

Republican Ticket.

STATE. Auditor General—E. B. HARDENBERG, Wayne County. Congressmen-at-Large—GALUSHA A. GROWN, of Susquehanna County, ROBERT H. FOERDERER, of Philadelphia.

COUNTY. Assembly—A. M. DOUTT, Tionesta Borough. Associate Judge—W. H. H. DOTTERER, Kingsley Twp. District Attorney—SAMUEL D. IRWIN, Tionesta Borough.

By a final decision in Washington the official spelling will be "Porto Rico." That sounds familiar and saves 10 per cent in writing the name.

Up to the present it has not occurred to Mr. Pettigrew to introduce a resolution making inquiry concerning the Republican gains in South Dakota.

BRYAN and Allen will write the Populist platform in May and the Democratic National convention in July will begin business with a superimposed turret.

The platform adopted by the Republicans in 1896 is national history in 1900. It is a hint for the next four years too clear to be mistaken and too valuable to be neglected.

THE Boers with 20,000 men seem to be trying to surround Roberts, who has five times as many. Boers must be careful not to get bottled up and depend on Buller to raise the siege.

ALL that remains to complete the work of Goebelism in Kentucky is to indict the entire Republican party and to pass a law that no one who has been indicted shall ever vote again.

A VERMONT woman announces that she is a candidate for Vice President on the ticket with Dewey. The feminine element is strongly marked in the Admiral's advent into politics.

A TENNESSEE Democrat has been defeated for Congress because he named his son after Grover Cleveland. Yet it is claimed that the Democratic party is a harmonious institution.

A SPANISH writer attributes the licking we gave Spain to "Yankee luck." The Democrats attribute the return of prosperity to "Republican luck." It is better to be born lucky than blind.

THE Chicago platform attributes to the demonization of silver "a corresponding fall in the prices of commodities produced by the people." A party that reaffirms that nonsense in the year 1900 confesses that the stock of common sense is exhausted.

If the Democratic party is determined to make both the head and tail of its ticket out of military material, would not Colonel Bryan and General Aguirre do make a good combination? The former is a talker and the latter is a runner and the mixture would be more popular in Boston than a Manhattan cocktail at Kansas City next July.

IS it not about time for the Democratic party to call upon the country to put them in power, so that they may reduce the dangerous surplus in the United States treasury? That is one of the few promises made by it that was faithfully fulfilled, and, in doing so, it also reduced the surplus of almost every citizen in the Union. As a surplus reducer and deficit creator that party has a record that can not be successfully assailed.

COLONEL WATKERSON continues to explain his explanations of why he proposes to support a platform this year that made him desert his party in 1896. It will be recalled that in 1896 the Colonel conducted his bid under a "No Compromise With Disonor" banner. His various explanations go to show that the Colonel has not compromised. His connection with Goebelism has caused him to execute an unqualified surrender.

BRYAN is running well in the States where the Republican majorities are largest. In those States the Democrats have nothing to lose. But in the South, where prosperity has advanced with rapid strides and the Democrats are in the majority, they are thinking very seriously as to whether it is a good policy to nominate a man who is against prosperity and who would undo all the good that has been done.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

SENATOR HOAR has undergone a singular change in the last five years. In an address at Plymouth, Mass., in 1895 he said, speaking of the tree planted by the first American settlers: "Its boughs hang over the Pacific. And in time—its good time—it will send its roots beneath the waves and receive under its vast canopy the islands of the sea." Now that his prediction has come true the Senator thinks the country has degenerated and is on the verge of ruin. The transformation is in the Senator himself.

Now that civil government has been granted to Porto Rico, the Democrats would have the country believe that a great injustice has been done to that little island, when the truth is that it is to be granted the largest possible measure of self-government and educated in American ideas of citizenship. Not one cent of tax, either direct or indirect, is to be collected from there that will not be returned in the way of schools, ports, roads, bridges, light-houses and all those improvements that mark the progress of a vigorous and growing people.

THE prominence of brother-in-law John McLean in connection with the Lewey campaign will impede the Admiral's chances for getting any consideration in the Kansas City convention, if he ever had any chances. Even if he should get the nomination, his connection with McLean would hurt him in the caucus. Many persons would think that if Dewey were elected, the real President would be McLean, and that individual is so thoroughly distrusted all over the country that he could not be elected alderman in any town in which he should reside. Dewey's boom is in bad hands.

THE Republican State Convention which met at Harrisburg last week did its work up promptly, harmoniously and to all loyal Republicans very satisfactorily. Final, of the corrupt Allegheny machine, attempted to inject some insurgent balderdash into the platform but was subsided with characteristic promptness by a vote of more than four to one, and that ended any further demonstration on the part of the party wreckers. The ticket placed in nomination is a strong one and will command the support of the party in all portions of the State. The veteran Grow was renominated for Congress-at-Large, and his running mate will be Robert H. Foerderer of Philadelphia, one of the leading manufacturers of that city. Senator E. B. Hardenburg of Wayne county was nominated unanimously for Auditor General. This is one of the most popular selections that any State convention has ever made. This selection would gladly have seen Congressman Arnold placed on the ticket for Congressman-at-Large, but the tide was too strongly in favor of the Philadelphia gentleman, and Mr. Arnold, like the true patriot that he is, gracefully submitted to the inevitable. He was placed on the ticket as one of the Presidential Electors-at-Large. The Delegates-at-Large to the National convention are as follows:

Ex-Senator Quay, Governor Stone, State Chairman Reeder, Congressman Connell, Lackawanna county; B. W. Green, Cameron county; ex-Congressman Leisenring, Luzern county; Senator Charles A. Porter, and James Elverson, of Philadelphia.

A TOPERA politician was passing along the street yesterday and saw two painters at work on an old house. "Hi, there!" shouted the politician, "don't you fellows know it is election day? Come down and take a hand." "No time to bother with politics when I've got a job," responded one of the painters, as he slapped a big gob of paint up against the weather boards. "Hain't been in politics any since 1896."—Kansas City Journal.

Chas. Bauer is adding a much needed addition to his dwelling house. The work is under the charge of B. F. Winans, John R. Osgood was registered at the Kingsley house one day last week while on his way to Sheriffs to look after his timber interests. Mr. O. has about 20 M. cubic feet of hewn timber to raft and run to market as soon as convenient.

Arthur Pagnon of Jamestown, N. Y. was calling on friends last week. F. E. Dick, the fashionable tailor of Tionesta, was in town the first of last week, and while here secured several orders for suits which, when received, will no doubt make the boys feel quite gay in their natty suits.

Miss Kate Guenther finished a very successful term of school here last Thursday. D. W. Clark, the crack artist and civil engineer, was in town a couple of days last week surveying several town lots.

Mr. A. Sperry of Cleveland, O., departed for his home on Saturday after a three weeks' stay in town. L. E. Walters and James Long of Maryland were in town a few hours on Sunday.

George Zuendell has the Lamere house completed at last and it will be but a few days until it is occupied. The carpenters can again be heard at Collins' new store building.

A few weeks ago this editor of this paper ran in an item on us to the effect that J. H. Shoemaker was slinging his little paint brush on the Collins new store at Kellettsville. We do not know whether this was done intentionally or not or was really intended as a news item, but as far as we are able to learn there has been no slinging of brushes except the whitewash brush of Dr. Smith and Joe Miller, who have been in charge of the plastering. This little correction is intended as a warning to the editor, who, as a journalist, must stand for and by the truth. [Mistake somewhere. Jim must have "worked" the compositor.—Ed.]

The society reporter has again been called to correct a misleading statement which, while we feel no harm is intended and we know of none being done, but for all that news must be news. The item was written by "Corbin" and published in last week's Indicator. "Corbin" goes on to say that "J. C. Miller and Mr. Bert Taft escaped what might have been a serious accident. They were upon a scaffolding engaged in plastering a high ceiling when it gave way and let them down without warning. If "Corbin" imagines that being let down a distance of 15 inches is a serious mishap he is sadly mistaken. This is a case where "Corbin's" yarn is more elastic than substantial, and hereafter we challenge him to appeal to higher expectations, and the world will be better for it. To the pure in heart all things are pure, and when at last the direct rays of the sun of wisdom shoot through the valleys of Salomon creek and Tionesta and over the summits of the mountains of error and ignorance, in whose dark shadows Ananias and his followers have lingered so long, and the paths of safety are disclosed to the clear light of perfect knowledge, then there will come an era of moral chastity and physical perfection, and mankind, no longer trammelled by weakness or enslaved by passion, will go on from height to height in the realms of achievement, until at last there shall dwell on earth a generation whose watchword shall be "purity." Unless "Corbin" ceases his elastic yarns we scribble will be called upon to consume him in his most victorious style. "Corbin," will you never come off?

We have had a week of good trout fishing and several good sized strings have been reported. The largest catch we think falls to Robt. Bardick, who one day last week captured a good sized clothes basket full. This is no fish story, it's a mackerel fact.

Robt. Harkinson who has been on a two weeks' visit to friends in Tionesta returned home Saturday.

A serious accident happened at the Lean saw mill on Porkey run on Saturday which may necessitate the amputation of both the legs of the victim. Geo. Ruffner, a young man, was engaged on the lathe mill when the main carriage became uncontrollable. It dashed into the young man, who was standing between the tracks, and both legs were caught, causing a very painful and serious accident. The society reporter noticed a large majority of our people suffering from a new disease while on his daily rounds. Our physician has analyzed several cases and found by comparing the cases that it is rightly named "hint on the lungs," caused from too much "chewing the rag." O. L. Johnson came down from Sheffield on Saturday to visit his parents. Bert Brewster moved his family on Monday from Buck Mills to Wagner & Wilson's mill near Marietta. Geo. Zuendell was out to German Hill on Sunday visiting relatives and friends. Fred Klinefister was up from Nebraska on Sunday to visit his brother George.

The long state of dry weather has caused the woods to become in tip-top shape for forest fires and as a consequence we are nearly hemmed in by raging fires. On Saturday night nearly the entire force of Wheeler & Dusenbury's men, both from Endeavor and Newtown Mills were engaged in extinguishing the fire on Ross run. There were about 100 men in the force and for a time it was feared several of the houses near the single mill would burn down. The men by back-firing succeeded in getting the fire under control.

W. D. Harrington came up from Derry Station Westmoreland county last Thursday, where he has been employed by the Penna. R.R. Co., as a brakeman. Chas. Davis and Harvey Jones, two gentlemen from Union City, were visiting at W. A. Kribbs' over Sunday. The Salmon creek mill shut down Monday for about four days to put in some needed repairs. The work is in charge of Mr. Moore, who has about completed the repairs on the new band mill at Buck Mills.

As per arrangement "The Spy of Gettysburg," was rendered to an appreciative audience by Tionesta's best home talent Saturday evening. Each part was well represented and the hall was packed to suffocation. We have not learned the amount raised, but think the receipts amounted to nearly $60. To add to the festivities a special train load came up from Gollinza and Nebraska. Everybody was well pleased, including
