Some newspapers have stated that after March 4, for the first time in the history of the ssate, there will be two Republicans representing New Jersey in the United States Senate. This is incorrect, as from Nov. 1866 to March 1869 the Senators from New Jessey were Frederick T. Frelinghuysen and Alexander G. Cattel, both Republicans. Those who persistently misrepresent and denounce the legislative,executive and judicial authorities of the Commonwealth may flatter themselves that they are reformers, and that they are helping to bring about a better state of things. But they are grossly mistaken. Their accusations and denunciations tend only to weaken the faith of the people in popular government and to lessen their respect for law. On so recent a date as October 28 the Louisville "Courier-Journal" gravely discusses the question wheth er the wool growers of the United States have been benefitted by the wool duties of the Dingley law, and whether there ought to be any tariff at all on wool. Of course the "C.-J." reaches a negative conclusion in both cases. Such a discussion is time wasted. If there was one thing more than another that condemned the Wilson law in the eyes of the American people that one thing was its free wool clause. The question is dead and buried. It will never be resurrected. No party platform will ever again advocate free trade in wool. There may be honest differences of opinion as to the amount of duty to be levied upon the imported wool for protective purposes, but as to the main question, whether wool should be protected, it has been settled in the affirmative once for all. The farmer who sold his sheep for 90 cents or $1 per head under the Democratic free trade law three years ago, and who is now selling lambs at $3.25 per head under the Republican protective law, ought to be convinced without fur-'ger argument where his interest lies. fore ask a share of your patronage.
