The annual convention of the County Commissioners and Poor Directors of Pennsylvania will meet in Erie the last week, in August. Commissioners and Directors from sixty-six counties will be present.

James Haslet has brought to town a very neat pony outfit for his children. The nag is of the real Shetland breed, and as usual with that variety of ponies, is gentle and of a very kindly disposition. It's a very cute little turnout.

General John A. Wiley, Postmaster A. E. Smith and two or three other noted motorists came up from Franklin to-day and went up on the afternoon train to Hickory, from which place they will float down the river and fish.—Herald.

Bro. Muse of the Vindicator has moved his printing and is now properly ensconced in his new office up street, right opposite the gas office, just the proper place for a Democratic newspaper. One nag is now, James, and then the band will play.

The Tionesta gun club expected to have a friendly shoot with the Tidoute club at the former's shooting grounds on the island to-morrow, but a number of the Tidoute boys found they were unable to get away at that time so the sport has been postponed to a later date.

No man has a moral right to talk about a woman. If she is bad, she has trouble enough without seeing a vile, venomous, sneaking rake standing around on the street corners with his tongue tied in the middle and going at both ends about her frailty.—Ex.

Mrs. Barba, who was shot four times in the head by her jealous husband at Rockwood station, on Monday of last week, is still living, strange to say, and the physicians at the Oil City hospital, where she is receiving treatment, have some hopes of her recovery. The husband is dead and buried.

In anticipation of next year's census taking, says an exchange, it would be well for farmers to keep careful records, so that reliable information may be given the enumerators who are to gather statistics. Farmers will be asked to give data of their productions, and to state what proportions were sold or consumed.

It is said, on what may be considered thoroughly reliable authority, that a branch from the P. & E. railroad at Sheffield will be built down Tionesta Creek to Mayburg, where it will connect with the Collins standard gauge road, which runs from Nebraska to Mayburg. The new branch will be built forthwith.

Andrew Emert, who owns a very nice farm near Town Line, in Hickory township, has erected a comfortable and commodious house this summer. It is 20x34 feet in size and built in modern style, Will Weingard being the architect, and Mr. Emert will proceed to take extra comfort in the future in his new domicile.

Much has been said about the "nine points of the law." The real inventory of those nine points is cynically given by Tit-Bits as follows: (1) A good deal of money; (2) A good deal of patience; (3) A good cause; (4) A good lawyer; (5) A good counsel; (6) Good witnesses; (7) A good jury; (8) A good judge; (9) Good luck.

The death of George W. Dunkle, the nominee for Jury Commissioner of Forest county, leaves a vacancy in the Republican ticket, which will have to be filled by the County Committee.—Sheriff Walker, Chairman of the Committee, being absent for the next two or three weeks the meeting will likely be called to meet as soon as he returns.

The dwelling house of Samuel Delo at Martin's Station, a mile beyond the Tionesta Gas Co.'s wells on Hemlock, was destroyed by fire last Friday, the origin of the fire being an overheated stove-pipe. The entire contents, except an organ and a few chairs, were consumed. It is not known whether or not there was any insurance. Mr. Delo is employed by the Oil City Fuel Supply Company.

The 169th Regiment, P. V., composed of companies from Venango, Erie, Crawford, Butler, Clarion, Lawrence and Mercer counties, will hold their third annual reunion on Tuesday, August 29th, 1899, at Exposition Park, Conneaut Lake. A full attendance of all survivors is earnestly requested. Fill your haversack with rations for wives, sisters, cousins and aunts, and have a grand good time.

Three editions have already been printed of Biggle Horse Book, an announcement of which will be found in our advertising columns. This little book which is crammed full of information on the horse costs but 50 cents, yet we are free to say it has as much practical, boiled down information for busy people as books costing ten times as much. Put it in the hands of your boys and girls and get the hired man a copy. Free by mail; address the publishers, Wilmer Atkinson Co., Philadelphia.

Punxsutawney will have a fair, beginning Aug. 29 and lasting till Sept. 1st, inclusive. Punxsutawney is one of the really bustling towns of the State, and whatever its citizens undertake to do they make a success of in every detail, so that when they say they will give the people an "old time county fair," which will lack nothing that will interest, instruct and entertain its patrons, you may depend on just such. Well, anyhow, our friend Editor Smith of the Spirit guarantees it will be the real thing, and that's enough said.

The thirteenth annual convention of the Forest County W. C. T. U., which will be held in Marienville next week, beginning Tuesday noon and continuing till Wednesday evening, will doubtless be one of the best and most largely attended of any yet held in the county. Miss Greenwood, National Supt. of Evangelistic Work, who will lecture on Our Country; Its Privileges and Dangers, is considered one of the finest speakers in the country and will no doubt be greeted by good audiences both Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

The editor of the Farm Journal asks: "Why have a mortgage on the farm, poor crops, rheumatism, sour bread, grip, leak in the roof, hole in the pocket, skeleton in the closet, or any other pain or trouble, when you can get the Farm Journal for the balance of 1899 and all of 1900, 1901, 1902, and 1903, nearly five years, by paying all arrears and a year in advance for THE FOREST REPUBLICAN? This you can do if you speak quick. But only a limited number of Farm Journals can be had, so pay up before the last one is gone.

The new stone walks show up very handsomely. Miss Retta Proper has completed upward of a hundred feet in front of her vacant lot at the lower end of town, and G. W. Robinson has finished laying 146 feet of it in front of his residence. Wm. Smearbaugh will have his down as soon as workmen can be secured to do the work. The commissioners will stop all future controversy about walks up at the public grounds by putting down the flag, much of which is already on the ground. Others will follow suit rapidly and before long Elm street will be "flagged" in proper shape from one end to the other.

The ladies of the W. R. C. gave one of their exceedingly popular socials at the pleasant home of Mrs. J. B. Agnew, on Vine street, last Wednesday evening, which was attended by an extra large assemblage of young and old. Ice cream, cake and coffee, all very delicious, were served, and we believe the Corps netted a nice sum. The parlors of the spacious mansion were made brilliant and cheerful with a profusion of flags and bunting, and the lawn was pretty and charming with Chinese lanterns, while Tionesta's cornet band discoursed some of its sweetest strains of music, making the occasion a most delightful one to all who attended. The affair was voted a pronounced success by every one present, few of whom will absent themselves from a like occasion, especially if this charming place is selected as the scene.

Mr. F. F. Whittekin, C. E., of Tionesta, Pa., at present Chief Engineer and General Manager of the Antioquia Government Railroad, Colombia, South America, has under consideration an offer made by M. Ghoolley Hassen Kahn, former Minister from Persia at Washington, to enter the service of the Persian Government as General Director of the railroad now under consideration by the Imperial Government, to be built from some point on the Persian Gulf to Teheran, the Capital of the Empire. No surveys have been made, and it is the design of the Government to make exhaustive examinations before beginning any real construction, and during his residence in Washington the Kahn became somewhat acquainted with Mr. Whittekin's work on the Denver & Rio Grande, the Mexican and the South American Government roads. Six months' time is given to consider the proposition, and accept or refuse it.—N. Y. Railroad Gazette, July 7, 1899. Mr. Whittekin expects to leave South America for his home about the middle of September.

Frank Weaver, a son of the late Judge Weaver of Clarion county, came very nearly ending the existence of his young wife on Wednesday of last week. He lives a short distance east of Fryburg, and had taken his gun and gone to the woods to hunt. His wife, formerly Miss Lena Miller, who is well known and has many friends in Tionesta, had been out after berries in the same vicinity and was returning home. Weaver saw something moving in the brush ahead of him and thinking it was some game animal or bird, fired, the charge of shot taking effect in Mrs. Weaver's head. The feelings of the horrified husband can better be imagined than expressed when he discovered his awful mistake and thought he had killed his wife. But fortunately the result has not been so serious as at first imagined, the doctor having succeeded in extracting all the shot from the ladies' head and face, and if no other complications, blood poisoning or the like set in, she will recover. What a terrible warning this carelessness should be to all who are in the habit of handling guns.

Miss Grace Weitz, who has been the guest of her cousin, Miss May Buzza, for the past two months returned to her home in Sharon, yesterday. She was accompanied as far as Oil City by Mrs. Buzza.

Mr. James Morrison, Republican nominee for County Commissioner in Forest county, and his sister, Mrs. Cecil Gross, of Marienville, were Brookville visitors Monday and Tuesday.—Brookville Republic.

James D. Davis left Monday morning on a trip west to be gone three or four weeks, and before he returns may go as far as Colorado, in which case he will call on the Forest county boys located in the gold fields of that section, Sam and John Clark, Davy Hillands and the rest of them.

Sheriff Walker departed on Saturday last for Bangor, Maine, to visit the scenes of his boyhood days. It is his first visit to his old home since he left there, a mere boy, about 28 years ago, and he will doubtless find very little in that section to remind him of former days. He expects to be gone about three weeks.

Messrs. C. Neidick, W. H. Ferguson, and W. H. First, prominent members of the A. O. U. W. lodges at Oil City, came up last Sabbath to attend the funeral of the late Geo. Dunkle and assist the brethren of Forest Lodge in the ritual services. Mr. First holds the office of Guide in the Grand Lodge of the State.

Frank Leyman, representing E. T. Hall's mammoth house furnishing establishment, Titusville, was looking after the interests of that concern in this section and made the Recorder's office a pleasant call yesterday. Mr. Hall, whose double column ad has been running in this paper for several months, has a large patronage heretofore.

George W. Dunkle, whose serious illness from stomach trouble had been noted in these columns within the past few weeks, died at his residence in Tionesta, on Saturday morning, Aug. 12th, 1899, at 7 o'clock.

Mr. Dunkle was born at Callensburg, Clarion county, Aug. 16, 1846, and had lived four days longer would have been 53 years of age. He was united in marriage with Miss Ada Whisner, Sept. 28, 1870, who, with three children, Miss Clara, Alfie and Edward, survives. Also surviving him are two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Mauk of Helen Furnace, Mrs. Henry Sheets of New Philadelphia, Ill., and two brothers, Anderson of North Pine Grove, and Peter of Callensburg, Pa. The family moved to Tionesta about 15 years ago where they have since resided. About three months ago the deceased began to experience severe stomach trouble, from which he had suffered more or less for a number of years, and which developed rapidly until a little more than three weeks ago he was obliged to take to his bed, from which he never again arose.

George had always been an industrious, hard working man, a loyal citizen, well liked by his neighbors and acquaintances. In early manhood he united with the M. E. church and for many years was a devoted member of the same, but having wandered in the meantime, about two years ago he reconsecrated himself to the service of the Master, and as the end drew near, while he felt he had been an unprofitable servant, he fully trusted in the Savior and said "he knew that he was accepted."

The funeral, which was private, took place from his late residence at 4 o'clock Sabbath afternoon, the services at the house being conducted by Rev. R. A. Bozza, all arrangements being in charge of Forest Lodge, A. O. U. W., of which Mr. Dunkle was a member, and which conducted the services at the grave in accordance with the ritual of said order, the Lodge attending in a body.

The following relatives from out of town attended the funeral: Anderson Dunkle, Crown, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. John Young, Nebraska, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Whisner, Oil City, Pa.; Mr. D. L. Breneman, Kennerdell, Pa.; Mr. Chas. Joslin, Marienville; Miss Velma Joslin, Tytersburg; Miss Ida Whisner, Sheffield; Mrs. A. Carr, President.

Ross Tipton of Endeavor, Pa., had a horse stolen from his barn on Saturday night. The animal was five years old and weighs about 1000 pounds, is black with white stripe in face and a little white on left hind foot, and has a bunch on left hind leg. There is no clue to the thief thus far.

The Northfield Conference.

NORTHFIELD, MASS., Aug. 12, 1898. Dear Mr. Editor:

In the great multitude of things seen and heard and thoughts suggested there by since I have come to Northfield I scarcely know where to begin in writing a letter. A short letter is wholly inadequate to do justice to the place and the character of the work here being done. It is a most cosmopolitan company that is here gathered, representing a large portion of our own land and from across the sea, of all evangelical creeds and beliefs; and yet I venture to say that rarely under similar circumstances of such variety of speakers and freedom of expression does such unity prevail. "With one accord in one place" characterizes the spirit of the Northfield conference and on all sides may be heard expressions indicating the fulfillment of the purpose of this convention in increased knowledge and more perfect consecration; growing in grace and in the knowledge of Christ.

The program is very similar to past years although there are some of the former speakers absent and new ones have taken their places. Rev. G. Campbell Morgan of the Congregational, Rev. F. B. Meyer, D. D., of Christ's Congregational church, London, and Rev. Sidney A. Selwyn, D. D., of Bournemouth, Eng., of Church of Eng., are the principal speakers. Another speaker is Mr. Tjadi, a Swedish evangelist, who is called the Swedish Moody and Sankey because he both speaks and sings. He has been engaged in evangelistic work in company with the King's brother and is a powerful man in every way. There are also many others of our own country who have given some excellent sermons and addresses.

The number of the services each day depends upon a circumstance in the form of D. L. Moody, who takes full charge of the whole conference. There are generally about eight services, although Mr. Moody discourages people from trying to take in all the good things that are to be heard. "A full cup can hold no more; to pour more water in makes only a splash" is his familiar expression.

The attendance is much larger than in any former year. Northfield is taxed to its utmost to take care of the "stranger within its gates." The crowd has overflowed till it found a resting place at Mt. Hermon, across the Connecticut river, four miles away.

They come from all parts of the country, from Kansas, Missouri, Kentucky, Georgia, Florida, and all States between and from a most composite but harmonious assembly. One very pleasing feature to me has been the meeting of so many whom I had met in former years, and who now seem like old friends. It is surprising how many come here year after year, some of whom attend almost, or all of the different conventions held. One visit here insures at least the desire to return.

Many people have an idea that this is a sort of Bible school where persons are assigned and scholastic lectures given, but this is not so. It is more in the form of sermons and addresses, to which all may go, take notes or not as they choose. Most of the people do the former, not for any special future use other than to "stir up their pure minds by way of remembrance," a habit that would be helpful in many ways if more universally adopted everywhere.

Next week is expected to be more than ordinarily good, as there will be an addition to the speaking force of President Clark and Gen. Secy. Bear of the Christian Endeavor society.

The weather was hot and dry when we (Mr. Warden of Endeavor, and myself) came, since then there has been a lowering temperature and considerable rain fall. Mr. Warden is in his native Yankee element, but I am not.
