such a line and that a practical test of the system for a distance of one hundred miles will soon be possible.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes of ever getting it at all. By the time she is twenty-five she has a faint, vague suspicion that there is a great deal of insincerity in the world, and the thing for her to do is to get a position and something useful. After a while she gets married to a man who isn't at all the sort of man she dreamed of. Then she concludes she will be better off in heaven.—E.

When a girl of sixteen is seen upon the streets she has a cute way of tossing her head as though she owned the earth and was going to the middle of the next block to get it. After she is eighteen the world she owns is about as far away as the world's fair was to the most of us, and at twenty she gives up all hopes