BUILDING COLLAPSED.

Structure of the Chicago Coliseum Gives Way.

Vis Known That Six Lives Were Crush ed Out; Three More Are Supposed to He Under the Wreckage, and Seven Are In the Hospital, Two of Them Fatally

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. - Twelve steel arches, each weighing 33 tons, which were to have supported the superstructure of the Coliseum building in course of erection on Wabash avenue, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, fell to the ground. It is known that six lives were crushed out. The bodies of three men are supposed to be under the wreckage. Seven are in the hospital with injuries received in the accident and of these two will surely die, one may possibly recover and the rest are for the greatest part seriously injured.

The dead are: Charles Walpot, crushed to death. Stephen J. Thompson, crushed to John Fay, head crushed. Richard S. Herman, head cut off.

Edward Murray, head and both legs cut off. Theodore Thorne, crushed to death. The missing who are supposed to be under the ruins are: Frank Logan. Alex Millas. Samuel Smith.

Those fatally injured are: John Dowd, both legs broken, both eyes knocked out; internal injuries. John White, cut on head and right side; internal injuries. The others injured are: Cornelius Toomey, head crushed; internal injuries; may recover.

Peter Pelletre, crushed about shoulders and chest; serious. John Hawthorne, head cut, internal injuries; serious. All of the 12 arches were standing, the 12th and last having just been completed. It was the intention of the steel contractors, the Pittsburg Bridge company of Pittsburg, to turn over its work to the general contractors. The immense "traveller" or derrick, which had been used in the erection of the arches had been removed and the agents of the bridge company were accounting their work as practically completed when suddenly and without the slightest warning, the arch last put in place suddenly fell over against the one next to it. The weight was too much for this, it gave way, crashed south, precisely in the same manner as a number of cards would fall. Nearly all the men who were killed were at work on top of the arches 40 feet above the ground. Some of them made futile attempts to slide down the land for July alone were $1,201,537; inside of the arches, but before they could save themselves, were hurled to the ground. Many of them uttered plercing shricks for aid as they fell. Most of them were killed outright by the awful nature of their injuries. The skulls of the unfortunate men were crushed into shapeless masses, their limbs were cut off as if by a monster knife and they were mangled beyond

ecognition. The immense structure began falling slowly, each arch being sustained by the cross beams supporting the entire structure. As the mass gained impetus, bars of iron inches thick snapped with a loud report and the great mass moved faster and faster in its descent. With a crash that was heard blocks distant, the structure fell, leaving the valls practically uninjured.

An immense crowd gathered around the place and, despite the efforts of the police, who were close at hand, they swarmed over the mass of wreckage, making desperate but ill-directed efforts to drag out the dead and to save the wounded. It was only with the greatest difficulty that the police were finally able to drive back the crowd, and give the firemen and uninjured workmen a chance to rescue the infured.

That more men were not killed and injured was almost a miracle. Fully 50 men were at work in the space covered by the arches as they fell.

A number of the men jumped into small excavations, of which there are many in the ground beneath the steel works, and were saved from the great masses of steel that crashed down over them. Several of them were standing under the arches when they commenced to fall and, running to the side walls, by great good fortune, happened to stand in the space left vacant by the cave of the arches away from the side walls. Had the arches fallen to either side the loss of life must have been much heavier, but they fell true to the south on a line parallel to the side of the building and none of them save the two southern arches fell at all outside of the space to be occupied by the udding.

UPHOLDING BRITISH RIGHTS. Bluelackets Landed In Russia and a Gun boat Brought Into Service. SHANGHAI, Aug. 28.-As the outcome of a dispute regarding the possession of some lands at Hankow, about 700 miles from the sea, which was purchased in 1865 by the concern of Jardine, Matheson & Co., but were subsequently included in the new concession to Russia, the owners, under the advice and protection of Mr. Hurst, the British consul, sent workmen to fence in the tract.

After the work had been commenced a dozen cossacks from the Russian consulate appeared on the scene and forcibly ejected the workmen.

The captain of the British second class gunboat Woodlark, specially designed for river service, after consulting with Mr. Hurst, landed a party of blue jackets and moved the Woodlark into firing distance of the Russian consulate. For a time a fight seemed imminent, but nothing further occurred. The blue jackets are now guarding the property. The Britisa third class gunboat Esk has been despatched to Hankow from this port. Great Britain is evidently determined to uphold British rights.

The explorer was accompanied by the American members of the expedition who are

In an interview Mr. Wellman said: "The object of the expedition was two fold-to complete exploration of Franz Josef Land, of which the north and northeast parts were practically unknown and to reach a high latitude or even the pole itself.

"The first object was successfully accomplished. The second should have been achieved, at least to a greater extent than by previous expeditions, but for the accident to myself."

Murderer Finally Ran Down.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Aug. 29.-Mail advices received here from Port Limon. Costa Rica, report the arrest there of a man named Rutherford, who is alleged to be the murderer of Best Harding Archer, an American, who was murdered there in 1897. Rutherford, it appears was Archer's partner and disappeared after Archer's death, and the country coroner's jury found a verdict of suicide, in spite of the suspicious facts in the case. This caused such widespread indignation that, ultimately, further investigation was begun, two months ago, at the request of the United States.

SITUATION IN MANILA.

True State of Affairs Existing In the Philippines.

News That Was Not Censored By the Officials at Manila-Difficulties in Carrylug Out a Policy of Conciliation Accomed For Aiding the Rebels.

MANILA, Aug. 22, via Hong Kong, Aug. 28.—Recent events have proved discouraging to officials who are trying to accompany war with a policy of conciliation. Two new municipal governments have collapsed through the treachery of the mayors. The mayor by the people under the direction of Philippines, was brought to Manila and lodged in jail. The United States officers at San Pedro Macati found that he was using his office as a recruiting station for the Philippine army. Four disguised insurgent officers were helping him.

The mayor of Balinag was also arrested and confined in the same prison. The Americans found him passing between the lines of the two armies with incriminating documents, which the authorities secured. Another prominent native mayor is under surveillance.

Colonel Smith of the Twelfth in fantry, who is in command at Angeles, is sceptical regarding Filipino friendliness. Instead of allowing the natives to return to the town, he has ordered his troops to shoot all men trying to pass the lines and to turn back the women and children. He recently gave the natives in the town an opportunity to prove their friendship, putting them to work at digging trenches and cleaning streets, but this only displeased them

The formost citizen of Angeles, lawyer, who had welcomed the Americans with a great show of cordiality was found communicating with the insurgents. The Americans promptly marched him off to San Fernando to stand trial

President McKinley Tells It to an Assembly at Ocean Grove.

OCEAN GROVE, N. J., Aug. 26. President McKinley addressed 12,000 persons in the Auditorium here. He was introduced by Bishop Fitzgerald. who said that there is no conflict between the stars and stripes and the flag of the cross and that "they float side by side for humanity, liberty and truth."

The president said: "Love of flag and love of country faith. I believe that there is more love for our country and that more people love the flag than before. Whenever that flag is raised it stands not for despotism and oppression, but for liberty, opportunity and humanity and what that flag has done for us we want it to do for all people and all lands which by fortunes of war have come within its jurisdiction. That flag does not mean one thing in the United States and another in Porto Rico and the Philippines. There has been doubt in some quarters respecting the policy of the government in the Philippines. I see no harm in stating it in this presence. Peace first, then with charity to all, establish a government of law and order, protecting life and property and occupation for the well being of the people who will participate in it under

A Native Tribesman and His Band Fighting the Fillernes. MANILA, Aug. 29.-A report received here from Cebu says Dato Mundi, a native chief, with his tribesmen, has taken the warpath against the insurgents who are holding Zamboanga and has given them a warm battle.

Recently Dato Mundi, who is a fine able bodied man, educated abroad, visited General Bates at Jalo, saying he was anxious to become an American citizen and asked permission to fight the insurgents. He was given an American flag and told to return to a small island near Zamboanga and was told that troops would be sent there soon. Mundi, however, would not walt for the Americans, but with his band of tribesmen attacked the insurgents killing 30 and wounding a number of others. His loss was slight

There is a deep mystery surrounding his death, but the most generally accepted theory is that he is a victim of foul play. He left the telephone building in the afternoon, and went to his room, which he left about 8 o'clock for of San Pedro Macati, who was elected his boarding house. A seat check found on his person indicates that he was at Professor Dean Worcester of the Unit- the opera house that night. His body was found face downward the arms extended and his head resting on a coil of garden hose. There was a slight scalp wound and also a slight abrasion of the left hip and leg. These were not sufficient to produce death, and the superintendent of the telephone company, L. H. Kinnard, Jr., ordered an autopsy. This showed that the neck was broken and that death must have been instantaneous. Some blood spots were found under the balcony in the yard, but the heavy rains during the night had removed all othe blood marks if there were any. The sur cons say that Reinicke could not have staggered from the blood spots under the balcony to where he was found after such an injury or blow.

The young man's hat and umbrella were found near him, and it is not be lieved that he was in the house at all The gas had been left burning in the room by Jennings and was still burning in the morning. Reinicke was not known to have any enemies and was an inoffensive young man. It is believed that the body had been there at least five hours when discovered. There is no clue at all to the manner of his Coroner Crouse has left for Nev York with the body. Reinicke's father lives at 600 One Hundred and Second street.

When Combines Are Formed. PITTSBURG, Aug. 29.-With the advent of the two combinations in the river and railroad coal trades, one institution which has done a great deal for the mining and shipping interests of this section will likely pass out of existence. WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.-As a means of furnishing in popular form the necessary information to methods of protecting crops from frost, the United States department of agriculture has had prepared and will soon issue farmbulletin No. 104, entitled "Notes on Frost." The bulletin says that experiments and observation seem to establish the following facts:

The danger of damage from frost can be materially lessened by placing early and tender plants on high grounds and crests and hardier plants in low grounds and hollows. When ground can be selected in the lee or to the south and east of considerable bodies of water, the danger will be further lessened.
