

DO NOT HAUL DOWN THE FLAG

Veterans of the Sixties Cheer This Sentiment From Colonel Barnett.

NOTABLE SPEECH ON THE PHILIPPINES

The Brave Young Officer of the Fighting Tenth Shown Much Attention at the Grand Army National Encampment.

A noteworthy feature of the recent Grand Army national encampment was the immense meeting held in the Academy of Music in Philadelphia under the auspices of the National Association of the Ex-Union Prisoners of War. Although not on the regular program for the occasion, Lieutenant Colonel James E. Barnett, of the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers, just home from Luzon, was invited to address the veterans and their relatives and friends, by the committee in charge of the meeting. Colonel Barnett, who was visiting the Quaker City for special medical treatment for an attack of malaria contracted in the swampy trenches about Cavite, appreciated the compliment, coming from the old guard of the civil war, and though he could not throw his accustomed vigor into his remarks, he made an address which has since commanded favorable comment. Colonel Barnett was the recipient of much attention from the old soldiers during the encampment. He was invited to review their parade from the president's stand and got a cordial greeting from President McKinley, who remarked that he takes a deep interest in all the brave young men who responded to his call for troops in the recent crisis. At the reunion of the late Colonel Hawkins' old regiment of the civil war, Colonel Barnett was a guest of honor, and was called upon for a speech. On leaving Philadelphia Colonel Barnett went to Pittsburg, and from there to Markleton, Somerset county, on the Allegheny mountains, to stay at a sanitarium there for an indefinite period. His father, a well known Presbyterian clergyman, is one of the officers of the sanitarium, and the colonel will have the added benefit of being with his family while recuperating for his campaign for state treasurer.

COLONEL BARNETT'S SPEECH

In his speech before the ex-prisoners of war Colonel Barnett said: "Upon our arrival in our native land it has been our highest honor to be greeted by the soldiers of the civil war as comrades. We appreciate, as never before, the greatness of the struggle in which you were engaged, the fierceness of which has not and never will be understood by other nations until they themselves shall come into conflict with American armies. Serene and confident, you can gaze with appreciation upon the deeds of others without jealousy and without envy at the applause bestowed upon them, for you were sacrificed for your selves an unrivaled and imperishable monument, the Union itself. As you marched along the streets we felt that, like the bush of Moses, your hearts were still illumined by the fire of patriotism, and that by your very presence you said: 'Oh, Liberty, we still are thine, and if others fight now in the nation's hour of trial, although we are weak and feeble, take us with all that we have of life and fortune and use us in thy cause.'"

"I believe that America has a mission, and that having been herself redeemed by your efforts and washed clean from the last stain of dishonor, and the north and south having been happily again united in a common love of our institutions, that she has already entered upon the fulfillment of that mission. From strife comes advancement, and this is the lesson taught by the records of the great world's drama which we call history. 'For centuries two great civilizations have battled with each other and from the friction of that contest have been evolved some of the choicest privileges that belong to man collectively, or as an individual. America, on the one hand, represents the highest type of Saxon civilization, and Spain, on the other, the most decadent type of Latin. Between these two the latest and greatest combat in the interest of humanity has just been fought.

"Cuba and Porto Rico have been rescued from centuries of oppression and have been endowed with the blessings of liberty. Inestimable as were the results thus obtained, yet there was another and far-reaching issue involved in the contest, the significance of which has but lately become apparent.

IN THE FAR OFF PHILIPPINES. "Thousands of miles beyond the Golden Gates of California, on the farther confines of the Pacific ocean, washed by the blue waves of the China sea, almost unknown to the civilized world, yet the very key to the Orient itself, lies, smiling under a tropical

"Not only is there but a small part of the island of Luzon engaged in the insurrection, but the greater part of the tribe which is engaged is opposed to a continuation of the war, is in favor of American rule, but is over-awed by the threats of the insurgent leaders. Under orders from these leaders all towns and cities which were abandoned were burned by the insurgent forces, and the inhabitants compelled to move back within their lines. Thousands upon thousands have thus had their homes destroyed by their own countrymen and have been compelled to live as best they might, in poverty and suffering. For a while the people had been terrified and had been prejudiced against the American army by printed circulars, which had been distributed, stating that the United States troops had committed all kinds of atrocities against old men and helpless women and children in the towns which they captured, but experience soon showed them that the Americans were their best friends. By the time we reached Malolos the people had come to understand the treatment they would receive from the American army. At present the gun is at Washington, Pa. whether it was taken when the heroic Tenth came home from Manila. The regiment secured it from the Spanish commissioners, who arranged for the surrender of the Philippine archipelago to the American forces, and it is considered a very fine specimen of antique ordnance. The idea is to present the gun toward the latter part of this month. Lieutenant Colonel Barnett was taken to Mayor Ashbridge by Lieutenant Colonel Price, of the Third Infantry, N. G. P., and the leader of the gun was then made. The mayor assured Lieutenant Colonel Barnett that the gift would be cherished here, and to take over the formal presentation ceremonies was had."

The Tenth wants to take part in the reception to Admiral Dewey, in New York, on Sept. 23, and while en route to that city will stop over here and hand over the cannon. The Third Pennsylvania will act as escort to the Tenth while in this city, and will also accompany the veteran command to New York.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF DIARRHOEA. A prominent Virginia Editor Had Almost Given Up. He Was Restored to Health by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Read His Editorial.

From the Times, Hillville, Va. "I suffered with diarrhoea for a long time and thought that I was past being cured. I had spent much time and money, and the price of my property was being lowered. I had almost despaired of recovery when I saw an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and bought a bottle. After taking a few doses I was entirely well of that trouble, and I wish to say further to my readers and fellow sufferers that I am a hale and hearty man to-day and feel as well as ever in my life.—O. WORKING FOR BARNETT. Soldiers of Union, Smelter and Northumberland and Organizing.

General Frank Reeder, chairman of the Republican state committee, has received a letter informing him that steps have been taken for the formation of a "Barnett battalion," to be made up of soldiers residing in the Twenty-seventh senatorial district who volunteered in the Spanish-American war or for service in the Philippines, who propose to co-operate in the canvass for the election of Lieutenant Colonel James E. Barnett, of the Fighting Tenth regiment, for state treasurer. This organization is to be formed upon the same lines as the "Barnett battalion" of Philadelphia, which is already recruiting for the campaign. There has been aroused a spirit of patriotic interest in the United States candidacy which is spreading among the young soldiers throughout the state. They seem determined to take a conspicuous part in the canvass this fall. The old time political warriors, if they are not alert, will be crowded to the wall by these enthusiastic young
