If this were a year to elect Congressmen there would be a wild Democratic scramble in favor of keeping the Philippines.

THE revenue at Manila since our forces occupied the city has averaged $400,000 a month. Under peaceful conditions the Philippines will undoubtedly pay their way.

It is greatly to be regretted that the investigation business has been commenced at Harrisburg. Where will it end.—Blizzard.

It will end, quite likely, with the smirching of some of the holly independents if it don't get them into more serious trouble. Had the proposition to investigate come from the straight Republicans what a howl there would have been.

THE Cuban Assembly is not going to reject that proposal for a $5,000,000 loan by the United States, whereby the insurgent armies may be paid. That body is not strictly representative, but it has sense enough to see that the offer is prompted by benevolent motives on the part of the United States, and that its acceptance will aid materially in the prompt rehabilitation of affairs on the island.

Gomez is in favor of the proposition, and his views on this question are likely to have great weight with the thoughtful people of Cuba. The payment and disbandment of the insurgent armies will help to build up the shattered industries in Cuba by restoring confidence and putting all the able-bodied men at work, and it will raise up thousands of friends for the Americans among the people of the island.

Those who suppose the Filipinos are going to wage a guerrilla war of many years mistake the character of those people. They did not wage any such war against Spain. They were beaten in a few fights by the Spaniards, and then they subsided for a time, and started a new rebellion whenever they thought the time favorable. Spain had no such trouble with the Filipinos as she had with the Cubans. The Filipino rebellion was ended several months before the war between Spain and the United States began. Probably if the United States had not attacked Spain the rebellion which Spain suppressed in the Philippines in 1897 would stay suppressed for many years. It was the rebellion in Cuba, and the drain which that conflict made upon Spain's resources, which incited the Filipinos to rise in the first place. The United States will have no such trouble on its hands as Spain had when the Malays rose. The Filipino rebellion against the United States is not likely to be either long or formidable.

Benjamin Haywood Passes Away.

Benjamin J. Haywood, ex-State Treasurer, passed peacefully away at his home in Sharon, Mercer county, on Thursday morning last. Mr. Haywood was in the 50th year of his age, having been born on a farm in Mercer county, April 12, 1849. He had held many business and political positions, all of which he discharged ably, creditably and honorably, being cashier of the State Treasury at the time of his death. To Mr. Haywood the Democratic Philadelphia Times pays this truthful tribute: "Mr. Haywood was highly esteemed and generally beloved in the community in which he lived. His only misfortune was that he was called to the office of State Treasurer at a time when the loose methods of political favoritism and compensations which had prevailed in the management of our State finances for more than a generation, were about to reach a climax by the popular demand for the radical reformation of the whole system, as was measurably accomplished by the last Legislature. None ever imputed to Mr. Haywood any degree of moral turpitude in either his public or private life; and even assuming that the accusations of his prosecutors could be maintained, his offense was that he continued a system that had been accepted by all parties in the management of our State finances, and that was not only tolerated but supported from year to year, by the leaders and followers of both the Republican and Democratic parties."

FOR HOLDING THE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE MEETING.

The members of the Republican County Committee met at the court house Monday evening, and were called to order by Chairman W. M. Coon, who briefly stated the object of the meeting to be chiefly to fix a time for holding the Republican primaries. J. T. Dale and J. E. Wenk acted as secretaries of the meeting. A call of the roll revealed the fact that a large percentage of the regularly elected Committees were present, the chairman naming substitutes for the few absentees, so that every precinct in the county was represented.

On the question of date for holding primaries, after some interchange of opinions, Saturday, April 8th, 1899, was decided on by motion as the date.

On motion of J. B. Eden a resolution strongly condemning the practice of carrying out cigars by candidates in their canvasses for votes at the primaries was unanimously adopted. So if the candidates are not loaded with cigars when they go to see the voters they will understand the reason.

On motion it was ordered that hereafter the names of candidates be printed on the tickets in alphabetical order.

A motion was adopted to the effect that the resolution heretofore adopted requiring candidates to pay to the Chairman five dollars for incidental expenses at the time of their announcement for office be strictly complied with.

The following resolution was then offered by J. E. Wenk:

Resolved, That the course of our Member of the Legislature, Dr. S. S. Towler, in his support of Hon. M. S. Quay for reelection to the United States Senate meets with our warmest and heartiest approval.

The enthusiasm with which this resolution was adopted left no doubt as to how the convention stood on this subject, the large audience present to witness the Committee's proceedings, heartily joining in the enthusiasm. There was not a dissenting voice, and it would have made Dr. Towler's heart swell with pride could he have heard the storm of "ayes" that went up when Chairman Coon put the question.

On motion the meeting adjourned sine die.

FROM THE STATE CAPITOL.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 25, 1899.

The past week has shown no changes in the Senatorial battle. In fact it has been understood between leaders for some time that no change would be looked for until after Quay's trial, which begins next Monday.

There was some excitement on Friday a. m., involving charges of bribery, etc., but the affair really fell rather flat. On Friday morning one of the Wannamaker Phila papers came out with rumors of two members being approached to change their vote on the McCarrill bill for a money consideration. The same morning that this article appeared, General Koozts, the independent Republican member from Somerset, arose in his place in the House, drew attention to the charges in the paper, and presented a carefully prepared set of resolutions, directing an investigation and naming the committee. This last is rather an unusual thing, the committee by custom being left to be chosen by the Speaker. After more or less parliamentary fighting, the resolution passed with the committee struck out and left to be named by the Speaker. The whole affair has a rather surprising look. It seems to be almost certain that the press article, the resolutions, and the naming of the committee, was all arranged the night before in the "insurgent" headquarters. As Quay's trial comes up on Monday it was a good time, probably, in their opinion, for another sensation. The Republicans and Democrats on the committee were not consulted, the parties in the scheme being the independents. Mr. Kreps, who was named as a committeeman, lost his head for a few minutes, and called the concoctors a set of "political cut-throats."

This he afterwards recalled and apologized to the House. What the end will be I don't know, but this much is certain, one House can not authorize the expenditure of any money, and until that is fixed not much can be done. Again, there is a feeling that the people of this State are not stuck on the appointing of a committee, when the courts are open for the trial of the offense. If these charges are true, then the court of Dauphin county is the place to send the charges. If it is desired that the House alone should handle it, the charges should be made on the floor of the House, the parties named and the House investigate. This places the matter in a tangible form, and is much better than proceeding on mere newspaper rumor.

Business of the Legislature is progressing. There is up to this time still a strong probability of an early adjournment. The outlook is for fewer new laws and the knocking out of some already on the books. The Fish Commissioners wish a better arrangement of the existing laws than the one we have at present, and handed the new bill prepared by them to the writer. As soon as the Fish and Game Committee has reported the same, copies will be sent into the country for information and, if needed, revision. The writer had the pleasure of having his "Health Officers" bill for counties and townships unanimously endorsed by the "State Association of Health Authorities" in annual session at the Capitol last week. The bill providing for the publication of the laws in the newspapers, will have a "rocky road" to travel. Even some of the papers are kicking on it because the figures for doing the work is put, they claim, too low. The present House is just now "a terror to snakes," and chuck full of economy, but when it comes to the voting each member will want his pet appropriation bill passed, and feel in duty bound to swap votes with every other member in the same fix. Then comes the Governor with the veto ax; of course Tom Brown don't care if Jim Smith's bill "goes it in the neck," but he prays that his own may escape. Governor Stone, however, expects many times a week this short sentence, "I will not have the State run in debt," so it's more revenue or vote to many a pet bill.

THE President's addresses at Boston have added to his reputation both as a statesman and as a public speaker.
