

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 28.

It doesn't make much difference what kind of paper a man's notes are written upon, if he can only realize on them. But a woman's notes should be written on the best and most appropriate paper obtainable. That kind is made by George B. Hurd & Co., of New York, who set the fashion in fine stationery. We sell it and have a good selection of the latest shapes and colors.

The "Society Miniature Note" and "Bank Note Bond" are the small papers for invitations, regrets, etc.; price 35c. The regular sizes in Hurd's range from 25c. to 45c. We have, however, a good note paper in pretty boxes that sells for 15c.

Legal-cap and fool-cap and note paper and envelopes, in bulk, tablets, business blanks and blank books for commercial use, such as ledgers, journals, day books, record, counter, time and memorandum books and anything for the desk or office.

Ask to see the Photo. mailing envelopes if you wish to see something you have always felt the need of when sending pictures by mail. Put in the photograph, write the address and put on a 2c-stamp and the trick is done. No bother, 5 cents each.

THE DAVIS PHARMACY.

Elm and Bridge Streets.

—Mr. Freedman of Oil City has brought his goods on and occupies his newly acquired property, the Barnett block. He expects in a few days to be ready for customers in the clothing, dry goods and boot and shoe line. His family will occupy quarters in the building as soon as they can get things comfortably shaped around.

—The firm of Heak & Killmer, druggists and grocers, has been dissolved by mutual consent, Mr. Heak retiring, and Mr. Killmer continuing the business as heretofore. The firm has acquired a flourishing trade in the four years in which it has conducted business at that stand, and Mr. Killmer will, by giving strict attention to the wants of customers, old and new, and keeping right up to date in every detail, endeavor to merit an increase in this trade. Success to you, George.

—In these days of universal newspaper reading the people look for something more in their journals than what is ordinarily spoken of as "news." Few things of everyday life are more important to the whole public than the purchase and sale of commodities. The wise merchant will, therefore, tell them what he wants to sell. There is no better way to convey the desired information than by means of advertising. His store news doesn't come by telegraph, or over the city editor's desk, but it is news all the same.

—Mr. Fulton scooped in a very nice order for ten set of heavy harness a few days ago for the Carter Oil Co., of Sistersville, W. Va. While he had to compete for the order it was awarded to him largely on the merits of his goods, he having filled a like order about a year ago for this same company, and the satisfaction then rendered largely influenced the placing of the present order. Mr. Fulton has recently enlarged his establishment giving him a commodious and very nicely appointed place to carry on his ever increasing trade. Honest work and "on honor" dealing will always win out in the long run.

—The following item from the Titusville World of Saturday will interest a large number of the friends of Mr. Iredell, who for a long time was superintendent of the extract works at Marienville where he has a host of friends who will wish him success in his new undertaking. "The many friends of Mr. S. N. Iredell will regret to learn of his intended removal from this city early in April to Norfolk, Va. Mr. Iredell, with one of his sons, will take charge of agencies and will also engage in the manufacturing business, the raw material for which grows in the vicinity of Norfolk. The gentleman recently spent some time in Norfolk and made preparations for entering business there."

—Amsos Elder, aged 53 years shot and killed his wife, aged 50 years, at the family home on Plimmer street, Oil City, last Sunday evening shortly before 6 o'clock. Elder was an indolent character and though able-bodied and well, persistently refused to provide for his family, and Mrs. Elder had supported them and him for some time past. Friends refused to help her any more unless she turned her lazy husband away. About three weeks ago he abused her in a brutal manner and left her. Sunday evening he turned up at the family residence, and without much ceremony and no cause whatever shot his wife four times, killing her almost instantly. He then fled and has not yet been captured, though a posse has been in pursuit, and a reward will probably be offered on the recommendation of the coroner's jury.

—The "Little Blue Book," a complete pocket guide to Pennsylvania. The March number issued on the 13th, revised and enlarged. Every business or traveling man should have it. Send one dollar for one year, or ten cents for single copy. Revised and issued once a month. Address Little Blue Book, Milton, Pa.

—The author of "Bandanna Ballads," in the April Ladies' Home Journal, is one of the newer singers of negro folk-lore. She is Miss Howard Weeder, and her ballads have elicited the highest praise of Joel Chandler Harris. She illustrates her own writings with pictures that are as felicitous, faithful and convincing as her verse.

—Considerable of the REPUBLICAN'S space is devoted to-day to an article dealing with a number of Tionesta's active business men and firms. The write-ups are by C. Parke Greene, who is located in Oil City, where he will be engaged in ad. writing. Doubtless his estimate of the town and its business people will be scanned with interest by our readers.

—A flock of about fifteen wild geese were driven down by the storm of Monday and lit in the wheat stubble up at the county farm, where they fed the greater part of the day. In the afternoon Harry Dano who has been employed as carpenter at the new bank building, went up and managed to bag a ten-pounder. He will have the high honker "set up" by a taxidermist.

—Hiram Blow, well and favorably known to many in this section, where he once was largely engaged in the manufacture of staves, died at his home in Titusville on Sunday last. Mr. Blow has spent the most of his time during the last eight years looking after extensive lumber and stove mills with headquarters at Central City, Ky., which business is and will remain in charge of his son, V. J. Blow.

—The Farm Journal is the boldest, hit-the-nail-on-the-head paper, cut to fit the farmer and villager who know what's what. The Farm Journal for nearly five years (remainder of 1900 and all of 1901, 1902, 1903 and 1904) and the REPUBLICAN one year, will both be sent to every new subscriber to our paper, and to every old subscriber who pays up arrears and one year in advance. Walk right up to the captain's office.

—The actual work of raising the famous Kinzua bridge will begin next week. The bridge is nearly a half mile long and 30 feet high and will be taken down in sections. When the bridge was built it was considered one of the engineering feats of the century, and was strong enough to carry the rolling stock then in use, but of use of later-day locomotives and cars of extraordinary weight renders the bridge unsafe. The new bridge will be similar to the old one and will be built of steel.

—The coach dog, "Rex," owned by the proprietors of the Central House, took an ugly streak Saturday evening and bit the little daughter of a Danish woman who is an employee of the house. The brute bit the little one on the cheek and made a very severe wound, lacerating the flesh badly, and probably marring the child's face permanently. This dog has been known to be of a vicious nature for a long time and has been muzzled, but the muzzle has never been much of an impediment to his biting propensities. We can readily understand how easily a person can become attached to a good dog, but we can't understand how anyone can maintain or even tolerate a brute of such a vicious nature as this one.

—By reference to the first column of the editorial page of this paper it will be seen that Messrs. Black and Towler, Assembly candidates, have placed their withdrawal in the hands of Chairman Walker.

—F. Walters & Co., our up-to-date milliners, are making preparation for their Easter opening, and as they always make an improvement on the previous, the ladies can look for something simply "out of sight" this time.

—Rafting of square timber and saw logs has begun in this section for the season. Very little, if any, sawed lumber is being rafted. This is not as it used to be, when, at this season of the year, the mouth of Tionesta creek was filled with lumber for a mile's distance.

YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS.

Administratrix Notice.

Whereas, Letters of Administration on the estate of Matthew Cox, late of Tionesta, Pa., deceased, having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted to said estate are hereby notified to make prompt payment, and those having claims against said estate will present them, without delay to:

HENRY F. E. COX, Administratrix. Tionesta, Pa., Feb. 19, 1900.

It is very hard to stand idly by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany (N.Y.) dairyman called at a drug store there for very sick with cough. Not finding the doctor in, he left word for him to come at once on his return. He also bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he hoped would give some relief until the doctor should arrive. In a few hours he returned, saying the doctor need not come, as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Scholz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends until he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country. For sale by all druggists.

A. R. DeFluent, editor of the Journal, Doylestown, Ohio, suffered for a number of years from rheumatism in his right shoulder and side. He says, "My right arm at times was entirely useless. I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm and was surprised to receive relief almost immediately. The Pain Balm has been a constant companion of mine ever since and it never fails." For sale by all druggists.

"After doctors failed to cure me of pneumonia I used One Minute Cough Cure and three bottles of it cured me. It is also the best remedy on earth for whooping cough. It cured my grandchildren of the worst cases." writes John Barry, Logan, Pa. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Cures coughs, colds, croup, and throat and lung troubles. It prevents consumption. Children always like it. Mothers endorse it. Health & Killmer.

—Try the "New Way" for better prices.

We have saved many doctor bills since we began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home. We keep a bottle open all the time and whenever any of my family or myself begin to catch cold we begin to use the Cough Remedy, and as a result we never have to send away for a doctor and incur a large doctor bill. For Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never fails to cure. It is certainly the medicine of great merit and worth.—D. S. Mearkie, general merchant and farmer, Mattie, Bedford county, Pa. For sale by all druggists.

"I had bronchitis every winter for years and no medicine gave me permanent relief until I began to take One Minute Cure. I know it is the best cough medicine made," says J. Koonst, Corry, Pa. It quickly cures coughs, colds, croup, asthma, grippe and throat and lung troubles. It is the children's favorite remedy. Cures quickly. Health & Killmer.

Geo. Barle, Mendota, Vt., says, "Nothing did me so much good as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. One dose relieved me, a few bottles cured me." It digests what you eat and always cures dyspepsia. Health & Killmer.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is unequalled for piles, injuries and skin diseases. It is the original Witch Hazel Salve. Beware of all counterfeits. Health & Killmer.

W. S. Philpot, Albany, Ga., says, "DeWitt's Little Early Risers did more good than any pills I ever took." The famous little pills for constipation, biliousness and liver and bowel troubles. Health & Killmer.

Mrs. J. K. Miller, Newton Hamilton, Pa., writes, "I think Dewitt's Witch Hazel Salve the greatest salve made." It cures piles and haemorrhoids. All fraudulent imitations are worthless. Health & Killmer.
