BURNED AT THE STAKE.

Horrible Lynching of a Negro Near Newnan, Ga.

His Body Cut to Pieces and Distributed Among the Mob as Souvenirs—The Multitude Began Before the Torch Was Applied—Sickening Details of the Affair. NEWNAN, Ga., April 24.—In the presence of 2,000 people who sent aloft yells of defiance and shouts of joy, Sam Hose, a negro, who committed two of the basest acts known to crime, was burned at the stake in a public road one and one-half miles from here. Before the torch was applied to the pyre, the negro was deprived of his ears, fingers and other portions of his anatomy. The negro pleaded pitifully for his life, while his mutilation was going on, but stood the ordeal of fire with surprising fortitude. Before the body was cut it was cut to pieces, the bones were crushed into small bits, and even the tree upon which the wretched man's fate was torn up and disposed of as souvenirs. The negro's heart was cut in several pieces as was also his liver. Hon. W. Y. Atkinson, former governor of Georgia, met the mob as he was returning from church, and he appealed to them to let the law take its course. In addressing the mob he used these words: "Some of you are known to me and when this affair is finally settled in the courts you may depend upon it that I will testify against you."

A member of the mob was seen to draw a revolver and level it at ex-Governor Atkinson, but his arm was seized and the pistol taken from him. The mob was frantic at delays and soon began to shout and yell. Atkinson confessed to killing Cranford, who he denied he had outraged Mrs. Cranford. Before being put to death the negro stated that he had been paid $12 by "Lige" Strickland, a negro preacher at Paimetto, to kill Cranford. Sam Hose killed Alfred Cranford, a white farmer, and outraged his wife 10 years ago. Since that time business in the county has been suspended, the entire population turning out in an effort to capture Hose. He successfully eluded pursuit until discovered near Macon. The road for a distance of half a mile on the side of the burning negro was packed with conveyances and was simply impassable. The crowd surrounded the stake on all sides, but none of those nearer than 100 feet of the center was able to see what was going on. Yell after yell went up and the progress of the flames was communicated to those in the rear by shouts from the eye witnesses. The torch was applied about half past 2 o'clock and at 3 o'clock the body of Sam Hose was limp and lifeless, his head hanging to one side. The body was not cut down. It was cut to pieces. The crowd fought for places about the smouldering tree, and with knives secured such pieces of his carcass as did not fall to pieces. The chain was severed by hammers, the tree was chopped down and with such pieces of firewood as had not burned, were carried away as souvenirs.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE WEEK.

A Carefully Prepared Selection of the Leading Topics of the Day Throughout the Commonwealth in Suitable Form to Please the Busy Reader.

MONONGAHELA, Pa., April 21.—Thomas M. Reese of Company A, Tenth regiment, writes from the Philippines, in part, as follows: "I believe I make no mistake when I say that 90 per cent of the volunteers would hail with delight the opportunity to go home. They are very much adverse to fighting the Filipinos, claiming that they entered in the war with Spain, and not to subjugate a people who are fighting for independence. Aguineldo says he will conduct the war after the manner of civilized nations, but has failed to do so. I know of numerous cases where the white flag of truce has been displayed, but when our people have approached it they have been fired upon by natives in ambush. They respect none of the common rules of warfare and their fighting is of the dangerous and disorganized guerrilla kind." Furnace sold. READING, Pa., April 21.—The sale of the large Henry Clay iron furnaces in this city and the furnace at Topcon, Berks county, to the Empire Iron and Steel company, has been consummated. GREENSBURG, Pa., April 21.—The promised colony of Russian Hebrews to locate on the summit of Chestnut Ridge east of here is now a fact, but instead of there being but 200 people, the colony has grown within the past week to over 500. Stone from Portland, Ore., tells of the finding of the dead body of Civil Engineer Samuel Doty at Warren on a trail some miles in the mountains. OUR FOREIGN TRADE. The Fiscal Year of 1898 Was the Banner Year For Exports. WASHINGTON, April 21.—The fiscal year of 1898 was the banner year of the foreign trade in the United States, our exports being the largest ever recorded for a like period and our exports exceptionally small. According to a comprehensive report just prepared by Frank H. Hitchcock, chief of the section of foreign markets of the agricultural department, the total value of our domestic exports reached the enormous sum of $120,291,313. On the other hand the imports during 1898 were the smallest since 1885, their value being $618,049,654, a decline of $148,680,758 from the figures of 1897. Broadly stated, for every dollar's worth of foreign merchandise brought into the United States $2 worth of our products found a market abroad. Our domestic exports as compared with our imports showed an excess of $294,242,559, or more than twice the excess for 1897, which was the largest previously reported. An interesting fact developed by the report of Mr. Hitchcock is the increase in the exports of agricultural products, being 79.93 per cent of the total, or $858,507,942, a gain of nearly 25 per cent over 1897. Exports of this class also show a greater gain proportionally than non-agricultural exports. Our purchases of foreign agricultural products in 1898 amounted to only $314,129,196, as compared with $400,871,468 in 1897, a decrease of $86,742,272, or about 22 per cent. The value of the American farm produce abroad during 1898 was much more than double that of our agricultural imports, the excess of the former over the latter amounting to $442,216,148. In 1897 the excess on the side of the agricultural exports was only $288,853,725, and in the years immediately preceding still smaller.

CAUSED BY ACCIDENT.

Coroner's Inquest Into the Disastrous Windsor Hotel Fire.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The inquest into the disastrous Windsor hotel fire was held by Coroner Bausch. Battalion Fire Chief Binn testified that he thought the fire must have originated in the cellar. After deliberating half an hour, the jury returned the following verdict: "We find that Isabella C. Leland, Helen Leland, Melia A. Paddock and others came to their deaths on or about the 17th of March, 1899, by conflagration of the Windsor hotel. We find that the origin of the said conflagration was due to accidental causes and was not in any way due to the lack of proper and usual facilities for extinguishing fires. We also find that within three minutes from the time of the alarm of fire was received in this instance by the fire department, the first company was at the scene of the fire and had water upon the flames." Chief of Police Devery says that $100,000 worth of jewelry, silverware, clothing and other property, found in the Windsor hotel, will be put on exhibition for 10 days in the hope that they might be identified and claimed. At the expiration of that period anything remaining will be turned over to the police property clerk. American Red Cross Dissolved. MANILA, April 24.—General Lawton's newly formed flying column, that started out from Manila to join General MacArthur in a circuitous route, outflanking the rebels, if possible, had a severe engagement with the rebels at Quingua, which proved quite disastrous to the American forces. Two privates of the Nebraska regiment. Three privates of the Fourth cavalry. Most of the wounded belonged to the First Nebraska regiment. The Filipinos retreated with small loss. CUBAN MUSTER ROLLS.

General Brooke Will Accept Them as They Came From the Cuban Officers. HAVANA, April 21.—Governor General Brooke in the distribution of the $3,000,000 to the Cuban soldiers, has determined to treat the Cuban officers as soldiers and not to endeavor to go behind the rolls they submit. Hence the Cuban lists will be accepted on their face, with the eliminations of those who entered the army after July, 1898, and those who are actually holding office. Any Cuban named on the lists who is identified by his captain will get a share. General Gomez will probably receive a share. The names of several American newspaper correspondents are among the privates. These men who are now in Havana ask that the word "honorary" be put after their names and announce that they will not take their portion. The Spanish bank here is understood to be merging with a New York bank to form a bank of Cuba with a capital of $10,000,000, half of which is to be supplied by the Spanish bank. Several Washington law firms, through Havana connections, have agreed to push Cuban and American claims, at no expense to the claimants, for 40 per cent of the amount of the money recovered. At present there are about $30,000,000 of claims on file.

For some time past a syndicate composed of some of the most widely known capitalists in the country, has been considering the project of establishing steel works in this city. They looked upon Buffalo as the ideal place in the United States for developing such an enterprise as they had in mind, and practically from the inception of the plan for a big plant they favored Buffalo as the site.
