Secretary Root Making Plans For the Next One.

It Will Be an Extensive One and Intend-Will Be Divided.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.-The maps of the Philippines and especially of that portion of the island of Luzon, north and south of Manila which has been prepared for the use of Secretary Root may assume a more important part in the coming campaign than has been given it heretofore. Secretary Root has not only ascertained where the United States troops are located, and has them nicely marked off on the map, but he has also taken into consideration such information as can be obtained relative to the population of the adjacent country, the kind of people and their disposition toward the United States. The secretary has also been studying the lines of transportation and learning what he can of the geography of the country. It is believed that more than one army can operate to advantage in the Philippines and the suggestion has been made by some army officers that an army should start from different points and operate in such a manner as to distract and destroy the Filipino forces. At present the United States forces do not occupy the line of rallway half way to Lingayen on the gulf of the same name. It has been suggested that if one force were to start from Lingayen and move south at the same time that another was moving north there would be a great probability of soon securing the entire railway for the use of the army and the insurgents would be separated into divisions east and west by the railroad as they are now divided into northern and southern bands. Between Angles and Lingayen is Thriac, a town of considerable size and situated in a province where the natives are said not to be unfriendly to the United States. If this province could be occupied it might be of great advantage to the government. While these are now merely suggestions, it may be that when the army in the Philippines consists of 60,000 men. Instead of about 20,000 or 25,000, it will be possible to have four or more armies operating, instead of two, as during the last campaign. The locations of troops, as marked by pins on the map prepared for Secretary Root, show the places occupied as fol-

TWO MILLION DOLLAR FIRE. Victor, Col., Almost Entirely Wiped Ou

by a Conflagration. CRIPPLE CREEK, Col., Aug. 22.-

Fire has entirely destroyed the business portion of the city of Victor, causing a loss estimated at $2,000,000. Beginning shortly after noon, the fire raged until night, consuming everything in its ed to Crush the Filipinos as Soon as the Merchants' cafe, adjoining the Possible—More Than One Army Can Bank of Victor, corner of Third street Operate to Advantage and Our Forces and Victor avenue. A strong wind from the south fanned the flames and in a few minutes all the surrounding houses were afire.

Help was summoned from Cripple Creek, but the town had been built in the early days of the camp and was of pine timber for the most part and burned like tinder.

Efforts were made to stop the progress of the flames by blowing up buildings In their path by means of dynamite, but the effort was in vain.

The fire burned the Bank of Victor, the postoffice on the corner opposite, crossed Third street and followed the row of blocks between Third and Fourth streets to the north, taking in the Victor Banking company, the Western Union Telegraph's company's office and the office of the Colorado Telephone company, the Hotel Victor on the opposite side of Fourth street and the three great shaft houses of the Gold Coin Mining company and its ore bins, among the largest in the Cripple Creek district.

From there the flames were swept northward by the gale and stopped until they had taken the Florence and Cripple Creek depot and the fine new depot of the Midland Terminal road at the head of Fourth street. All the buildings between these are a total loss, with practically all their contents.

The scene of the great Cripple Creek fire were duplicated. Hurrying before the roaring flames went men, women and children, carrying what they could snatch from the flames, racing for their lives. The crash of buildings as they were torn asunder by dynamite and the crackle of the flames as they consumed the dry buildings, hastened their flight and the pall of smoke added a terror to the spectacle.

A special train was placed at the command of the city by the Florence and Cripple Creek railroad and three companies of firemen, with apparatus were rushed to the scene. They worked all the afternoon on a vain endeavor to stay the march of the flames. The residence portions of the city suffered comparatively little but the business is paralyzed and suffering is bound to

GREAT YEAR FOR TRAVEL.

Railroads Carrying More People Than In the World's Fair Year.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19 .- Passenger traffic in all directions is breaking all former records. It is even larger than in the World's fair year. The movement is not confined to any particular class of business. Gains are as conspicuous in local as in through traffic, in summer tourist as in regular commercial and mercantile business. The volume of this travel is so great that all the roads are pressed for coaches, although they have been supplementing their supplies materially for two years.

For the fiscal year ended on June 30, in many instances it was passenger earnings that kept the balance on the right side. Freight earnings showed a decrease, but this was more than offset by the gains in passenger earnings. Since June freight traffic has rallied materially, and is again rushing in tremendous volume, but it has not increased at any greater ratio than passenger business. Rates have been well maintained.

ARCTIC HISTORY MADE

Walter Wellman's Expedition Has Been Heard From.

Srran New Lands Discovered and Hitherto Unknown Regions Explored and Important Scientific Work Done-A Grim Story of Arctic Tragedy-The Explorer Was Badly Injured.

TROMSOE, Island of Tromsoe, Norway, Aug. 18.-Walter Wellman and the survivors of the Polar expedition led by him have just arrived here on the steamer Capella, having successfully completed their explorations in Franz Josef Land.

Mr. Wellman has discovered important new lands and many islands.

The expedition brings a grim story of Arctic tragedy. In the autumn of 1896 an outpost called Fort McKinley was established in latitude 81. It was a house built of rocks and roofed over with walrus hide. Two Norwegians

WALTER WELLMAN.

Paul Bjoervig and Bert Bentzen, the latter of whom was with Nansen on the Fram, remained there. The main party wintered in a canvas covered hut called Harmsworth House at Cape Tegethoff on the southern point of Hall's Island, latitude 80. About the middle of February, before the rise of the sun to its winter height, Mr. Wellman with three Norwegians and 45 dogs started north. It was the earliest sledge journey on record in that high latitude. On reaching Fort McKinley, Mr. Wellman found Bentzen dead, but Bioervig, according to promise, had kept the body in the house, sleeping beside it through two months of Arctic darkness. Notwithstanding his terrible experience, the survivor was safe and cheerful. Pushing northward through rough ice and severe storms, with a continuous temperature for ten days between forty and fifty degrees below zero, the party found new lands north of Freedom Island, where Nansen landed in 1895.

By the middle of March all hands were confident of reaching latitude 87 or 88 if not the pole itself.

Then began a succession of disasters. Mr. Wellman while landing the party fell into a snow covered crevasse, seriously injuring one of his legs and compelling a retreat.

Two days later the party was roused at midnight by an ice quake under them, due to pressure. In a few moments many dogs were crushed and the sledges destroyed. The members of the expedition narrowly escaped with their lives, though they managed to save their precious sleeping bag and some dogs and provisions. On Mr. Wellman's condition becom ing alarming, as inflammation set in, the brave Norwegians dragged him on a sledge by forced marches nearly 200 miles to headquarters, arriving there early last April. Mr. Wellman is still unable to walk and will probably be permanently crippled.

After reaching headquarters, other members of the expedition explored regions hitherto unknown, and important scientific work was done by Lieutenant Evelyn B. Baldwin of the United States weather bureau, Dr. Edward Hofma of Grand Haven, Mich., and Mr. A. Harlan of the United States coast survey. Mr. Wellman and his companion found no trace in Franz Josef Land of of the missing aeronaut, Professor Andree. AMERICANS INTERESTED.

SUMMARY OF THE NEWS Negro Preacher Unites Sixteen Couples

FORT SCOTT, Kan., Aug. 19.-Rev. G. W. McCreary, a colored minister, claims the record for marrying. He has just united 16 couples at one ocremony. The eligibles were negro miners imported from the South to take the place of the striking miners and their wives are women attracted from the South by the company, which advertised and secured nearly 100 dusky candidates for matrimony.

The company found this step necessary, as the imported miners were discontented. They missed the lancthe strikers from proselyting among them the company kept the negro miners within a big stockade at Wier City. Now that homes have been es-society there is no further grumbling. Rev. Mr. McCreary, who married 32 persons with one ceremony, came here from the South with the miners in the capacity of spiritual adviser and he is extremely proud of his record. He now hopes to establish a church at Wier
