

ALL ARE LOYAL TO THE PRESIDENT

Pennsylvania Republicans Conspicuous at the Grand Army Encampment.

PATRIOTISM THE KEYNOTE.

Chairman Reeder Delighted With the Compliments Paid the State Candidates and the Predictions For Immense Majorities From Every Section of the State.

(Special Correspondence.) Philadelphia, Sept. 12.—If there is one man in Pennsylvania more than any other who has reason to be pleased with the outcome of the Grand Army encampment here in this city last week that man is General Frank Reeder, chairman of the Republican state committee. While politics was not in any way injected into the proceedings of the encampment, and the Republican organization of this state practically closed the headquarters as far as active campaigning was concerned, the very atmosphere seemed surcharged with patriotism, and on every hand were evidences of intense loyalty to President McKinley and his administration. As the Republican campaign in the Keystone state is to be waged exactly upon these lines, and the people of this commonwealth are undoubtedly heartily in accord with these sentiments, the Republican field marshal has occasion to be confident of the outcome of the issue at the polls in November next. There were probably not in years so many old soldiers gathered together in this city at one time. Among them were thousands of active and influential Republicans in their respective localities in Pennsylvania. Many of them naturally embraced the opportunity to call at the state headquarters of their party, if only to pay their respects to the state chairman.

A REPUBLICAN RENDEZVOUS.

The comfortable building at 1231 Walnut street, which has been occupied by the Republican state committee for a number of years, became a veritable rendezvous for many of the visitors. The building was beautifully decorated in honor of the visiting veterans. The entire front was a mass of red, white and blue bunting, hung in graceful festoons, and almost hiding from view the six large windows which supply light to the interior. Portraits of three men who have helped to make the country's history entered into the decorations. Between the windows of the third floor, and surrounded by a multitude of flags, was a handsome portrait of Washington. Between the windows of the second floor was a likeness of President McKinley, while in a conspicuous position on the first floor was a portrait of Lieutenant Colonel James E. Barnett, the gallant officer of the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers, and the Republican nominee for state treasurer, who added fame to the old Keystone state in the campaign in the Philippines. From each window of the building floated a large American flag, and from the cornices fluttered streamers of the national colors.

Plenty of chairs upon which to make themselves comfortable and newspapers from every county in the state were there at their disposal, and the state chairman and his assistants missed no opportunity to make their visitors feel at home. General Reeder, who is a past department commander of the Grand Army, and marched in the parade with his home post, the Lafayette Legion, is personally acquainted with many of the callers, and enjoyed the many interesting reminiscences of war times.

SPLENDID REPORTS RECEIVED.

General Reeder did not fail to inquire of his callers as to the sentiment in their various counties, and he was naturally pleased to hear from every quarter of the commonwealth reports of the most gratifying character.

The old soldiers invariably declared that the Republicans generally were delighted with the action of their state convention in the selection of exceptionally strong candidates, the nomination of brave Barnett, for state treasurer, being especially pleasing to the enthusiastic young Republicans and to the soldiers generally, both the old and the young. Messrs. Brown and Adams, nominees for the supreme and the superior courts, respectively, were looked upon as lawyers of recognized standing, whose elevation to the bench will strengthen the judiciary of the commonwealth.

The veterans reported that there is a universal sentiment in favor of standing by President McKinley in a vigorous campaign for the suppression of the insurrection in the Philippines, and that the stately action of the Republican state convention in its sweeping and cordial endorsement of the policy of President McKinley and its emphatic and unequivocal declaration in favor of his re-nomination for the presidency, was received with expressions of delight by Republicans everywhere. They recognized that Pennsylvania has the honor of leading the movement for a second term for President McKinley, and they declared that already the people in their respective localities are thoroughly aroused and are intent upon rolling up big Republican majorities for the candidates on the state ticket in November, so that the Keystone state shall by an overwhelming Republican triumph at the polls start the ball rolling for the presidency next year.

PARTY LEADERS PROMINENT.

Pennsylvania Republicans in the Grand Army had occasion last week to be proud of the leading officials of the state and of this city, who have been elected through their Republican organization. United States Senator Boies Penrose, Governor William A. Stone and Mayor Samuel H. Ashbridge, of this city, were uniting in their attentions to the visiting veterans, were greeting and were with them constantly at all the important functions prepared for their entertainment, and bade them a friendly farewell and a hearty God speed as they departed for home. Governor Stone, who as a soldier of the civil war with an honorable record, could address them as comrades, was particularly happy in the many clever speeches he was called upon to make, and impressed all with the sincerity of his greeting when he welcomed them in the name of the commonwealth. The brilliant young United States senator and the able and energetic mayor of the Quaker City were both patriotic and eloquent, and each was enthusiastically applauded whenever there was occasion to address the old soldiers or sailors attracted here by the encampment. The governor was accompanied by Attorney General John P. Elkin, who was not allowed to leave the city without being called upon for one of those characteristically patriotic speeches, such as thrilled his audiences when, as chairman of the Republican state committee, he was conducting the campaign in the interest of Colonel Stone for the governorship last fall.

HE ONCE HAD TO CLIMB THROUGH A WHITE HOUSE WINDOW.

An amusing story is told of President Arthur regarding an occurrence which happened during the last year of his occupancy of the White House. He was one of the most princely chief executives who have filled that high office. He entertained lavishly and dined out quite frequently. President Arthur kept late hours, and the ushers who were on duty at the White House at times went to sleep, depending on the noise of the carriage wheels and the horses' hoofs to wake them before the president could reach the door. One night a dinner was given in General Arthur's honor by the governor of the Soldiers' home, and it was 2:30 in the morning before he returned. The four ushers and policemen went to sleep, three of them in an anteroom just east of the private dining room and the fourth went to the basement to indulge in a short nap.

JUSTICE BEEBER A REPUBLICAN.

This is Justice Beeber's statement as given to the newspapers: "I cannot be a candidate of any party now. I am bound by the action of the convention, and the nomination having gone elsewhere, I am no longer in the field. I do not feel that I could accept an independent nomination, as good faith to the convention and to the Republican party requires that I should not, and therefore I will not."

BURNED AT THE STAKE.

Chicago Boy Seriously Scorched By His Comrades Playing Wild Indians.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Little Jerry O'Neil, 13 years old, of 455 Gross avenue, played he was a "pale face scout" and 19 other boys as blood-thirsty Indians, burned him at the stake in the prairie at Fortieth and Robey streets. The doctor said, after the performance, was over and little Jerry had been carried home, that, with proper care, he would recover.

Expenses of France Increased.

PARIS, Sept. 12.—The French budget for 1900 shows an increase in the estimated expenditure of 45,000,000 francs. The war and marine ministries ask for 36,000,000 francs increase for the supplementary force in Algiers, and the building of new warships. The national debt amounts to 36 milliards.

The Usual Cold Weather Scare.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The unlooked for cold snap and the frost of the last two nights has destroyed the fruit and grain crops of the interior points of Long Island and the farmers will lose heavily in consequence. The fruit on the trees for fall picking is reported to be a total loss.

Two Civil Service Appointments.

ALBANY, Sept. 12.—The state civil service commission has been notified of the appointments of Josephine A. Durant of New York city and Percy W. Tucker of Amsterdam to be as a first supervisors at the house of refuge for women at Hudson.

FUSION SCHEME IS COMPLETELY BLOCKED

Justice Dinner Beeber's Declaration of Party Loyalty Declares That Issue.

HE IS A CONSISTENT REPUBLICAN.

Determination of the Defeated Candidate For the Superior Court to Stand by His Party Prevents a Deal With the Democracy.

Harrisburg, Sept. 12.—That there was a carefully planned scheme on the part of certain disappointed politicians to effect a fusion with the Democracy on the state ticket was known to leading men in the Republican party for some time. The plan contemplated the withdrawal of Charles J. Reilly, the Democratic nominee for superior court justice, and the substitution of the name of Justice Dinner Beeber for his on the Republican ticket. This was to be done with the understanding that the Democrats were to support Beeber for the superior court in return for Republican votes which were to be thrown to Cressy, the Democratic candidate for state treasurer. Even if this deal had been consummated there would not have been the slightest danger of the defeat of either Lieutenant Colonel James E. Barnett or Josiah R. Adams, the candidate on the Republican ticket against whom this intrigue was directed. For every disgruntled Republican who would have supported a scheme of this character there would have been a dozen Democrats who would have repudiated it and voted the Republican ticket. The men who were engineering this project were sorely disappointed last week, when Justice Dinner Beeber came out in a public statement declaring that he would have nothing to do with the proposed fusion scheme.

JUSTICE BEEBER A REPUBLICAN.

This is Justice Beeber's statement as given to the newspapers: "I cannot be a candidate of any party now. I am bound by the action of the convention, and the nomination having gone elsewhere, I am no longer in the field. I do not feel that I could accept an independent nomination, as good faith to the convention and to the Republican party requires that I should not, and therefore I will not."

This manly stand taken by Justice Beeber was generally commented upon as indicating that he is deserving of the greatest consideration at the hands of the men identified with the Republican organization. It was recalled that throughout the campaign in favor of the successful candidate for this nomination not a single word was said derogatory to Justice Beeber. His announcement blocks the game of the men back of the guerrilla warfare which has been waged against Josiah R. Adams, the Republican nominee for justice of the superior court. The attempts to arouse opposition to him in the Republican party have been futile and ridiculous. Justice Beeber, in refusing to be a cat's-paw for the men are working for personal interests in politics will impress those who have not the pleasure of personal acquaintance with him with his good judgment and manliness of character.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF DIARRHOEA.

A prominent Virginia Editor Had Almost Given Up, But Was Brought Back to Perfect Health by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Read His Editorial.

From the Times, Hillsville, Va. I suffered with diarrhoea for a long time and thought that I was past being cured. I had spent money and suffered so much misery that I had almost decided to give up all hopes of recovery and await the result, but noticing the advertisements of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and also some testimonials stating how some wonderful cures had been wrought by this remedy, I decided to try it. After taking a few doses I was entirely well of that trouble, and I wish to say further to my readers and fellow sufferers that I am a hale and hearty man to-day and feel as well as I ever did in my life.—O. R. Moore. Sold by all druggists.

SOUR GRAPES FOR GUFFEY.

"I for one," said the gallant Colonel Guffey, without even as much as a smile upon his countenance, "would not favor any such plan. I am satisfied the sentiment is too strong throughout the state for a straight Democratic ticket to gain any support for a split ticket."

Democratic State Chairman Rilling followed the next day with a "me too" interview to the same effect, but there was a marked expression of disappointment upon all the workers about the Democratic state headquarters over the collapse of the fusion scheme.

This was their second failure to form a combination to help their state candidates in this campaign. They made a desperate effort to have the Prohibitionists put Cressy upon their ticket for state treasurer. They had the game all carefully set up with some of the leaders of the Prohibition party who were quietly encouraged to look favorably upon the proposition by certain disappointed Republicans, but when the delegates to the Prohibition state convention discovered what was going on they promptly sat down upon Cressy, whose friends, they declared, should never have had the audacity to attempt to foist him upon the Prohibition party, without his having the slightest claim to recognition from them. This setback was quite as unexpected as it was emphatic.

It looks as though Cressy is not going to cut much of a figure in this campaign.

FLINN MAKES A STATEMENT.

Following the declaration from Justice Beeber that he proposed to abide by the action of the Republican state convention, a statement from Senator William Flinn, of Allegheny, who was the acknowledged leader of what were known as the "insurgents" in the last legislature, is significant. Senator

A Word to Mothers.

Mothers of children affected with croup or a severe cold need not hesitate to administer Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It contains no opiate nor narcotic in any form and may be given as confidently to the babe as to an adult. Attitude toward the Republican state ticket replied:

"What else can it be but to aid it in every way possible? I am a Republican, and while I am still opposed to Senator Quay and his methods, which I had to say and do against the convention which nominated the present state ticket, I can do nothing but support it at the polls. I think I voice the sentiments of the Republicans of Allegheny when I say that they are opposed to Quay and his methods, and because of this feeling we do not for a minute consider ourselves regular."

"Should we have decided to protest against this ticket on election day we might have said that we had an ample precedent set by some of the men who are now closely identified with the Quay organization in the matter of bolting Republican conventions, particularly in our city in 1896, but we don't employ Philadelphia methods to govern our actions in Allegheny. What I had to say and do against the present Republican ticket was done in the convention at Harrisburg, and, having been overruled in this protest, I have nothing before me now but to maintain my Republicanism by supporting the nominees. While still opposing the Quay leadership Allegheny will still remain in the Republican as well as in the anti-Quay column."
