On hearing of the calamity which befallen the family of Alonzo Andrews of Church Hill, last week, J. W. Jamieson circulated a subscription paper in his behalf, and in a short time had raised upward of $28 in cash which he turned over to the unfortunate man.

One of the handsomest and best almshouses to reach us this year is that sent out by the Phila. Times. It is replete with general information on subjects that are constantly presenting themselves to the busy man of affairs and should be on every business man's desk. A special feature is a complete Spanish-American war chronology.

The annual fear of flood is again disturbing the peace and equanimity of down-river residents. The floods that are feared are not the ones that usually do the damage. It's those that are not thought of, when fear is removed from the mind, that come unsuspected, which create trouble. When floods are feared they seldom come.

A German chemist has discovered a process by which alcohol can be solidified, made into sticks and carried around in a person's pocket. Wonderful discovery, a man can now get intoxicated without drinking, and by keeping a quantity of red pepper about his clothes can always have a good supply of "rill fence" ready for emergencies. The world does move.

The Franklin Evening News attained the voting age last Saturday, when it reached its 21st birthday. The wrapper always comes off the News as soon as it reaches this office, and we seldom fail to find a number of good things in its columns. Bro. Borland, who is one of its founders and who has made it what it is, deserves many congratulations on the success with which he has brought up and established so excellent a journal.

When a girl writes her name "Mayme" or "Mai," she puts a label upon herself that contains the word "cheap." She may be sensible in some respects, but no one seeing the label will believe it. The "Mals" and "Maymes" are not good daughters, and they will not make good wives. They are silly, irresponsible and romantic. Show us a girl who changes her name from Mary to Mai, and we can read her palm like a fortune teller.—Acheson's Globe.

There having been so much night loafing and carousing in and about the central hose house of late, the authorities have been compelled to lock the building, and hereafter persons having no business there will be expected to give the place a wide berth, otherwise they will have to put up with what the law will give them. In other words, the nuisance must be abated. In case of fire the key to the hose house will be found at the postoffice.

Mr. Lawson set his grind mill in motion last week and has already done considerable grinding, though he doesn't pretend to have things in perfect condition about the premises as yet, but is ready to do "most any kind of feed grinding for customers, and already many of our farmers have availed themselves of the opportunity to have considerable corn, oats, etc., made into feed. The power is furnished by a large gas engine, which works very quietly and smoothly and when all the machinery is once set and in working order there will be no lack of motive power to make it hum. It is a very complete and commodious plant and adds much to the business aspect of the town.

Election in Borough and Twp.

The entire Republican ticket in this Borough was elected yesterday, the average majority being about 25. Following are the successful ones: Council, T. E. Armstrong, Charles Clark, H. H. Shoemaker; auditor, A. W. Richards; high constable, John Saylor; constable, H. E. Moody; school directors, J. C. Scowden, Geo. Holman; judge of elections, J. H. Derickson; inspectors, S. C. Johnston R., J. J. Landers D.; overseer of poor, J. R. Osgood.

In Tionesta Twp. the Republican caucus ticket was elected as follows: School directors, Melchior Jaun, W. S. Clark, Drvid Zuck; road commissioner, Andrew Wolfe; treasurer, Wm. Lawrence; auditor, Geo. Weant; clerk, Rob. Stitzinger; constable, J. B. Eden; justice of peace, John Wolfe; judge of elections, Sol. Byers; inspectors, Bert Thomson R., J. C. Hoover D.; overseer of poor, Adam Borizer.

—Scowden & Clark shipped two more new wagons of their superior make to customers in the West Virginia oil fields on Monday of this week. This firm's team wagons seem to have achieved a wonderful reputation in that section where the heaviest and roughest hauling is done, having in the past year and a half shipped a large number to that section. The firm is putting in a general stock of shelf and heavy hardware and are able to supply anything in that line that may be called for, and at figures with which no one can find fault.

—Petitions are in circulation asking the incoming Congress to expel Brigham H. Roberts, the Utah Mormon, when he takes his seat in that body. Brigham, like his noted namesake, has more wives than the law allows, and to permit him to sit in the American Congress would be practically an endorsement of polygamy, and the Congressman who fails to vote for his expulsion ought never to be allowed to return to his people. If this nation is against polygamy, which we all claim it is, this will be the one great opportunity afforded to show it. This brazen bigamist should be kicked out so promptly that the experiment of sending such a man to represent them will never again be thought of by the people of Utah or any other community.

Agnes Johnston, wife of John Moore, died at her home near White's school house, in Barnett township, this county, Feb. 12, 1899, aged 60 years, 2 months and 27 days. Deceased leaves besides the husband, five sons, four daughters and 22 grand-children, to mourn her loss.

EARL HUNT. Earl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus F. Hunt, of this place, died in Philadelphia, Wednesday, Feb. 15, 1899, where he was taken about four weeks ago for treatment. He was aged about fourteen years, and was a bright, manly boy. The many friends of the parents in this section extend sincere sympathy to them in this sad hour.

JAMES DANIELS. James Daniels, one of the aged citizens of Clarinton, this county, died on the 9th inst., aged about 81 years. Mr. Daniels was owner of some of the most valuable pine timber tracts along the Clarion river, and was a man widely known in that section.

JERRY HEPLER. Jeremiah Hepler, brother of Abraham Hepler of this place, died at his home near Franklin recently. The deceased was a former resident of Newmansville, whither his remains were brought for burial. He was aged about 55 years and was well known to the people of this section. His wife and several children survive him.

ELIZABETH KNAPP. Margaret Elizabeth Knapp, widow of the late John Knapp, died at her home near Newmansville, Thursday, Feb. 15, 1899, aged about 85 years. Mrs. Knapp came from Northumberland county with her husband more than fifty years ago and settled on the farm where she died. She was the mother of seven children, four of whom, Mrs. Martin Salsgiver, Mrs. Mary Brecht, Susanna at home and Mrs. Pat Black, survive her. The burial took place at the Wilderness Church on Saturday.

MRS. SEBASTIAN BLUM. Anna Katharine Blum, relict of the late Sebastian Blum, and mother of County Commissioner Herman Blum, departed this life Wednesday, Feb. 15, 1899, at the ripe age of 85 years, 7 months and 6 days. Mrs. Blum was born in Berda, Germany, in 1813, and in 1841 was united in marriage with Sebastian Blum. In 1847 they emigrated to America and lived the greater part of their life-time on the farm where she died, on German Hill. She was a woman of gentle, lovable disposition, a Christian from childhood, her whole life was spent in the service of her Master, to whom she directed her entire household, and her children were nurtured with right principles and spiritual food. She was ripe for the sickle and more than willing to "depart and be with Christ," her comfort and strength in life, and death to her was a welcome relief from the cares and sufferings of earth. She has gained her reward.

A family of three sons, William, Herman and Henry, and one daughter, Mrs. Fred Ledebur, all residents of this section, survive her. Besides these, 35 grand-children, 21 great-grand-children, and a number of other relatives are left to mourn her demise. Funeral services were held at the Mt. Zion Lutheran church, Friday morning last, at 11 o'clock, Rev. C. A. Rhiel officiating, and delivering a beautiful admonitory sermon, in which he pointed out many useful lessons in the life and character of the deceased which might with profit be emulated by all.

JOHN H. MENSCH. John H. Mensch was born in Cumberland county, Pa., Jan. 29, 1823, and died in Marienville, Forest county, Feb. 17, 1899, from the effects of a stroke of paralysis, had a week or so previous, though he had been weakened by ill health that had lasted several months. Mr. Mensch came to Forest county in 1874, settling on a farm near Marienville where he had continued to reside ever since. During a considerable portion of this period he had combined lumbering with his business of farming in which he had been quite successful. In early life he united with the Lutheran church, but in 1889 he united with the Presbyterian church at Marienville, and not long after was elected a ruling elder by that congregation. Mr. Mensch was looked upon by all his neighbors as a man of strictest honor and integrity, and as such was held in highest esteem in the community where he spent so many years of his life. His pastor, Rev. H. F. Earsman, assisted by Rev. J. R. Miller of the M. E. church of Marienville, conducted the funeral services, which were held on Monday afternoon last. His wife, one son and one daughter survive him.

Badly Burned. "Boy" Anderson of East hickory, who has charge of the Hickory Light and Fuel Co.'s gas line was severely burned on last Friday. He was up on Queen where the wells are and was engaged in thawing out the drip-tank when burned. Wood alcohol is used to thaw out the pipe in cold weather. The blow-hole in the tank was frozen and had kindled a fire to thaw it out. The alcohol used had evaporated into the form of gas and there not being air enough in the building where the tank is situated to drive it out it exploded, burning Mr. Anderson on the face, eyes and hands, and saturating his clothes which immediately caught fire. He run out and tearing off his vest and shirt lay down in the snow and so extinguished the flames. He was burned about the neck, also. There was quite an interval between the time he had used the alcohol and when the fire was kindled. It seems as though there should have been no danger; but there was and "Boy" knows it now. A two gallon can of alcohol almost empty was hanging up in the building; it exploded tearing up pieces. There was also a four gallon can full of the same sitting on the floor which did not "go off." If it had the accident would have been much more serious in its results. Mr. Anderson's injuries are severe but not serious.

There is nothing that makes life so hard as trying to live up to an undeserved reputation for brilliancy.

Would it make us any more contented with our own lot if we were permitted to be some one else for a day?

If a woman's skirt is lined with silk or her cape with fur, it is wonderful what a way those garments have of turning wrong side out.

Crawford county will be 100 years old on the 12th of March, 1899, as also will be the counties of Butler, Beaver, Mercer and Erie. On that day in 1800 the State legislature passed a bill creating these counties out of Allegheny county. All should have a celebration in honor of the great event.

Among the prisoners now confined in the Lackawanna county jail is a man named Gannon, who has been incarcerated there for three years for contempt of court in refusing to testify in a civil case involving a land title. A peculiarity of a commitment to jail for contempt of court is that it is made without term and the prisoner must remain in jail until he purges himself of contempt. There is said to be no indication that Gannon is ready to cry quits.—Erie.

The Andrews Holocaust.

The little fellow who was so severely frozen in the Andrews tragedy is getting along better than at first expected. It will not be necessary to take off the arm, and probably his hands and fingers can be saved also. He says that the fire came down the stove pipe and when he opened the door to let out the smoke his mother's dress, which hung near the stove, caught fire. But it appears probable from what can be learned of the condition of the pipe and flue that the fire could have originated up stairs. Mrs. Andrews watered the horse out of an old dish pan which she set on the corner of the porch, while the horse drank so that the boy could see the horse. While there she asked the boy if the baby was awake and went to the door and looked in to see if all was right, and saw no signs of any danger anywhere. There was a low fire in the stove at the time. When she came back the window on the south side of the house was falling in. The house was not plastered.
