Under free trade the sheep industry of Kansas was worth nothing, but it is worth millions now, and is increasing in value each year. The wool grower requires protection.

The assurance that McKinley and Hobart will be re-nominated gives stability to business. There will be no attacks upon the business or finances of the people for more than four years.

American manufacturers expected products worth $182,000,000 in 1895 and $330,000,000 worth in 1898. Within a decade or two this will be a billion dollar country in supplying the world with manufactured articles.

"I stand to-day," says Col. Bryan, "where I stood three years ago." In the meantime the country has gone forward several thousand leagues. The Colonel will have to hump himself if he doesn't drop clear out of sight.—Topska Capital.

With about every iron mill and furnace in Pennsylvania rushed to its utmost capacity, the man who prophesied that the Keystone iron industry was a thing of the past is not standing up to be counted with the enthusiasm of yore.

The Philadelphia Press comes about as close to being a Republican paper now-a-days as Brick Pomeroy's old La Crosse Democrat did way back in the 60's. A paper which has no good thing to say of a Republican candidate who is not smirched with Wamamakerism.

Mr. BRYAN is against trusts, but he hasn't said yet what he would do to throttle them were he elected President. And it may be necessary for him to outline a policy before the people place their undivided confidence in his ability. Mere howling isn't popular any more. The voters are too busy with the new McKinley prosperity to listen to declamation.

In the United States as long ago as 1890, a Republican Congress passed an anti-trust law. The layman who reads it will come to the conclusion that it is a very strong law. Whether it is or not, no Democratic Congress has undertaken to make it more effective. Indeed, the theory of free trade is to let trade take care of itself. It is the doctrine to go as you please. On the other hand, all anti-trust legislation of a national character, and all in most of the States, is the work of Republicans.

ABSOLUTELY the only subject left in sight for the Democrats to howl about is trusts. The tariff issue has been dead with them for several years, returned prosperity has wiped out the financial issue and Aguinaldo's flight or suppression will soon make imperialism a back number, so that at present nothing seems more available than the trusts. When it comes to logical discussion of the subject it will be seen how little, how very little, of an issue the Democrats can make out of trusts.

A BILL passed by the legislature and signed by the governor, known as the "butter bill," provides that all packages of butter made by making over old butter and adding skimmed milk and other ingredients shall be plainly marked "Renovated." This applies to butter packed away in tubs and crocks during the summer season and then taken out and worked into rolls and offered for sale. The penalties for the violation of this law are quite severe. The passage of this act was strongly advocated by the farmer members of the last legislature.

THE nomination and re-election of President McKinley is assured, and if there be any other Republican who cherished hopes that lightning might strike him, he might as well take in his lightning rod at once and join the McKinley procession. Next year is going to be a McKinley year that will far eclipse 1896, and there will be so little opposition to the President that he will be practically elected unanimously. The leaders are for him and the rank and file have always been for him, and what more could he ask of the American people?—Harrisburg Telegraph.

It must be sport to run a political paper over in Center county when editors can crack off such as the following without getting licked. One of the papers, speaking of an opposition candidate, says he "is probably the smoothest article on the Democratic ticket. He can take his mouth full of horse chestnuts and spit out chocolate drops. But when he told Sammy Weiser of Milheim, that 'Milheim can go to —, I can be elected without it,' he must have had cookey-horns on his tongue. Of course he may have been "full" when he said it and that is sufficient recommendation to some Democrats to vote for him."

DURING the civil war those who gloated over Rebel victories, bewailed the sacrifice of blood and treasure, and wept bitter tears because of the alleged violation of the Constitution were known as "Copperheads." The same sort of people exist to-day, and are easily distinguished from the rest of mankind by their attitude toward the Philippine question. The modern Copperhead is delighted to hear of an American reverse in the Philippines, and cannot conceal his gratification. He bewails what he terms the mistaken policy of the President in not permitting Aguinaldo and his followers to dictate to the United States and drag the stars and stripes in the dust.—Punzy Spirit.

Friends of Senator Quay won sweeping victories at the Republican primaries and conventions held on Saturday last.

In the final round-up for the election of delegates to the Republican State convention the insurgents are routed in every contest. The votes and resolutions of Saturday were especially gratifying to the members of the legislature who went into the Republican caucus and supported Colonel M. S. Quay for the United States Senate to the end of the session of the Legislature. In Montgomery county the two members of the Legislature, Messrs. Sexton and Fetterolf, claiming to be Republicans, booted the caucus, yet their insurgent friends were defeated at the primaries by an overwhelming vote and Colonel Quay's supporters elect the entire delegation to the State convention. In Somerset two members of the House, elected as Republicans, General Koontz and Mr. Kendall, joined the bolters and appealed to Republicans to endorse their action in the election of delegates to the State convention. They were completely repudiated, and Colonel Quay's friends carried the county by a large majority. In Clearfield county the two members of the House, Representatives Frank G. Harris and Joseph Alexander, were elected as Republicans. Harris acted with the stalwarts and Alexander joined the bolters. The course of Mr. Harris has been sustained by a big popular vote. In Northampton county's Republican convention resolutions were adopted amid great enthusiasm commending the action of the members of the Legislature who voted for Colonel Quay and approving Governor Stone's course in appointing the Beaver statesman to the vacancy in the Senate. In Cambria county the result was the same, both delegates elected being friends of Senator Quay. Truly, it was a bad day for the insurgents.

A DEMOCRATIC essay on trusts usually winds up as an assault on the protective tariff. This thimbleberg will become clearer as the next campaign draws near.

THE Filipinos keep on killing the wounded American soldiers whom they chance to come in contact with and mutilating the dead. These are the creatures whom Atkinson, Garrison, Hoar, Billy Mason and the other moral freaks call patriots of the Lexington and Banker Hill variety. Moreover, the "George Washington" of the Philippines is understood to encourage this goulshiness. The American people are not revengeful, but they would like as an experiment to see some of the copperheads taken out of the American soldiers around Imus or San Fernando and then "lost," so as to learn how the Filipinos would act toward them.
