SILENT men in the army and navy never stood higher in public opinion than at the present time.

IF harmony was the object of the Jeffersonian banquets they have been followed by a heavy fit of indigestion.

CHAMP CLARK says he can see no evidence of prosperity. And in truth there is none for Champ's style of politics.

THE men of the Raleigh look rugged and cheerful after their year's service at or near the Philippines. Manila's climate, on the whole, is improving in reputation.

THE contest for the Speakership of the next Congress, Speaker Reed having re- of politics are not among the least of the signed, promises to be a warm one, with offenders, many big and little men from all sections of the country looming up. It will be a difficult and practically hopeless task to find a man who will size up to Reed.

NOTWITHSTANDING the famous attempts of the plutocrats to embarrass him by a general increase of wages, Mr. Bryan continues to talk good old orthodox hard times straight from the shoulder.-Kansas City Journal.

It is barely possible that after peace has been restored in the Philippines the people of this country may listen to arguments against "territorial expansion," but just at this particular moment the main fact before their eyes is that the flag is being fired on by somebody or other, and that that somebody or other must be run down .- Phila Inquirer.

MCKINLEY sold 3 per cent. bonds to the people; Cleveland sold 4} per cent. bonds to a syndicate of bankers. The total of our public debt is a mere bagatelle compared with our wealth and resources. The continuation of the Republican party in power, which would mean continued prosperity, would enable the in the United States than it is at this mo-Government to pay off in a few years .- Western Woke.

"JOHN P. ALTGELD is no longer a Democrat," says Carter Harrison, "and he is not entitled to sit even in the gallerg of the next Democratic National Convention." If it be true that Altgeld is going to be driven out of the Bryanite party, then so much the worse for the Bryanites. Estimated on the basis of political morality, Altgeld is not altogether admirable. He has brains, however, a commodity which Bryan and his assistants lack. Harrison may be able, with the assistance of Bryan, to run Altgeld out of the party. But the chief sufferer by this are now in operation twenty tin plate suit of J. G. Allen. geld.

Last fall our own inimitable George A. A Bare Opportunity .-- Dr. Sadler at the Jenks, of whom we are all justly proud, went up and down the highways and byways of this great Commonwealth telling tened itself upon the Government. He could have elected a Senator by joining reach of everybody. their forces with the bolt.ng Republicans we failed to hear that Mr. Jenks called House, Tidieute, Monday and Tuesday, his followers together and said, "Gentle- May 15 and 16, men ; You have shown your loyalty to the nominee of your party by voting for me many times. It is apparent that I of agents of the Nickel Plate road about ther obligations to vote for me, and ask you to unite with the anti-Quay forces emy of the machine." On the other hand, too, if the caucus bolters were sincere in their declarations that the State was being literally devoured, boots and breeches, by the monster known as "Quayism," why did they not turn in and vote for Mr. Jenks? He wouldn't eat anybody. Verily there is a good deal of cant and bluster in this world, and the Pharisees

Uuconstitutional.

By a decision banded down on Monday in the supreme court at Philadelphia the direct inheritance tax law of 1897 was declared unconstitutional, and the orphans' court of that county, where the question was raised, will be enabled to push to a settlement a great mass of business which has been shelved, pending the litigation of this important subject. Since the law first became operative a great number of estates came under its provision, in all of which the orphans' court declared against the constitutionality of the act, and has since been awaiting the rulcame to the supreme court on an appeal from the common wealth, and these are all terminated by the decision given in the estate of Marmaduke C. Cope. The opinion was written by chief Justice

Sterrett.

THE trade papers are all enthusiastic over the business situation. They say, what every intelligent person knows to be true, that trade was never more active THE trade papers are all enthusiastic be true, that trade was never more active ment. The outlook, too, is that this activity will increase instead of diminish.

Bank clearances, railroad earnings and production in all the leading industries J. G. ALLEN vs. JOHN SHILLINGER, are at the highest figures ever touched. Labor is more actively employed than ever before, and wages have been advanced all along the line in the past few months. It is no wonder that the Bryanites are dissatisfied with these conditions. In this period of great industrial prosperify the calamity party has no chance to delude the people into giving it control of the government.
