Guffey Talks State Issues to Them and National Politics to the Democracy.

PREPARING FOR NEXT YEAR.

An Address From the Democratic National Committee Which Is a Timely Warning to Republicans of Pennsylvania.

(Special Correspondence.) Harrisburg, Sept. 26,-Leading Republicans of this section of the state who have been to Philadelphia during the last week in consultation with General Frank Reeder, the chairman of the Republican state committee, state that the outlook for large Republican majorities from early reports that have come from the countles is most encouraging. They certainly are pleased with the prospects in Dauphin and nearby counties, and Congressman Olmstead, Mead Detwiler, Lyman D. Gllbert, ex-Mayor Patterson and other prominent members of the party all feel that this is going to be a great year for Republicanism in the old Keystone state. These men come in contact with the more influential and prominent Democrats of the state in their business and professional re-

TURN DOWN OF SANDERS.

They declare that there is an intense feeling among sound money Democrats over the treatment they are receiving at the hands of the present leadership of their party. The gold Democrats are disgusted at the exhibition in Philadelphia a few days ago when Dallas Sanders, who once held the responsible place of chairman of the Democratic state committee in Pennsylvania, under the conservative leadership of Samuel J. Randall, was turned down ignominiously in his aspirations to go as a delegate to a local Democratic convention, because it was charged that he did not vote for Bryan. Sanders was attacked in the most shameful fashion, they say, and notice was served upon all gold Democrats that they were not wanted in the party organization. This incident has created no end of adverse comment among Democrats throughout the state. It is declared that this, with other insults that have been heaped upon the sound money men, will make the Democratic vote in Pennsylvania cut a sorry figure at the coming election, There has been a great deal of talk from State Chairman Rilling about national issues not being a factor in the present campaign in Pennsylvania, but every day seems to make more conspicuous the fact that Bryanism is here to stay, and that no Democrat who does not bend the knee to the silver knight of Nebraska need hope for recognition or standing in the Democratic organization. Business men who have heretofore been identified with the Democratic party are awakening to the fact that the Democratic organization of the counties and state is as much in sympathy and accord with the movement for the renomination of Bryan for the presidency as the most radical and wild eyed of the rampant silverites of the mining district of the Rockies. They are not unmindful of the declaration of the Harrisburg state convention which once more heralded William Jennings Bryan as "Our Matelless Lender," and they know that support of the Democratic state ticket in Fennsylvania this fall means an endocement of the Bryanite program for the presidential election of next year.

GUFFEY'S DOUBLE ROLE.

Colonel James M. Guffey, member of the Democratic national committee from Pennsylvania, has been conferring with his lieutenants in Pittsburg and Philadelphia. He is fresh from the meeting of the executive committee of the Democratic national committee, which was held last week at Chicago. Colonel Guffey is co-operating heartily with the Bryanites, who are in absolute control of the Democratic national organization, and was present when the actional committee adopted its address to the Democracy of the country, in which it said:

"The national committee of the Democratic party in session at Chicago to consider the work of party organization preparatory to the campaign of 1902, sends greeting to the Democracy of the nation. with the ans the ce that the prospect of Democratic success next year grows brighter every day, and we have every reason for confidence as to the outcome.

"The great need now is party unity and thorough organization. The committee therefore appeals to our party friends in all states. and especially in the states where elections are to be held this year, to put aside all local differences wherever they exist and support the regular party tickets earnestly and enthusiastically, keeping always in view the great struggle of next year, and remembering that in unity there is strength and in division weakness."

With this appeal to Democrats to stand by their party in the hope of success in next year's presidential election still upon his lips, Colonel Guffey returns to Pennsylvania to reiterate to Republicans, whose support he seeks for the silverite candidates on his state ticket that "this is an off year campaign in Pennsylvania. National politics has nothing to do with this canvass. State issues alone are involved. Republicans who want good government should vote for the Demperatic ticket '

But Republicans recognize the fact that the greater the Democratic vote in Pennsylvania this fall the more consolation and encouragement will be given Bryan to make another desperate dash for the presidency next year.

The greater the appeals of the Democratic national committee to Democrats of Pennsylvania to get together for next year's battle the less considcration should Republicans give to the sincerity of their campaign cry of this being a state issue contest in Pennsylvania.

Colonel Guffey is not running the Democratic campaign in this state this fall for nothing. No one better than himself knows that there is not the ghost of a show for the election of any man on the Democratic ticket in Pennsylvania this year. He fully realizes that Mr. Creasy, the nominee of his party for state treasurer, is practically unknown to the voters of the state. The latter has not during the years he served as an officeholder at Harrisburg done anything to attract attention to himself beyond carrying out the plans outlined by the managers of the insurgent Republican He has not been affiliated with the active Democracy of the state and has neither their sympathy nor hearty support in his present

WANTS TO BE SENATOR. But Colonel Guffey has his own fish to fry. He would, of course, like to see a large Democratic vote polled this fall, but he is more eager to divide the Republicans wherever he sees it may be to his advantage in his aspirations for the United States senate. This is the meat in the political cocoanut which Colonel Guffey is giving his attention to in this campaign. He wants to divide the Republicans as much as possible, in order to help his canvass for the United States senate. He has mapped out a great scheme for fusion tickets for the legislature next year, by which he hopes to defeat regular Republican nominees for the senate and the house. His address intended particularly for the voters of Chester county, endorsing the fusion movement in that county this fall, was designed to further the cause of the combination of the Democrats and disgruntled Republicans, who have a fusion on the county officers Owing to a similar combine in this county last fall, the Democrats succeeded in capturing two of the four members of the legislature from Chester, which ordinarily ought to be a stalwart Republican county. Guffey is pursuing the same tactics throughout the state, and whenever he sees a chance to divide the Republicans locally he gives the Democrats all the encouragement possible. There will be show of fighting for the state ticket, but with the Republicanism of the commonwealth aroused and a general determination to support the Mc-Kinley administration in its war policy the Democrats realize that they have no chance of electing any one on their state ticket. They will, however, in local struggles do all in their power to disrupt the Republican organization in the hope of helping Guffey in his sen-

PHILADELPHIA TO HONOR THEM.

The "Fighting Tenth" Will Be the Only Troops From Manila in the Great Demonstration Over the Glorious Hero of

(Special Correspondence.)

Philadelphia, Sept. 26.- Elaborate preparations are being made for the entertainment of the Tenth Pennsylvania regiment, that participated with Dewey in the campaign in Luzon while they are here en route to the demonstration in New York in honor of the admiral. The "Fighting Tenth." who were received with such a glorious outburst of popular feeling in Pittsburg, are going to have a similar reception in the Quaker City, the home of American patriotism. They will find that Philadelphia cannot be excelled in paying a tribute of regard to the brave sons of Pennaylvania who went to the far off Philippines to defend the flag and give their lives if necessary for the dignity and honor of their country. No other state east of the Alleghenies can claim the credit of having a regiment in Luzon in the recent struggles with the Spanish and the Filipinos. The "Fighting Tenth" returned home with a record excelled by no other command for discipline and bravery in action. They were 71 days on the firing line, and the dead left in Luzon and the tattered battle flag that they brought home bear testimony to the valor and patriotism of the regiment.

Although Lieutenant Colonel James E. Barnett, who is in command of the regiment, has been unable to take any part in the canvass for his election as the Republican nominee for state treasurer, on account of his health having been broken down from his experience in the Philippines, it is believed that he will be strong enough to make the trip to New York.

Philadelphia will maintain her reputation for hospitality when the boys of the "Fighting Tenth" reach here this week. The Third regiment, every man of whom, under Colone. Robert Raiston, volunteered when the call came from the president, in the Spanish-American war, will be proud to have the members of the Tenth as guests. They will be at the station to meet them on their arrival, and will escort them to their regimental armory and entertain them at supper, After that there will be a series of "smokers" at convenient halls, each company looking after a company of the visitors for that occasion. Theatrical talent have been engaged for these events and they promise things of marvelous interest to the visitors

They will be accorded all the courtesies of the big show, and will to the exposition will be made the occasion for the presentation of the bronze cannon, which was brou; at from the Phinopines by the regiment, to the city of Philadelphia. There is every reason to believe that the visit of the Tenth to Philadelphia at the disposal of that dominant civilwill be made memoral le in the history of the regiment.

THE PLACE OF HONOR.

It is proposed to give the boys of the Tenth the right of the line of the Pennsylvania division of the parade in New York. It can be assumed that this regment, being the only command that was with Dewey in the Philippines will receive much attention along the line of march in Manhattan.

After the parade there will be an interesting reunion of the land and sea fighters, when the Pennsylvania soldiers meet the men of the Olympia. The officers, sailors and marines of Admiral Dewey's flagship have many interests in common. They were often together in Luzon. The Pennsylvania soldiers were frequent visitors to the vessels of the fleet and they came to know the men under Dewey almost as well as they did those of the regiments that were assigned to daty near them in the military operations on

The question of whether the trip of the Tenth from Pittsburg will be made in the daytime or by night has not yet been settled. Some persons think that the men should travel through Pennifa by day, in order to allow the residents of the eastern part of the state to see the soldiers. Others wish to travel by night.

THE MASCOT GOING.

"Boots" McDermott, the original mascot of the Tenth, will go to New York with the regiment. This lad, standing with his bootblack's kit at his usual rendezvous at the Union station, declared to a number of companions that he would go to meet Admiral Dewey if he were obliged to "bum" his way, as he expressed it. "Boots" visited the clympla when the warship lay before Manila, and the admiral and his sailors took so much interest in the boy that he was presented with a jackie's uniform and a small silk flag as a token of their estimation of the pluck of the Tenth's mascot.

"Boots" declares that he will wear his "Dewey" uniform, and will carry the flag in the parade. The boy manifests great interest in the preparations that are being made for the New York celebration, and wants to know "Teddy" Roosevelt will be in "de

Governor Stone and his staff will ride at the head of the Peansylvania troops in the New York parade. The "Fightine Tenth" will be given the place of honor at the right of the line, and with the other regiments of the provisional brigade from this state will he under command of Brigadier General Schall. They will be the First, Second, Third and Ninth regiments.

Mr. Butler, who is secretary and general manager of one of the largest insurance companies in the state, says that as a business man he has a decided interest in the success of the Republican party this fall. Defeat, or doubtful victory, means an uncertain contest next year and its consequent derangement of business. He heartily advocates the election of the whole Republican ticket and declares that every business man who wishes to see the era of prosperity continued should exert his influence to help swell the Republican vote this

A BUSINESS QUESTION ONLY. "The question of holding the Philippines temporarily or permanently is a business question only," says Mr. Butler, "interwoven to a certain extent with the moral question. In all the advances of the civilized races, so called, into the domain of the uncivilized or inferior races, the business question and self interest have been the motive powers. Columbus was not moved by philanthrophy in sailing westward over the unknown seas, but was attempting to find a shorter passage to the Indies, for commercial purposes. His commercial venture resulting in the discovery of America, where it caused the destruction practically of the native races, placed two great continents into the possession of, and

"Today the business question is the motive power behind England, Germany, France and Portugal in their invasions into the heart of the dark continent. The same business question is back of Russian, German, English and French advances into Asia. These great nations are not fools, and we should consider carefully the business side of this question before we decide to run counter to the commercial policy of all the great nations of the Eastern Hemisphere.

izing force of the world, the Caucasian

"It is not the proper way to discuss business proposition to cry imperialism and militarism, and attempt to excite the passions as a red rag excites a bull. Neither is it proper to advance theories, ancient moorings and moral questions. We must take the world as we find it, not as it was a hundred years ago, or as we would like to see it. The civilizing force of business is invading the valleys, the forests and the mountains of the inferior races, and we could not stop it if we would, for it will move on like the fatal Juggernaut, crushing out all opposition and gathering to the peo-ple who wield its forces the great and unknown wealth of these so-called heathen lands. We may shudder at the thought, but the work of subjugating these people will go on, even though we stand aside and see other nations place into the coffers of their people this great wealth.

THE DUTY OF OUR GOVERNMENT. "One of the fundamental principles of our government is the greatest good to the greatest number, not to the world's people, but to our own people. The physical welfare of our people is one of the most pressing duties. Their moral advancement usually keeps pace with the physical.

"Remunerative labor will best advance our people's physical and moral welfare. Our manufacturing capacity is unlimited, our present markets are limited, hence, at times we face labor troubles, communism possible anarchy. We have an acreage unequaled in its extent and productive capacity, yet the demand for our soil products is often limited, bringing commercial depression, for much wealth grows on the earth's surface when it can find a

"The greatest good to the greatest number of our people will be best served by securing by every possible means a market for the manufacturing and agricultural products of the country. This will give employment to our people, with an increase of remuneration and wealth.

But what has the Philippine question to do with this? Perhaps much, perhaps nothing. If we conclude to hold the Philippines we will have taken a step toward adopting the commercial policy of the greatest nations of the earth. If we relinquish the Philippines on moral grounds and the fear of abandoning some ancient moorings, we will not benefit the Philippinos, for the Juggernaut of commercial greed from other sources will sweep over the islands and we may miss our opportunity to advance the commercial prosperity of our people on the lines that have made Ergland the richest nation on the earth.

"Within a short period of time our army and our navy have astonished the world and served notice to all the great powers to keep their hands off our affairs, a protection greater than the Monroe doctrine. If we but reasonably improve our war footing no nation will seek a conflict with us, and we will be proud to say that we are Americans, and we will be shown proper respect and be protected in every land throughout the world.

THE FUTURE OF OUR COUNTRY. "We are a growing nation, the most progressive on the earth. We must expand to meet the requirements and demands of our increasing population. Greater dangers menace our government from an unemployed and restless people than will ever come to this intelligent people from a reasonable military power, and a continuance of n r expansion policy, a policy we have followed under all parties since the original 13 colonies bound themselves together for the common good in an Indissoluble bond of union.

Demagogues, theorists and visionaries have demanded that the president withdraw the army and navy from the Philippines and abandonsthese ignorant natives, these children (as we might say) in the theory and practice of self government, to the mercies of Aguinaldo and his army of cut throats.

"What right have our repudiated leaders to demand that this great question shall not go to the people. To give up the Philippines, or make an agreement to give them up, is to deny the recole the right to pass on this great and important business question. The common people have as much right to be heard as the millionaires, the repudiated statesmen and the demagogues in polities posing for popu-

WHO SHOULD DECIDE?

"This question should be considered by the people. The national administration has a plain duty before it. The fortunes of war have placed the Philippines in our possession. The administration should hold them at all hazards, until the people have carefully considered and spoken on the great question, whether by continuing our expansion policy we are to become the greatest nation on the earth, commercially, or whether in a cowardly spirit we are to build around us a Chinese wall, called the Monroe doctrine, and assume the responsibility of denying to our laborers and capitalists their rightful share of the world's

"Labor troubles may cost us more money and more lives than the sustaining of a reasonable expansion pol-

"The people's interest lay in making this a great nation. Great things are accomplished by advances, not by retreating

"The Republican party stands for expansion and enlarged markets, as well as the home markets for our laborers and capital.

'Many Democrats individually believe in the same doctrine, though their party is an opposition party.

REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS. "This should not be a party question. It is an American question. Are you not proud of the record of our army and navy? Has not the noble work of our brave boys made you an American above and beyond the reach of the demagogue and the theorist? "Will you vote to take down the flag, that glorious emblem of Liberty, from any foot of soil on which the brave boys have planted it?

"Your answer will be recorded as in 1861 to 1865. Then without regard to party the word nation was written in the blood of the herces of the civiwar, and today the line and gray re joice that the north and west decided that we must govern the south even without the coasent of the governed temporarily.

"Will you yote as the brave boys fought, for the supremacy of American interests at home and abroad?

"If in 1900 the people decide for a Chinese policy, for a retrigrade movement, for laber troubles, for communism and possible anarchy, we will all obey the will of the people, for the people rule.

"In the fall of 1829 we should, by large majorities, sound the preliminary note of protest against the sur-render of one foot of soll on which the flag has been planted, and we hould speak through the ballot in decided language in favor of giving to our labor and our capital every advantage enjoyed by the people of any other nation."
