COURTS SUSTAIN GOVERNOR STONE

in His Vigorous Crusade Against the Oleomargarine Frauds.

Congressman Grout, Who Is Leading the fight For Pure Butter at Washington, Commends Pennsylvania's

(Special Correspondence.)

Philadelphia, May 8.—The courts having thoroughly sustained him in the matter of his actions against violators of the law regarding the sale of oleomargarine and other imitations of butter, Governor Stone has directed the officials of the department of agriculture to continue their crusade against all who shall be found guilty of violating this law.

Many cases had been held in abeyance, owing to an appeal having been taken to the superior court. This court having decided that the state officials were right in bringing the prosecutions, there will be no halting of the work which Governor Stone has so carefully mapped out. During the last week a number of additional arrests have been made in different counties of the state, where evidence had been secured against the dealers. These cases will be brought to trial as speedily as possible. Governor Stone appreciates the fact that political opponents are seeking to deprive his administration of the credit for this work, but he is satisfied that the people will give credit where it is due. The governor says he would like to have the co-operation of every farmer and dairyman in the state in his efforts to bring violators of this law to justice, and that he will be grateful to any one who will furnish him or any of the officials of this department with information upon which arrests can be made. The agents of the department are gathering data every day, and they are always anxious to obtain assistance from any source that will facilitate the work they have undertaken. STONE'S WORK APPRECIATED.

Attention has been directed to the legislation for pure butter which is now under consideration in congress. Farmers of the entire Union are watching the progress of the bill introduced by Congressman William W. Grout, which is intended to place a tax upon oleomargarine. In a letter on the subject of Governor Stone's work in this state, Congressman Grout a few days ago

"I am glad that the recent Republican convention of your state, which some call a Quay convention, was also a pure butter or anti-oleo convention; and I congratulate the farmers of Pennsylvania on the strong plank in the platform against counterfeit butter, which I was glad to learn was drawn by Governor Stone.

"The cure for the oleo frauds, which are the "hatch and brood" of the time, is to take away the enormous profits on oleomargarine sold as butter. Take away the profits and it will no longer be sold as butter. These profits are at least 12 cents per pound, divided about equally between the manufacturer and the retailer, and out of them a corruption fund has been massed, the baneful effect of which is felt in every large city of the Union.

Put a ten cent tax on the stuff when legislation pending here, and the temptation to make and work it off as but ter is removed. Nothing but the ten cent tax will prevent profits large enough for a big corporation fund which fosters and defends the fraud." PREPARING FOR CONVENTION.

The work of preparation for the Republican national convention continues to progress very satisfactorily. Chairman Manley, of the sub-committee of the Republican national committee, was here a few days ago and carefully inspected the convention hall and conferred with Mayor Ashbridge regarding the plans of his committee. Manley expressed himself as delighted with the arrangements and declared that the convention hall will be the finest ever placed at the disposal of a Republican national convention. It is larger that any hall that has heretofore been used for a national convention and its surroundings will be made very attractive. Mayor Ashbridge has directed the city forester to plant trees and have the adjoining grounds sodden and many flower beds will be laid out with the best skill of landscape gardeners. The interior of the hall will be beautifully decorated and every convenience will be afforded for the comfort of the delegates, the spectators and the large force of newspaper workers who will be here to report the proceedings of the conven-

One of the great features of convention week will be the parade on the night prior to the opening of the con-Gen. Louis Wagner, who has been selected as marshal of this parade, has issued orders that all clubs intending to participate in the demonstration must apply for blanks, which they are requested to fill out and return to him. There are going to be at least 15,000 Philadelphia Republicans in the parade, and all the visiting clubs will take part. A number of organizations from the interior of Pennsylvania are preparing to come to this city during convention week, and they will, of course, be given prominent positions in the formation of the parade. Twelve hundred Jerseymen have formed the William J. Sewell club, and they will cross the Delaware determined to make a fine showing in the parade. There is a club coming from Albany all the way by boat, .They will sleep in their boat while here, and as the guests of the Republicans of the Twenty-seventh legislative district they will march in the parade. Chairman Manley will have a special train for the Republican delegation from Maine and Senator Hanna will see that Ohio does not fall behind any other state outside of Pennsylvania in the number of Re-

COOPER IS HOPEFUL. Colenel Guffey has gotten the Democratic machine leaders of Philadelphia to work in harmony with the insurgent Republicans of that city in the matter of defeating regularly nominated Re-publican candidates for the legislature next fall. Guffey would like to see Democrats elected in close districts. but where he cannot bring that about he wants his followers to join hands with the insurgents and prevent the election of Republicans who are pledged to vote for the Republican caucus ominee for United States senator at Harrisburg next winter, While Guffey is talking fusion on the legislature in the hope of helping along his own interests, he is just as boldly proclaiming that William Jennings Bryan will get the votes of the national delegates from Pennsylvania for president and that he belives that he will be elected by the people next November. It is regarded as a strange condition of affairs that so-called Republicans should be working with this pronounced Bryanite in the important matter of the election of a United States senator from Pennsylvania, and at the same time seek to be recognized as Republicans and be permitted to participate in the councils of the Re-ublican organization. But the stalwart element of the party in this state does not appear to be at all concerned about the result of the contest now under way for the election of members of the legislature. Former State Chairman Thomas V. Cooper, who has been nominated for the legislature in Delaware county, has made a tabulation of the result of the balloting at Republican primaries up to date, in the matter of the nomina tion of candidates for the legislature.

He points out that 34 counties have thus far nominated legislative candidates, and that 33 have yet to do so. The former Republican field marshal states that Colonel Quay has made a gain of 19 members. Besides these he says Philadelphia will give a gain of 16 stalwarts, Montgomery will give 5, Chester 4, and Bucks 3, and there are 29 other counties from which other gains may fairly be expected.

Editor Cooper was never in a more sanguine frame of mind, and he apparently cannot figure out why the insurgents can be so foolish as to continue

ELIJAH AND THE RAVENS. A Story Which Did Not Fit This Par ticular Minister's Case.

North Carolina probably never pro-uced an abler prencher than Dr. Francis L. Hawkes, who once was pastor of Grace Episcopal church, New York, Short, thickset, swarthy, black eyed and black haired, he was a striking person-He was not only a great pulpit orator, but considered the best reader in the New York episcopacy. His rather luxurious family deterred him from accepting a bishopric, which would have otherwise been tendered. One day a delegation from a Buffalo church waited upon him and invited him to accept a storate in that city.

"Well, gentlemen, other things being satisfactory, the question of acceptance narrows down to a business matter," said Dr. Hawkes. "What salary do you

"Dr. Hawkes," said the spokesman, 'we recognize that you have a high reputation and are willing to be liberal. Our recent pastor received $2,500, but on account of your standing we have ecided to offer you $3,500."
"My good man," cried the doctor, "do rou know what salary I am receiving

"I get $15,000 and this parsonage, and as I have an expensive family I do not see my way clear to accept your offer."

The spokesman looked rather sheepish, but made another essay, "If we had known that, sir, we would undoubtedly have looked elsewhere, but you should remember that the work of the Lord must be done, and as for providing for your family, you know the story of Elijah and the ravens."

"Now, my friends," responded the clergyman quizzically, "I have made the Bible my study ever since I was 28, I have read it through carefully and pray erfully over 100 times. I remember the raven incident perfectly, but nowhere can I find any reference to the Lord's providing for young Hawkes."-Washington Post.

HEALTH FROM COLD AIR.

Winter About the Best Stimulan People Can Have.

Many persons regard the winter season as an unfortunate visitation. It is considered both uncomfortable to the body and harmful to health. This is an error. Cold is a most potent agent for the restoration and preservation of normal ac tivity on the part of the organs of the human body. It is a wise plan of provi-dence which gives us a change of sea-The winter cold comes as a tonic to repair the injuries done by the en-ervating heat of summer. Summer, it is true, has many wise uses in the matter of health. It induces outdoor life, rids the system of poisons through copious perspiration and through the scorching rays sun destroys germ life.

Winter is the great bracer of the sys tem. It stimulates activity in every or-gan. When cold attacks the surface of the body, the blood is set into more free circulation as a means of bodily warmth. It is through the circulation of the blood that the human anatomy is kept in a state of repair. When the food has been digested and converted into liquid form, it is taken up by the blood and carried the rounds of the system for the purpose of repairing the waste places. When the cold causes increased circulation, it also brings about more perfect nutrition. Man's face and hands illustrate how weatherproof the body becomes when exposed to air. Continued activity in circulation on the surface, caused by the air coming in contact with the skin, tends to nourish and thicken the skin. Thus man's skin grows thicker in winter just as animals are supplied with a double coat of fur. The savages who dwell bareheaded in the open air are seldom, if ever, known to be afflicted with bald heads, while, with the civilian who shields his scalp from air, baldness is prevalent.

The Indians who, if not now, in former days roamed our western borders, practically without clothing to shelter their bodies, became, through long exposure, so inured to the cold that it gave them but little discomfort.-St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

COLONEL BARNETT IS INAUGURATED.

At Last Takes Charge of the Office of State Treasurer.

In the Many Years of Administratio of This Office Not a Single Penny Has Been Lost to the State Under

(Special Correspondence.) Harrisburg, May 8 .- The retirement of James S. Beacom as state treasurer and the swearing in of his successor, Col. James E. Barnett, yesterday was a very gratifying outcome of one of the most desperate political contests ever waged in this commonwealth. Mr. Beacom retired with a record of having made one of the most faithful and efficient public officials that has ever held a responsible position on "the Hill." He was not only courteous to all who had business with the office. but he maintained a constant and vigilant supervision over the work of every subordinate official, and he jealously guarded the immense sums of moncy committed to his care. The finances of the state have not been in better condition for many years, and under the recent legislation passed through the efforts of the leaders of the Republican state organization interest is paid to the state upon every penny of state funds deposited in the banks. The advent of Col. Barnett into the office of state treasurer will ensure a continuance of the careful business administration of that office and will be a guarantee that the interests of the people will be safely guarded. AS TO STATE TREASURERS.

Of the 14 state treasurers elected by the people under the constitution of 1874 eleven have come from the western part of the state. Previous to that time the state treasurers were elected by the legislature, and the holders of the place were pretty evenly divided as to location. Of the 14 elected, the western state treasurer were: Robert W. two others; M. S. Quay of Beaver, who Mercer and James S. Beacom of Westmoreland. The eastern state treasurers elected by the people were Samuel Butler of Chester, William B. Hart of Dauphin, who died in office, and Henry K. poyer of Philadelphia, who is nev superintendent of the mint in that city

Despite the misrepresentations of the opponents of the Republican party, it opponents of the Republican party, it is a noteworthy fact that the state has never lost a dollar through the administration of the office of state treasurer under any Republican official. It is true that banks have failed and the bondsmen of treasurers have had to make good deficiencies, but that was the misfortune of the bondsmen and not a matter of concern for the taxpayers of the state.

GENERAL BAILY PASSES AWAY.

Baily was one of the famous 306 who stood by Gen. Grant in the convention of 1880. His death resulted from a general collapse, superinduced by the effects of a bullet wound received during the civil war.

General Baily was born in Browns-ville in 1836. He learned the jewelry Waynesburg, but sold out to go to the war. He afterward opened a jewelry store in Uniontown, which he conducted until a few months ago.

When the war broke out he organ ized the first company in Greene county, which became a part of the Eighth Reserves, and Captain Baily became major. At Fredericksburg Major Baily lieutenat colonel. He was afterward breveted major general of volunteers. At Gaines' Mill he received a dangerous wound in the head. After recovering from this injury he joined his regiment in Maryland and fought at Antietam and all subsequent engagements, ending at Appomattox, Gen. Baily was an active Republican, and was elected state treasurer in 1889, despite the independent candidacy of Charles S

An incident of the past week called attention to another matter in which the Republican organization figures to advantage. It is a well known fact that the Brooks high license law, under which the liquor traffic in this commonwealth is governed, is regarded as one of the most satisfactory laws ever placed upon the statute books.
The reising of the license fees to $1 000 The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of sciation Any one who has had an attack of some or inflamatory rheumatism will agree that the affliction is demoniac enough to the hallef. It has never been warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimeny to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by all in cities of the first class and the correspondingly high figures for less populous communities, has resulted in immense sums of money diverting to the state from liquor licenses.

In Philadelphia alone last week there was paid into the city treasury the enormous sum of $2,237,402.24 for liquor licenses, and of this sum $534,-200 will go into the state treasury. The collections from licenses throughout the state are a source of great revenue and the placing of power to granting or refusing licenses in the hands of the courts has resulted in a condition of affairs which is much more satisfactory than would be the case were this matter left in the hands of parti-

BRYAN FOR FUSION. Col. James M. Guffey, the leader of the state Democracy, has been at work all week perfecting his scheme for fusion on the legislative tickets. He, of course, announces that he does not aspire to election as United States senator, but his real views on that issue are generally understood. Commenting upon the senatorial is-sue, the editor of the Philadelphia Inquirer a few days ago said:

Quay, by the action of the recent state convention, has been made a candidate before the next legislature for senator of the United States. Where does he stand at the present time?

"In the primary elections he has so far made a net gain of 10, not counting nominations made in nine counties which sent Democratic members to the last legislature, but which are always counted upon as Republican in a pres idential year. He will gain fully 12 and probably 14 and even 16 in Philadelphia alone. He will carry Chester county and Montgomery, and counting these counties as his, he has enough members in sight to elect him.

"There are 33 counties to be heard from yet, and he will increase his lead considerably. Besides, he will carry various districts that go Republican in presidential years.
