Overwhelming Victories For Stalwarts at the Primaries.

ELKIN'S PERSONAL TRIUMPH.

His Friends Carry Indiana by a Great Majority-Huntingdon Turns Down Caucus Bolter Chisolm. Franklin, Cambrin, Adams, Cumberland, Juniata and Other Counties Speak Out.

(Special Correspondence.) Harrisburg, March 20.-There were several overwhelming defeats administered to the insurgents of the Flinn-

Martin following in Pennsylvania politics on Saturday last. At almost every point where they sought to break through the lines of the followers of Colonel M. S. Quay, the element representing the party caucus bolters and the party wreckers was routed com-

The most significant vote possibly was in Indiana county, where, under the leadership of Attorney General John P. Elkin, the regulars confronted the insurgents with confidence and determination from the outset of the canvas. The insurgents were personally directed by William Filnn, of Pittsburg, who had guaranteed at one of the Philadelphia conferences the nomination of insurgent members of the legislature from seven western counties-namely, Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Indiana, Jefferson Lawrence and Mercer counties. In five of these counties the insurgents have already been defeated, and it is believed they will also be turned down in the two others. J. S. Fisher, the regular candidate for senator in Indiana county, defeated Morrow, the Flinn candidate, by 3,400 majority. Leard and Thompson, the old members, were renominated by 2,000 majority over Watson, who was backed by Flinn and the insurgent out-

It was a battle royal waged on the straight issue between the friends of Senator Quay for party regularity and those of Flinn, who stand for the party wreckers.

The issue was made plain and the Flinn campaign managers spent thousands of dollars to defeat the regulars, headed by Attorney General Elkin. It was the most pronounced majority ever gained by the organization since the factional fight began five years ago. The regulars carried everything. They have the senate, the legislature, national delegate and state delegates, and all the county ticket.

The last heard of the Flinn insurgents they were beating a hasty retreat to the more congenial quarters down in the "Smoky City," where the big city boss controls his people. M. J. Lewis was nominated for national delegate, H. B. McIntire, T. D. Stephens and T. S. Neal for state delegates.

The friends of the attorney general control the county organization by at least 5 to 1. Watson and Elder, the in-Indiana. Watson was defeated in his own ward.

Fisher for the senate carried every district in the county but two. The largest vote ever polled at a primary election was polled at these primarles. There was good sleighing all over the county and the voters turned out in sleighs to attend the election. The primaries were held under the popular vote system, and hence the result was a square test as to the sentiment of the people upon the questions which divide Republicans in the state. Senator Quay never received a more emphatic indorsement than was given him at these primaries. The regulars were for a couple of days celebating, while the party wreckers were hunting their political holes.

Indiana county has no use for the Flinn methods in politics.

Senator Quay carried Cambria county at Saturday's primaries by a large majority. Captain Thomas Davis and James Shumaker were nominated for the legislature. Senator Stineman had no opposition for renomination. The delegates to the state convention are strong Quay men.

HUNTINGDON FOR QUAY.

One of the most pronounced stalwart Republican victories at the primaries on Saturday last was that recorded in a popular vote in Huntingdon county, where a bitter fight had been waged for weeks, with the anti-Quay forces plentifully supplied with money from insurgent bosses in Philadelphia and Pittsburg. All the power of the Martin-Flinn organization was thrown into this county, as there was a state senator and two members of the house of representatives at stake. In the last session of the legislature the senator from this district, Dr. H. C. Chisolm, although for years a friend of Colonel Quay and a beneficiary to a zonsiderable extent through friendship, surprised the regular Republicans by bolting the Republican caucus nominee and joining hands with the insurgents and Democrats in their fusion deal to prevent the election of the choice of a large majority of the Republicans of the legislature for the United States senatorship.

Chisolm has been one of the frequenters of the conferences held under the direction of Martin and Flinn in Philadelphia, and his name appeared conspicuously in the list of insurgents who signed the anti-Quay addresses. He announced himself a candidate to succeed himself, and he appealed to his neighbors in Huntingdon to sustain his position. A bitter contest ensued, with the regular Republican leadership of the county handicapped through lack of funds, and with almost unlimited resources in opposition.

It is asserted that not less then $5,000 were used by the anti-Quay leaders to carry out their plans to get control of the organization, nominate Chisolm for state senator and name the two members of the legislature. It is reported that one of the district leaders boasted of having received $100 and a ticket to Philadelphia and return for his ineffectual efforts to carry his township. A spirit of discord and dissatisfaction among the leaders of the anti-Quay faction over the methods of the campaign, however, was a fruitful source of their gradual disintegration. At the supreme moment many of their followers throughout the county, realizing their leaders' aim of self aggrandizement, became disgusted with the hollowness of the whole movement and rallied to the support of the regular party candidates. Not one of the insurgent candidates carried his own election district. Chisolm, the head of the insurgent organization in the county, carried but one of the four wards Huntingdon. Oliver L. Stewart, who was pitted against Chisolm for the senatorial nomination by the regulars, was declared by the bolters to be a pronounced Quay adherent, and the people so regarded him. He defeated Chisolm with this issue squarely before the Republican voters by a majority of 30 delegates out of 62 precincts. For the assembly in Huntingdon county the regulars supported Thomas Montgomery and John C. Taylor, both stalwarts, and they won by big majorities over former District Attorney H. H. Waite and W. Scott Huyett, the favorites of the insurgents. Huntingdon county's choice for national delegate is Carl M. Gage, and I. N. Swope and G. Chalmers Port, both regulars, were successful in the canvass for delegates to the Republican state convention. The campaign of the regulars was directed by former Senator W. McK. comprise the senatorial district which Dr. Chisolm at present represents. As Dr. Chisolm has failed to carry his own county, he is, of course, out of the race for renomination. He would have been bitterly opposed by the Republicans of Franklin county, even if he had carried Huntingdon, for local rea-The Republicans of Franklin are not in sympathy with caucus bolt-ers, and they would have refused to have recognized Chisolm as a regular Republican. In Franklin, where the Republicans held their primaries also on Saturday last, there was a clean sweep by the regular or stalwart ele-The fight centered on the nomination of two candidates for the assembly. During the recent session of the legislature both of Franklin's representatives in the house voted with the regular organization, and it was the evident desire of the Republican voters of the county that the two men who should be named to succeed them must also be stalwarts. There was a sentiment in the county in favor of the renomination of Representative W. Kreps, who was a useful member of the last house, but when he was suddenly stricken with illness and found himself unable to give personal attention to his canvass he announced his withdrawal, so that there would be no question about the nomination of two regulars. The outcome was the sucss of A. Nevin Pomeroy, editor of the Franklin Repository, and B. F. Welty, of Washington township. They are both former members of the house and stand well in the state. Congressman Mahon carried the county for renomination, and Alexander Stewart, a surgent candidates, lost every ward in | brother of Judge John Stewart, had no opposition for state senator. There will be a contest Franklin and Huntingdon counties for the state senatorship, but there can be no mistaking the sentiment in favor of the nomination of a man who will go into the Republican caucus and abide by the will of the majority.

ADAMS AND CUMBERLAND.

The primaries in Adams county on Saturday last resulted in a complete victory for the leaders of the regular Republican organization who are friends and supporters of Colonel Quay. The 60 delegates of the county, with few exceptions, are pronounced Quay men, and no opposition of a serious character was presented against J. L. Hill, Jr., for national delegate and Donald P. McPherson for delegate to the Republican state convention. The party organization in this county is lined up with the admirers of Governor Stone and his administration, and there is a sentiment in favor of giving Governor Stone full credit for the ad-mirable manner in which he has conducted affairs of state since his election to office.

Cumberland county, which is in this congressional district, elected delegates on Saturday, and the friends of Colonel Charles H. Mullin won a signal victory. Colonel Mullin is a well known manufacturer and a friend of Colonel Quay. He will be one of the national delegates from this district.

RHEUMATISM OR MONEY IS REFUNDED.

This preparation is put up in cartons containing two bottles, which have to be mixed, and is sold by drugleists at $1.25 per package. It has been tested in hundreds of cases of Rhemmatism and has never failed to make a permanent cure when the directions have been fully compiled with. In ordinary cases from one to three packages will effect a cure, but in cases of long standing, where the Uric Acid crystals have settled in the joints and they have become stiffened, it will take from ten to twelve packages to dissolve the crystals and effect a permanent cure. Should your druggist not have it and decline to get it for you, or try to sell you "something just as good," write us, and upon receipt of price we will send by express, prepaid; and if it falls to benefit or effect a cure, we will refund the money.

It is also the only positive cure known for Riggs' disease of the guns, which is caused by Uric Acid, and it is recommended by all first-class dentists.
