FROM THE STATE CAPITOL.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 21, 1899. So far as legislation is concerned this and nothing more. The fusion talk indulged in by so many newspapers prior may be taken as a fair sample of the correctness, or rather incorrectness, of ex- which this struggle is made and no one treme views on all questions up to this time. With all the noise about fusion on the Speakersbip things turned out as usual, the Republicans voting for a Republican and the Democrats for a Democrat. I doubt if any considerable number of members eyer dreamed of anymore or less kicking over committee assignments, and House and Senate posiclose work.

The Senatorial struggle up to this time is as everybody knows a deadlock. The would leave the impression to a non-sympathy with mere persecution. S.S.T. posted reader that there was a sort of monkey and parret time down here. There is nothing of the sort. The gentlemen who want to demonstrate have every opportunity afforded them, and they use it liberally. The fact is, outside of some passionate expressions used, and that by only a few, the members of both Senate and House are having a very friendly time of it. Quays and anti-Quays, "regulars," "Democrats," and as Senator MaGee has named them, the "insurgents," hobnob together as comfertably as if no Senator was to be made to the matrimony entered into with you, Herbert J. Stoughton. We, therefore, command you, the said Herbert J. Stoughton. elected. Any gertleman in the country who imagines that any Representative or Senator is growing pale, hot, warm in the collar, or ready to "suffer, bleed or dle" in the struggle, may rest in peace. Whatever else is shed, it won't be "tears or blood.

From all the light I can now get on the question, there is little danger of fusion. Fusion raises so many complications for the future that ne party will try it, except as a last resort. It has never President of our said Court, at Tionesta, worked out satisfactorily to the parties the 6th (sixth) day of December, 1868. except as a last resort. It has never concerned, and is just as likely to end in trouble for one or both parties thereto as to end any other way. Both sides seem confident and both sides can tell you just how much off the other side is. With the Quay people and those who are for Quay anyhow, are those who are for him, not from what might be called personal loyalty, but party loyalty to the caucus nominee, which he naquestiouably is. The caucus was regularly called, and practically, the same process from a a Democratic stand point, nominated George A. Jenks. Mr. Jenks, however. was bappily the nominee of a full party vote, the difference in the caucus being, that all the Democrats but one, I think, that all the Democrats but one, I think, by counties. It is mainly office work went into cancus and many Republicans conducted at home. Salary straight $900 staid out. The reason for this stayout is a year and expenses—definite, bonafide, no more, no less salary. Monthly $75. Quay would have had the majority just stamped envelope, Herbert E. Hess, the same, as he had with them out, and the Republican campaign was run on Republican party lines. That Governor Stone ran as nothing more than a Repub lican, and certainly as nothing less. The tone of the campaign all through, so far as the Republicans were concerned. He was both dignified and emphatic, and carried his manhood right along with him. He never answered railing with slander. To repeat, he ran for Governor "as nothing more than a Republican and certainly nothing less." I do not agree with some of the papers that the State campaign was made a Quay campaign by the Republicans. But I do think, that as a matter of history, it is absolutely true, that all the parties in opposition did make that the issue of the campaign. Our Democratic friends dropped party lines, made it a matter of State issuonly, and fought it a straight fight against Quay and Quayism. Yet our Democratic friends on the State ticket fought orable candidate. The Prohibitionist minutes. The whole world wants also dropped the party issue and declared the fight was Quay or anti-Quay, and on that line they went it for all they were worth and more too. Still a third party figures in the field, the Business Men's WOODSMEN are rejoicing in the League, or Wanamakerites. The Busifact that they have plenty of work ness Men's League is a local organization and are again receiving the wages of Philadelphia. So far as I could ever see, it was organized to advance the political fortunes of one man, or failing in Harrison-$1.15 a day and their that to crush anyone against them. The board. During Cleveland's free trade great city of Philadelphia presents a most inviting field for the local reformer. If this organization would first weed their own garden and fairly succeed in the efdence in their efforts to climb the fence, and root out the tares and thistles that grow in the vineyard of the State. This THE balloting for U. S. Senator local organization also made the fight on during the past week has resulted | Quay or anti-Quay. They gave cold comfort to the Republican State ticket, while

But it is said "Quay is under indictment." Yes, so he is. But is it right to assume that because a man's political enemies accuse him, he is to be barred his right of citizenship. That sort of logic carried out would mean that Ben. F. Haywood, cash er of the Treasury, ought to resign until he was proven innocent. That that prince of good fellows, Capt. J. W. Morrison, Deputy Bank Commissioner, who is named as a co-conspirator, ought to resign until proven innocent. concessions or preferences. Instead, The absurdity of the position is seen at once. It means simply this, "get up charges against a candidate and knock him out." But it is said Quay put off the trial. So would any man to get all the time be could to prepare. The prosecution knew all they know now in the spring of '98. They could if they had wanted to try this matter in the spring or summer. They waited until near the close of the campaign and then sprang it in a most dramatic manner. It was as clear a case of cold-deck-up-the-sieeve to be dealt ou at the opportune moment as ever was concocted in politics or used in a gamgeneral Assembly has only made a start bling den. If these people have the evidence they say they have, then it is their fault that M. S. Quay was not eliminated to the organization of the Legislature last spring as a factor in the fight, and they are responsible for the plane on Again. Senator Quay has been national chairman, and also represented this great State for twelve years in the U. S. Senate. To now say that this Senator must go out with his declining years cloudy with infamy; that fair play and thing else. There has been the usual simple justice is to be denied him, is asking too much, and it is not right.

I have tried to give the feeling as I tions, but everybody expects that, and find it. An honorably just compromise that ended as usual.
