

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 31.

There are some things like drugs that you can get better and cheaper at a drug store than anywhere else. One of them is soap—we mean toilet soap, of course.

Do you remember the old original white castle soap that used to strike terror to our youthful hearts when Saturday evening came round, marking the time for the weekly "scrub." We've got that kind (the oldest and best castle) at 20c per lb—6 1/2 or 3 1/2 lb cakes for 25c.

A dozen different kinds of good toilet and bath soaps at 5 and 10 cents a cake.

Packers, Cuticura and other special purpose soaps—a full line.

Williams' famous Yankee Shaving Soaps—mug soap and shaving stick. The shaving stick, by the way makes shaving a pleasure, to those who are their own barbers.

Pear's—the kind Henry Ward Beecher used—unscented 15c, the scented costs 20c.

Those who know and want the highest priced soaps, can get White Rose Glycerine No. 4711, Cashmere Bouquet and Rogers & Gallets soaps. There are no better.

The best and purest drugs and chemicals in stock.

THE DAVIS PHARMACY.

Elm and Bridge Streets.

THE FOREST REPUBLICAN.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1900.

FIRE INSURANCE

REAL ESTATE AGENCY

C. M. ARNER & SON, TIONESTA, PA.

All Leading Companies Represented.

Wild Lands, Farms, Houses & Lots for Sale or Rent.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

New Advertisements.

Robinson, Ad. James, dry goods. Ad. Clarion Normal. Local. Rev. Rumberger, Local.

Oil market closed at $1.65. Oil and gas leases at this office.

Try the "New Way" at the Tionesta Cash Store.

Three cakes butter milk soap 10 cents at Heath & Killmer.

The Christian Endeavor society was 19 years old Feb. 21.

Fresh canned goods and meats at Tionesta Cash Store.

One week from to-morrow will be Washington's birthday.

Anything wanted in drugs and patent medicines, see Heath & Killmer.

There were numerous ducks on the creek last week, but none were bagged.

Phone 31 for fresh groceries quick. Prices are the lowest. Tionesta Cash Store.

What a man designates obstinacy in his wife he designates firmness in himself.—Er.

W. J. Howard, of the Weber House, Tylersburg, has purchased the City Hotel at Rimersburg.

Lenton season opens this year on the last day of February, and Easter Sunday will be April 15th.

Tionesta Summer School will begin May 7, 1900. Those desiring information address R. N. Speer, Tionesta, Pa.

Rev. C. C. Rumberger has a Burdette organ, in excellent condition, which he will sell at a very reasonable figure.

It is possible to get in ten hours of work without the aid of artificial light now, provided the day is not "too dark and dreary."

Special classes will be organized during the spring at the Clarion State Normal School for graduates and others to pursue higher studies.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Weaver, at Hotel Agnew, very pleasantly entertained a jolly progressive euchre party last evening.

Mrs. Jennie Silvis, aged 22 years, died at the home of her father, Joseph Steiner, German Hill, yesterday morning, of lung trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Heath, of Starr, Pa., desire to thank the many friends who so kindly gave them aid and sympathy during the illness and after the death of a loved sister, Miss Rosa Mattes.

The trial of Joe Kennedy, alias Frank Major, for complicity in the Titusville tragedy in which Chief McGrath was killed, was to have begun at Meadville this week, but has been postponed till a future time.

The State fish commissioners will soon begin delivering the blanks for small fish fry. Each county is entitled to a share of this specialty, according to its population.

Ada Ralston, a girl sixteen years of age, brown hair, greyish brown eyes, left her home near Kellettsville, Feb. 11th.

This is Valentine day. We got ours a week ago. Some smart Alex got one which he thought just hit us, and couldn't wait till the right day arrived.

Forest Lodge, A. O. U. W., will hold a box festival at the hall on the evening of the 23d, one week from next Friday.

Some people may belittle the influence of the press, especially their home newspaper; but let a little word or criticism find its way into print and be to whom it refers will raise an awful rumpus.

In mid-winter is not the easiest time to get first class vegetables or fruits, but Amster always makes out to have them, and they are never stale either.

The Farm Journal is all sunshine, writes J. H. Hale, the great Connecticut fruit man, and the REPUBLICAN thinks so too.

There will be no jury court this month, the business, both civil and criminal, being so light as to make it unnecessary to hold the same.

Those from here who attended the farmers' institute at Clarington last week report an exceptionally successful and interesting event.

The closing of the two banks in this place Monday was the only reminder that it was Lincoln's birthday and a legal holiday.

The Postoffice Department at Washington will soon issue books of two-cent postage stamps.

Messrs. Herman and Carson, the Democratic members of the board of County Commissioners, made the appointment of a clerk yesterday in the person of Prof. M. T. Hindman of Bernet township, who has the requisite qualifications to make a good official in that capacity.

There will be quarterly meeting services in the Free Methodist church at Stewart's Run, Pa., Feb. 16 to 18, conducted by Rev. M. B. Miller, D. E.

Don't miss the lecture at the court house to-night. Dr. McArthur is one of the best in the land, and this, the last of the course, will be the best by far.

The famous Kinzua bridge, between Johnsonburg and Bradford, on the B. & P. Ry., will be replaced in the spring with a heavier and stronger structure.

An Austin woman spent 60 cents in answer to an advertisement of a way to make a waist last. She received a postal telling her to make the rest of her clothes first.—Er.

Following is list of letters remaining uncalled for in the Tionesta, Pa., post office for the week ending Feb. 14, 1900: Mr. P. M. Clark (two), Mr. Jim Rhodes, D. S. Knox, P. M.

Red fox pelts are selling at three and four dollars apiece. Added to this is a bounty of $1.00, which makes it worth while to give some attention to the capture of the varmints, and we note a many of our farmers are doing so.

Ex-Sheriff Sawyer, who is building an addition to Mr. Fulton's harness and saddlery store, met with a mishap which might have been much more serious than it was.

The Barnett twp. local institute held at Greenwood church last Saturday was very successful, writes a friend.

Mr. and Mrs. James Canfield returned from their little four-year-old boy, Claude, from Pittsburg, where they had taken him to receive treatment by Dr. Lippencott, specialist.

It is announced from New York that in consequence of a deal between Pennsylvania Railroad and New York Central interests, the W. N. Y. & P. railroad passes to A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, and the interests with which he is identified.

Announcements made by the publishers that every reader of the great Philadelphia Sunday Press will receive next Sunday, February 18, absolutely free two souvenirs of a character and value far beyond anything heretofore offered by a newspaper.

Charles Kuhl of Redelffo, this county, and Clara Frazer, of Farmington twp., Clarion county, have been granted a license to wed.

The Republic acknowledges a pleasant call from Mr. and Mrs. John M. Elder, of West Hickory, who were Tionesta visitors Monday.

J. R. Ault and Lew Cook of Nebraska, were welcome callers one day last week. They were on their way to Clintontown, where Mr. Ault is interested in a most flourishing oil lease.

Mrs. M. Cox, of Boston, is here settling up the affairs of her late husband, Matthew Cox, who will be pleasantly remembered by many of our people.

Mr. Simon, whose severe injury by falling off the Lawrence foot bridge which spans the creek was noted last week, is gaining rapidly, and will be able to go to his home in Oil City in a day or two.

Joseph Wuerzgo of Whig Hill, was a welcome caller at the REPUBLICAN office last Thursday. Mr. W. has been in his day one of the hardest working citizens of our county, but he is getting up in years now, and has not the health he used to have, though he don't complain of that.

Geo. K. Lehner, with the Nelson & Buchanan Co., of Chambersburg, Pa., who are agents for the extensive Pittsburgh Bridge Co., has our thanks for a neat paper knife sent out by his firm.

Morris Einstein of Philadelphia was visiting old Tionesta friends a day or two last week. Morris was looking well and enjoying life in its fullest measure.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Mr. Frank X. Kreidler, of Nebraska, Forest county, arrived in town Monday evening for a short visit with his many Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

Prof. R. N. Speer, principal of our high school, received the sad intelligence of the death of his mother, Mrs. Alexander Speer, at her home near Denneytown, Venango county, on Sunday morning last.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Miss Margaret Collins in her 28th year died at her home in Oil City last Friday afternoon, from tuberculosis from which she had suffered for several months.

Brookville Republican:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown drove over from Mayburg, Forest county, Saturday to spend a few days with Brookville friends.

Miss Kathleen Joyce was in Oil City over Sunday in attendance at the funeral.

There have been poultry books printed costing fifteen dollars and more, but there never has been one at any price with more beautiful colored reproductions of poultry than those found in Biggie Poultry Book, an announcement of which appears in another column.

Vertical text on the far left edge of the page, likely a page number or binding mark.