

NEW YORK FOLLOWS PENN- SYLVANIA'S LEAD

Silverites of This State Elated Over Tammany's Demon- stration For Bryan.

THE ISSUE OF THE FALL CAMPAIGN.

Creasy Presented to the Workingmen as a Champion of Bryanism, but They Quickly Point to His Corporation Record in the Legislature.

(Special Correspondence.)

Philadelphia, July 11.—The Bryan leaders of the Pennsylvania Democracy are in high spirits over the demonstration for the free silver chief at the great Tammany Fourth of July meeting in New York city. Despite the fact that Croker had issued orders that there should be no "free silver nonsense" in any of the speeches, and notwithstanding the efforts of his lieutenants to carry out his instructions, the Tammany brass fairly went wild with enthusiasm at the mere mention of Bryan's name by ex-Governor Hogg, of Texas. Hogg, who was not down on the list of speakers, was called to act as a substitute orator. He made a rattling address, and soon had the crowd shouting for Bryan and the Chicago platform. He completely upset the scheme to start a presidential boom of Mayor Van Wyck, of New York.

PENNSYLVANIA SILVERITES RE- JOICE.

All this shows, according to the Pennsylvania silverites, that the movement started for the renomination of Bryan for president at the recent state convention at Harrisburg is going to be taken up by the Democracy of the country, regardless of the protests of the convention leaders of the minority party. Pennsylvania Democrats expect to be at the head of the procession for the Nebraska leader, and they are already planning to have the vote for their state ticket at the November election presented as an argument in support of their contention that the rank and file of the party in this state want Bryan once more as their standard bearer.

It has developed that a quiet movement has already been inaugurated among the workingmen in the mining districts of the state to line them up for the nominees on the Democratic state ticket upon the argument that these candidates are all Bryan men and that the platform upon which they are running meets with the approval of the leaders who are engineering the canvass for Bryan's renomination. There is a special effort being made in behalf of the Democratic candidate for state treasurer, William T. Creasy, on the score that he is a rampant Bryanite, that he stood up for Bryan when many others in his locality repudiated the silver cause and the party's candidate for president, and that he today openly proclaims his loyalty to the Chicago platform and favors the movement inaugurated at the convention which nominated him for Bryan's renomination.

LOOKING UP CREASY'S RECORD.

It is not believed that much headway has been made among the miners in favor of Creasy. The Democrats among them do not, as a rule, object to his free silver views, but many of them are aware of Creasy's attitude upon important legislation affecting corporations and other matters in which the workingmen are interested. They do not regard him as a friend of the laboring man, and hold that an investigation of his record in the legislature will disclose the fact that his course in the house of representatives was entirely satisfactory to the corporations.

His bitter hostility to the McCarroll jury reform bill, which was advocated by organized workingmen in every county in the state, and which was drafted with especial reference to affording protection to employes of railroads and other large corporations, will lose Creasy thousands of votes in the very districts in which his free silverite champions were most hopeful of his showing strength at the fall election.

BOLTERS' TALE OF WOE.

The David Martin contingent of the insurgent organization in this city are just now in bad humor. They are reaping the reward of their party treachery at Harrisburg during the session of the legislature. The announcement that the services of Factor Inspector Godfrey, from the Thirty-first ward, will not be required after the end of this month was not at all pleasing to Register of Wills Hackett, who is the acknowledged Martin leader of this ward, and the political backer of Godfrey. The senator and the three members of the house of representatives from Mr. Hackett's district cooperated with the insurgent organization in their alliance with the Democracy at Harrisburg during all of the last session of the legislature. This unnatural political combine was responsible for the defeat of the several measures proposed by Governor Stone for the raising of revenue. The killing of these bills by the Martin-Hackett members of the legislature, with the assistance of the Democrats, placed the Republican state administration in the embarrassing position which necessitated a veto by Governor Stone of a portion of the school appropriation. For this the Republican governor has been roundly denounced by the very insurgents and Democrats whose blind schools and charities suffer accordingly.

When Mr. Hackett's friend Godfrey is asked to step out a howl goes up from the insurgent camp. When a thoroughly competent successor takes his place, backed by the indorsement of men who sought to strengthen rather than hamper and discredit the Republican state administration, a condition will have been brought about that will be a natural outcome of the present political situation, even though Mr. Hackett may have to find another place for his friend.

Adjoining Hackett's representative district is the Sixteenth, which is made up of the Sixteenth and Eighteenth wards. This district sent two members of the house who were part of the Martin band of insurgents. A complete revolution is now working out in the Eighteenth ward. This ward was carried at the Republican primaries for Martin, with the aid of the Warwick police and other department employes. Under Mayor Ashbridge's administration Martinism has no control of the police. The officers and men living in the Eighteenth ward do not now have to follow the Martin leadership. This is naturally an anti-combine ward. A natural alliance has been made with former followers of Martin and the friends of Israel W. Durham, which will mean the loss of this legislative district to the insurgents and the certain election of stalwart Republican representatives in the future.

Thus one by one the old Martin districts are leaving him and are falling into line with the regulars. It is certain that the stalwarts will elect every delegate to the Republican state convention from the senatorial district which was misrepresented at Harrisburg by that caucus bolter, Senator J. Bayard Henry. When Henry comes up for re-election he will be bowled out completely.

In local politics the contest for sheriff has narrowed down to two aspirants, Wences Hartman and Deputy Sheriff Pennwell. The leaders are gradually getting together behind Hartman. There is no doubt that Richmond will be dropped and that Select Councilman Black will be named for city commissioner. This will not meet the views of one David Martin, but as has been said frequently in these columns, it is no longer necessary to consult Martin on any political topic. Any man who deliberately bores the choice of his party and who advocates the pernicious and anachronistic doctrine of minority rule cannot expect to be listened to, much less obeyed. Mr. David Martin is about done for in this town, and Mr. Richmond, his political ally, will not succeed himself as city commissioner.

PENNSYLVANIA PROUD OF HER HEROES

President McKinley and Brigadier General Otis Speak in Great Praise of the Keystone State's Regiment at Manila.

(Special Correspondence.)

Harrisburg, July 11.—Possibly the most interesting incident of the week was the visit of Governor Stone and a committee of citizens of western Pennsylvania to Washington to call upon President McKinley and officials of the war department in reference to the mustering out of the Tenth Pennsylvania regiment and the suggested promotion of Colonel Hawkins to the rank of Brigadier General.

After a conference with Adjutant General Corbin the delegation repaired to the White House, where they had an appointment with the president. Mr. McKinley displayed genuine pleasure and enthusiasm in meeting with the Pennsylvanians and listened with greatest interest to the plans that have been formed for the reception of the Tenth regiment.

When told that the citizens of Pittsburgh would contribute a fund of $40,000 or $50,000 to bring the regiment home from San Francisco, where it will be mustered out, in special trains of Pullman cars, in order that the boys will be at no personal expense whatever in crossing the continent, the president exclaimed:

"What a grand people you Pennsylvanians are, and what generosity and patriotism you are displaying in this matter."

THE TENTH'S SACRIFICES.

The president spoke feelingly of his appreciation of the heroic services of the Tenth Pennsylvania and of the patriotic self sacrifice displayed by them and all volunteer troops who remained in the Philippines after the termination of the war with Spain.

"I should like," he said, "to have the opportunity to take the hand and thank every individual member of the volunteer forces for remaining in the Philippines and assisting in the work there beyond the time required of them by the terms of their enlistment."

The delegation, through its spokesman, Governor Stone, then presented resolutions endorsing Colonel Hawkins for promotion. The president received the suggestions with much interest and promised to look into the matter, and said that he would immediately cable Major General Otis, in the Philippines, to ascertain if everything was clear for such promotion. He stated that there were no vacancies to which Col-

Brigadier General Otis, who has just returned from Manila, in an interview at Washington, said: "The Tenth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, is one of the finest bodies of men that I ever saw on the field. The charge of the regiment and the capture of the church and Chinese hospital was beautifully done. During the march toward Malolos the Pennsylvania regiment was for a time in my brigade, and the boys gave a splendid account of themselves."

The City in the Forest Again Filled With Assembly Life—The New Administrative Machinery in Smoothly Working Order. Events of the First Week—Kipling Kipling the Poet of Patriotism and Progress—Opening of the Summer Schools—Next Saturday—Fourteen Schools and 120 Courses—Excursions From All Points.

CHAUTAQUA, July 3.

The 26th Chautauqua Assembly opened Wednesday, June 28, amid the most auspicious surrounding, and after the months of careful reorganization and planning the Assembly management may well take to itself the satisfaction felt by all in the smoothness with which the new administrative machinery has been set in motion. And yet with all its improvements in constant evidence, as indeed they are, Chautauqua of '99 is the scene of that restful yet energetic life which is the paradoxical result of the "Chautauqua spirit." If the visitor who came on the opening day was overmuch impressed by the array of bluecoated and brass-buttoned attaches, he soon found the uniforms but the garb of kindly courtesy, and there is already to be remarked in the words of Chancellor Vincent, "the same spirit of sociability and fellowship that existed 25 years ago."

The first public event of the present Assembly was the devotional service of last Wednesday morning which was conducted by Bishop John H. Vincent, the topic being "The Silent God and the Life of Silence." At this service, which informally opened the Assembly, brief words of greeting were also spoken by Acting President Clem Studebaker of South Bend, Ind., and Acting General Manager Wilson M. Day of Cleveland. Bishop Vincent has since conducted the devotional hour each morning and the result has been a series of services filled with deep religious interest.

The two principal lectures of last week were given by Miss M. E. Ford of New York, the first on "Juliet's Philosophy," and the second on "The Poet of Patriotism and Progress." The former she interpreted as "the more I live, the more I have" in a word of altruism, or love in action. From the Juliet of Shakespeare Miss Ford turned to America's Helen Miller Gould for the continent, or of her simile.

SENATOR PENROSE AT WORK.

Since the governor and his delegation called upon the president United States Senator Penrose has been looking after the matter.

"Recognizing the great interest in the return of the Pennsylvania troops from Manila," remarked Senator Penrose, in a chat on this subject, "and appreciating the desire of the citizens of Pennsylvania to fittingly honor these brave sons of the Keystone state, I have had several interviews with the president and the officials of the war department on this subject. The president from the outset showed a keen and patriotic interest in the movements of the 'Fighting Tenth,' and at once evinced a desire to co-operate with the citizens of Pennsylvania in any demonstration that might be gotten up as a tribute of admiration of the gallant work of our volunteers in the sharp fighting in the Philippines. When at my last interview I emphasized the request that the services of Colonel Hawkins be recognized by his promotion to the rank of brigadier general the president assured me that it would give him pleasure to honor Colonel Hawkins, and that he would do so if he found no obstacle in the way."

"As I was leaving Washington I instructed my secretary to keep me advised as to developments in this case, and I have been delighted to hear from him over the long distance telephone that Colonel Hawkins will certainly be mustered out with the rank of brigadier general of volunteers."

It is understood that Colonel Hawkins has no special desire to remain in the army, though his promotion on his retiring, it is believed, would not prevent his re-enlisting under the latest call for volunteers and be given this new rank."

INSURGENTS ARE UNHAPPY.

The interest which Senator Penrose and Governor Stone have shown in the proposed advancement of Colonel Hawkins has been annoying to the Republican insurgents, who for weeks have been proclaiming that the stalwart Republicans were determined to sidetrack Colonel Hawkins in favor of Lieutenant Colonel Barnett. The insurgent newspaper bureau long ago announced that the regulars had slated Barnett for state treasurer and turned down Hawkins. Now they say the friends of Colonel Quay will be willing to shower military honors upon Hawkins, but the political favors must go to Barnett. The facts are that neither Hawkins, Barnett nor any one else is slated for state treasurer. If Hawkins desires the Republican nomination for that office it is believed Colonel Quay's friends will heartily support him. The insurgents would be charged to find either Hawkins or Barnett nominated for state treasurer, as they would like to see the Democratic nominee for that office, Creasy, get a big vote, even though they know his election is an impossibility.

The nomination of either Hawkins or Barnett would be putting an able man and a brave soldier against an ordinary individual, a Bourbon Bryanite of the Creasy type, and in this year of patriotism there could be no doubt of the result of such a contest in the state of Pennsylvania.

THERE IS NO SLATE.

The organs of the Flinn-Martin bushwhackers have been trying to make out that an entire slate has been arranged for the Republican state convention to ludo. There is nothing in it. The bushwhacker, the insurgents, the bolters and the party wreckers have been repudiated on all sides, and the convention will, by the votes of the Republican citizens, be overwhelmingly friendly to Senator Quay. It is to be expected that the resolutions will indorse McKinley and Stone, as they should do, and will denounce the attempted selfish and self-seeking bossism of Flinn and Martin, but there is no slate. Philadelphia will ask for the nomination of Josiah R. Adams to the superior court, and in all probability the request will be granted, but the contest for the supreme court vacancy is open, as is that for state treasurer.
